Cowboys' Rodeo and Miners' Drilling Are Features for Fourth

Everything is now practically completed for the big Fourth of July celebration in Patagonia, and indications are that a very interesting program will be given. Harry Barnett has been secured to barbecue the four beeves. If experience counts for anything, and it usually does, the barbecue should be about perfect. Miners and cowboys are getting into shape for their contests, the goats are doing some lively practicing in the art of side-stepping a laaso, and even the "outlaw" horses are becoming wilder and more unmanageable in anticipation of the event.

As announced in last week's Patagonian, the big show will start in the morning, with the miners' drilling contest. This will be held somewhere around the depot, in the most advantageous spot. First prize in this contest will be of sufficient size to warrant keen competition, and several teams are expected to enter. At this date it is not known definitely just what teams will compete, but it is said Pete Hanson and "Jim" Strickland may form one team; that Johnny McDonald and Herb McCutchan may form another, and Rich Farrell and a partner are expected to make the third team. Several others are also spoken of as being probable contenders.

After the miners' drilling contest, adjournment will be taken to Ash Grove for the barbecue and dinner. Not over two hours is to be spent at the grove, when the crowd will return to town and the cowboys' program will commence. It may not be generally known that Patagonia has some of the best ropers and riders in the west, but it is a fact. Several of the men who will enter in the events here on the Fourth have participated in contests of similar character in state and international meets, and have got inside the money, too. There are several champions here; some near champions and a promising bunch of younger lads who want to be champions.

In the evening a dance will be given at the opera house. Throughout the day the Catholic ladies will sell ice cream and other light refreshments, to raise money for church improvement. It is almost impossible to publish a detailed program, on account of not knowing exactly how many teams will be entered in the different contests. For instance, if more miners drill than expected, or if more cowboys are entered in the goat roping contest, it will necessarily require a little more time for each event. But the general schedule of the day's entertainment will occur in the manner and in about the time above given. And things are expected to happen rather rapidly.

A fine carload of ore was shipped from the Pinal, formerly the Hoey, Wednesday. The ore will run very good in copper with some silver and gold values.

Rules Governing the Cowboy Contests

The following rules have been adopted to govern the cowboy contests at the Fourth of July celebration in Patagonia: Goat Roping Rules.—If a man crosses the score line before the word "go" is given he is a disqualified roper. The roper must be on goat and tied to saddle horn when roper throws up hands. Three of the goat's feet must be crossed and tied. If two ropers are tied for first and second time, they will split equally first and second purses. If two men tie on second time, they will split equally second and third money.

Races.—The horses will be given 18 ft. score and lap-and-tap and get. Everybody that wants to race, rope or ride be on time and enter.

For further information call on or address,

HENRY KARNES.

W. F. (Fred) Barnett and Miss Ruby Phillips were married in Nogales Tuesday morning, at the home of Dr. Barr, Rev. Mobley of the Methodist church officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few very intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Fred is well known as one of the younger cattlemen of the county, at the present time being associated with Geo. Wise in a bunch of cattle below the Halfway ranch, near Nogales. He was raised in the Patagonia country, and his friends are numbered by the score. The bride is a popular El Paso girl, and before leaving her home for the wedding, was the guest at several society functions given in her honor. The romance began when Fred was visiting in El Paso last winter, where he first met his future wife.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bleakley, of Franklin, Pa., arrived in Patagonia yesterday for a short visit. Mrs. Bleakley is a sister of Col. R. R. Richardson.

Several Mexican refugee families have passed through Patagonia the past week, on their way from the rumor-ridden border to points farther north. One outfit with a large number of kids and a few cattle were seeking safety in the Helvetia district—safety for the cattle, not the kids.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NOTES

Nicholas Johnson and children left Monday for a short vacation on the coast. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Amado in Patagonia last Saturday.

Mrs. C. L. Northcraft left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, where she will spend the heated period.

Mrs. T. G. Dunham and children have moved to Patagonia from their ranch in the San Rafael valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Starr and little daughter were registered at the Commercial hotel in Patagonia Tuesday from Deming, N. M.

The new Patagonia Garage is doing a splendid business. Besides doing repair work of all kinds, it has the agency for Diamond, Lee and Federal tires.

B. Greene returned from a trip to western Texas this week, accompanied by another grown son. They are engaged in freighting ore from the Alto district to this station.

A. H. DeReimer was among the very few Nogaleses who attended the dance in Patagonia last Saturday night. Mr. DeReimer is slated by the Republicans to succeed Fred Noon as county attorney of Santa Cruz county.

H. B. Meriwether, the photographer, announces he will be ready for business at his tent in Patagonia on the Fourth of July. As an advertising feature, he agrees to make free of charge a photograph of each winning contestant in the Fourth of July events.

Mrs. E. Broegman of Milwaukee, Wis., who has been visiting in the Patagonia country for the past several weeks returned to her home Monday. On the return trip she was accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Benj. Wilson and Mrs. J. T. Parker, who will spend the summer visiting relatives and friends at the old home in the East.

Edward Massey, deputy state mine inspector, was in the Patagonia country this week on official inspection of the different properties. Mr. Massey has the three counties of Cochise, Pima and Santa Cruz to cover as deputy from the inspector's office. He reports that for the seven months of this year only four serious accidents have happened to mine employes within his territory, showing a very high rate of efficiency in the state inspector's office.

Mrs. Ellicott and daughter Helen of Parker Canyon are visiting in Biabece this week.

Nick Quinn is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. B. Riggs, and brother, Lou Quinn, and other friends in Patagonia this week.

Fred Wamsley, who formerly worked at the Flux, came down from Tucson last week to spend a few days on business and with friends in Patagonia, returning to the north on Monday's train.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Weaver, former Patagonia residents, now living in Nogales, one day last week. The popular couple have hearty congratulations from many Patagonia friends over their first born.

Vicente Kunde and bride arrived in Patagonia Tuesday from Safford, where they were married, and will make their home in this county. Vicente is one of the sons of the late Julius Kunde.

Miss Gertrude Barnett, a former Patagonia girl, has been visiting her father, W. H. Barnett, and other friends and relatives this week, from El Paso, where Mrs. Barnett and the other members of the family live. Miss Gertrude came over to attend the nuptials of Fred Barnett and Miss Ruby Phillips, of El Paso.

The Catholic ladies took in $100 at their dance and Mexican supper, given in Patagonia for the benefit of the Catholic church, last Saturday evening. When all expenses are deducted, about $50 will be available for the church. The ladies are being complimented for the success of the affair. Very few of the Nogales dancers were in attendance.

A. H. Edwards and family have moved into the Quinn house in Patagonia, from their camp on the banks of Sonoita just below town. Mr. Edwards is working for county Engineer Larrimore, doing survey work on the county roads. Mrs. Edwards has been in poor health of late and the camp life was tried and found to be beneficial. As the summer rains are approaching they were compelled to secure a house.

Ernest Best, the well known cattleman, doesn't claim to be a weather prophet, but as this is the open season for predictions concerning the time for the first rains of the season, he expresses the opinion that the first rain will come some time on or about the 8th of July. According to his "dope" the first new quarter of the moon is on the 8th and the full moon is on the 14th, therefore rain should come between these dates. He also says that if rains do begin at this time, we may expect a very good season, much better in fact than if the rainy season begins earlier, as it sometimes does.

CELEBRATE
Uncle Sam's Birthday
by drinking his health in a good big glass of our ice cold Delaware Punch, Root Beer, Ginger Ale, Lemonade, Soda, Grape Juice, or some other soft drink. You'll enjoy the drink just as much as if it were any other, and you'll feel a whole lot better on July 5.

Move Families to Places of Safety

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Chalmers and the family of Charles Harrison of the Duquesne country, left Wednesday morning for Tucson. These two families live in close proximity to the international line, and owing to unsettled and chaotic condition along this border at the present time, it was deemed an act of safety on the part of Messrs. Harrison and Chalmers to get their families farther away from the boundary. The Harrison family may afterwards go on to California and remain for the summer. Both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Chalmers will remain at their homes and employment in this county, and "stick it out" with the American-haters from over the southern boundary line.

Mrs. Josephine A. Saxon this week makes her announcement in The Patagonian for the office of county school superintendent, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the primary. This will be pleasing news to Mrs. Saxon's many friends in this part of the county, who wish her continued in the office which she has so successfully filled. There is a possibility that Mrs. Saxon will have no opposition for reelection; certainly not from the Democrats, and some Republicans also seem to be in favor of making her election unanimous. It would be a nice compliment to a deserving woman.

The moving picture show for Sunday night will be free, and a good program of films has been arranged. Owing to trouble with the lights last Sunday, the management has decided to give this entertainment absolutely free of charge. A special feature film, "The Queen of Hearts," a beautiful melodrama in three reels, will be given; also a good comedy. This may be the last show for a few weeks, or until after the heated period. Everyone is invited to attend the free show Sunday night, beginning at 8:30.

Geo. A. Olney this week makes his announcement in The Patagonian for the Democratic nomination for governor of Arizona. The announcement takes up quite a little space, and shows that Mr. Olney appreciates the value of newspaper advertising.

ELGIN

Miss Leda Beaty left Monday for Lordsburg to visit her uncle, Joe Cross. Miss Beaty may remain away until she completes her schooling. She will be greatly missed by her many friends in this community.

I. P. Fraizer met with quite a loss Monday, when fire destroyed two of his haystacks.

O. F. Ashburn and family spent Sunday in Elgin.

Mrs. Eva Barnett attended the shower party given for Mr. and Mrs. Miles Perry at the Ashburn home last week.

Earl Turner and sister, Miss Verna, came over from Pantano last Saturday for the dance, as did also Miss Pearl Griesom and Bill Kane.

Pete Mendenthal left Monday for his home in Douglas, after several weeks' visit with the Beaty boys.

"Red" Miller has been in Elgin the past ten days with a big dapple-gray Percheron stallion. The horse looks fine and "Reddy" has him under good control.

VAUGHN

Some one has asked, where is Vaughn? It is about seven miles southwest of Elgin, where you will find very nice people and the prettiest country in the world.

T. W. Yearly has been troubled with rheumatism for the last few days, but is still busy with his crop, which is very fine.

Farmers in Vaughn are all very busy cultivating and planting, getting ready for the rainy season.

The Vaughn school trustees are expected to meet again soon to decide on a teacher.

GEORGE A. OLNEY
FOR GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA

HON. A. C. BAKER,
President, Olney Democratic Club of Maricopa County,
Phoenix, Arizona.

My Dear Judge:

Referring to our recent conversation relative to my candidacy, I hand you herewith the following statement of my position on some of the leading issues of the day.

I believe the people of the state are entitled to know exactly what candidates for office stand for, and I think an outspoken and frank avowal by each candidate is in accordance with the basic principles of democracy. It is only by this means that the utmost confidence can be established between the people who are served and the public officials who may serve them. I take pleasure, therefore, in submitting the following:

TAXATION.

In the matter of taxation the Democratic doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none can and must be exemplified in the assessment of property for taxation, and if elected, I will do everything in my power without subterfuge or evasion to make this principle effective.

I have no hobby in the way of revenue legislation. I simply demand that all property, regardless of class or ownership, be compelled to bear its just proportion of the tax burdens.

I AM OPPOSED TO ANY SPECIAL LAW FOR THE TAXATION OF MINES OR ANY OTHER CLASS OF PROPERTY. Our laws provide that the assessment of all property shall be based on its full cash value. I believe that this law should be fairly and firmly enforced. My official record shows that I have always fought for a higher rate of valuation on the property of the big mining companies and railroads, and I do not think these companies are paying too much taxes at the present time.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

I believe that every State and public institution should be conducted along economic lines, and that special audits of the financial affairs of each institution should be made at frequent intervals to determine not only how much money is being spent, but whether or not the greatest efficiency is being realized on the expenditures made. I do not think that any political machine should be built up by reason of patronage within the public institutions of the State, and if elected Governor of Arizona, appointments will be made to State institutions which will be based upon merit and ability.

ROADS.

It appears that the cost of construction of State roads under the present prison policy is too expensive. Aside from this, my opinion is that there are many citizens of the State who could be profitably employed upon the highways both to the advantage of the State and themselves, and who are now displaced by prison labor.

I believe the road system of the State should be extended as rapidly as conditions will justify, and it will be my aim if elected Governor of Arizona to encourage in every way the construction of State highways and neighborhood roads, in order that the actual residents of the State may be enabled to reach one another and transact their business by means of good highways.

LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY.

The live stock industry is one of the most important in the state, and the money annually realized from the sale of live stock and its products, and circulated freely throughout the State tends to stimulate all branches of trade.

I believe that all laws enacted for the protection of this industry should be strictly enforced, and that liberal bounties should be paid for the destruction of predatory wild animals.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

An efficient national guard is absolutely essential to the safety and protection of the whole people. I believe that the State guard should be placed on an effective footing, and to this end every encouragement should be extended to our young men to enlist and cooperate in building up the organization. In order to maintain an efficient National Guard it must not be used as a political machine.

NATIONAL FOREST AND INDIAN RESERVATIONS.

I believe that as rapidly as possible the land not actually needed for Indians and forest reserves in the State should be opened to settlement, and if elected Governor of the State, I will use my influence toward that end. Some of the State's best land is embraced within Indian reservations and is valueless to the Indians. The same can be said of the forest reserves. I especially advocate the passage of H. R. No. 12426, recently introduced by Honorable Carl Hayden in the National Congress, which will enable citizens to acquire mineral land within Indian reservations.

I believe that proper laws should be enacted to enable the investment of capital in water storage systems along the hundreds of streams flowing from the mountains, and now sinking into the desert sands.

I especially advocate taking advantage of the provisions of the National Carey Act, as well as the opening of settlement of the vast area of now barren Indian lands situated near Parker on the Colorado river.

ECONOMY.

I believe that the Government of the State of Arizona is costing too much, and that the people are paying too much taxes. I know that while land is not producing any more today than it was ten years ago, taxes are several hundred per cent higher. This is discouraging, not only to men who have to pay the taxes, but to the man who may be invited to invest his money in the many meritorious propositions that are offered within this State. A low tax rate is the best advertisement that a community can have, and if elected Governor of this State, I will endeavor to the best of my ability to devise ways and means to the end that the burden of taxation upon the people may be reduced, and the State be given a business administration.

LABOR.

I am in favor of every man, and particularly the man who labors with his hands, realizing the fullest extent of the rewards which should be his by reason of his daily toil.

I believe that the relation between employer and employe should be placed upon a high plane of mutual understanding, and that the offices of the State might well be employed toward assisting and encouraging the greatest mutual interest and good feeling between these two classes which mean so much to the State.

I trust that the above statements which I have attempted to make frankly and without reserve, will indicate to the people of Arizona, my attitude upon all questions discussed herein.

It is not possible to cover in a general statement all of the questions that may arise during the campaign, but I wish to say that I have always been a firm believer in the rule of the majority, and if elected Governor, I shall endeavor to honestly and fairly enforce the laws as I find them, without fear and without favor.

I shall be glad to have you give the foregoing such publicity as you desire.

Yours very truly,
GEO. A. OLNEY.
