

SANTA CRUZ PATAGONIAN

Governorship Still in Doubt, Personnel of the Next Legislature

The governorship fight still remains in statu quo, with both sides claiming the victory. According to reports, taken mostly from Copper Queen papers, Mr. Campbell is elected, while the Democrats claim Mr. Hunt is leading in the official count by about 25 votes. It may take several days to determine who will be the next governor from the official count, and then the result may be so close that a recount may be demanded by either side. Following is the vote in Santa Cruz county:

- NATIONAL
- For President
Wilson 728, Hughes 666. Wilson's majority 69.
- For U. S. Senate
Ashurst 738, Jos. Kibbey 575. Ashurst's majority 163.

Hurry to Get in Wet Goods Causes Lots of Citizens Anxiety

In anticipation of the recently voted dry amendment to the Constitution becoming effective within a few days, several prominent Patagonians are stocking up on their supplies of drinkables. One day this week, 18 full cases arrived in town, and from now on shipments of the famous "personal" use stuff may be expected until the governor's proclamation puts a quietus on receiving intoxicants into the state. If the present express shipments of liquor keep up the express company will be forced to put on another assistant agent, to attend to this business alone. According to information received from other points in the state, the governor is expected to make his proclamation, declaring the Prohibition Amendment effective about December 4. It is said instructions have been issued by the Southern Pacific company to their agents not to accept shipments of liquor to points in Arizona after Tuesday next.

CONCENTRATES NEWS IN BRIEF

Copper 33 to 33c, lead 6.90, silver 71 1/2c.

Edward Massey, deputy mine inspector, came in Wednesday to make an official visit to the mines of the Patagonia district.

A new hoist has arrived for the Trench Consolidated Mining company, to be used on work of cleaning out one of the old shafts on this property.

J. E. Cochran Sr., of Bradford, Pa., owner of the old Hermoso and other good mining claims in the Harshaw district, is expected in Patagonia within a short time with a party of Eastern men who may make an investment in these properties.

C. V. Hudson, interested in the Santa Cruz-Bisbee property in the Tyndall district, in the northern part of this county, recently floted at Bisbee, was in the district Sunday and went out to the claims. The tunnel being run on this property is said to be encountering good values.

A recent strike at the old Bland property, near Patagonia, formerly owned by Jack Cudahy, the Kansas City millionaire, attracted great attention this week. The ore is steel galea and is estimated to carry remarkable high silver values. The new find was made from a winze on the 90-foot level, and the ore body is reported to be from 18 to 24 inches wide, and getting better with every shot. The Bland is now owned by W. T. Strickland, Pete Hanson, Dr. A. W. Hardtmayer and A. S. Henderson.

Planning Early for Great Success of Next County Fair

At the annual stockholders' meeting of the Santa Cruz County Fair association, held recently at Sonoita, the report of the treasurer and outgoing board of directors showed that the 1916 fair had been a success. Not the least satisfactory viewpoint was the financial one. Although handicapped by adverse circumstances, the management reported a profit of $300, and as a result the debt incurred for the erection of the buildings and other first year expenses will be reduced one-half.

The directors reported that the movement of the California troops just before the fair, and the rush of business among the merchants of Nogales, had reduced the attendance somewhat and hampered the sale of tickets. This necessitated a rigid economy in all departments, so that the fair was not on as large a scale as its supporters desired. Nevertheless, it showed a healthy growth over last year; there were more exhibits, a two days' program instead

Joe Kane has purchased a new Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bethell motored down to Nogales Tuesday afternoon on a business trip.

Religious services will be held at the school house Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, by Pastor Trevor Orton. All are cordially invited.

The Santa Fe Trails Carnival company has been playing in Patagonia this week, and the small boys was delighted at the opportunity to again ride the merry-go-round.

Val Valenzuela Sr. was kicked by a horse one day this week, resulting in breaking several bones in his hand. He is on the job of cutting meat, however, and says he will be all right in a day or two.

Jewell Trask of Patagonia was in town Wednesday, making a visit at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. L. S. Trask. Mrs. Jewell Trask is also here to stay for two or three weeks.-Benson Signal.

M. Mickelson of Thatcher, Ariz., who deals in tombstones and who has put up many monuments and headstones over graves in the Patagonia country, was in town a few days this week, accompanied by Mrs. Mickelson.

Rev. John Pope, a Baptist missionary, has rented the Frank Seibold place at the edge of town and will make Patagonia his headquarters while doing missionary work in this field. Mr. Pope is from Phoenix here, but previous to his residence in that city he lived many years in New Mexico. He is an old acquaintance and warm personal friend of Hayden Pendergrass, the two having been old companions in New Mexico years ago. Mr. Pope likes his new field and believes Patagonia has a good future.

of one, and a larger attendance. After the reports the annual election of directors was held. Some 25 persons were nominated and the following were elected by ballot: Harry Saxon, E. R. Purdum, A. T. Bird, Nogales; W. F. Christman, G. S. Bryant, J. S. Carver, Mark Manning, R. T. Fossett, Sonoita; Chas. Johnson, Clarence Beatty, Chas. Davis, Elgin; W. P. Neil, R. R. McGregor, Gus Yeary, Canille; Jesse Gatlin, Jack Price, Patagonia; P. J. Wilson, San Rafael.

A vote of thanks was tendered the former officers and especially the retiring president, F. T. Rigby, for his untiring services.

Immediately following the meeting, the new board of directors was organized and the following officers were elected: W. F. Christman, president; Mark Manning, vice-president; G. S. Bryant, manager; J. S. Carver, secretary, and W. F. Neil, treasurer.

The date for the first business meeting of the directors was set for the afternoon of the second Saturday of next January, at which time tentative plans will be made for next year's fair. The directors hope at that time to lay the foundation for a much larger and better fair, and formulate plans to secure the co-operation of all progressive and public spirited citizens of Santa Cruz county in getting all the benefit out of the fair that an institution of that character should be. To that end they invite all interested persons to attend the meeting and give any suggestions they may have.

"Jimie" Ritchie, the well known miner, is this week shoveling hay up near Harshaw at the Farrell home. James is one of several unfortunates in this community who did not know how to choose winning candidates at the recent election. He says the hot spots are not to be compared to the hay field, and when he gets through with his present contract he will probably refrain from betting on elections in the future.

Notice of Forfeiture

Patagonia, Ariz., Nov. 15, 1916.
To H. H. McCutchan and M. A. Hogan, their heirs and assigns:
You are hereby notified that I, Jake Johnson, the undersigned, have expended during the year 1915 the sum of Six Hundred Dollars ($600.00) in labor and improvements upon the following lode mining claims, situated in the Wrightson mining district, in Santa Cruz county, Arizona, to-wit: The Dixie No. 1, Dixie No. 2, Dixie No. 3, Dixie No. 4, Dixie No. 5, Dixie No. 6, the notices of location of which are recorded in the office of the Recorder of said Santa Cruz county, Arizona, in Book 15, pages 494 to 590 of Mining Locations.

The labor was done and improvements made in compliance with the requirements of the United States Laws, being the amount necessary to hold said mining claims for the annual period, ending December 31, 1915.

Now, therefore, if within ninety days from the personal service of this notice, or within ninety days after the publication thereof, you fail or refuse to contribute your proportion of said expenditure as co-owner, to-wit: One-half of Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) for the said year 1915, your interest in the said mining claims will become the property of the undersigned, your co-owner, who has made the expenditure required by law.

JAKE JOHNSON,
First publication Nov. 17, 1916.

Awards to Farmers of This County from Phoenix State Fair

Following is the list of awards given to Santa Cruz county farmers at the Arizona State Fair in Phoenix:

Five heads cane, 1st R. N. Keaton, San Rafael.
Peck of pink beans, 1st T. G. Dunham, San Rafael.

Two of the exhibits received special mention. The onions exhibited by J. C. Mackay, of the brown Australian variety, were praised as being as good onions as the judge had ever seen. The judge was Prof. Sanston from Colorado. In giving the award on yellow dent corn to C. E. Moberly, in competition against the State, he remarked: "If you can grow corn like that in Arizona without irrigation, you had better quit irrigating. Corn like that would win over corn grown in the Corn States."

An Old Paper

Nothing like an armed invasion of Mexico, however, could or would be countenanced by the U. S. government.—President Andrew Johnson, 1865.

A. D. Sydenham, private secretary to John Hoy, general manager of the Trench Consolidated Mining Company, with offices in Patagonia, is in possession of a curious and valuable old document, the first issue of the San Francisco Weekly Examiner, dated Saturday morning, June 24, 1865. Mr. Sydenham is an old California, and has collected many interesting souvenirs of early days in the west, but perhaps none more interesting than this paper.

The typography of the first issue of the Weekly Examiner is remarkable for its clearness, and notwithstanding its age, the printing is as distinct as if the paper had been published only a few weeks ago.

Chief of importance in the news column of the paper, dated June 24, 1865, is the president's amnesty proclamation, in which President Andrew Johnson and Secretary of State Wm. H. Seward issue the offer of amnesty and pardon to those who participated in the rebellion.

The Mexican situation at that time like now, was also a very important and serious affair. From this old copy of the Examiner, 51 years ago, it is learned that "reliable information leads to the inference, so far as President Johnson is concerned, that he has no intention of interfering in Mexico, or what is more important, in Canadian affairs." Another paragraph on the front page of this old paper, says that Senator McDougal of California called upon President Johnson for the purpose of ascertaining definitely to what extent "Mexican emigration" should be encouraged. The questions of the destiny of Mexico as it affected the United States were glanced at—the probabilities of the difficulties which might require the attention of the government on the sudden return of so large a number of men to the walks of civil life in 1865 were considered, and after some time for reflection the president decided that, aside from the right of any inhabitant of the United States to emigrate to Mexico, the development of a pure American feeling there was absolutely necessary to the future peace of the continent. Nothing like an armed invasion of Mexico, however, could or would be countenanced by the U. S. government.

The market report is a very interesting part of the paper. In those pioneer days, prices of necessities were not to be compared with present high prices. For instance, beef was selling in San Francisco at 4 to 6c a pound, while veal brought 7 to 7½c. The hardy argonauts had no time to cure bacon, and as this was brought around the Horn it was naturally a delicacy and brought 23 to 25 cents a pound. Beans were selling for 2 to 2½c, while potatoes brought 4 to 4½c a pound. In the mining stock market, higher prices ruled. The stocks of the mines of the old Comstock, listed as Washoe stocks, ranged from $465 a share for Ophir to $1600 for Gould & Curry. Savage brought $1500 bid, $1550 asked. Chollar was selling at $410 and Hale & Norcross brought $635. It was a miserable mining stock indeed that could not get a bid of $100 a share in those days on the board.

There is a paragraph about a proposed state fair to be given at the old town of Amador, in which the efforts of the "impressible Sacramentans" to make the fair a success are commended. The article goes on to say: "Let their efforts (those trying to give the fair) be seconded by every stock-raiser, grain and fruit grower and gardener in the state, and while each individual will be gratified, instructed and profited, the aggregate beneficial results to the producing interests of the state may be counted by millions."

HEREANDTHERE

The Patagonian is in receipt of a letter from a lieutenant in the U. S. army stationed at Nogales, who is looking for a place in a private family in Patagonia, where his wife may room and board while he is on duty at the border. The crowded condition of Nogales at the present time makes it almost impossible to secure such accommodations. If any one can furnish this lady with the desired accommodations, please notify this office at once.

The nineteenth annual session of the American Mining Congress closed in Chicago last week by electing Walter Douglas of Bisbee and Douglas, Ariz., president. Resolutions adopted in the final session included one advocating a more liberal administration of the land laws and protesting against federal leasing of mineral and other land. Another resolution urged the elimination of politics from the mine inspection service, and advocated a general revision of American mining laws.

A postmaster in one of the small Arizona towns has formulated the following rules for the benefit of his patrons, so that they may know what to expect: "No letters given out until they are received. If you don't get a letter or a paper on the day you expect it, have the postmaster look through all the boxes and down in the cellar also. It ought to be there and he likes to hunt for it just to please you. If your friend doesn't write rave at the postmaster. He is to blame. If he tells you no, put on a grievous look and say there ought to be some. He is probably holding your mail for the pleasure of having you call for it. Ask him to look again. If you are buying stamps, make him lick them and put 'em on; that's his business."

Clay McGonigal and Bob Giles, both of Cochise county, captured first and second prizes at the State Fair in Phoenix last week for tying steers. The Republican has the following to say regarding the contest: "Clay McGonigal won first honors in the world's championship roping contest staged at the State Fair grounds by catching his last steer in 9¼ seconds. His total time was 49 seconds for the four steers, 4½ seconds better than that made by his nearest competitor, R. Giles. With the world's championship honors went a cash prize of $1,000 to the winner. A total purse of $2,000 was hung up by the State Fair association, to be divided seven ways. Second place brought down $500, third $250, fourth $100, fifth $75, sixth $50 and seventh $25. The other winners were as follows: Robert Giles second, Oscar Roberts third, Moses Cline, fourth, Cone Webb fifth, Ray Sorrella sixth, Logan Morris, seventh."

The proprietor of the Courier is one of the few men who have succeeded in keeping a straight Democratic paper alive in Arizona and the only one who has succeeded in so doing in Prescott. And the greatest fight to keep a Democratic paper alive here and elsewhere in Arizona is not from opposition from Republicans, but from a bunch of mercenaries calling themselves Democrats who never voted a straight Democratic ticket in their lives and are more noted for their efforts to defeat Democratic policies and Democratic candidates than are the Republicans themselves. This sweet scented bunch may come in for more complimentary mention in these columns in the not distant future.—Prescott Courier.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, etc.
