Historic Old Mowry, Idle Many Years, Is

J. Smith and a couple of companions, of Warren, Pa., said to be the principal owners of the old Mowry mine, were in old property. It is announced a concendays. It is presumed the visit of the Pennsylvania capitalists and the announcement of their intention to work the property themselves, puts an end to the deal which has been pending for some time with the Standard Metals Company, a Los Angeles corporation, for the sale of the property. So much has been said and printed about the Mowry during the last several years, generally to the effect that it was to be started up again every few weeks, that any news concerning it is now taken "with a grain of salt" by mining men of this community. It has lain idle since 1907. In case the old producer is re-worked, as it necessarily must be, on a big scale, it will be a great boon to the town of Patagonia, as this place will be the shipping and supply point for the Mowry, as it now is for the Harshaw and Duquesne mines.

The interesting history of the old Mowry is well known to all in this community, and to nearly everyone in this part of the Southwest, for that matter, but for the benefit of outsiders the following paragraph from the U.S. Geological Survey, Bulletin No. 582, by Frank C. Schrader, is reprinted:

"The mine was located in the early fifties and worked in the usual primitive way by the Mexicans, but it had been known to the Jesuits long before. It was relocated in 1858 and was purchased in 1859 by Lieut. Sylvester Mowry, of the United States Army, who was then stationed at Fort Crittenden [just a few miles above the present town of Patagonia], who is said to have expended about $200,000 in the purchase of the mine and its equipment ments. Lieut. Mowry operated the mine which should be understood by sports- made from the Pinal, and it is predicted successfully for about four years, employing 120 men, and shipped $1,500,000

> E. P. A. Larrieu (Gene) of the Joe Bush fame, and well known prognosticator of the Huachuca mountain reserve, was in the city recently, accompanied by his brother, John. Both are officials of the Two Peaks Mining company and were here on company business. While here Joe Bush, in his usual seer-like manner, quietly called the attention of the Prospector representative to the occurrence of several days ago when four German U-boats were sunk in the Atlantic, and the manner and method of operation not disclosed. Larrieu believes that there is a probability that it is the result of an invention of Jerry Sheehy, who a short time ago was called to Washington to demonstrate an invention with which he claims he can blow up an object at any distance, and it is understood he was taken to the Atlantic to try out his plans. Sheehy is known in the Huachuca region as "the nut," on account of his inventive ideas, but if the sinking of the German subs are the result of his invention, the name will hardly be appropriate. At least, so thinks Larrieu, and his conclusion and prophies are seldom known to go estray. -Tombstone

BAKER DRAWS FIRST NUMBER

SECRETARY OF WAR BEGINS THE WORK OF SELECTING THE MEN WHO WILL WEAR UNCLE SAM'S UNIFORM.

TAKES WHOLE DAY AND NIGHT

Altogether 10,500 Numbers Were Drawn From Big Fish Bowl Used for the Occasion-Probably None After the First 2,000 Will Be Called on for Service, at Least at This Time.

Washington, July 21.-The draft for the national army is completed. The great task of determining the order in which the registrants should be called up for examination was begun at 9:48 o'clock Friday morning when No. 258 was drawn, and was kept up continuously until early Saturday morning. when the last number came out of the bowl. In all 10,500 numbers were drawn, but it is not likely that men holding numbers drawn after the first 2,000 will be summoned before the boards for service in the first army. According to the officials in charge, the first 1,000 numbers drawn represented more than a million men.

The draft was invested with all the dignity and solemnity becoming so important an event, and was witnessed by a distinguished company. The first eight numbers were drawn respectively by Secretary of War Baker, Senator Chamberlain of the senate military committee, Congressman Dent of the house military committee, Senator Warren and Representative Kahn. ranking minority members of the senate and house military committees; Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, acting chief of staff of the army; Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder, provost marshal of the army; and Major General McCain, adjutant general of the army. After the first eight numbers had been drawn the regular tellers took hold, and worked through until the long task was completed. In only a small number of the largest districts will the numbers above a few thousand affect registrants. Of 4,557 registration districts throughout the country the largest has something over 10,200 numbers, while the smallest has only about 185, and the average is about 3,000. As the drawing proceeded, 157 numbers were withdrawn before one low enough to affect the smallest district came out. It was 126, placing 4,557 men numbered 126 on their local lists as 157th in order of liability.

The following list shows the numbers in the order in which they were drawn. The first number in each case represents the order in which the secoud, or red-ink registry, number was taken from the bowl. Four numbers are given in each line, beginning with the first-number, which was drawn by Secretary Baker.

HORSES PREPARED FOR SHOW

Some Extra Care and Attention Needed for Draft Animals-Feed Brood Mares Some Grain.

Draft horses that are to be shown at the county fairs need some extra care and attention. To show at an advantage horses should be in good condition, well mannered and well groomed. Brood mares and young will depend on the condition of the animal and also on the pasture. Equal parts of corn and oats have been found to be a good mixture to feed. Stallions and work horses that are to be shown should be fed enough grain and hay to put them in good condition. A little grass or green feed of some kind is useful as a conditioner and as an appetizer.

Draft horses are shown at halter except in the case of draft pairs. It is good form to show mares and young horses with rope halters. Halters made from half-inch rope are preferable except for foals when halters made from three-eighths inch rope are more in keeping with the size of these animal. Draft stallions are shown with heavy bridles. Horses should be taught to stand and to lead before they are brought into the ring. Most horses show to good advantage when stretched slightly. It is advisable to exercise all horses to be shown for considerable time before the show, both at the walk and at the trot. Find a level strip of road and let the animal walk and trot back and forth over a space of 100 feet for 10 or 15 minutes each day so that he may know what is expected of him when shown. Always stand a horse with his front feet on slightly higher ground than his hind feet.

overcome the attack of diseases.

Very Often an Examination of Water Supply Will Reveal Trouble With Young Animals.

One of the causes of scours in lambs is filthy water. We generally look for the cause in the feed, but quite often it is due to impure water. Everybody is familiar with the disturbance in the human family which follows the use of bad water. The stomach of the lamb and even the sheep, is quite as susceptible to danger from this source as is that of the shepherd. We often see flocks on fairly good pastures, that ought to do well so far as feed is concerned, showing a lack of thrift and seems to be, at first thought, no apparent reason. Very often an examination of the water supply will reveal the cause.

YOUNG BERTRAM MEADE LEARNS IN A FRIGHTFUL EX-PERIENCE JUST HOW MUCH HELEN ILLING-WORTH MEANS TO HIM

The Martlet Construction Company is building a great international bridge planned by Bertram Meade, Sr., a famous engineer. His son, Bertram Meade, Jr., resident engineer at the bridge, is in love with Helen Illingworth, daughter of Colone. Illingworth, president of the company. Young Meade questioned his father's judgment on the strength of certain important steel beams in the gigantic structure but was laughed to scorn. He still has private doubts, though outwardly agreeing with his elder,

He looked down, and as if in obedience to his glance she outthrust her foot from her gown. It was not the smallest foot that ever upbore a woman. Quite the contrary. Which is not y saying it was too large, not at all. It was just right for her height and figure, and its shape and shoe left nothing to be desired.

"Never mind the slippers," she said; "they are stronger than they look. They'll serve."

"But the distance between here and tne bridge is inches deep in dust." "Dust!" she exclaimed in dismay. "I don't mind rough walking, but "I never thought of that," admitted the man. "The fact is I have thought of nothing but you since I saw you, but now we'll have to go back or-"

"I shall not go back," she answered firmly. He stepped down off the platform, and before she knew what he would be at, he lifted her straight up in his He did not carry her like a baby, he held her erect, crushed against his breast, and before she had time to utter a protest, or even to say a word, he started through the dusty roadway toward the bridgehead.

It was a strange position. She knew she ought to protest, but the words would not come. Whilst she was trying to think them up, they had crossed the little desert that intervened between the portal of the bridge and the her arm. end of the platform. Then he set her down gently.

"Thank you," she said simply, "that was very nice of you. You are wonderfully strong."

The moon, by this time, had passed the floor level and the cross-bracing cast a network of shadows over them, upon track and floor beams and stringers. The silence of the half-light, the mystery of it all oppressed them a Httle. It was with beating hearts that they pressed on.

CHAPTER III.

Fall and Revelation. "It's rather confused in here," said the man, "but we will soon get out toward the end and then the view is magnificent. You can see up and down the river for miles and the night boat will be along in a few minutes."

"Isn't that it?" asked the woman, pointing up the river to where a cluster of lights rounded a huge bend not far away, and swung out in midstream. "Yes," said the man, "if we listen I think we can hear her."

They both stopped and, sure enough, faintly across the water came the river steamer. With that sound also for a wonder comparatively gentle, making strange, weird harmonies as it sifted through the taut and rigid bars of steel. She listened enchanted with the sound.

The big toor beams extended from one side to the other of the bridge, between the trusses at intervals of fifty feet. At right angles to them and six feet apart, the stringers ran lengthways parallel to the trusses. Here and been thrown across the stringers for the convenience of the workmen, but as these two slowly moved toward midstream at last these pieces became fewer, and finally there was nothing to be seen but the heavy floor beams and the lighter stringers.

Fifty feet away it ended in the air. They were now almost directly beneath the traveler, near the end of the suspended span. Its huge legs sprawled out like those of a gigantic animal on the extreme edges of the bridge on elther side above their heads. The wooden platform on the track ran out half the distance to the bridge end. Slowly the two walked along it until but a few feet were left between them and the naked floor beams and the stringers carrying the ties to which the rails were bolted and the planks laid.

By the side of the track on the top of the stringers had been placed a pile of material surmounted by a large flat plate of steel, which lay level upon it. It was triangular in shape, the blunt point inward. The base which was about six feet wide paralleled the course of the river. The plate on the top of the pile was raised about three feet above the level of the track. They stopped abreast of it.

"On that gusset plate?" "Is that what you call it?"

"Yes, it bears the same relation to structural steel that a gusset does to a woman's dress," 'Exactly. But can't I stand on it?"

"Wait," he answered.

He climbed to the center of it, lifted himself up and down on his feet to test it, and found it solid apparently.

"I think so, but I shall have to put you up," he said at last as he lifted her up and set her down on her feet in the middle of the plate of steel.

"Oh, there comes the steamer," she cried. "I can see it beautifully from here." "Be careful. You must not move,

"I do not think that is necessary," she said. "This plate seems as solid as the rest of the bridge and-oh, there's the steamer! She's right under us."

The big river craft was filled with light and laughter. The wind fortunately blew the smoke away from the bridge so that they had a clear and perfect view of her. There was a band there pieces of timber falsework had playing aboard her. They heard the music above the beat of the whirling her slightly, though he still held her paddles, the song of the rising wind, closely and she was quite content. The piece of steel began to slip downward, grating on the pile of beams as it moved; another second and it would be off and on its way irrevocably.

Meade threw himself at the girl. He lunged out and caught her just as she was slipping downward with the plate now almost perpendicular. To catch her he had to step to the very edge of the planking beyond which the rails ran naked on the ties.

With a tremendous effort he caught her by the waist, swung her up and in. and stood fast on the brink quivering, be on high elevations? A wild shout rose from the steamer as the huge plate dropped, like the blade of a mighty guillotine, straight down through the air. If it had struck the boat, it would have cut through like a knife. Fortunately it cleared the gangway by inches. In a second it had disappeared. Screams, shouts, arose from the boat which promptly

"Listen," she said as they walked slowly along. "You must not tell father anything about this little accident."

"I obey, but why not?" "It would only worry him, and it vas my fault."

"No, mine." "I will not hear you say it."

Accordingly Meade stood obediently waiting outside the car in the shadow it cast. There was no one about. The servants had gone to bed. The porter of the car was nodding in his quarters, waiting for the time to turn out the lights. The engineer had the long platform all to himself. After a time he chose to walk quietly up and down, thinking. The future looked very fair to him.

"Bert." a sweet voice came to him out of the darkness. He turned to discover her standing in the door of the car dressed as she should have been for such an excursion had she at first followed her father's wise suggestion. His heart thrilled to the use of the familiar name. "Bert, I'm coming down to you."

Hand in hand they walked to the rear of the car, where the observation platform was still brightly lighted. Abbott had gone and the other three men were on their feet. They were about to separate for the night, although it was still rather early.

"Father," said his daughter out of the darkness.

"Of course I do," said Helen, realizing that it was now high time for her to come to the rescue of her lover, "and so would any other woman."

"You know, of course, that while I am not rich, I am not poor, and I can support my wife in every comfort, sir," urged the man, greatly relieved by the woman's prompt avowal.

"She'll need a few luxuries besides I'm thinking."

"Yes, of course, sir, I'll see that she gets them. This bridge is going to make us all famous, and I shall have my father's influence and-

"When the bridge is finished," said the colonel decisively, "come to me and you shall have my daughter." "Oh, father, the bridge won't be fin ished for-" began the girl.

"I understand, sir," answered the engineer, too happy at her father's consent to make any difficulties over any reasonable conditions he might impose. 'Yes, Helen, it's all right; your father is right. This job's got to be done before I-

"Oh, don't say before you tackle another," protested the girl, half disappointed, and yet seeing the reasonableness of both men, while the colonel laughed grimly.

"That's about the size of it," said the old man, "no matter how you put it. One thing at a time. Meade, I don't know anybody on earth I would rather have for my son-in-law than a clean, honest, able American with a record in the eye and grasp me by the hand, like this."

You will be coming in presently, Helen?"

He turned and walked away as they answered him. They watched him go slowly with bended head. They watched him climb, rather heavily, up the steps to the car-that he was an old man seemed rather suddenly borne In upon them. He stood for a moment in the light, smiling, remembering, and then turned and marched within the car. He switched the light out as he passed down the corridor.

"Wasn't he splendid?" said Helen, when she had time to breathe and freedom to speak.

"One of the finest old men on earth. He and father would make a great team."

"I was interested in the bridge, before," said the woman, "but think how I shall watch it now. You must write me every day and tell me every inch that you have gained."

"Trust me, I'll mensure it in millimeters.

"And now, sweet love, good night," she whispered. And she laughed as she looked back at him through the

He fretted over his enforced absence from the work and in the end had to pay for that very fretting, for he got up too soon and went out too quickly, and was sequence of his impatience.

Now, after a week's confinement in his cabin, he felt strong enough to ven ture out again and to attack his prob-They were personal problems now, much more intimate than before, for he was building not only the bridge but weaving in its web of steel his own future happiness.

Of course he had been able to get out on the rough porch of his galvanized iron shack where he had the bridge in full view, and the day before he had even walked unsteadily down to the river bank, where he had been equally surprised and delighted at the progress that had been made. Abbott was a driver after his own heart, Really things seemed to have gone on just as well without him as if he had been on the job. He had not been lonely in his illness, for all of the chief men connected with the construction had done their best to beguile the tedium of him hours by visiting him whenever they could spare the time.

Abbott had been especially kind in his somewhat rough-and-ready way. The big construction superintendent was fond of Meade, although he undervalued him. He regarded him more as a theoretical than a practical man and the inevitable antagonism between the theorist and the practical man, when they are not combined in one peronality, was latent in Abbott's heart. Nightly, he brought to Meade details of the progress of the work. That evening, just before leaving, he remarked in the most casual manner in the world. as if it were a matter of little or no importance, that C-10-R was a trifle out was not worth having, she might have of line. said. "Well, sir," he began desperate-

Now C-10-R was the biggest member of the great right-hand truss on the north side of the river. It consisted of four parallel composite webs, each formed of several plates of steel riveted together. These webs were connected across their upper and lower edges by diagonal latticing made of steel angle bars. C-10-R and Its parallel companion member, C-10-L, in the lefthand truss, carried the entire weight of the cantilever span to the shoc resting on the pier. These members were sixty feet long and five feet wide. The webs were over four feet deep and in size and responsibility the great struts were the most important of the whole

To say that C-10-R was out of line was springing, and had departed from maintain the stability and immobility of the truss and the strength of the earth could be more terribly porcolonel threw away his cigar, slipped tentous than such a statement, if it were true. To the practical man, who, to do him justice, had never dealt with such vast structuresand he was not singular in that because the bridge was unique on account of its size-the deflection noted meant little or nothing.

"Good God!" exclaimed Meade, affame on the instant with anxious apprehension. The night was warm and he was dressed in his palamas and had been lying on the bed. As if he had been shocked into action he sat up, forgetful of his weakness. "Deflection!" he fairly shouted at Abbott, who regarded him with half-amused astonishment, "a camber in C-10-R7 Why didn't you tell me?"

By this time Meade had got his feet into his slippers and was standing "It isn't enough to make any differ-

He reached for his jacket, hanging at the foot of the bed, and dragged it on him.

"Don't worry about it, youngster." said Abbott rather contemptuously, although he meant to be soothing. "I'm going to fack it into line and-bere," he cried as Meade bolted out of the door, "you'd better not excite yourself that way. Come back to bed, man, and-"

EXEMPTION RULES ARE MADE PUBLIC

Directions for Registered Men Given Step by Step.

ALL CLAIMS UNDER OATH

Industrial Needs and Dependents Are Chief Basis on Which Draft May Be Avoided-Make Claims in Person.

Washington.-Provost Marshal Genernl Crowder has issued complete instructions for the men registered under the selective conscription law. So that everyone will understand just what is to be done, he gives the directions, step by step, as follows:

1. LOCAL BOARDS-In every county in the United States and for every city of over 30,000 there are one or more local exemption boards. Each of such boards is in charge of the registration cards of persons registered in the area, over which the board has jurisdiction, and has jurisdiction of all claims for exemption, except those based on industrial grounds. FIND OUT WHAT BOARD HAS YOUR CARD AND WHERE THE OFFICE OF THAT BOARD IS.

2. DISTRICT BOARDS-In every federal judicial district there are one or more district boards, having appellate jurisdiction over a number of local boards and having original jurisdiction of claims for exemption on industrial grounds. IF YOU INTEND TO MAKE A CLAIM ON INDUS-TRIAL GROUNDS, INCLUDING AG-RICULTURE, LEARN WHAT DIS-TRICT BOARD TO APPLY TO.

Meaning of Numbers.

3. RED INK SERIAL NUMBERS-Every board has numbered the cards in its jurisdiction with red ink in a series running from 1 to the number representing the total number of cards in its jurisdiction. Lists showing the names of persons in the jurisdiction of each board and the red ink number of each are open to inspection at the office of each board. INSPECT THE LIST AND INFORM YOUR-SELF OF YOUR RED INK SERIAL

4. ORDER OF LIABILITY-These red ink numbers are to be drawn by lot to determine the order in which registered persons are to be called by the various local boards. As soon as the drawing is complete lists showing the order in which these red ink numbers are drawn will be published in the press, and will be posted at the office of each local board. GO TO YOUR LOCAL BOARD AND FIND OUT THE ORDER IN WHICH YOU STAND FOR CALL.

5. As soon as quotas are assigned to each state and each board, each board will call upon persons whose cards are in its jurisdiction instructing them to present themselves for examination. This call will be posted at the office of the local board and the papers will be requested to print it. A notice will also be mailed to you, but the posting of the list at the office of the board will be deemed sufficient notice to charge you with the duty of presenting yourself. The law therefore makes It your duty to inform yourself when you are called. The mailing is for your convenience, but if the letter never reaches you you cannot make that

Watch the lists at the office of your board and see when you are called for examination.

6. Physical examination—you must report for physical examination on the day named in your call. If you are found physically disqualified the board will give you a certificate which will explain to you what your further duties are.

If you are found physically qualified and file a claim for exemption within seven days after your call you will be given ten days after filing your claim of exemption to file proof in support of your claim of exemption. See (VII) below.

Watch for Your Name.

If you are found physically qualified and file no claim for exemption, or if you do not appear for physical examination, your name will be posted to the district board as one who was called for military service and was not exempted or discharged. On the eighth day after call, or within two days thereafter, copies of the list of persons so posted to the district boards will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in a place at the office of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to you at the address on your registration card.

THEREFORE WATCH THE NO-TICES POSTED IN THE OFFICE OF THE BOARD ABOUT TEN DAYS AF-TER THE DAY YOU WERE CALLED AND MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE PROMPT RECEIPT OF MAIL.

7. EXEMPTION OR DISCHARGE. -No claim or discharge on account of the industry in which you are engaged can be decided by a local board. (See Par. XV. below.)

WHETHER YOU FILE A CLAIM OF EXEMPTION OR NOT, YOU MUST PRESENT YOURSELF FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION ON THE DAY NAMED IN THE NOTICE.

From the day notice that you are called is malled and posted you have seven days in which you may file a claim of exemption or discharge. The form for filing this claim is simple. If you wish to file such a claim-Go to the board and get Form 110 | proof, to see what disposition was for exemption or Form 121 for discharge. If the board has not the printed forms ask to consult the form pamphlet and copy the form shown

Fill out the proper form and file it with the board.

Do this within seven days of the posting and mailing of notice to you to present yourself.

The following are the only grounds for exemption:

That you are an officer, legislative, executive or judicial of the United States, a state or territory, or the District of Columbia.

That you are a regular or duly or-nined minister of religion. That you were on May 18, 1917, a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school.

That you are in the military or naval service of the United States.

That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or That you are a resident allen who has not taken out first papers.

In addition to claims for exemption claims for discharge may be made on any of the following grounds, which are the only grounds for discharge by a local board:

That you are a county or municipal

That you are a custom-house clerk. That you are employed by the United States in the transmission of mails. That you are an artificer or work-man employed in an armory, arsenal or navy yard of the United States.

That you are employed in the service of the United States (under certain conditions). See paragraph (e) of sec-tion 20, Regulations.

That you are a licensed pilot regularly employed in the pursuit of your

That you are a mariner actually em ployed in the sen service of any citizen or merchant within the United States. That you are a married man with a wife or child dependent on you for sup-

That you have aged or infirm parents dependent upon your labor for support.

That you have a widowed mother dependent on your labor for support. That you are the father of a mother-less child under sixteen dependent upon your labor for support. That you are a brother of an orphan child or children under sixteen depen-dent on your labor for support.

That you are a member of any well-recognized religious sect or organiza-tion organized and existent May 17, 1917, and whose then existing creed or principles forbade its members to par-ticipate in war is any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said religious organization.

These are the only grounds for ex-emption or discharge by a local board. Another person can file a ciaim in your behalf, but must use different forms in filing the claim.

8. Proof of claims-Your claim of exemption or discharge must be filed within seven days of the day on which notice to you that you are called was posted and mailed. But after you have filed your claim for exemption or discharge you have ten days within which to file proof.

The method of proving claims is very simple, but it is rather exact. If you follow the rules given below you will have done what is required of you

(a) Go tothe local board and consult the regulations to find out the form number of the affidavits that you must submit for your particular claim. (b) Ask the board for the blank affidavits that are necessary in presenting your proof; if the board has not the forms, ask to consult the pamphlet of forms. (c) Have the affidavits properly accomplished and return them to the board within the time limit assigned you-ten days from the filing of your claim.

Remember:

(a) You must submit your proof in the prescribed form and the board has no authority to exempt or discharge you unless you submit all the affidavits required by regulations.

(b) There will be no argument before the board and no proof other than the prescribed affidavits, unless the board calls for other proof, which it will do in only a limited number of Action as to Claims.

9. WHEN CLAIMS ARE DECIDED -Every claim for discharge or exemption will be decided by the local board within three days after your affidavits have been filed.

10. CERTIFICATES OF EXEMP-TION OR DISCHARGE-If your claim is allowed, a certificate of exemption or discharge will be issued to you.

Remember: (a) This certificate may be recalled at any time.

(b) If it is temporary or conditional it becomes of no effect when the time or the condition named is fulfilled. (c) You have been drawn for military service and when the condition that has postponed your posting to the colors ceases you may be recalled at any time.

(d) Remember that your case may still be appealed to the district board by the government, and on this appeal your certificate may be withdrawn at once. When so withdrawn you stand precisely as though you had been selected for military service by the local board.

11. ADVERSE DECISIONS ON CLAIM-If your claim is disallowed by the local board your name will be certified and sent by the local board to the district board as one who has been called for military service and not exempted or discharged. Within two days thereafter, if practicable, a list of those so certified to the district board will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in the offices of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to the address on the registration card. Therefore, if you have filed a claim for exemption and proof in support thereof watch the notices in the office of the local board, beginning about five days after you have filed your made of your case and make arrangements for the prompt receipt of mail.

Carrying Up Appeals. 12. HOW TO CLAIM APPEALS TO DISTRICT BOARDS-Claims of appeal may be made by a person within ten days after the day when notice has been posted and mailed that such person's name has been certified to the district board as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

Therefore if you desire to appeal-(a) Go to the local board and get or copy form 153 or 154 for filing your claim of appeal.

(b) Get or copy also form 151 or 152 for notifying the district board of appeal.

(c) File your claim of appeal (153 or 154) with the local board. (d) Send your notice of appeal (form 151 or 152) to the district board. (e) Do this within ten days from the day when notice that your name was certified to the district board was posted and mailed. Remember:

(a) You can only appeal the final order of the board exempting or discharging or refusing to exempt or discharge you. You cannot appeal other orders or actions of the local board.

13. PROVING YOUR APPEAL-You have five days after the district board receives your notice that you have filed a claim of appeal in which to file evidence additional to that filed by you in the local board, but all such evidence must consist of affidavits.

Reception of Decisions. 14. DECISIONS ON APPEAL-The decision on your appeal must be made within five days of the closing of proof, and you will be notified by mall of the action of the board on your appeal. 15. CLAIMS FOR DISCHARGE ON INDUSTRIAL GROUNDS-Only the district board can receive claims for discharge on the ground that they are engaged in industry, including agriculture, found to be necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment, the effective operation of the military forces, or the maintenance of national interest during the emergency.

Such claims must be filed with the district board on or before the fifth day after the mailing and posting of notice that you have been certified by the local board as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

If you desire to file such a claim: (a) Get a copy at the local or district board of form 161 or 161a.

(b) Fill the form out properly. (c) File it with the district board within five days after the mailing and posting of notice that your name has been certified from the local board to the district board. See section 44, regulations.

16. PROOF IN SUPPORT OF IN-DUSTRIAL CLAIM-Only affidavits can be used in filing proof before the industrial board of a claim for exemption on industrial grounds. All such affidavits must be filed within five days after the filing of the claim.

Industrial Claim Rulings. 17. DECISIONS ON INDUSTRIAL CLAIM-Within five days after the closing of proof in any industrial claim the district board must decide the If the decision of the district board is in favor of the claim the board will issue a certificate of discharge. If the decision is against the claim the district boards will so notify you. Remember that you called for military service and that the certificate of the district boad is only conditional on your remaining In the kind of industrial service on account of which you were discharged. GERMAN PEACE TALK IS SHAM

PREMIER LLOYD-GEORGE AN-SWERS SPEECH OF CHAN-CELLOR MICHAELIS.

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER DE-CLARES AMERICA WILL SOON CHANGE TEUTON'S TUNE.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

London,-The British prime minister, David Lloyd-George, speaking at a great patriotic demonstration in Queen's hall, in commemoration of "Belgian Independence Day," characterized the speech of the German chancellor, Dr. Georg Michaelis, as a mere sham and declared that he did not want the Germans "to harbor any delusions that they are going to put Great Britain out of this fight until liberty has been re-established throughout the world."

Great Britain could make peace with a free Germany, but with a Germany dominated by autocracy, declared the premier, there never could be peace.

The Germans, said the premier, were making the same mistake in underestimating America's efforts in the war as they had made about Great Britain at the beginning.

"They said that we would not fight," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "and if we did, we could not. We had no army and couldn't raise one, and Soften a little cream cheese with they need not worry about Britain. I think they have discovered their bread cut in thin slices. The man who talks like that knows not America; otherwise he would not say

> Referring directly to the German chancellor's sneering remark that America has no ships and no army and that when America has an army it will have no ships to bring them across the sea, the premier said:

> "He knows America just as little as the Germans knew Great Britain." Far from being starved by the U-boats, Mr. Lloyd-George declared, Great Britain's food supply for 1917-18 was already secured, production was increasing and losses at sea were diminishing. He had sought in the chancellor's speech for something which he could hope for the ending of

> "But," he declared, "I see in it a sham independence for Belglum; a sham democracy for Germany, a sham peace for Europe, and I say that Europe has not sacrificed millions of her gallant sons to set up a sanctuary for sham.

RUN AUTOS WITH COAL GAS

London Motorists Find It Chesper Than Gasoline at Present High Price of Latter.

Great interest has been aroused by the reference made in the London Telegraph recently to the economic advantage of the utilization of coal gas as a substitute for petrol (gasoline), says that newspaper. It has been established by actual practice that 250 cubic feet of coal gas-the ordinary gas that is used for household Illumination purposes-equals one gallon of petrol when applied to the work of driving a motor vehicle. If gas costs 72 cents 1,000 cubic feet it is equivalent to petrol at 18 cents a gallon, and at 96 cents 1,000 cubic feet is equivalent to its competitor at 24 cents a gallon.

As petrol cannot be bought today for commercial purposes at under 48 to 58 cents a gallon, it will be seen how great is the economy effected. So far as the alterations rendered neces sary to the engine of a motor vehicle are concerned, the only additional expenditure is about $3.00, and the gas bag container for the storing of the vapor costs $75. Thus, for the expenditure of $78.00, an ordinary petrol ising motor vehicle of any description can be converted into a gas driven one, and the driving expenses reduced enermously.

FOOD COST BILL PASSED, 81 TO 6

SENATE EMPOWERS PRESIDENT TO FIX PRICE FOR COAL OR TAKE OVER MINES.

WHEAT PRICE PUT AT $2

CONFEREES TO CONSIDER DIF FERENCES IN PROVISIONS MADE BY TWO HOUSES.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington - The administration food control bill, virtually rewritten after five weeks' bitter contest, was passed by the Senate, 81 to 6. Conferees from House and Senate will begin work at once and leaders are hopeful the measure may be in the President's hands in ten days.

As revamped, the bill gives the President broad authority over foods, feeds and fuel, the latter including kerosene and gasoline; provides for administration by a food board of three members instead of an individual; autoorizes federal fixing of coal prices, requisitioning and operattion of coal mines, and authorizes a minimum guarantee price of not less than $2 per bushel for wheat at primary markets.

The Senate prohibition sections, prohibiting manufacture of distilled beverages during the war and directing the President to buy all distilled spirits in bond was substituted for the House "bone dry" provision and will be one subject of difficulty in conference.

Senators voting against the bill were France, Md.; Hardwick, Ga.; Penrose, Pa.; Reed, Mo.; Sherman, Ill.; Sutherland, W. Va.

Scores of amendments were disposed of Saturday, but the principal features were the incorporation of the amendment authorizing the minimum wheat price and another by Senator Pomerene greatly broadening the government's power to handle the coal situation. The government guarantees for wheat would be payable at all principal interior primary markets until July 1, 1919. The Senate rejected, 46, to 38, an amendment by Senator Norris to have the food board, instead of Congress, fix the minimum price.

The Pomerene coal amendment incorporated, by the overwhelming vote of 72 to 12, directs the President, through the federal trade commission or other agency, to fix coal prices, wholesale and retail, regulate the whole industry and if necessary to take over and operate coal mines and fix prices of labor.

On a final vote the Senate refused, 60 to 23, to place the bill's administration in the hands of an individual.

Appropriation in the House bill of $150,000,000 was left unchanged by the Senate, which added an appropriation of $10,000,000, however, for federal purchase and sale of soda nitrates for fertilizer. Another important Senate addition to the bill provides for a joint congressional committee to supervise war expenditures.

The Senate also added provisions against hoarding of foodstuffs and for regulation of grain exchanges, authorizing the President to close them if necessary to stop speculation in futhem was one named in his own tongue, When He Sees It."

By selfish aims or patriot's hope, With all the army ills to cope?

Said he: "We thousands ready stand To guard and fight for our own land-My people were American,

Before the Christian age began! The Kaiser and all kings before, With Europe steeped in pagan lore We wish to fight, and all we ask Is citizenship, to pay for task.

We, fifty thousand men, who know To live where white men cannot go, Who understand, since birth, a horse

As white men rarely do in force; Whose hearts are in this holy cause, Who want to fight for Freedom's laws! To spring to saddle, ready we,

To fight and die, if need there be. An alien foe shall never cross The border to our country's loss." How nobly these red Indians spoke, Contrasted with some other folk!
