Solaro was last Saturday night the scene of an enjoyable party and dance given by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Schultz in honor of Mr. Frederick Gullman of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. Morris Franklin of New York City, who had been in that district for several days attending to mining business in which they are interested.

Mr. Franklin acted as master of ceremonies, and it is said he is "some floor manager." He entertained the audience with a song-and-dance stunt that would have made Lew Dockstoder turn green from envy. Also, he says he danced at least once with every woman and girl at the party. This assertion, however, is indignantly denied by at least one woman, who says she was overlooked when the programs were signed up—or "articles of agreement," or whatever they are called. Mr. Chas. Allen also sang and danced during the evening.

A nice lunch was spread about midnight by the ladies.

Among those in attendance were Mr. Frederick Gullman, Mr. Morris Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Schultz and children, Mr. George Lopez and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davidson, Mr. F. B. Parker and daughter, Misses Amalia, Carolina and Maria Valenzuela, Messrs. Frank Reichert and Charles Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Verfuth.

Messrs. Gullman and Franklin wish, through the Patagonian, to thank the people of this district for the many courtesies extended to them during their stay here. They departed hoping for a bright future for the mining industry in this community, and leaving behind them many new-made friends, who will look forward to their return to Patagonia.

Misses Rachel Darwin, Letha Alford, Grace Everett and a party of friends, including the teacher of the Harshaw school and a couple of nice young gentlemen, paid us a visit on their return home from the state capital last week.

Announcement

To facilitate our increasing business, and in the interest of furnishing better service, The Peerless Parlors has made arrangements to occupy the entire Wilson building. ### NEWS OF THE MINES

James Kane has returned from Oro Blanco, where he has been showing his mining claims to prospective purchasers.

The Blue Eagle group of claims, located in Alum gulch, and owned by Lou Stevens and Marshall McDonald, have been bonded to California parties.

Mr. W. B. Allen, cashier and auditor of the Duquesne Mining company, has returned from a vacation, part of which was spent at the State Fair at Phoenix.

Judge A. S. Henderson and associates have bonded the Sunlight claims, Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, in the Wrightson district, to A. J. Hook and Dale Goodrich, who have already begun work on the property.

John Hoy, manager of the Trench mine, left last Saturday for San Francisco on important business in connection with the mine and to attend a meeting of the board of directors. He will return next Sunday.

Mr. Ed. Bohlinger is back from Phoenix, and reports having had a pleasant trip. In company with Colonel Richardson, Wednesday, he was out to inspect the Flux and other properties in which they are interested.

Mr. A. L. Harroun of Kansas City, owner of the Bradford, Anaconda and other mining properties in this district, who has just finished examining the Bradford, left Saturday for the east well pleased with the work being done there under the direction of Superintendent John Glasson.

Messrs. Frederick Gullman and Morris Franklin of New York, for 20 years owners of the old Solaro mine on the U. S. mineral segregation of the Baca Flat, left Tuesday evening for the east after a visit of 10 days to their property. They are the owners of several other properties near the old Solaro.

Mr. Murray G. Day, general manager of the Duquesne Mining and Reduction Company, left Tuesday for Chicago to attend a directors' meeting of that company. It has been intimated that some big things may be looked for in the way of increasing the production of ore from this company's Duquesne mines when Mr. Day returns from the east.

Those troubled with bad vision should consult Dr. H. A. Schell, Oculist, of Tucson, who will be at the Patagonia Commercial Co.'s store Tuesday, November 27th.—Adv.

MISS ALICE BRADFORD AND JOE RUPERT WED

Miss Alice Bradford, whose home is in Benson but who is one of Patagonia's popular young school teachers, and Joseph Rupert, a young railroad man, who has a run between Benson and Lordsburg on the main line of the S. P., were quietly married in Phoenix November 17 by Episcopal Bishop Atwood. The young couple had been sweethearts for some time, but their marriage was hastened by the fact that Mr. Rupert will soon be called for service in the army. Mr. Rupert left Tuesday morning to resume his duties with the railroad company, leaving his bride in Patagonia. A short honeymoon trip was taken to San Simon. The many friends of the young couple wish them a happy and prosperous journey on the matrimonial sea.

HAVE YOU A BLIND BABY?

If you have a blind baby, or you know of one in this state, you will be interested to learn that Arizona gives special care, maintenance and education to its blind, from the day of blindness.

In 1912 Gov. Geo. W. P. Hunt signed a bill introduced by Representative Whipple, giving the state board of education power to provide for the state's blind babies in any institution equipped for their care. The first child to be appointed was a baby from Phoenix. It was sent to the Arthur Home for Blind Babies, Summit, N. J., tuition and transportation of the child being paid for by the state.

It is the duty of everyone knowing of a blind baby to acquaint the parents of the fact that if they communicate with State Superintendent of Public Instruction C. O. Case, Phoenix, Ariz., provision will be made for its special care and education.

Arizona is one of 13 states that provide for their baby blind.

ITEMS FOR THE RANCHER

FEED GRAIN SORGHUMS

Conditions indicate a production of sorghum grain above the normal in the southwest this season due to increased acreage and favorable conditions late in the season. At the same time pastures are in poor condition in some sections and the corn crop short in others. These three facts should cause a large increase in the use of sorghum grain for fattening cattle in that region.

The specialists point out that the feeding value of the grain sorghums in fattening cattle and the sale of the finished animals constitutes the most remunerative way of marketing both products. Such a practice eliminates the costly hauling and shipping of the grain. In the form of meat, the grain also sells for a better price than usually can be got for it as grain. Similarly, the owner of cattle fattened on grain sorghums gets the profit which, under the system of selling his cattle as "feeders" goes to the farmers of the corn belt conducting feeding operations.

Experiments of the United States department of agriculture show that sorghum grain has 90 per cent of the feeding value of corn, and is therefore more economical than corn when it is selling for less than 90 per cent of the price of corn.

The best system for fattening cattle in the sorghum grain growing sections, according to the specialists, includes the feeding of silage and a concentrate with the grain.

Silos have been increasing in number in the southwest during the last few years, it is pointed out, and the region is especially favorably located in so far as an available supply of cottonseed meal—one of the best concentrates—is concerned.

DON'T PLANT TREES EARLY

Fall planting of fruit trees should be delayed to late November or early December, advises the United States department of agriculture.

A pomologist of the department writes in answer to a New Jersey inquirer he would hesitate to advise planting in any section as early as October because of probable injury to the trees. In sections of the north where cold weather prohibits planting in November or December, he says, it is usually better to plant in the spring.

Apple trees can be planted with safety in the fall farther north than peach trees and other less hardy kinds.

At the Missouri experiment station it recently has been shown that little or no root action takes place with fall-planted trees until the surface of the ground has begun to freeze, and the trees planted early in the fall may lose considerable vitality before they begin root action.

It is just as important to prevent waste of food by careless preparation, burning, or improper cooking as it is to avoid waste of food after it is cooked.
