Santa Cruz County Near List's Bottom in Stamp Purchases

The United War Savings Committee of Phoenix has given out a statement of the standing of Arizona's counties in the matter of War Savings Stamps and War Savings Certificates that should cause some of our delinquent citizens to awaken to the fact that the year is almost at an end and that they should begin now to make up at least a $20 lotal of purchases of these scentities.

The statement of the committee fol-

Yavipai county is the only county in the state which has reached its quota for the War Savings Stamps. For the whole 12 months the amount per capita should be raised is $20, so for the first 11 months the amount per person in each county should have been invested in brift Stamps is $18.18 and no county but Yavipai has been able to report such progress. Yavapai has done even better than keep pace with its monthly quota for in that banner county the entire $20 cents to the good.

the state with respect to the purchase of here by George R. Fansett of the State Thrift tSamps. Coconino has averaged Bureau of Mines a grand success. $15.15 per person and so is about $3 per head behind the county quota. Greenlee is the third county in standing in the have the agency for the Arizona Daily state, and Marieopa is the fourth. Then Star, which now arrives in Patagonia follow Gila, which is almost tied with on the morning train, same day as in-Maricopa, Pinal, Cochise, Mohave, Yuma, Pime, Santa Cruz, Graham, Navajo and Apache.

hTe wholt state has about two millions and a quarter still to invest in War Savings Stamps during the balance of the year in order to meet the expectations of the government officials. The fact that some of the most lirgely populated counties in the state have maintained a higher average than some -the more smally populated ones aione has made possible as good a showing as is made. All these figures are up to Novmeber 1.

If Arizona fails to make its quote for the Thrift Stamps it will be the rirst patriotic movement in which it has not met requirements, and all sections are getting busy, according to reports at state headquarters, to avert this cutastrophe. Cochise, in particular, is making a great rally to meet its quota with special drives participated in by the leading citizens of Douglas, profits tied up in inventory which undoubtedly disppear in large season when priors begin to me down. Event the war lasts five years loage, and me Attendance has been poor since our drop in prices does come until then, the guiner. will be just as real.

For the meat and by-products depart ments, which are subgject to the 9 per cent limitation of profits, the statement continues, the rate of turn-ove is approximately 3 1-3 times a year. "It! must be remembered that part of the steer consists of by-products which move slowly, that some of the beef is cured and salted, and large portion of pork products consists of cured products which move very slowly and that even in the sale of strictly fresh meat it takes some time for the money to return to the company's coffers after the actual sale is made

"The commission says that the pack ers' profit of one-quarter of a cent per pound on btef amounts to $5 a ton as compared to only 25 cents per ton profit on ceal. As a matter of fact an average quality ton of beef is worth at wholesale at present about $400, whereas a ton of authracite coal at tidewater is worth only about $7. Compare a $5 profit on a $100 sale with a 25 cent profit on a $7 sale, we beef profit is only 1% per cent, coal prefit over 3%

"In 1917 Swift & Co. filled over 30, 000,000 orders of all products with a total of about 200,600,000 items, a large part of which had to eb weighed and wrapped separately while coal is delive ered in car lots or ton lots."

NO PERMITS NECESSARY

The Arizona State Council of Defense has been advised today by the War Industries Board that all remaining retarictions on building projects have been removed. This order went into effect on November 21st and from that time all building operations of whatever haracter may proceed without cormits. either from the War Industries Board or the State Council of Defence.

Under this ruling it will not be areessary for any person to apply to either the County Council of Defence or the State Council for a permit to build, and all rules and regulations made by the War Industries Board governing construction are rescin ied and annulled.

American wives, mothers and loved ones of captured Yankees confined in German prison camps need have no fear their boys will suffer from lack of food. With characteristic, live-wire, modern business efficiency incthods the American Red Cross has perfected a great organization which now forwards weekly supplies of food to all American prisoners in Germany th.ough Herne, Switzerland.

At Berne the Red Cross has leased a large warehouse which now contains sufficient food to supply 10,000 American prisoners for a period of six months. A similar warehouse has been leased in Copenhagen, which will be ready to take up the work of prisoners' relief at a moment's notice,

As soon as a man is reported a prisoner of war a 20-pound parcel of food is sent to him, and this is followed by a shipment of the same size each week thereafter, the parcel con ing, toilet articles, tobacco and certain luxuries. The American war department has furnished clothing for the enlisted men, and the Red Cross has a tailor shop at Berne to provide officers' uniforms.

A typical individual weekly package sent to a Yankee prisoner of war includes the following articles:

Two pounds corned beef, one pound ronst beef, two pounds salmon two pounds corned beef lash, two pounds pork and beans, one pound dried beans, two pounds tomatoes, corn and peas, five pounds hard bread and hiscults, one pound granulated sugar, one pound prunes, one bar soap, salt and pepper, coco, jam, raisins or figs, chocplate and one hundred cigarettes,

THE COUNTESS, TRAPPED BY TERRORISTS, FACES CRU-CIAL TEST OF HER LIFE

Synopsis.-The crown prince of Livonia, Ferdinand William Otto, ten years old, taken to the opera by his aunt, tires of the singing and allps away to the park, where he makes the acquaintance of Bobby Thorpe, a little American boy. Returning to the palace at night, he finds everything in an uproar as a result of the search which has been made for him. The same night the chancellor calls to consult the boy's grandfather, the old king, who is very iil. The chancellor suggests that to preserve the kingdom, the friendship of the neighboring kingdom of Karnia be secured by giving the Princess Hedwig in marriage to King Karl of that country. Countess Loschek, lady-in-waiting to Princess Annunciata, Hedwig's mother, is in love with King Karl and plots to prevent his marriage to Hedwig. Hedwig, who loves Nikky Larisch, Otto's aid de camp, is dismayed when told of the plans for her marriage. Countess Loschek sends a secret message to King Karl. The messenger is attacked by agents of the terrorists and a dummy letter substituted. Captain Larisch, unaware of the substitution, holds up Karl's chauffeur and secures the envelope. The captain impersonates Karl's chauffeur and exchanges the sheet within the envelope for some cigarette papers. On delivering the envelope to Karl, Larisch is made prisoner when the deception is discovered. Mettlich, chancellor of Livonia, goes to Karnia and arranges with Karl for his marriage to Hedwig. Karl thereupon releases Captain Larisch. Countess Loschek finds her room in the palace searched and incriminating documents stolen.

OMPRIONT, 1917, BY THE RIDOWAY COVERNY'S.

A glance about showed her that her code book was gone. In the tray above, her jewels remnined untouched; her pearl collar, the diamond knickknacks the archduchess had given her on successive Christmases, even a handful of gold coins, all were safe enough. But the code book was gone.

Then indeed did the countess look death in the face-and found it terrible. For a moment she could not so much as stand without support. It was then that she saw a paper folded shaking fingers. In fine, copperplate script she read:

Madame—Tonight at one o'clock a closed flacre will await you in the Street of the Wise Virgins, near the church. You will go in it, without fail, to wherever it takes

The Committee of Ten.

The committee of ten! This thing had happened to her. Then it was true that the half mythical committee of ten existed, that this terror of Livonia was a real terror, which had her by the throat. For there was no escape. None. Now indeed she knew that rumor spoke the truth, and that the terrorists were everywhere. In daylight they had entered her room. They had known of the safe, known of the code. Known how much else?

Wild ideas of flight crossed her mind, to be as instantly abandoned for were stained with blood. The countess, their futility. Where could she go that they would not follow her? When she had reacted from her first shock she fell to pondering the matter, pro and con. What could they want of her? If she was an enemy to the country, so were they. But even that led nowhere, for after all, the terrorists were not enemies to Livonia. They claimed indeed to be its friends, to hold in their hands its future and its betterment. Enemies of the royal house they were, of course.

She was nearly distracted by that time. She was a brave woman, physically and mentally of hard fiber, but the very name signed to the paper set her nerves to twitching. It was the committee of ten which had murdered Prince Hubert and his young wife; the committee of ten which had exploded a bomb in the very palace itself, and killed old Breidau, of the king's counell; the committee of ten which had burned the government house, and had led the mob in the student riots a year or no before.

In this dread presence, then, would find herself that night! For she would go. There was no way out. The countess rang for her maid. She was cool enough now, and white, with a cruel line about her mouth that Minna knew well. She went to the door into the corridor, and locked it. Then she turned on the maid. "I am ready for you, now."

"Madame will retire?" "You little fool! You know what I am ready for!"

The mald stood still. Her wide, across the room to her wardrobe. the Loscheks, knew their furies.

"Madame!" she cried, and fell on her knees, "What have I done? Oh, what have I done?"

"That is what you will tell me," said crop. A livid stripe across the girl's longue in her boudoir, looking pale and face turned slowly to red.

"I have done nothing, I swear it ered a pleasant half hour with her. Mother of pity, help me I I have done nothing."

The girl on the floor, from whimpering, fell to crying hard, with great noiseless sobs of pain and bewilderment. When at last the blows ceased, she lay still. .

The countess prodded her with her foot. "Get up," she commanded. But she was startled when she saw the girl's face. It was she who was the fool. The welt would tell its own under her jewels and took it out with story, and the other servants would talk. It was already a deep purple, and swollen. Both women were trembling: The countess, still holding the crop, sat down.

"Now!" she said. "You will tell me to whom you gave a certain small book of which you know."

"I, madame?" "You."

"But what book? I have given nothing, madame. I swear it."

"Then you admitted some one to this room?"

"No one, madame, except-" hesitated. "Well?"

She glanced about, and seeing a silver vase of roses, hurriedly emptied the water out, wrapped the film in olled paper, and dropped it down among the stems.

The Street of the Wise Virgins was not near the palace. Even by walking briskly she was in danger of being late. The wind kept her back, too. Then, at Inst, the Street of the Wise Virgins and the fiacre, standing at the curb, with a driver wrapped in rugs against the cold of the February night, and his hat pulled down over his eyes. The countess stopped beside him.

"You are expecting a passenger?" "Yes, madame,"

With her hand on the door, the countess realized that the flacre was already occupied. As she peered into its darkened interior, the shadow resolved itself into a cloaked and masked figure. She shrank back.

"Enter, madame," sald a voice. The figure appalled her. It was not sufficient to know that behind the horrifying mask which covered the entire face and head, there was a buman figure, human pulses that beat, human eyes that appraised her. She hesitated.

"Quickly," said the voice. She got in, shrinking into a corner of the carriage. Her lips were dry, the roaring of terror was in her ears.

The door closed. Then commenced a drive of which afterward the countess dared not think. The figure neither moved nor spoke. Inside the carriage reigned the most complete silence. Then the carringe stopped, and at last the shrouded figure moved and spoke.

"I regret, countess, that my orders

She submitted ungracefully, while he bound a black cloth over her eyes. He drew it very close and knotted it behind. In the act his fingers touched her face, and she felt them cold and clammy. The contact sickened her. "Your hand, madame."

She was led out of the carriage, and across soft earth, a devious course again, as though they avoided small obstacles. Once her foot touched something low and hard, like marble. Again, in the darkness, they stumbled over a mound. She knew where she was, then-in a graveyard. But which? Where were many about the

There were two candles only, and these were stuck in skulls-old brown skulls so infinitely removed from all semblance to the human that they were not even horrible. It was as if they had been used, not to inspire terror, but because they were at hand and convenient for the purpose. In the shadow, ranged in a semicircle, were nine figures, all motionless, all masked, and cloaked in black. They sat, another incongruity, on plain wooden chairs. But in cpite of that they were figures of dread. The one who had brought her made the tenth.

no mistake. Whether through your agency or another, countess, when the cathedral bell rouses the city to the king's death, and the people wait to the place for their new king to come out on the balcony, he will not come. The countess was not entirely bad. Standing swaying and white-faced before the tribunal, she saw suddenly the golden head of the little crown prince, saw him smiling as he had smiled that day in the sunlight, saw him troubled and forlorn as he had been when, that very evening, he had eft them to go to his lonely rooms, Perhaps she reached the biggest moment of her life then, when she folded her arms and stared proudly at the shrouded figures before her.

"I will not do it," she said.

But Number Seven remained impassive, "A new idea, countess!" he said suavely. "I can understand that your heart recoils. But this thing is inevitable, as I have said. Prince Ferdinand William Otto was supremely happy. Three quite delightful things had happened. First, Nikky had returned. He stopped and stared, wiping the clear that he might see better. Nikky without his cap, disheveled and flushed with exertion, was making a frantic shot at the white buit, rolling past him. Where had he seen such a send, such a flying mop of hair? Ah! He remembered. It was the flying oung devil who had attacked him and the others that night in the by-street, when Peter Niburg lay stunned!

Miss Bruithwaite had a bud headache that afternoon, and the crown prince drove out with his nunt. The Archduchess Annunciata went shopping. growing excited, leaned quite out of the window. "What is your dog's name?" he inquired, in his clear treble. The man took off his hat and bowed. Toto, highness. He is of French origin. "He is a very nice dog. I have alvays wanted a dog like that. He must be a great friend."

"A great friend, highness," He would have expatiated on the dog, but he was uncertain of the etiquette of the procedure. His face beamed with pleasure, however. Then a splendid impulse came to him. This dog, his boon companion, he would present to the crown prince. It was all he had, and he would give it, freely, even though it left him friendless.

But here again he was at a loss. Was it the proper thing? Did one do such things in this fashion, or was there a procedure? He cocked an eye at the box of the carriage, but the two men sat impressive, immobile. Finally he made up his mind. Hat n hand, he stepped forward. "Highness," he said nervously, "since the dog pleases you, I-I would present him to you."

"To me?" The crown prince's voice was full of incredulous joy. "Yes, bighness. If such a thing be like to have him now, if I may." The crowd was growing. It pressed closer, pleased at the boy's delight. A small cheer and many smiles followed the lifting of the dog through the open window of the carriuge. And the dog was surely a dog to be proud of. Already it shook ands with the crown prince.

Perhaps, in that motley gathering, here were some who viewed the scens with hostile eyes, some who saw, not a child glowing with delight over a gift, but one of the bated ruling famly, a barrier, an obstacle in the way of freedom. But if such there were, they were few. It was, indeed, as the terrorists feared. The city loved the

There was nothing else to do. The crown prince did not cry. He was much ton proud. He thanked the donor ugain carefully, and regretted that he could not accept the dog. He said it was a wonderful dog, and just the sort he liked. And the carriage drove away.

He went back to the palace, and inding that the governess still had a headache, settled down to the burnt ood frame. Once he glanced up ht the woolen dog on its shelf at the top of the cabinet. "Well, snyhow," he ald stardily, "I still have you,"

FIGHTING STOPS. GREAT WAR OVER

Germany Signs Armistice Which Is Unconditional Surrender.

KAISER WILHELM ABDICATES

Dream of World Conquest Ends in Defeat and Revolution-Flight From Justice of Criminal Against Civilization.

By J. D. SHERMAN. Peace! The greatest war of all history is over. The armistice asked for by Germany has been signed. This means no less than "unconditional surrender." For the terms of that armistice deprive Germany of the means of resistance. Germany must accept whatever peace terms the allies dictate.

The kaiser-Frederich Wilhelm Victor Albert, Emperor Wilhelm II? He is a fugitive in Holland from Justicethe justice of his own people as well as of the civilized world; the red flag flies over the throne he was compelled to abdicate. His fate hangs in the balance. If extradition for punishment is demanded, his fate lies with Holland.

The great war began June 28, 1914, with the assussination of the Austrian Archduke Francis Ferdinand in Sarajevo, Bosnia, by Serbians. This was holds the kaiser guilty of seizing it as a pretext for the world war which he had long been secretly planning to carry out his purpose of world conquest. He and his tremendous war machine were ready, impatient, eager for action. Here was the program, as the kaiser planned it:

He would force Austria-Hungary, his ally and practically his vassal, into war with Serbia.

Russia would rush to the defense of Serbia. Of Russia he had no fear, for he well knew that German intrigue had already prepared the way in advance for the ruin of the unhappy land of Czar Nicholas.

France, he knew, would support Russia. France-she was really his immediate object. Ever since 1870 Germany has been preparing to go back to France. Why? Because Germany falled to beggar France by the staggering indemnity of 1870, because she then overlooked the coal and from deposits of northern France, and because she hated France and the French, root, stock and branch. And the kalser knew also that France was not ready for a death grapple with Germany.

Great Britain, he had made himself believe, would remain neutral. That would be well, for he wanted to deal with Great Britain later. Anyway, her army was small. As for America-she would not fight and could not if she would.

So his schedule, arranged to the day and hour, called for his triumphant entry into Paris September 2, A. D. 1914. Then, with a huge French indemnity and control of the iron and coal regions of Meurthe-et-Moselle and war preparations and get ready to conquer Great Britain. Later on, at his leisure, would come the third war and the subjugation of the United States!

War of Frightfulness.

So, posing before the world as an advocate of peace driven to war in defense of his fatherland, the kaiser went his secret, devious way to warto the war of deliberate and calculated frightfulness which, under the guise of warfare, despoiled Belgium; laid waste porthern France, depopulated Serbia: shot the English nurse, Edith Cavell; sunk the Lusitania with her freight of women and children; massacred, ravished and enslayed noncombatant civilian populations-frightfulness which has caused more than 25,000,000 caspattles and the expenditure of billions upon billions of money frightfulness which instead of frightening the world into submission has arrayed in arras against her 22 civilized nations - frightfulness which now makes the name of Germany a household execration among most of the peoples of earth. At first the kniser's program went nlong without check or pause. July 28 Austria declared war on Serbia. Russin went to the aid of Serbia. The other nations promptly fell into line, Declarations of war came thick and fast. By August 4 the stage was all set for actual fighting. August 5 the Germans and Belgians fell to on the Belgian frontier. The German march to Paris was on.

But, as everybody knows, Withelm II did not enter Paris in triumph September 2. Why? Recause little Belgium, martyr Belgium, saved Paris, She fought. Her brave little army fid not last long. But it lasted long enough to give the French time to "dig The Germans thereupon found the road to Paris a series of treaches. that must be taken one by one. The schedule was soon hopelessly behind

Likewise the heroic resistance of E-lgium brought Great Britain forthwith into the war. And though the British standing army was not large, it went to the front, died in the last ditrh and still further delayed the German murch to Puris. Moreover, Great Britain's colonies from all the seven seas went hurrying to the front. And Great war of starvation that Germany had planned for her.

United States Neutral.

The United States in the meanlime and proclaimed its neutrality, Italy, though a member of the triple alliance, was helding off on the ground that its nillance with Germany and Austria were for defense and not of of fense. It was not until May of 1915 that she got into the war and then on the side of the allies. By the end of 1914 Japan was in with the allies and Turkey with the central powers, Fighting was in active progress in Belgium and France; on the Russian-German and Russlan-Austrian fronties. The government of France had been re moved to Bordeaux. But the Germans were still 65 miles from Paris.

May 7, 1915, the passenger lines Lusitania was torpedoed without warning and sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland. This outrage against humanity horrifled civilization. Germany, however, celebrated the sinking. To the world she sought to defend her action by asserting that the Lusitania was armed and that she carried munitions of war. She was not armed and she did not carry munifions of war. Many Americans felt thereafter that the entrance of the United States into the war was inevitable, February 22, 1916, the German crown prince's army began the attack on Verdun which was to blast a way to Paris, The bombardment of Verdun was the heaviest artillery fire of the war. It was here that the French said "They shall not pass," And the Germans dld not pass. The French saved Verdun by commandeering practically ever motor vehicle in Paris and rushing reserves to the great fortress, The devotion of its garrison, the intensity and persistence of the German attack and the dramatic deliverance have made the name Verdun known the world over.

June 5 Lord Kitchener, the British war hero, was lost on the British cruiser Hampshire, together with most of the crew. He was on a secret mission for the allies. It was afterward charged that he was betrayed by the Russian czarina, who furnished the information which led to the sinking of the crulser by a German submarine.

July 9 the German submarine Deutschland arrived in Baltimore. She carried a valuable cargo and took a valuable eargo back to Germany, She claimed to be a merchant vessel and was treated as such by the United States. The main purpose, doubtless, was to Impress America with the Gernum submarine; the sinking in October by German submarines of six merchant vessels off Nantucket, Mass., was presumably part of the same plan, Germany was getting ready for her forthcoming announcement of unrestricted submarine warfare.

September 14 the British Introduced into war a new engine of destructionthe "tank," In brief It is a heavily armored body, armed with guns on a "caterptllar" instead of wheels, It can thus travel over almost any sort of ground and crush its way through most obstacles. The enterpillar tracter is an American invention, originating in Peoria, Ill.; the adaptation of harmless tractor machinery to a destructive war engine was done in secrecy by un Englishman. The tunk proved a genuine surprise and has played no small part in the war, together with lighter and faster tanks called "whitpoets," The Germans also soon produced tanks, but apparently have never been able to hold their own with those of the allies. One of the most striking exploits of the war was the exploft of an American sergeant who rode into action perched on the top of an American tank.

Collapse of Russia.

The close of the year 1916 was marked by the resignation of Premier Herbert Asquith of Great Britain and the acceptance of the premiership by David Lloyd George; a new cabinet in France and a new commander in chief. General Nivelle; the practically complete defeat of the armies of Roumania, which had joined the allies, and peace proposals from Germany to the affies through the United States. Things were going well with Germany and she wanted peace on terms of her own making.

The spring of 1917 suw the collapse of Russia, a collapse undoubtedly brought about by Germany through intrigue and for her own purposes. It began March 11 with revolution in Petrograd. March 15 Czar Nicholas abdiented. March 22 America recognized the new Russian government a repulthe, Since then Russia has been a chaos. Russin is one of the big probtems confronting the ailies. They can presumably put an end to the reign of anarchy, murder and pillage; the regeneration of the nation is a tremendons undertaking.

October of 1917 was marked by the collapse of the Italian Isonge front. This collapse was also due to German propaganda and lutrigue. Taken sitegether the year 1917 was not one of ciner for the allies.

America Goes In.

And yet the turning point of the war ages reached to 1917. For the United States had entered the great world. conflict. Germany stands convicted before the world of incredible stupidity as well as unbelievable frightfulness. For Germany practically forced the United States into the war. Enrivoly contempinous of America as a passible belligerent, Germany annonneed unrestricted submarine warfare January 81, 1917. > The immediate answer of the United States was given February 3-the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany. April 6 the president signed Joint resolution of the two houses of congress declaring a state of war to exist with Germany. In quick sucession came the selective service act for the raising of an army; a war appropriation of $3,000,000,000; the ending of an expeditionary force of regulars to France under General Pershing; the registration of nearly 16,000,000 men for military servicethe closing of the first Liberty loan with a large oversubscription; the drafting of the state militia into the federal service. October 27 formal amnouncement was made that American troops in France had fired their first shot ln war.

Nevertheless, the spring of 1018 saw three huge drives on Paris by the Germans. By June 1 the Germans were within 46 miles of the French capital, in Chateau-Thierry. Unless they were speedily stopped Paris would be under their guns. The plan of the French was to delay them as long as possible by rear-guard actions until reserves could be brought up.

Yankees Stop Huns.

And then took place the thing which all good Americans were prayerfully expecting: American soldiers got Imo action in American fashion, under American leadership, with American artillery and machine guns.

The French commander sent to Chateau-Thierry an American division made up of marines and of infantry from the middle West. June 2 the leathernecks and doughhoys moved into support positions back of seasoned French troops. The French were forced back and filtered through the Americans; the support positions moon became the front.

June 4, about five n'clock in the aftmoon, the Germans attacked in force through a wheat field, in platoon columns, in perfect order, supremely confident. The Americans raked them with shrapnel and machine guns. Then they opened with rifle fire. Cool, unhurried, they picked their shots as if at target practice. Military experts will tell you that the American marines are the most effective fighting men in all the armies of the world; certainly they have no equals with the

The Germans wavered, then came on again. Twice more they stopped; twice more advanced. Then they broke. Flesh and blood could not stand that rifle fire. They crawled off through the standing grain. The Americans sent bullets wherever the wheat stirred. That was the end,

Days and nights of heavy leambardment followed. Sleep was impossible. The Americans lived on "mankey ment," bread and water. Then they went on and took the town of Bouresclies, cleaning out the nests of machine gunners with rifle fire, bayoner ain-

The battalion of leatherneeks which took the wood went in with 558 men and 26 officers. They came out with 340 men and seven officers. But they took the wood. Then they dog themselves in and fought off counter-attacks for five days until relieved, constantly shelled and gassed, not one hot ment all that time. What the leathernecks have they hold.

This one division used up five crack divisions of the Germans.

There are those among the affles who say that the Americans at Chateau-Thierry saved Paris, just us the Canadians saved Calais, When the military history of the Great War is written Chateau-Thierry is likely to be called the turning point of the strucule. For its moral force was beyond estimate. It put new heart into the war-worn French and British. All France flamed with joy. The Americans ha dstopped the Hun, had driven him back, had beaten him off. And thousands upon thousands of just such Americans were in plain sight pushing to the front!

General Foch in supreme command of the allies on the western front, mon afterward launched the affied offensive and victory followed victory all along the fighting line of 250 railes from the North sen to Verdon. It was the beginning of the end.

By early October the Hun was beaten to his knees and asking for pence. October 21 the Hallans utterly conted the Austrians. The same day Turkey surrendered. ### YANK DOUGHBOYS SAY CAPTURE OF JUVIGNY WAS TOUGH TASK Wounded Men in the Hospital Tell of Some Wonderful Fighting as Part of the Marvelous Army of General Mangin-Sergeant Says the Air Was Foggy With Machine-Gun Bullets-Huns Don't Like American Bayonet.

The voice d every corner of America tells this story. This is simple transcription of the words of Yankee boys on the cots of an American They speak for the American contingent which made part of the marvelous army of General Mangin, stuck its vicious fangs into the German crown prince's right flank up above Solssons and hung on and shook and shook and hung on and snapped from one fierce grip to another-until the crown prince's main 16rces came tumbling back in pain off the Vesle, across the Alsne, and beyond. There, at Juvigny and beyond, the brotherhood of arms between the Americans and the French was sealed as never before.

It is the voice of that army that speaks with one accord, though the accent be that of New Hampshire or New Orleans. Listen to Sergt, Norman Clark of 310 First street, Edgerton. Wis. He speaks the way they all do. He says:

"Now get this right. Don't let anyone think we Americans are asking too much credit. Of course, no American unit has fallen down on the job, Give 'em an objective-and they get

"And I'll tell the world fair that this fighting for General Mangin is all the same as fighting for an American general. He hops into a battle to go through. And he goes through. No, sir, he doesn't waste any men-but he gets what he sets out to get.

"The bit he assigned us to get," and here a grin spread over the sergeant's lean jaws, "the bit he assigned us was Juvigny,"

And the grin broadened as he pointed to the American line at Leffaux, a good five miles beyond Juvigny, as it showed on the map on the hospital

Toughest Nut, So Far.

"We'd been on the Vesle," he went on reminiscently, "and we'd had some hard fighting. We lost a lot of good nien. But Juvigny was our toughest nut, so far. I guess maybe Berlin will be harder. Machine guns was what made it tough. They had 'em everywhere. And we had to go through 'em before we could really begin to fight.

"But say, when we hit the streets of that town we did fight. They had machine guns in every attic and every cellar. I've rend it when you newspaper guys talk about a 'rain of lead,' 1 saw it that day at Juvigny. Say, the elr was foggy with machine gun bul-

"But the boys went through it. It was a quick duck around a corner. into a doorway, upstairs or down, and good-by to a machine gun crew-with the layonet. It was too close for grenades. And those Germans were game. They took the cold steel before they quit."

"Aw, git out!" came a grunt of pro-test frem the next cot. "When you get home, sarg, you'll ourlie the G. A. R." This from one Private Fermin Goertz of Butter Ranch, N. M. He was not in the platoon with Sergeant Clark. He had different times with his Germans.

"This open warfare is the dope," he declared with conviction. "We all got tired of trenches. So when they gave us the word to up and at 'em, you can bet our crowd shook a leg. Sure, it was tough going to get into and through that Iown, and to put all the Jerries to sleep there. Pas we did it and went or beyond. Of course, they finally slipped tac a pill, a machine gun bullet in the leg there, but, believe me, they paid for it in advance, I handed several Germans more than a pill in the leg with that old Rosalle bayonet of mine. But I had to stop when they lift me in the leg 'Cause why? 'Cause you gotta keep on running to fight these Germans. You gotia run through their machine gun fire, and then when you get to the muchine guns the Jerries quit and start running for themselves-until wo ketch up with 'em."

Huns Fear Bayonet.

"They don't like the American bay-P. Kelly of Elinira, N. Y., "because the Yanks know how to use that tool. Gosh, I used to cuss bayonet drill back fabbing sandbags and bundles of wood and the game was on. and things. But I guess it was the right dope. The Germans won't stand sest of 'em - whow ! Cowards when stockade,"

"All that worries me is the Boche gonia. Arisona, as second class mail ber over there. I like to be up where > they see the Yank bayonets coming. They bent lt." Kelly came over with the first contingent of American troops last June.

He has seen service on all the fronts, hospital near Paris. It's their story. He was shot in the right arm by machine gun bullets. H. C. Walker of San Diego, Cal., is one of the "interesting cases" at this hospital. "The docs tell me a bullet went clean through my skull and lodged in my shoulder," he said, "I don't know why it didn't kill rue-He was interrupted by a charus of good natured "Well-we know," And-

"No brains. No brains," from all over the room. But Walker grinned back at them. He knows a good deal about that buttle.

"They just sprayed us with machine gun bullets," he said. "But they couldn't stop us. The Germans were a lot of kids. We came across one gun that had been causing a lot of trouble. Two of the crew of three were mere boys. One of 'em cried when we took him prisoner. Nerves, I guess. He said he was glad to get out of it all, They must have belonged to the 1919 or 1920 class. It looks to me as if the Germans were using up all the reserves and throwing in their newest cannon lodder, the boys for the next two years."

Like the Music.

Just here a band in the hospital courtyard cut loose with the "Star-Spaneled Banner," And every hand in that room that was not in a sling, right or left, as the case might be, swung smartly to the saiute, though regulations say nothing about saluting when you're flat on your back.

"Say, we get that concert a couple of days a week," said Harry Wood of Ann Arbor, Mich., and it certainly makes you feel good. I often wish we could go into battle the way the old boys did, with the band playing and the colors flying. But we make our own music nowndays with shrapnel high explosives and machine gun and things,"

Wood was injured in the right arm by shrapnel. But he modestly admitted he was note to "got one or two" before that. He also helped capture a machine gun crew.

"I know at least 200 prisoners went back from our part of the line," he says, "and I know the rest of the boys, French as well as Americans, did about the same."

"And it's hard work to take German prisoners," spoke up Peter Polomis of Wausaukee, Wis. "The only trouble our company had was getting close to the Jerries. They won't stand and fight. They're deathly afraid of bayonets, especially the American kind."

LARGE POTASH DEPOSITS

Experts, After Careful Search, Found Them In Saskatchewan.

Following careful examination of certain mineral products found in the dried up bed of an old lake near Swift Current, Sask., by Prof. D. McLaren of the Saskatchewan university, announcement has been made that immense deposits of potash, sodium, subphate and epsom salts have been located. Expert engineers have been called in by a group of Saskatchewan men who have filed claims on the old lake bed, and in their opinion millions of tons of useful mineral deposits are available for the use of the allies without the necessity of deep mining. The minerals can be removed by steam shovels and the top layers are already being removed.

Eleven-Year-Old Youth le Hit by Dispatch Rider on Webreycle-Not a Cry Out of Him as Automobile Dashes Over Rough Roads to Take Him to Hospital-Example of Hun Savagery in Bombing of Commercy.

He is only eleven years old but the entire battlefields of Europe have fulled to produce a bigger hero.

I came across him the other day while on my way to Saint Mihiel, during which I noticed a crowd in the road near Pagny sur Meuse. A doughboy stepped from the crowd and stopped our car, saying that an American motorcycle dispatch rider had struck a child and broken his leg. He also explained that the rider had sustained a dislocated shoulder.

There were no hospitals or doctors in the town, so we stopped and I told him the D. R. L would take him back to Toul to the hospital. He usked me if I would deliver his dispatches and when I told him I could not, he refused to go to the hospital.

Then I looked at the boy, a French kid about eleven years old. His right leg bone was snapped off clean as a whistle just below the thigh, so that it wabbled around. His poor old father was standing there helpless, and begged that I wouldn't leave the child there helpless "comme unchien," like a dog in the road.

So we put the lad in the car and rushed him to the Toul hospital. It must have caused him excruciating pain as we dashed over the road but with candles, sacred vessels and vestnever a word of complaint, although in the front seat I could hear him sucking in his breath sharply from the torture of the broken ends of the bone rubbing against one another.

I then went on to Saint Miblel, and as I was passing through the buckle of the Meuse river southwest of the town where it is low and flat and was formerly "no man's land," covered with barbed wire, an American aviator, Lieut. Palmer Gaillard of Mobile, who knows my grandfather, stepped out and asked me where he was.

Remove Every Candle and Even the Bits of Partially Burned Candles From Churches Before Evacuation-Whenever They Could Not Carry Vestments Away They Fouled Them In an Unspeakable Manner.

Proof that Germany is more desperately in need of fats than ever before was gathered in Chatenu-Thierry when the French cure in charge of St. Crepin's church in that quaint little city returned to the ruins of his purish a few days ago.

Before the Germans abandoned the place to the storming Yanks they removed every candle and even the bits of partially burned candles from the church, and, in addition, took the candles which the nuns used in the Hotel Dieu, their little hospital there. The cure says the Huns must have secured about 400 pounds of candles in the two religious edifices.

In addition to stealing all the candies, the Huns stole the sacred vessels from the church and chapel, took away the bronze candlesticks which had been there for years, and even cut the leather from the interior of the big pipe organ and carried that away. The pipes of the organ were twisted so that the instrument was rendered useless, and the vestments of the cure and his assistant were fouled by Ludenderic's

Fat Shortage Acute.

In the presence of Rev. Father James Horton, principal of the Marist college, of Atlanta, Ga., who is now a volunteer chaplain with the Knights of Columbus, German prisoners recently stated that they had been given orders to collect every bit of fat they could to be sent back to Germany. The prisoners admitted that the shortage there was more ncute than it had ever been.

Futher Horton, through the Knights of Columbus, supplied the French cure ments for his church and the nun's clupel, so that services could be held in those places for the French who have returned to the ruins of their homes in Chateau-Thierry.

As an expression of his gratitude to the Knights of Columbus the cure gave Futher Horton the honor of saving the first mass held in the church since the Germans were forced out of the city. Hundreds of American soldiers stationed there crowded in the old and battered church last Sunday, and after Father Horton finished the mass the cure delivered a special sermon in Euglish, in which he halled the American soldiers as the saviors of France,

Western Newspaper Union News Service. ABOUT THE WAR

Movement of American troops across the Atlantic has stopped entirely, and demobilization of troops in cantonments and camps at home is under way.

Germany's bill of damage in Belgium, payment of which will be one of the primary conditions of peace, is estimated at $2,500,000,000 by well-informed Belgians.

German casualties up to Oct. 31 were 6,320,000, according to the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts in Berlin. They were divided as follows: Killed, 1,580,000; wounded, 4,000,000; prisoners, 490,000; fate unknown, 260,

The allied armies of occupation are now well on their way to the Rhine. Among the important cities reoccupled are Brussels, Antwerp, Metz, Malines, Alost, Montmedy, Saarburg, Colmar, Mulbausen, Sabern, Markrich and Neu Breisach.

A continuous procession of German troops is passing through Limberg, homeward bound, according to the Handelsblad of Amsterdam. At least 150,000 will cross the border near Roosteren, where they will be disarmed by the Dutch.

The American troops shoved their line across the German frontier Wednesday. The frontier was crossed at points opposite Briev and Audun-Le-Roman, and at points between these two places. Farther north the Duchy of Luxemburg was entered.

Twenty U-boats surrendered to Rear Admiral Tyrwhitt, thirty miles off Harwich, at sunrise Wednesday moraing. The German fleet that surrendered to the British navy Thursday consisted of nine battleships, five buttle cruisers, seven light cruisers and fifty destroyers.

Germany owes France $68,000,000,-000, according to figures compiled by Parls Le Matin. The following items are included in the total: Cost of war, $28,000,000,000; reparation, $20,000,-000,000; pensions, $8,000,000,000; return of the 1871 indemnity, $1,000,-000,000; interest on 1871 indemnity $11,000,000,000.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

CLEARLY NEWSPAPER USED NEWS BUTTLE

Washington.-- President Wilson in proclamation today designated Thursday, Nov. 28, as Thanksgiving Day and said this year the American geople have special and moving cause to be grateful and rejoice. Complete cictory, he said, has brought not only peace, but the confident promise of n new, day as well, in which "justice shall replace force and lealous intrigue among the nations," The proclamation follows:

By the President of the United States of America. A PROCLAMATION.

it has long been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God. for His many blessings and mercles to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice.

God has in His good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mero cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right. Complete victory has brought us not peace gione, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations. Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by another purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind;

God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us, in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

While we render thanks for these things, let us not forget to seek the divine guidance in the performance of those duties, and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all that we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

Wherefore, I. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thurs day, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations. In witness whereof, I have hereunto

HOW TO FIGHT

Avoid crowds, coughs and cowards, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness, Remember & clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, It is best to take a vegetable pilt every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink coniously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tublets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Irontic (fron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

WESTERN MINING AND OIL NEWS

Western Newspaper Union News Arriton Beaver Metal Prices.

Arizona.

Miami Copper Company, in October, produced 4,945,178 pounds of copper, compared with 5,612,865 in September and 5,374,198 in August.

The north drift on the 900 level of the Tennessee mine, at Chloride, has reached the line of the Schuylkill and is said to have driven into a fine body ald som tage of lead ore.

Development work at the Denn-Avizons mine is continuing very favorably, particularly on the 1600 level where some good pockets of high grade ore have been opened.

Twelve cars of ore with content of between 375 and 400 tons were mined and shipped from the Forest Queen mine on the eastern slope of Ironelad hill, by Edwin Gaylord, lessee, during the month of September.

The October production of the United Gold Mines Company is placed at 2,520 tons, worth close to $63,000 The Trail mine on the southern slope of Hull hill, with three acts of lessees active and producing, was again the heaviest producer with a total of sixtyseven cars.

Ore running as high as twenty-five ounces gold, $500 to the ton, has been encountered on the Henley vein, between the third and fourth levels of the main shaft of the Elkton Consolidated Mining and Milling Company, on Raven hill.

The high cost of cyanide since the German supply was shut off in 1914 is one of the factors in the present excessive overhead charges in mining for gold. But after the first of the year some relief is expected from the recently developed American supply. which will probably receive protection In future turiffs.

In Telluride district, which is noted for steady oniput, the Belmont-Wagner Mining Company is doing a lot of work which looks like expansion. The office has been enfarged to double its ground space and made into a twostory building, the mill boarding house has been enlarged and one of the latest type bunk houses put up.

In Ouray district, the cutting by the Camp Bird tunnel of a rich vein that runs through a claim owned by the Camp Bird, and which endlines with a claim called Imogene, recalls that the latter was once controlled by Andy Richardson, who named it after his wife over forty years ago and which led to the district being known since as Imogene basin.

Kennecott Copper Corporation produced 12,286,000 pounds in October, compared with 11,528,000 in September and 11,970,000 in August. All coal, oil and gas concerns in the country have been told by the Fuel Administration, says a Washington dispatch, that authority of the government over their activities will no cease until a peace pact actually is signed. Both the navy and merchant fleets are in need of both oil and coal The Anaconda Copper Company's production of zinc has increased from 4,000,000 pounds a month 60 days ago to between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 pounds. Within six months it is expected to have production further increased to 10,000,000 pounds a month in consequence of enlarging the plant at Great Falls. The Montana Power Company by that time will have an additional 25,000 h. p. available.

New Mexico.

Socorro Mining Company produced 25, 00 ounces gold and silver builton in Sentember. Work has been pushed to get the new 50-ton mill at the Last Chance mine at Lordsburg in operation.

The Oakes Company is shipping ore from the Pacific mine, also preparing other mines for steady production. Mogolion has suffered during recent influenza epidemic, but through outside assistant, conditions have about regained normal. Clarence Batsford is now acting manager for the Mogollon Mines Conrany, taking the place of Chas, Phillies, who recently died of influenza and pnermonta. The Sococro Mining and Milling Company is putting in surface railway to connect the Consolidated property with the mill. This will take about

1,000 feet of new track. The Gaka Company are rebuilding

Deep Down ore bins at Mogoffon and are erading for track on the new transway in Sceptra mill. It is ev parted to get this in during the pres ent meath.

Wyoming.

A nipe line is to be had from Fort Steele to the new Perris dome.

The Haston Oil Company is reach per-worsel with its well near Rock Springs

'The American oil well promises to by the biggest producer in the Greybull field. The price of crude off in the Lander district has been advanced to $1.75 a forrel, the increase amounting to 25 cents.

HOW TO FIGHT

By DR. L. W. BOWERS.

Avoid crowds, coughs and cowards, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, It is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonin the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Irontic (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Development work at the Denn-Arizona mine is continuing very favorably, particularly on the 1600 level where some good pockets of high grade ore have been opened.

Colorado.

Twelve cars of ore with content of between 375 and 400 tons were mined and shipped from the Forest Queen mine on the eastern slope of Ironelad hill, by Edwin Gaylord, lessee, during the month of September.

The October production of the United Gold Mines Company is placed at 2,520 tons, worth close to $63,000. The Trail mine on the southern slope of Bull hill, with three sets of lessees active and producing, was again the heaviest producer with a total of sixtyseven cars.

Ore running as high as twenty-five ounces gold, $500 to the ton, has been encountered on the Henley vein, between the third and fourth levels of the main shaft of the Elkion Consolidated Mining and Milling Company, on Rayen hill.

The high cost of cyanide since the German supply was shut off in 1914 is one of the factors in the present excessive overhead charges in mining for gold. But after the first of the year some relief is expected from the recently developed American supply, which will probably receive protection in future tariffs.

In Telluride district, which is noted for steady output, the Helmont-Wagner Mining Company is doing a lot of work which looks like expansion. The office has been enlarged to double its ground space and made into a twostory building, the mili boarding house has been enlarged and one of the latest type bunk houses put up.

In Ourny district, the cutting by the Camp Bird tunnel of a rich vein that runs' through a claim owned by the Camp Bird, and which endlines with a claim called Imogene, recalls that the latter was once controlled by Andy Richardson, who named it after his wife over forty years ago and which led to the district being known since as Imogene basin.

CASUALTY LISTS

Qur Boys Are Willing to Give Up Well-Earned Rost and Go Into Action With Relief Units, Sometimes French or British Troops-Wounded Men Josh and Laugh in Spite of the Pain They Suffer.

A problem in compiling accurate casualty lists without delay, a problem that probably has not occurred to the American people, was revealed by George W. Titus of Mishawaka, Ind., on his return from six months' service with the Y. M. C. A. in France. Frequently, he said, American soldiers are kiffed in action or wounded severely many days after they were supposed to have left the front for a leave resort. Just how this might happen, he explained as follows:

"Our boys are so willing to give up the rest and easy time which they have earned by hard work in the trenches that very often they remain at the front and go into action with relief units, sometimes French or British troops, days after they should have been in a leave camp recuperating for another tour of duty at the front, At Solssons I saw many wounded men come back to our field hospital after their own units had retired to

Separated From Units.

"It is difficult to understand why this could happen unless one had seen how fighting men may become separated from their units in hard battles. They go over the top together but after that anything may happen. Thus It may turn out that when units are withdrawn to make way for relief forces, small groups will become detached from their own companies. While waiting around for some of their fellows the lure of the battle will become so strong that they rush back into action with units that they have never seen before.

"I recall particularly one case where It was necessary to divide a company that was scheddled for leave and detail half of the men for reserve duty. The captula stated the case briefly and usked for volunteers. It is all the more remarkable when you consider what those men had survived to know that every man in the company volunteered for the service that would keep him near the front."

Titus said that the thing he would recall most often from his store of Cantigny, he explained, men were com-laughed in spite of the pain they suf-

"At one moment," he added, "a wounded man would groen as a sudden pain darted through his body, and the next minute he would be laughing and saying: 'Gad, did you see those Huns run!"

Source of Wonder.

"The walking wounded were always a source of wonder to me. I cannot imagine how some of those men managed to make their way back to the dressing stations without assistance. I saw one man with both arms dangting helpless by his side-I know that only by supreme nerve was he overcoming the pain he suffered-and I heard him tell two stretcher hearers not to mind him but to keep on and bring in a man whose legs wouldn't bring him."

Titus was with a trench mortar battery at Cantigny in May when the battery threw 776 big bombs into the village in one day. He said that these trench mortars, which never had been used before by the United States forces, were most destructive and sent the Germans on the run in such a hurry that heavy guns which they had alandoned were found loaded and ready to be turned upon them when the Americans captured the village.

He brought back a prized treasure, a watch that was purchased in Toul by the men of the battery and presented to him with a purse that contained $100, Soldier Was Charging a German Machine Gun Nest.

Albert Enggell of near Home City, Kan., who was a member of the second contingent which left last year for training at Comp Funston, was among those severely wounded in action in France, as reported by the war department. He was wounded while assisting in cleaning out a muchine gun nest and was shot four times-through the arm, leg. across the stomach and in the left breast, A small Testament in his inside pocket diverted the bullet from his heart and thus saved his life. He is reported recovering nicely and is anatous to get buck into the fight.
