Famous Women Adopt Armenian Waifs

There are at least three happy little Armenians in this holiday season among the more than a quarter of a million pitiable little waifs who are innocent victims of Turkish barbarity. These three have found fairy godmothers in these famous American women, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President; Mrs. Oliver Harriman and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. It is hoped that thousands of other American women will follow these distinguished leaders and signalize the glad holiday season in America by making happy in the same way thousands of other little orphans in the far-off stricken land where they now are being cared for by Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, N. Y.

Copper Market Not Encouraging

After an absence from the state of five months, Walter Douglas, president of the Phelps Dodge Corporation, accompanied by Arthur James, vice-president and director, with other members of his party, have made an inspection of the company's property in Arizona.

That there is a bigger stock of refined copper on hand at present than the world has ever seen before, and that conditions in the copper industry are in a general way "distinctly bad" with no apparent relief in sight, were statements made by Walter Douglas at Bisbee.

"The outlook for the next few months in the copper industry is very dark," said Mr. Douglas. "The price has gone down to between 18 and 19 cents, with a bigger stock of refined copper on hand than the world has ever seen before."

"The copper industry has depended for 50 per cent of consumption on the export trade, which is now practically dead, financial stringency and the drop in exchange making it impossible to export at all."

The delay in ratification of the peace treaty at Washington, Mr. Douglas declares, is responsible for delay in restoring the industrial equilibrium.

"If we could foresee in any way what the politicians are going to do with the peace treaty, we could tell when conditions in the copper industry will be better," said Mr. Douglas. "Personally, the action of the senate in regard to the treaty matter, does not seem intelligent."

There is no doubt of the tremendous demand for copper on the part of the central powers, and that they will be in the market for the metal when peace is concluded, according to Mr. Douglas. The problem, however, he points out, is a question of whether the central powers will be able to pay, and how they will pay.

"There are certainly no encouraging indications in the copper situation at present," added Mr. Douglas. "However, conditions change rapidly, so it is hard to tell just what the future may hold."

A wave of extravagance is sweeping over the nation, Mr. Douglas said, which must be suppressed before industrial conditions get back to normal.

That the apparent outbreak of radicalism and I. W. W.ism is merely the recrudescence of long-existent traitorous elements which have been seeking the overthrow of the American constitution and the American institutions which spring from it, is the belief of Mr. Douglas. The forces of decency and good citizenship and the forces striving to tear down decency and good citizenship have now been brought into sharp alignment, which should have a beneficial result in forcing the issue and causing the overthrow of the disloyal forces. The anti-radical campaign started by the American Legion, now assisted by the United Americans, will be conclusive, Mr. Douglas believes.

Mr. Douglas stated that the resolution which he introduced at the recent American Mining Congress in St. Louis regarding the situation in Mexico, was a general resolution asking the State Department to take cognizance of the great loss of life in the mining profession in Mexico in the last few years causing great injury to the mining industry. The resolution pointed out that foreign enterprise in Mexico consists largely in mining, and that loss of life through banditry has constituted a great drawback to this enterprise.

The resolution was in all particulars friendly to the present Mexican government, containing no sentiment which might in any way be construed as expressive of hostility to that government. Its purpose was principally to call to the attention of the Mexican government the desire for protection of American mining engineers, operators and prospectors in the southern republic.

Copper Situation is Hopeful

That the copper situation is hopeful despite the fact that some of the red metal in stock at the first of the year is still unsold, is the opinion of Colonel W. B. Thompson of New York, who visited Arizona recently.

"The local consumption of copper is the greatest in the history of the country," said Colonel Thompson. "The export trade will not show any great improvement until Germany is in the market. She has the great rolling mills and plants which require copper."

Asked about the presidential situation, Colonel Thompson, who is a republican leader in New York State, predicted the election of a republican next year, but added: "Whatever happens, let us hope that the next president will be either a republican or a democrat."

Colonel Epes Randolph and Captain Wm. McDermott met Colonel Thompson in Tucson. Captain McDermott and Colonel Thompson were close friends in Montana years ago.

Charles Ayers, president of the Magna Copper company, and W. C. Browning, general manager, accompanied Mr. Thompson to Patagonia.

Colonel Thompson was very much pleased with the prospects at the Three R mine, near Patagonia, recently acquired by the Magna interests.

"It is a question of finding the ore bodies and developing tonnage," he said. "We believe the ore bodies are there."

Colonel Thompson will stop in Washington en route home to attend the meeting of the republican national committee.

Flux Mining Company

According to statements of the management of the Flux Mining company, near Patagonia, now has about 100,000 tons of silver-lead ore blocked out in its workings which have been thoroughly explored to the depth of approximately 130 feet. Of the total blocked out, about 60,000 tons is carbonate ore and the remainder sulphides. The company intends soon to start an active campaign of development which will require about six months to complete. When it has been finished it is the intention to build a 100-ton smelter. All of the necessary fluxing material is to be found on the property, including manganese, iron, lime and silica. In all about 5,000 feet of work has been done on the Flux mine up to date. The most interesting part of the property is the Glory Hole, starting at the surface and extending to the 70-foot level. It is about 100 feet square and is one of the largest ever found in the southwest, being larger than the Copper Queen glory hole at Bisbee. On the 100-foot level the ore body shows 400 by 250 feet of solid carbonate ore. The change from carbonate to sulphides occurs about the 130-foot level. A winze on the 130-foot level has been sunk another 130 feet in solid sulphides, running 7 to 1 ounce silver and 11 to 15 per cent lead. A 100-ton water gravity and flotation process mill is on the property.

The Mowry

Good reports come from the Mowry in Santa Cruz county. Shipments to the amount of 300 tons per month are now being made. Along with this is a percentage of milling ore, and the Mowry is Hill Top strata and Mine company, south of San Simon, reports that the work at the Hill Top is again going ahead at full speed after a shut down of one week, necessitated for repair of machinery.

Work now going on at the Hill Top now contemplating the erection of a mill in the near future.

H. Mitchell is at the head of the Mowry, and the Consolidated Arizona. He says: "A very large tonnage of milling ore is being developed and we hope that the year 1920 will see a good size mill on the ground, and with this in operation, the Mowry mine will again be on the map. All indications point to large ore bodies of ore and what has been developed to date since operations were started in 1918, has been in virgin ground with no work having been done in the old mine where we know large bodies of milling ore exist."

New Superior-Patagonia

When Charles S. Ayers, president of the Magna Copper company; W. C. Browning, general manager of the Magna and the New Superior-Patagonia Copper company, and Mr. Wren, superintendent of the latter company, visited the Three R mine, they arranged to get work started on a large scale. While at Nogales, they entered into a contract with Spiro Proto, president of the Arizona Gas and Electric company to furnish power to the mine. The Magna company controls the New Superior-Patagonia Copper company.

The New Superior-Patagonia will now be one of the largest, if not the largest operating in Santa Cruz county. It will drill the Three R property and if results justify, will work it on an extensive scale. A large force of men has already been put to work at the Three R mine.

WOMEN WAR WORKERS, EAGER TO SERVE, GO TO AID ARMENIANS

Mary Vail Andrees, Only Woman to Receive Distinguished Service Medal, Heads Party.

Disappointed with uneventful civilian life, after two years' vivid experience as workers abroad in the world war, a party of young women, led by Miss Mary Vail Andrees, of New York City, have just gone to the Near East, where nearly a million people are suffering from disease and starvation.

MISS MARY VAIL ANDREES, Distinguished Service Heroine Who Now Goes to Near East.

Miss Andrees had returned to this country after serving for the Red Cross, but when she read of the sad plight of the Armenians, she at once offered her services to Near East Relief, the former American Committee on Armenian and Syrian Relief, which already has saved thousands of lives in Western Asia. Miss Andrees is the only American woman war worker who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by Congress. Most of the other members of her party likewise served with honor for the Red Cross and other war service organizations.

Among the other members of the group are the Misses Frances and Betty Anderson of New Canaan, Conn., who were decorated with the Croix de Guerre by the French Government; Miss Margaret Milne of Washington, D. C., who was a member of the Hoover Relief Commission for Rumania, and Miss Alex Sidney, an English woman who served for three years with the British Relief Commission in Serbia. Miss Doris Nevin, another member of the party, is a daughter of the late Ethelbert Nevin, the composer.

Col. William N. Haskell, commissioner to the Near East for the Paris Peace Commission and official representative of the Near East Relief, has called that the relief workers now in the field are overwhelmed by the magnitude of their task. Col. Haskell says 800,000 Armenians will starve before the next harvest unless they are given aid and 120,000 orphan children face death from hunger and exposure.

Thousands of refugees are daily being brought to the relief centers from the deserts.

The Patagonian has been informed the Magma people will have 1,000 men at work within six months.

The secretary of the Patagonia Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from a Los Angeles gentleman, in an answer to an ad in the Examiner, who could be interested in an emergency hospital. Now let the good mining interests take this matter up with him and put it over.

Kaiser Wilhelm, it is said, has agreed to stand trial. If so, and the trial takes place, the Associated Press should give wide publicity to the evidence. It is the people of the world, not some other ruler, who would like to know just who really started the world conflict.

Admiral Sims has thrown a bomb into the Navy by complaining of unjust promotions. Daniels asks Lansing to free American sailors in Mexico. Several Democrats want to run for the presidency, but can't find out what Wilson is going to do. Altogether looks like there's a chance for lack of harmony in the Democratic ranks.

Eason, of Elgin, claims that the Jap Honeydrip Cain will produce 350 gallons of syrup per acre. This seed should be in the hands of every farmer in the country. The sugar barons have found out how easy it is to speculate on sugar, and sugar conditions may never improve. Good old home-made syrup, to keep and to sell, will help out wonderfully.

Through the efforts of the secretary of the Patagonia Chamber of Commerce, Prof. Williams, of the state bureau of animal industry arrived Tuesday evening and went out to San Rafael Valley to look into the matter of a cattle malady there supposed to be caused by the appearance of a new and strange weed. Thus the chamber of commerce, if maintained, be constantly useful serving some interest or interests in and around Patagonia.

General John J. Pershing will probably pass through Patagonia late in January. He will be in El Paso about January 28, and information gained by the Patagonian from an army officer this week says he will inspect posts at Huachuca and at Nogales, going, likely by auto from Huachuca to Nogales, through Patagonia. Our people should keep tab on these dates, and get Pershing to make a short speech. And they should prepare some sort of honors for him.

HOW ABOUT MEXICO?

President Wilson says he is perfectly able to deal with the Mexico situation without any senatorial aid—Senor Carranza says he is in an equally satisfying position.

Senator Ashurst says he believes the administration's attitude is a Simon-pure bluff that will end as usual, in a "bob-tail flush."

A certain preacher, with headquarters in New York, states that the people of the Southwest don't favor the United States setting Mexico aright—he knows, as he recently traveled all the way home from Los Angeles, over the Santa Fe system.

General Leonard Wood says he believes the U. S. Army and Navy should be kept to sufficient strength to go into Mexico and rescue an abducted consul or two.

Villa says it makes no great shakes of difference to him. His job of "banditing" everything and everybody grows bigger and better every day.—Arizona Mining Journal.

BULLETIN

AUTOMOBILES INCREASE LAND VALUES

"Automobiles are notable for increasing the value of land," says American Garage, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"They have done this by making all land more accessible—more profitable. They have eliminated distances and brought city and country closer.

"Suburban property is in far greater demand than before the days of automobile transportation. Formerly, the advantages of life outside the cities were limited to the efficiency of railway connections. Now the automobile owner is independent of every other conveyance. The inconvenience of family shopping and getting about generally, no longer exists—in any season.

"The early use of automobiles demonstrated the inadequacy of our road system. In the few years that motor cars have been recognized utilities, good roads have spread in all directions. They now form one of the most valuable assets of the nation. Together with the automobile they link all parts of the country.

"In the farming areas the effect of automobiles is particularly notable. They have made farm life more attractive, and farm property more profitable. Passenger cars and trucks shorten the farmer's day. Their all around utility on the farm itself saves time and labor and results in increased production and more profits.

"If no longer makes a difference to the farmer whether a railroad is near his property or not. His route to market is no longer dependent on steel rails, nor the limited capacity of his teams. The automobile makes every town within a radius of twenty miles or more, both a convenient market and source of supply.

"As farms have become more convenient, more productive and more profitable through the utility of the automobile, their value has increased. And that the farmer appreciates this service is proved by the fact that more than half the cars in the United States are owned in the agricultural districts."

Four Million Women to Fight for Lower Living Cost

A Washington report states that an army of 4,000,000 women, representing ten national organizations, has been organized by the savings division of the treasury department to enter the fight against the high cost of living.

Beginning January 1 and extending to April 1, a great thrift campaign will be conducted in an effort to induce women to keep strict accounts of their daily expenditures in order by study of them to eliminate unnecessary items. According to the plan, amounts saved by this means would be invested in government securities.

Coal Strike Losses
According to W. D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, the direct losses on account of the recent coal strike have already amounted to $126,000,000. Mr. McKinney's figures show the miners to be the greatest losers in the strike their losses in wages amounting to $60,000,000. The loss to the railroads is placed by him at $40,000,000 while the loss to the operators is set at $26,000,000.

Additional loss to railroads from curtailed service and to industries forced to shut down on account of the fuel situation could not be estimated with any degree of accuracy, Mr. McKinney said.

Germany Has Surrendered Much War Material, But Is Still Delinquent
Yesterday, in the House of Commons Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of War, announced that the Germans have so far surrendered to the Allies 5,000 heavy guns, 25,000 machine guns, 3,000 trench mortars, and 1700 airplanes but that they have failed to deliver 42 locomotives and 4,760 railway trucks provided for in the armistice agreement. The secretary stated, however, that Germany has made an earnest effort to comply with the conditions imposed by the Allies.

Gerald Says He Will Not Try to Take Candidacy from Wilson

In commenting yesterday on his recently-announced candidacy for the Presidency, James W. Gerard, ex-United States Ambassador to Germany, made the following statement:

"I want to make it perfectly clear that there can be no political rivalry between President Wilson and myself. In a telegram which I sent to the chairman of the South Dakota Democratic State Committee, I pointed out distinctly that should President Wilson decide to seek a third term I would withdraw my name. If he doesn't I will stay in the race."

Regarding the principles upon which he proposes to stand in making his fight for the presidency, Mr. Gerard said that they are as follows:

"World peace, with a world vision"

Attempt to Repeal Wartime Prohibition Defeated by House Committee

The House Agricultural Committee yesterday, by a vote of 16 to 3, tabled a resolution introduced by Representative Gale Galligan to repeal wartime prohibition. Those who supported the resolution were Representatives Ward of New York, Rainey of Illinois, and Voight of Wisconsin.

House Passes Sugar Crisis Bill

By a vote of 256 to 34 the House of Representatives yesterday passed the bill, previously passed by the Senate to relieve the sugar shortage in the United States. Amendments were adopted by the House extending for one year the President's wartime powers over sugar, under which he can fix the price of sugar, commandeer it, and regulate the industry through the licensing of dealers.

On account of these House amendments the bill will have to go to a conference committee. It is believed, however, that there will be no substantial difficulty in reaching an agreement regarding the amendments and that the bill will become a law in a short time and a reconstruction policy calculated to preserve America and American commerce as against the world; to establish for labor its share in the fruits of industry; to protect the farmer against the middleman, and to restore equal rights to all loyal citizens.

"Prompt ratification of the peace treaty and League of Nations consistent with immediate establishment of the League at Geneva; immediate reduction of war taxes; prompt restoration of normal labor and trade conditions by proper legislation."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford One Ton Truck is serving business just as faithfully and economically as does the Ford Touring Car serve all the people faithfully and economically. The Ford Truck is a necessity to the grocer both in delivering goods and in bringing goods from the stations, docks and from the country. It is an ideal motor car because there isn't a want of the farmer or business man that it doesn't supply in the way of quick transportation at a minimum expense. Come in, examine the Truck, and let us talk over the subject.
