

ELGIN NEWS

Farmers are rejoicing over the recent rainfall.

Dixie Cummings and Mrs. Ream were recent visitors in Elgin from Port Huachuca.

Roy Blair, who was in from the Santa Ritas a few days ago, says there was a heavy fall of snow in the mountains.

J. C. White, who returned recently from a year's residence in California, says it seems good to again be located on his ranch near Elgin.

Mrs. Eva Barnett is in receipt of a letter from Corporal Baxter Hunt, who is still in France. He says he is quite well satisfied with conditions "over there" and does not know when he will return.

Mrs. V. P. Hanson recently entertained a party of friends at cards, among those present being Mrs. C. L. Deady, Mrs. L. Beaty, Mr. and Mrs. William Turney, A. M. Benjamin, Eva Barnett, Mrs. Lasure, Mildred and Idola McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hanson. Refreshments were served.

MOWRY

Mrs. Nellie Hasselstrom, who is visiting relatives at Rapid City, S. D., is expected to return to her home near Mowry shortly.

A Mr. Smith of California is developing property just below the Phelps home and is very much encouraged at the showing so far made.

Cattle in the Mowry district are in good condition, and since the late rains and warm weather give promise of early feed the losses for the season will be small.

The old Mowry mine, which was originally located in the early fifties, has recently increased its force of miners and is now working two shifts on drifting operations under the direction of William J. Mitchell, superintendent. It is said the outlook is encouraging.

INTERESTING TO FARMER AND STOCKMAN.

Gila county's war gardens have been rented for pasture and the money donated to the Red Cross.

Recent rains have helped the ranges all over Southern Arizona and prospects for feed early in the spring are good.

Cotton planting is practically completed in Arizona, and the plowing of the land for the next crop has begun. Ginning is proceeding slowly.

The total value of crops raised in Arizona for the agricultural year of 1918 is $26,000,000, and of this crop long staple cotton furnished a value of $14,000,000.

Seven additional cars of feed have been secured for starving range cattle in Cochise county at the reduced freight rate authorized by the U. S. railroad administration.

Many Arizona cattlemen will attend the annual convention of the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's Association in El Paso March 4, 5, 6. A number of Arizona cattlemen are members of this association.

G. E. Thompson of the University of Arizona at Tucson says: To grow a first class crop four things are necessary. First, good soil; second, a well prepared seed bed; third, good seed, and fourth, a favorable season together with good cultivation or field management.

Improved and uniform varieties of sorghum millet, alfalfa and broom grass capable of resisting drought and especially adapted to climate and soil conditions of the semi-arid southwest have been obtained by the United States department of agriculture by selection from mixed commercial stocks.

Rich Indian Takes Wife.
Old Dog, chief of the Gros Ventres, one of the four tribes which lives in peace and harmony on Berthold Reservation, has brought Mrs. Old Dog to a hospital at Bismarck, N. D., for treatment. Old Dog is a full blooded Gros Ventre, and is one of the wealthiest and most progressive Indians on the reservation. He has thousands of acres of good land, several thousand head of registered cattle and hundreds of fine horses. Last summer he built a nine-room home in which he installed a modern heating and plumbing system.

Optimism Nets $500.
Mrs. J. H. Steiner's optimism and faith in General Pershing and his Yanks has won for her $500. While the Germans seemed on the verge of winning the war she went among her neighbors in Pittsburgh cheering them up, saying that the enemy would be beaten before the snow began to fall. When her statements were questioned she promptly offered to wager $500, which was as promptly taken up. She collected.

TRENCH PAPERS DIED AT END OF THE WAR

Memory of Little Sheets That Enlivened Army Life Will Live Forever.

The trench newspaper died with the end of the world war, but in England and France today there are not a few soldiers who, although naturally joyous at a degree of sadness because of the disappearance of these famous little publications. Editors and reporters were sought out to serve the occasion from all ranks and conditions. Typewriters, papers and pencils were spirited from somewhere, and the french papers were produced, in most cases, on the firing line. They had to overcome innumerable difficulties. Laughing at death and destruction, it was their mission to lighten the task of the fighting men. But now the little papers have been scrapped. Editorial offices in the shape of dugouts, bell tents and broken-down butts were stripped with the signing of the armistice, and the Squib, Rooket or Patrol remain only as memories.

It is said of one of these little publications on the British front that not one of the original editorial staff lived to read the last words of the paper they brought into being. Men came and went, but the paper was preserved until the last.

MUSTARD GAS COOKS FLESH

Soldier Tells of Experience in Engagement Near Verdun.
"Mustard gas shells which the Huns used in many instances cooked the flesh," said William Arnold, Penn. Ill. Company D, Forty-seventh Infantry, while recounting an engagement with the Germans near Verdun.
"When the enemy made an attack, we adjusted our masks, but the gas was so deadly poisonous that it scorched our hands and necks. If a man failed to get his mask on in time, nine times out of ten his face would be badly burned. The effect resembled a bad case of smallpox," he said.

FREAK WINS HIS BET

Found Dead in Police Station as He Had Predicted.
Fifteen years ago "Tattooed Jack," a well-known steidle jack and circus sideshow character of former years, bet "the best drink in town that I'll be found dead some night with my clothes on in this police station," with Sergeant Hutchinson of the North side jail at Pittsburgh.
The other night an aged man was found dead in a cell of the station. No one knew his identity until Hutchinson was called. It was "Tattooed Jack," and he had his clothes on. He had won the bet.

Unbounded Prosperity Ahead of Western Canada.

Opportunity Beckons Settlers of All Kinds—With the Golden Wake That Marked the Way the Happy Reapers Went—James Whitcomb Riley.

The war having been brought to a favorable conclusion more attention can now be given to the agricultural and industrial development of Western Canada...

True, much agricultural progress has been made during this time. Crop production has been greatly increased, the number of live stock has steadily grown...

Excepting those industries closely allied to agriculture, such as butter and cheese manufacture, industrial activity in the Prairie Provinces has been almost at a standstill...

With more help available, and the use of the labor-saving devices that have been adopted during the last few years great advances in the agricultural development of Western Canada might be looked for even if no new settlers were expected...

Hand in hand with the development of agriculture, there will be a renewal of industrial activity. For the establishment of such industries as sugar refineries, canneries, and many other industries for the utilization of the products of the land...

To provide accommodation for present business requirements alone would keep the building trade busy for a long time, but with further development in the cities it is impossible to foresee any slackness in any branch of this trade...

All this points to a period of great prosperity in Western Canada—agricultural and industrial prosperity. The former is the more important, for on it the latter depends.

There is no reason to believe that farming will be less remunerative than it has been in the past; there are, on the other hand, many good and sound reasons for believing that the returns will be as large as ever.

Mr. Dubson says his life is an open book.

"Maybe it is," replied the sarcastic young woman, "but it isn't the kind of book that any one with a taste for reading would care to underline."

No one ever becomes rich enough to buy immunity from grief.

A faultless person never goes around pointing out the faults of others.

Captured German Colonies Are to Be Placed Under International Control.

WILSON'S PLAN IS ADOPTED

British Dominions Protest in Vain—Mandatories of League of Nations Will Rule the Territories—Little Progress With Russian Problem.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD. Germany's lost colonies occupied much of the time and attention of the peace delegates last week, and the result of their deliberations apparently was that those colonies, and probably some of the territories that are to be lopped off the Turkish empire...

This disposition of the former German possessions, if it is finally accepted by the peace conference, will prove another triumph for President Wilson, for while he has yielded somewhat in compromise, it is mainly his idea.

In another way this decision, if made, vindicates Mr. Wilson's ideas, for it is admitted that the creation and maintenance of the league of nations is necessary to carry out the colonial plan...

The question of the German colonies developed the most serious diplomatic contest the conference has engaged in, and at the time of writing the end of the fight was not in sight.

Assuming that the internationalization plan is adopted, it is likely the control of the lands in question would be about as follows: German West Africa to France; the Kamerun to French Congo; German Southwest Africa to the South African Union; German East Africa mainly to Great Britain...

would be granted as a means of recouping war losses. The dividing up of the spoils of victory, they held, would be in absolute violation of the promises that the rights of communities and small nations shall be protected.

The supreme war council tentatively decided that the spread of lawlessness in Turkey made it necessary that allied troops should be sent there, and the military representatives were directed to prepare a report on the most equitable distribution of this military burden...

The labor question bulks big in the doings of the peacemakers at Paris, and their international commission on labor regulation is now considering an elaborate scheme for the international regulation of conditions of employment...

The Polish commission of the supreme council, made up of representatives of America, Great Britain, France and Italy, prepared to depart for Warsaw. It would seem that this commission has a big job before it, for while the Poles themselves are working fairly harmoniously under the leadership of Paderewski...

This fighting, of course, is in direct disobedience of the recent order of the great powers that all hostilities must cease everywhere, but the Polish representatives in Paris say their country cannot stop fighting when it is under constant military attack.

Diplomatically, Russian matters were at a standstill, awaiting replies to the invitation to a conference of all factions on the Princes' islands in the Sea of Marmora.

A good deal of excitement and some resentment were stirred up in America by the announcement of a British embargo on many imports, effective March 1.

Great Britain is having a serious time with the labor problem. Several thousand workers in England, Wales and Ireland have quit, either for more pay or for shorter hours without reduction of wages.

In the United States unpreparedness for peace is at the bottom of a great deal of unrest concerning the unemployment of returning soldiers.

north Russia and what they are expected to do there is still much of a mystery and it engaged the attention of the American senate last week when Senator Johnson of California vigorously attacked the policy...

One important point concerning payment by Germany is reported to have been settled by the peace conference. It was decided that while Germany must make full reparation for unjustifiable damage done, she and her associates will not be called on to pay heavy indemnities to reimburse the victorious nations for their war expenses.

On the eve of the assembling of the German national convention in Weimar, the Ebert government seemed firmly seated in the place of power, though there was a possibility of combinations that would dominate it.

Interior—1. Complete unity. 2. Redivision of the nation for administrative purposes into a number of departments approximately of equal size without taking account of the present divisions.

Exterior—1. The annexation of German Austria. 2. Opposition to the formation of a strong Poland.

The annexation of German Austria may be balked by the formation of the proposed Danube confederation of all the states along the Danube, including German Austria and Bulgaria, for it is figured that if Germany is permitted to annex the part of Austria she covets she would be stronger than ever in territory and population.

More reasonable persons recognize that the embargo is an emergency measure to help England in the rehabilitation of her industries and that it is undoubtedly only temporary.

What Puzzled Him. Though a strange, unbelievable peace settled over the Argonne with the signing of the armistice, life changed little for the road meanders. LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of 'California Syrup of Figs,' and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless 'fruit laxative'; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of 'California Syrup of Figs,' which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle.

Acid-Stomach Ruins Health of Millions

Besides those painful attacks of indigestion; that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and downright stomach misery that you who have experienced it know so well; besides disgusting belching, food-repeating, sour stomach and distressing heartburn—besides all this, ACID-STOMACH undermines the health and saps the strength of millions.

If you don't get rid of those stomach miseries there is no telling where your stomach troubles will end, for it is a well known scientific fact that many serious ailments have their start in an acid-stomach.
