GREEN FANCY

By George Barr McCutcheon

Author of "GRAUSTARK," "THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND," "THE PRINCE OF GRAUSTARK," "FROM THE HOUSETOPS," ETC.

CHAPTER XV—Continued.

His uneasiness increased to consternation when he discovered that Sprouse had not yet put in an appearance.

Shortly before the noon hour, Peter Ames halted the old automobile from Green Fancy in front of the Tavern and stepped O'Dowd, followed by no less a personage than the pseudo Mr. Loeb.

Catching sight of Barnes, the Irishman shouted a gongal greeting.

"The top of the morning to ye. You remember Mr. Loeb, don't you? Mr. Curtis' secretary. Mr. Loeb is leaving us for a few days on business.

Barnes caught the look that the Irishman shot at him out of the corner of his eye.

"Perhaps you'd better see that the scoundrels don't give us short measure, Mr. Loeb," said O'Dowd.

O'Dowd lowered his voice. "Barnes, I let you off last night, and I let her off as well. In return, I ask you to hold your tongue until the man down there gets a fair start.

"Are you in danger, too, O'Dowd?" "To be sure—but I love it. I can always squirm out of tight places."

"See here, I am going back to that house up yonder. There is still work for me there. What I'm after now is to get him on the train at Hornville.

"Do you mean to say that you are coming back here to run the risk of being—"

"We've had word that the government has men on the way. Why, hang it all, Barnes, don't you know who it was that engineered that whole business last night?"

Barnes smiled. "I do. He is a secret agent from the embassy."

"Secret granny!" almost shouted O'Dowd. "He is the slickest, cleverest crook that ever drew the breath of life. And he's got away with the jewels, for which you can whistle in vain, I'm thinking."

"For heaven's sake, O'Dowd—" began Barnes, his blood like ice in his veins.

"But don't take my word for it. Ask her—upstairs there, God bless her—ask her if she knows Chester fore. In the name of God, Barnes, how did you happen to fall in with the villain?"

Barnes passed his hand over his brow, dazed. "He—he represented himself as a book agent," he mumbled, striving to collect himself.

"That's the man," said O'Dowd, scowling. "He trotted all over the county, selling books. For the love of it, do ye think? Not much. He had other fish to fry, you may be sure.

"All ready, O'Dowd," called Loeb. "Come along, please."

"Coming," said the Irishman. "Don't blame yourself, old man. See you later, Barnes. So long!"

CHAPTER XVI.

The First Wayfarer Visits a Shrine, Confesses, and Takes an Oath.

How was he to find the courage to impart the appalling news to her? He was now convinced beyond all doubt that the so-called Sprouse had made off with the priceless treasure and that only a miracle could bring about its recovery.

"They came to the Tavern four or five days before your arrival at Green Fancy," Barnes interrupted. "Sprouse told me that they were secret service men from abroad and that he was working with them. My theory is this, and I think it is justified by events: The men were really secret agents, sent here to watch the movements of the gang up there. They came upon Sprouse and recognized him. On the day mentioned they overpowered him and forced him to reveal certain facts connected with affairs at Green Fancy. Possibly he led them to believe that you were one of the conspirators. They waited for your arrival and then risked the hazardous trip to Green Fancy. They were discovered and shot."

"I believe you are right," she cried. "Then we have accounted for Mr. Sprouse, and I am no longer interested in the unravelling of the mystery surrounding the deaths of Rosa and Paul," said Barnes. "There is nothing to keep me here any longer, Miss Cameron. I suggest that you allow me to escort you at once to your friends, wherever they—"

"She was opposed to this plan. While there was still a chance that Sprouse might be apprehended in the neighborhood, or the possibility of his being caught by the relentless pursuers, she declined to leave.

"Then, I shall also stay," said he promptly, and was repaid by the tremulous smile she gave him. He was helplessly in love with this beautiful cousin of kings and queens. And when he thought of kings and queens he realized that beyond all question his love was hopeless.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Second Wayfarer is Transformed.

O'Dowd returned late in the afternoon. He was in a hurry to get back to Green Fancy; there was no mistaking his uneasiness.

"For the love of heaven, Barnes, get her away from here as soon as possible, and do it as secretly as you can," he said. "I may as well tell you that she is in more danger from the government secret service than from anyone up yonder."

"She may prefer to face the music, O'Dowd. If I know her at all, she will refuse to run away."

"Then ye'll have to kidnap her," said the Irishman earnestly. "There will be men swarming here from both sides of the border by tomorrow night or next day. It's the gospel truth, and it's going to be bad for all of us if we're here when they come."

"Who is she, O'Dowd? Man to man, tell me the truth. I want to know just where I stand."

O'Dowd hesitated, looked around the taproom, and then leaned across the table.

"Miss Cameron is in refilly the Countess Therese Maru-Dafanda—familiarily and lovingly known in her own land as the Countess Ted. She was visiting in this country when the war broke out. If it is of any use to you, I'll add that she would be rich if Aladdin could only come to life and restore the splendors of the demolished castle, refill the chests of gold that have been emptied by the conquerors, and restock the farms that have been pillaged and devastated. In the absence of Aladdin, however, she is almost as poor as the ancient church mouse. So there you are, me man. Half the royal progeny of Europe have been suitors for her hand, and the other half would be if they didn't happen to be of the same sex. Good-by. I must be on my way." He arose and held out his hand. "Good-by and good luck forever."

"You are a brick, O'Dowd. I want to see you again. You will always find me—"

"Thanks. Don't issue any rash invitations. I might take you up."

Barnes started upstairs as soon as O'Dowd was out, urged by an eagerness that put wings on his feet and a thrill of excitement in his blood. Half-way up he stopped short. A new condition confronted him. What was the proper way to approach a person of royal blood? He would have to think.

Pausing at her door, he was at once aware of voices inside the room. He rapped on the door, but so timidly that nothing came of it. His second effort was productive. He heard Miss Thackeray say "good gracious," and, after a moment, Miss Cameron's subdued: "What is it?"

"May I come in?" he inquired, rather ashamed of his vigor. "It's only Barnes."

"Come in," was her lively response. "It was awfully good of you, Miss Thackeray, to let me hear your lines. I think you will be a great success in the part."

"Thanks," said Miss Thackeray dryly. "I'll come in again and let you hear me in the third act." She went out, mumbling her lines as she passed Barnes without seeing him.

"I hope you will feel able to leave this place tomorrow, countess. We must get away almost immediately."

"Ah, you have been listening to O'Dowd, I see."

"Yes. He tells me it will be dangerous to—"

"He is right. It would be difficult for me to clear myself. No one would believe that I did not deliberately make off with the jewels. They would say that I—oh, it is too dreadful!"

"Don't worry about that," she exclaimed. "You have me to testify that—"

"How little you know of intrigue," she cried. "They would laugh at you and say that you were merely another fool who had lost his head over a woman. They would say that I duped you—"

"No!" he cried vehemently. "Your people know better than you think. You are disheartened, discouraged. Things will look brighter tomorrow."

"I don't know what I should do without you," she said.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Mr. Sprouse Continues to Be Perplexed, but Puts His Nose to the Ground.

Barnes was abroad early. He was at breakfast when Peter Ames called up. An inspiration seized him when the chauffeur mentioned the wholesale exodus: he hired Peter forthwith and ordered him to report immediately with the car. He was going up to Green Fancy for Miss Cameron's wardrobe.

Two minutes after Peter drove up to the Tavern he was on the way back to Green Fancy again, and seated beside him was Thomas Kingsbury Barnes, his new master.

There was not a sign of human life about the place. Peter accompanied him upstairs to the room recently occupied by Miss Cameron.

They found two small leather trunks, thickly belabored, in the room upstairs. Both were locked.

CHOICE THINGS TO PREPARE NOW FOR WINTER.

A well stocked fruit closet is a source of great satisfaction to every housekeeper and recipes for such are always welcomed.

To Can Green Corn Without Cooking.—To every nine cups of corn cut from the cob add one cup of sugar and half a cup of salt and one cup of cold water. Mix well and be sure the sugar and salt are well dissolved, then seal in sterilized cans as usual.

Corn Salad.—Cut the corn from 12 large ears; chop one head of cabbage, sprinkle with salt and let stand three hours; drain off the water and add the corn to the cabbage; add a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt, one-half cupful of ground mustard, four small red peppers, chopped fine, two quarts of vinegar. Cook until the vegetables are tender. Seal while hot.

Cucumber Chowder.—Take 12 ripe cucumbers, peeled and grated, and three onions, also grated. Squeeze the pulp dry; add chopped red pepper and salt to taste; thin with good, snappy vinegar and bottle cold. It should be of the consistency of prepared horseradish.

Cucumber Pickles.—Mix together one cupful of mustard and half a cupful of salt; stir into a gallon of good vinegar. When the cucumbers are gathered and washed they are dropped into this vinegar. When you have two quarts seal and put away in Mason jars.

Beet Relish.—Take one quart of chopped cabbage, one quart of chopped boiled beets, two cupfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of pepper, half a teaspoonful of cayenne, one cupful of grated horseradish and vinegar to make a mixture of the consistency of prepared horseradish.

Rhubarb Conservé.—Take three and a half pounds of rhubarb, three lemons, the rind of one. Boil the rhubarb one-half hour with two pounds of sugar; add lemon juice and one-half pound of shredded, blanched almonds. Cook again one-half hour.

The woman who has not loved, played with and spanked a child, has missed one of the cardinal joys.

A VARIETY OF TIMBALES.

For an entree or for a luncheon dish this dainty mixture is always considered a tidbit.

Chicken Timbales.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-fourth of a cup of stale bread-crumbs, two-thirds of a cup of milk and cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Add one cupful of chopped cooked chicken, half a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and two eggs slightly beaten. Season with salt and pepper. Turn into buttered molds, having the molds two-thirds full; set into a pan of hot water, cover with buttered paper and bake twenty minutes. Serve with Bechamel sauce.

Bechamel Sauce.—Cook one and one-half cupfuls of white stock with one slice each of onion and carrot, a bit of bay leaf, sprig of parsley, six peppercorns, and after cooking twenty minutes strain; there should be one cupful. Melt one-fourth cupful of butter, add the same amount of flour and gradually one cupful of scalded milk. Season with salt and pepper.

Sweetbread and Mushroom Timbales.—Cook two tablespoonfuls of butter with one sliced onion five minutes. Add one and one-half cupfuls of mushroom caps finely chopped, and one small parboiled sweetbread, finely chopped, then add one cupful of medium thick white sauce, one-fourth cupful of stale bread-crumbs, one red pepper chopped, one-half teaspoonful of salt and the yolks of two eggs well beaten. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Fill buttered timbale molds, set in a pan of hot water, cover with buttered paper and bake fifteen minutes. Remove to the serving dish and pour around.

Mushroom Sauce.—Peel five large mushroom caps, cut in halves cross-wise, then in slices. Cook in three tablespoonfuls of butter five minutes; dredge with two tablespoonfuls of flour, add one-third of a cup of cream and one cupful of chicken stock; cook two minutes. Season with salt and paprika and add one chopped truffe.

Ham timbales are made the same as the chicken, substituting chopped cooked ham.

Halibut Timbales.—Cook a pound of halibut in boiling water, sealed, drain and rub through a sieve. Season with salt, cayenne and lemon juice, add one-third of a cup of thick cream beaten stiff, then the whites of three beaten eggs. Turn into buttered molds, set in a pan of water, cover with buttered paper and bake twenty minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve with Bechamel sauce.

A SUMMER COLD A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of a cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of "Boschee's Syrup" handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boschee's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. ## HAD TO GIVE UP

Was Almost Frantic With the Pain and Suffering of Kidney Complaint. Doan's Made Her Well.

Mrs. Lydia Shuster, 1838 Margaret St., Frankford, Pa., says: "A cold started my kidney trouble. My back began to ache and got sore and lame. My joints and ankles became swollen and painful and it felt as if needles were sticking into them. I finally had to give up and went from bad to worse. My kidneys didn't act right and the secretions were scanty and distressing. I had awful dizzy spells when everything before me turned black, one time I couldn't see for twenty minutes. Awful pains in my head set me almost frantic and I was so nervous, I couldn't stand the least noise. How I suffered! Often I didn't care whether I lived or died. I couldn't sleep on account of the terrible pains in my back and head. Nothing seemed to do me a bit of good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I could soon see they were helping me; the backache stopped, my kidneys were regulated and I no longer had any dizzy spells or rheumatic pains. I still take Doan's occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good health." Sworn to before me.

WHO'S WHO in the WORLD

C. D. WALCOTT AND THE SMITHSONIAN

Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, has issued an illustrated account of the field work of the last year by its staff and collaborators. The Smithsonian was established by federal statute in 1846 under the terms of the will of James Smithson (1765-1829), who bequeathed in 1829 the sum of $540,000 to the United States "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." Smithson was the natural son of the duke of Northumberland and said that his bequest would make his name better known than his father's. The income of the Smithsonian is now about $100,000 a year.

One of the most important activities of the Smithsonian Institution is the exploration of little-known regions of the world. Among the regions visited by the 22 separate expeditions are many states in this country, Chile, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Africa, Borneo and Celebes. The explorations, all of which were in the interest of science, include work in geology, botany, zoology, anthropology, archeology, ethnology and astrophysics.

United States field parties and special investigators looked into many interesting things. The botanical work consisted largely of investigation of grasses and timber in the Southwest, including timberline (11,600 feet) on Longs Peak in Rocky Mountain National park, Colorado, where the exhibit is unexcelled. The little-known region of the Ten Thousand Islands in Florida furnished new information concerning the Seminole Indians there.

WILL JUDGE LINDSEY GO TO JAIL?

Two hundred and fifty days in jail for a principle. That is the penalty that Judge Ben B. Lindsey, the famous "kids' judge" of Denver, expects to pay for holding in violation the confidence of a small boy. The supreme court of the state has ruled that he must carry out the sentence. Judge Lindsey has taken an appeal to the United States Supreme court, but lawyers say there is no federal question involved and they expect the Supreme court to deny jurisdiction.

The only alternative is the payment of a fine of $500. Judge Lindsey has flatly refused to pay this fine and says that he will go to jail for life rather than do so. He maintains that in spite of his conviction he is not guilty of contempt of court. Friends have offered to pay the fine and costs for him, and even the children have offered to raise the money.

The "kid" in the case is Neal Wright, who is now in the United States army in France. His father was murdered. His mother confessed to the murder. Then Neal confessed that he killed his father. What he told Judge Lindsey is the nub of the case. The state contended that the boy's confession to the judge would have convicted his mother.

While the trial of Mrs. Wright was in progress, Judge Lindsey was called to the witness stand. He refused to relate Neal Wright's confession.

SENATOR KELLOGG'S LICENSING BILL

Senator Kellogg of Minnesota has introduced a bill that has stirred up much discussion. In presenting it Senator Kellogg said, among other things: "The bill requires all corporations engaged in interstate commerce and having a capital or assets of $10,000,000 or over to take out a federal license. It further provides for a forfeiture of the license if the corporation shall enter into any contract, combination, or conspiracy in restraint of trade, or shall monopolize commerce, or attempt to monopolize it. This would give the federal trade commission a supervisory jurisdiction over such corporations, and their license would be subject to forfeiture if they engage in a combination to raise or fix prices, engage in unfair methods of competition for the sake of crushing out their competitors, or any of the other abuses which have been in the past commonly employed to monopolize commerce. It is my opinion that prosecution under the present antitrust act is not a sufficient remedy. There should be a department of the government having power of supervision, not necessarily interfering with the business of the country, but possessing the power to investigate, publish the facts, and take immediate action to revoke a license if a corporation abuses its power."

It is my opinion that prosecution under the present antitrust act is not a sufficient remedy. ## ASTOR GIVES HIS SONS MILLIONS

Deeds of trust have been filed in the registrar's office in New York city on behalf of William Waldorf Astor, conveying all of his real estate in New York city, or elsewhere, to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company as trustee in trust for his two sons, Waldorf Astor and Capt. John Jacob Astor.

No statement could be obtained from Viscount Astor's lawyers as to the cause of this big transfer, but it is evidently in keeping with his policy to escape a heavy inheritance tax law, which is 5 per cent on bequests over $1,000,000.

Under the transfer in trust are land and buildings valued at more than $50,000,000, this would mean a saving to the estate of $2,500,000 in inheritance taxation.

Among the more valuable properties transferred are the Hotel Astor, assessed at $4,050,000; the Astor theater, assessed at $1,002,000, and the Astor apartments, assessed at $1,525,000.

Viscount Astor was born in New York in 1848. He was United States minister to Italy, 1882-85. He has lived in England since 1890, became a British subject in 1900 and was given his title in 1910.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work. Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.—Adv.

Some Eats. Patience—I see by the paper that a woman at Hollis, Long Island, missed a diamond from a ring she was wearing, after making sandwiches for soldiers, and has come to the conclusion that the stone must have fallen into one of the sandwiches and been swallowed by some soldier. Patrice—I've heard of that asked-for-bread-and-given-a-stone-beside-before.

"BAYER CROSS" ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" to be genuine must be marked with the safety "Bayer Cross." Always buy an unbroken Bayer package which contains proper directions to safely relieve Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Colds and pain. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents at drug stores—larger packages also. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acidester of Salicylic acid.—Adv.

In Army Fashion. The minister had pronounced them man and wife, and asked the newly made husband to salute his wife. He saluted his wife in army fashion, instead of the usual kiss, and we could not suppress a titter if we tried.—Exchange.

Red Cross Bag Blue should be used in every home. It makes clothes white as snow and never injures the fabric. All good grocers, 5c.

In Realms of Art. "My fortune's made!" exclaimed the dancing teacher. "Have you thought of a new dance?" "No. But I've thought of a highly improper name for one."

It's safer to knock some men down before turning the other cheek.

Savory beans, Mexican peppers, choice bits of tender beef—all in a hot Spanish sauce! Such is Libby's Chili Con Carne—ask your grocer for a package today. Try it with rice, mashed potatoes or spaghetti—it's delightful. Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

Ready Explainer.

"Tommy, your head is wet. You've been in swimming against my orders." "No, pa; I was just standin' on the bank watchin' the other boys when that little Tompkins kid did a 'belly-buster' an' splashed me." "Then, why wasn't your hat wet?" "I had it in my hand, pa, fannin' myself." "Ump! I guess I'll have to make a lawyer out of you, son."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Like Lightning.

"Pop!" "Yes, my son." "Do you know why they call those things lightning bugs?" "Because they never seem to strike twice in the same place is my guess, my boy."

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloating and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour food, pain and gas.

It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Stomachs, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, eczema of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs the victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—the full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big size box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

Cryptic Cable.

For smartness the following will be hard to beat: A well-known personage in Devonshire, England, received a cable from his soldier son in Mesopotamia containing only three words: "Two John twelve." After much puzzling the meaning dawned upon him. Taking down his Bible he turned up the Second Epistle of St. John and read the twelfth verse, which runs as follows: "Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you and speak face to face, that our joy may be full." His son was on his way home to England.

Bridegroom Grows in Importance.
The war has given the bridegroom a significance he never before possessed. Formerly wedding notices were devoted to the bride, her trousseau, her bridesmaids and her family. The bridegroom was mentioned only incidentally, if at all. By reason of his rank, he has become one of the most important persons in the alliance.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Millionaires and Nickels.

Mr. Tompkins meant well, but he was not as happy as usual, when he lauded the returned soldiers by saying they cared no more for their lives when they went into battle than a millionaire cares for a nickel. This metaphor does not measure the heroism of our men. Once we knew a millionaire whose favorite expression was: "Five cents is the interest on a dollar for a whole year." We know others who feel the same way.—Baltimore Sun

NEITHER
 More through curiosity, perhaps, than through interest, several have asked if ye new editor is a Democrat or Republican. Neither. Totally independent in all things except finances. Quit partisan politics years ago.
 On our front page this week appears some matter pertaining to presidential possibilities. We give space to this, not because it is Republican dope, but because it is good matter. Johnson is an independent Republican, and a strong man. Information as to presidential aspirants is valuable to the voter. The same space may be given soon to some good looking Democrat. The biggest and best Republicans are independent. The biggest and best Democrats are independent. Independent thought is growing among the laity, and therein lies safety for our country.
 The writer was reared by an old fashioned Southern "Reb" Democrat. But the fondest memory he cherishes of his honest old father is the abhorrence he had for that all but forgotten and damnable institution, slavery. So we are proud we have been able to outgrow some old time ideas, many of which were discernable more by distinction rather than difference.
 So long, therefore, as the Patagonian is run by the present humble pencil pusher, it shall be without bias on account of politics, religion, race, color, or "previous condition of servitude."
 The new editor is pro nothing, except pro-American, pro-Arizonian, pro-Santa Cruzan, pro-Patagonian.

OUR SCHOOLS
 Keen disappointments have been experienced by several parents by not being able to place all their children in school. This is not a fault of anyone of course. It is the result of our town's growth over last term. If there be funds and seating capacity, however, another teacher should be employed.
 Schools, good schools, and more good schools, are the very best institutions possible for a town. Aside from the general purpose for which they exist, no better boosters can be inaugurated than good schools.
 Right here we want to stop long enough to compliment some body on the location of the Patagonia school building, and also on its style of architecture. One glance at the Patagonia school building is sufficient to convince the observer of the intelligence, forethought, and good taste of those who were instrumental in its building and location. Would like to say also that if we ever met a bunch of teachers with the "pep" Patagonia's teachers have it.
 Now, let's have that other teacher, give those now employed a chance to give forth the best that's in them, push the school to the forefront, and ever keep it there. The direct effect in dollars and cents on realstate values will pay high dividends on the effort. Ranchmen and farmers, more and more, will send their children here, and will buy lots and build residences to get advantage of our schools. Outsiders will locate more readily when learn of the excellence and high standing of our public schools.
 Public spirit and enterprise may be measured by the effort put forth through our public schools.
 The physical prominence of Patagonia's public school building causes questions to be asked by visitors, and these questions are followed by more questions. Let's make Patagonia's schools as prominent a feature educationally as our building is prominent physically.

BATTLE OF THE GIANTS
 President Wilson, learned college professor, and full of seven years of arduous experience is on the stump on his ocean to ocean tour, explaining to the people what the League of Nations is like and why it should be adopted. Hiram Johnson of California, one time running mate of Teddy Roosevelt, (which latter named character no man will deny having been 100 proof American,) is not exactly following Wilson, but is out in the West dealing masterful blows at the doctrine preached by Wilson. Coming down to brass tacks the layman must ask, "are these men playing politics?" The high standing of both men give the answer,
 "no". It not, they honestly differ. If so, how can such men expect the average voter to pass upon so momentous a question?
 Some think that unless the present senate ratifies the treaty Wilson will stand for re-election. This will knock the Democrat-party out of the ring. Though there be some questions the Americans find difficulty in settling, there is one they have settled viz, that a third presidential term is un-American. Such a step would be away from making the United States safe for democracy, not toward it. But if Wilson does not stand for re-election, on whom will his mantle fall? Not Robert Lansing, if he be correctly quoted. Robert Lansing, an intellectual giant himself, and who was at the Peace Table, says the treaty won't work. A single statement from such a source strengthens the position of Johnson more than an ocean to ocean tour could do. And yet Wilson says the people are with HIM.
 The people want peace, but the danger is the people may decide this greatest of questions on political grounds rather than on grounds of principle.
 We all want peace, but we don't want an entangling alliance which will bring more war. Which will the League bring, peace or war? But these great intellectuals do not seem able to help us to decide. After all is said they rest on a difference of opinion.

The two great political parties seem to be sparring for an issue for 1920. Should the present Senate unexpectedly ratify the League treaty, the issue which may possibly lead will be the government ownership of railroads. Shouldn't be surprised to see Democrats declare for public ownership. In that event it will carry a heavy per cent of the labor vote. If the treaty be not ratified, a declaration for its adoption, and for government ownership, would, with the labor vote and the women of the West, pretty nearly put the Democrats over.

The Yuma Sun seems to be boosting senator Winsor of Yuma for governor. Well, Winsor is a good Democrat. Winsor made a splendid Labor Day speech at Globe. Wonder if there are any J. W. W.'s at Globe?

Bronze medals for all discharged sailors, soldiers and marines, to be known as "Victory medals," are proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Pell, Republican, New York. The Senate without a record vote, passed the Edge bill authorizing the creation of corporations to finance foreign trade. Verde Combination at Jerome, Ariz., is apparently right on the verge of making a mine. The northwest drift on the 1,680-foot level is now all in ledge matter with three or four feet of ore right in the center. This ore is a quartz-schist with chalcocite and white iron shot through the mass. Experts estimate that the copper content is around 4 per cent.

The Arizona Copper Company recently increased its force of miners in order to hasten the development of its fine property, fourteen miles southwest of Globe. There is already upwards of 50,000 tons of commercial ore proven up on the property which the company very conservatively estimates to average better than 3 per cent copper.

Rapid progress is being made in plans for the opening of unit "A" of the Yuma, Ariz., mesa this fall. Since the announcement in Washington some weeks back the unit "B" of the mesa was to be opened up this fall and winter, the land owners of unit "A" have been busily engaged so that unit "A" can be opened up as soon as unit "B" or a few weeks later.

Following the lead of other Arizona cities and important cities of the country, Nogales, Ariz., has established an investigating bureau for the purpose of prosecuting unscrupulous profiteers according to word just received from that place. G. P. Hallis was appointed food administrator and is acting upon complaints recently filed with the Nogales Chamber of Commerce.

The State Highway Department sent fifteen additional convicts to the road camp near Rinconada in Taos county, N. M. When finished the project will irrigate 80,000 acres of land, all of which is near Phoenix and will greatly increase the value of all land in the Gila Bend district. The contractors promise the completion of all work by Feb. 1, 1920.

WILL SUPPRESS SINN FEINERS

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO TAKE DRASTIC STEPS TO STOP REPUBLIC.

IRISH ARE DEFIANT

SINN FEIN HEADQUARTERS RAIDED FOR GUNS AND AMMUNITION.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Dublin, Sept. 13.—The opinion here is that British vacillation on the Irish question has ended and that the Lloyd George government has decided to proceed against the "republic" and those who are seeking to set it up as guilty of treason to the king. Sinn Feiners are in a defiant mood and declare that they will continue to struggle. A republic or death, is the slogan that many of the leaders of Sinn Fein are announcing.

Following closely upon a speech delivered by Viscount French, lord lieutenant and governor general of Ireland, at Belfast, in which it was declared that the British government would not hesitate to resort to drastic steps to maintain law and order in Ireland, the authorities proclaimed the suppression of the Sinn Fein Parliament and Sinn Fein organizations throughout Ireland.

A series of raids and searches for arms and documents were made in the local Sinn Fein headquarters in numerous towns in addition to Dublin, among them Cork, Belfast, Galway and Londonderry. Two prominent Sinn Fein members of the House of Commons were arrested here and the residences of many persons of Sinn Fein leanings in Dublin and other places were searched. There were slight disorders in a few places, but no reports of serious resistance to the raids have been received. A detective was shot and killed in Dublin.

In the raids some arms and explosives were found. Large quantities of documents and Sinn Fein literature were seized, notably in Dublin, where every copy of the report of Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, who investigated conditions in Ireland on behalf of American-Irish societies, and correspondence relating to arranging trade relations between Ireland and the United States and other foreign countries fell into the hands of the authorities.

The Gazette prints the proclamation, signed by the lord lieutenant of Ireland, prohibiting and suppressing the Sinn Fein Parliament known as the "Dail Eireann." It refers to the proclamation of July 3, suppressing the Sinn Fein organizations as unlawful associations. It describes the "Dail Eireann" as a dangerous association and says that since July it has been employed for all the purposes of the then suppressed organizations. The proclamation applies to the thirty-two counties of Ireland.

March By Music to Safety.

Chicago.—Little Vivian White, whose public performances of the "Motor March" have heretofore been given exclusively in the mornings when the children are tramping into the assembly room, had an extra inning at the grand piano in the Catholic public school. She played just as calmly as if she weren't choking twice to every bar, and just as calmly as if aerial smoke clouds hadn't been swirling through the corridors of the school buildings as nearly 1,000 other small boys and girls marched out to safety.

New Freight Cars in Service.

Washington.—New freight cars are being placed in service by the railroad administration at the rate of $34 per day, and every effort is being made to relieve car shortage occasioned by the movement of fall crops and reviving business, Director General Hines announced today. "Every effort is being made to speed up the construction of 100,000 freight cars ordered last year."

El Paso, Tex.—Military headquarters at Juarez have announced the capture at Sierra Del Nido, a mountain hamlet in the Casas Grandes district, of a Villa captain and five followers.

Germany Will Remain Republic.

Cassel.—Philipp Scheidemann, former German premier, in a speech here declared there was great and grave danger of a restoration of the monarchy in Russia where Bolshevism had strikingly prepared the ground for reaction. But whatever happened there, Herr Scheidemann said, Germany was determined to remain a republic. The former premier said he had too firm a confidence in the people's will to fear that a monarchist counter revolution would succeed in Germany.

A flying boat or an airplane may soon form a part of the equipment of modern missions in Africa, according to a letter received by a motor corporation from the Congo mission of the Disciples of Christ, the headquarters of which are at Coquilhartville, Belgium Congo, says the New York Evening Sun.

"We are interested in the matter of the purchase of flying boats to replace wholly or in part the fleet of launches which we have been planning for service in communication between our various stations," the letter stated. "We have a large river steamer for transportation between stations which seaplanes might supply. Our area is about 500 miles east and west and 200 miles north and south in extent.

"The whole area is covered well by an extensive system of waterways. In inland points landings might be made in small machines in the straight, smooth, central streets of the native towns, which in this section are usually clear of grass and other obstructions and are not less than 100 feet wide."

VIENNA'S AGED DYING ON FEET

Most Austrians Suffer From Ravages of the Many Wartime Maladies.

CHILDREN ARE EMACIATED

Scrawny, Limp, Listless From Malnutrition and Seldom Smile or Play—American Red Cross Is Helping.

London.—Dr. Ethel Williams, a Newcastle doctor of 30 years' experience, recently has returned to England from Vienna. She attended the Woman's International conference at Zurich, where she heard so much about the conditions of disease in Austria that she decided to see for herself what those conditions really were. She spent a week in Vienna, visiting the hospitals and the school kitchens, studying medical statistics, interviewing representative people, and seeing as much as she could of the city. Speaking to a Manchester Guardian representative, she said:

"What impressed me most was the appalling condition of every old person I saw, and of 95 per cent of the children. The old people were like walking death's heads. There are so many things that persons over sixty cannot digest. The mortality among the old has increased by 150 per cent.

"What struck me most when walking about the streets was that there were no toddlers. Children of three and even four years were carried by their mothers. The children did not run about, or shout, or quarrel. It was four days before I saw a child playing.

Most Children Emaciated.

At least 95 per cent of the practically well children were painfully emaciated, with discolored circles around their sunken eyes and the tendons of their necks showing like those of old people. Even middle-class children have these scrawny necks, and when they run their cheeks flap like those of old people. But they seldom run. They are all limp and listless.

"The scene in the out-patients' department at the biggest state children's hospital was pitiful—no sound or attempt to play. The children sat quietly on their mothers' knees or against a wall.

"I saw several cases of osteomalacia, a disease so rare before the war that the only two cases I had ever seen had been shown to me as a curiosity. It seems to come from lack of fresh food, and there have been 250 cases in Vienna, and I heard of another epidemic in a German town.

"The bones soften and become distorted, the pelvis bones fold inward. In early stages it is curable, but a bad case never will walk again, and a rather bad case always will have difficulty in walking.

"The cases were those of older children and adults. They told me that the hospitals were receiving about 15 cases a day, and those they had to turn away inevitably must become worse. I used to test the condition of the children I saw by feeling their fleshless arms. When I touched one child the father said: 'Don't touch him. He has this bad new disease, and it hurts him so much.' I realized that I had hurt him, but the child was too listless to shrink from the pain.

"The doctors could do practically nothing for the out-patients who could not be taken to the hospitals. The mothers were in despair. The doctors said the greatest want of all was for cod liver oil. Funds raised in England had sent a supply, but it only lasted two days. Practically every child under two is rickety.

Suffer From Starvation.

"It is extraordinary how little Vienna has suffered from war epidemics such as typhus. The enormous increase in sickness is due to starvation disease. Almost all of its child population is stunted, starved, left without vitality, vigor or energy. An enormous number are tubercular and a considerable proportion of these will die. Another considerable proportion will for all their lives probably be stunted in mind and body, and all will be handicapped."

The children of school age provided with one meal of soup and bread in the day by American Red Cross workers at a special kitchen she visited were watched lest they should take the bread home. "You must eat the bread," the workers told them. "All that we can do is to help you to keep well and strong." The American Red Cross is opening more of these kitchens, and hopes to feed 40,000 or more children, but that only means food for one section of the people, the children of school age—and even then only one meal in the day.

NEW COMMERCE CHIEF

FAMINE IN MEN TO FIGHT FIRES

Shortage Makes Forest Fire Situation in the Northwest Desperate.

FEARLESS MALES SOUGHT

Husky Man Who Is Willing to Work Looks Good as Million Dollars to Officials of United States Forestry Service.

Spokane, Wash.—One of the biggest "industries" of the northwest this summer is the fighting of forest fires.

A good, husky man, with two strong arms and a willingness to work, looks as good as a million dollars to the officials of the United States forestry service, and the big lumber concerns, who are losing vast values in timber.

There is a famine in men. That is the great reason fires, started by careless campers or lightning storms, have been able to spread over many miles of America's richest lumber lands and cause damage that will not be replaced for a generation.

One large fire in the Pack river district, northern Idaho, burst entirely beyond control and spread over forty-five square miles of territory without showing the least signs of dying down. Men to fight it were few and far between.

War Against Flames.

In Spokane as well as the coast cities the forest service is waging recruiting campaigns similar to those carried on during the war. It is a war—against flames almost as destructive to America as the flames that broke out in Europe.

Lumberjacks, those big-shouldered veterans of the forest life, make the finest fire fighters. This summer they have had little chance to engage in their regular work of cutting timber, and have bent all their efforts to saving the forests that house the nation.

The forest service maintains a ceaseless lookout. As soon as smoke is discerned the news is flashed to headquarters; a crew is hastily recruited and equipped, and sent into the burning area with full supplies of food, tools and bedding.

But they have little chance to use the bedding. Fire fighting is an all-night all-day job.

How Fire Is Beaten.

The only successful method of stopping a fire is to get in front of it, clear a wide trail, and widen it by backing.

A slight change of wind will make the back fire cross the trail and endanger the workers' lives.

Blazing trees frequently fall with the wind, across the trail, and undo the work of a day.

One result of the epidemic of fires in the present summer will be a vigorous effort, on the part of lumber companies and forestry men alike, to secure from congress a greater appropriation for the forest service than ever before. America's forests are no longer so numerous and well-grown that the trees can be sacrificed without national suffering.

Bells for City Dogs.

Asheville, N. C.—As unreasonable as it sounds the city authorities have announced that every canine resident of this city must wear a bell during the next year, and to prove their earnestness they have purchased a large supply of the necessary ornaments for distribution among the owners of dogs here.

eral scouts appeared. They have learned various tricks of deception during the years of evading the federals, and even drive a herd of burros with them so they may transform themselves into wood vendors on occasion.

President Wilson on His Tour to Argue Peace Treaty Case Before the People.

HE ACCEPTS NO COMPROMISE

Senate Committee Votes to Report Pact With Reservations—Supreme Council Sends Ultimatum to Roumania and Warning to Germany—Industrial Conference Planned.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

President Wilson is on his way, telling the people of the United States face to face how excellent a document is the peace treaty with the incorporated League of Nations covenant, and how necessary to the welfare of the world it is that it should be ratified by the senate speedily. Beginning his addresses at Columbus, O., he continued them at Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City and Des Moines, and he is now proceeding on westward by the northern route. Before leaving Washington Mr. Wilson had a final conference with Senator Hitchcock and issued instructions to his supporters to make a fight to a finish for ratification of the treaty just as it stands.

Senator Hitchcock on the same day addressed the senate on the question, hotly denouncing the opponents of the treaty, even those who favor only mild reservations. He declared the real purpose of the majority on the foreign relations committee was to kill the pact entirely, and indeed there seems to be justification for that assertion. Senator Knox's proposal that the treaty be rejected and a separate peace made with Germany, he said was an insane mixture of pothery and folly. Mr. Hitchcock took direct issue with those who complain that the United States will derive no advantages and benefits from the treaty as it is. They evidently have no conception, he said, of the enormous benefits America will get from it, and intimated these would come through the operations of the reparations commission, though how, and what they would be, he neglected to explain.

The senate committee on foreign relations voted to recommend the ratification of the treaty by the senate with four important modifications. These reservations provide for unconditional right to withdraw from the League of Nations; assumption of no obligation to guarantee territorial integrity of nations or to employ troops for coercive purposes or to accept mandates except under the direction of congress; full freedom to determine what questions are domestic and therefore not subject to consideration by the league; exemption of the Monroe doctrine from consideration by the league and declaration that the United States is sole interpreter of that doctrine.

Senator Shields of Tennessee, Democrat, joined the majority in voting for all the reservations except that relating to article X. Senator McCumber of North Dakota voted against the first two reservations. On the last two the vote was 11 to 6.

The committee resolution stipulates that the treaty ratification by the United States shall not take effect until the American reservations have been accepted by three of the four other great powers: Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

The hearings granted the representatives of small and dissatisfied peoples by the foreign relations committee must be regarded as largely political. The spokesmen for the Irish of course made the loudest noise, demanding that the senate reject the treaty entire, but the Republican senators know, as do most Americans, that the Irish question is none of our business; moreover, many of us believe the Irish already are verily free and in the way of being freer very soon.

As for the Chinese, if Yosuke Matsukata, a member of the Japanese peace delegation, is to be believed, the wind will soon be taken out of the sails of those who are shouting against the Shantung settlement. He thinks Japan will open negotiations in a very few weeks for the settling of the Shantung question in a way that will satisfy everyone. Tokyo will offer to restore the territory to China, withdrawing all Japanese troops, stipulating that the peninsula shall be open to international trade and that there shall be an international settlement at Tsing-Tao, and that the Shantung railway shall be operated by a Sino-Japanese joint corporation. There are reasons to believe the Chinese government is not nearly so angry over the Shantung article as the American opponents of the treaty pretend to be.

Hungary continues to present the most annoying problems now before the peace conference. The Roumanian occupants of the country so far have been absolutely defiant of the orders of the supreme council and are said to be plundering it in a most shameful way. Finally the exasperated council last week dispatched to the Roumanians an ultimatum couched in drastic terms, demanding that they evacuate Hungary and hand over to the allies for proper distribution all the goods they have requisitioned. The Roumanian diplomatic representatives in the allied capitals also were summoned by the foreign ministers who impressed on them the seriousness of the situation that would arise if their government should refuse to comply. The position of the Roumanians is that what they call the war between them and the Hungarians is a new affair and that the allied conference has nothing to do with it.

In Budapest they were trying hard to establish a government that the allies would recognize. Friedrich offered to resign in favor of a coalition cabinet formed by Heinrich, a wholesale hardware merchant, on certain conditions. All Jews are barred from the Heinrich ministry, but all other classes and parties are represented.

Serbia officially denied the report of a general revolt of the Montenegrins, but neutral observers who have arrived in Paris from the Black Mountain country declare the Serbs are fast wiping out the loyal people of Montenegro and that they can be saved only by military intervention by America and Great Britain. These observers assert that much of the food Hoover sent into that country fell into the hands of the Serbs and that no Montenegrin can obtain supplies unless he denounces his own country and swears allegiance to King Peter of Serbia.

Late reports from the Ukraine said Petura and Denikine were closing in on Kiev and apparently were about to take that important city from the bolsheviks. The Reds claim the capture of Dubovka, on the lower Volga, and also announced that Admiral Kolchak had evacuated Omsk and established his government at Irkutsk, 1,950 miles further east. Kolchak has issued a stirring appeal to all loyal Russians to rejoin the ranks, and his representatives have been granted the privilege of recruiting in Japan. The Estonians had the bolshevik armies in so tight a hole that the Lenin government offered to make peace with them. Trotsky, addressing the Petrograd soviet, said the bolsheviks must stand impregnable in the defense of that city. The reports that General Gough, the British commander, was about to attack Petrograd appear to have been untrue. The Poles also, using tanks for the first time, whipped the bolsheviks, capturing the fortified town of Bobruisk and 500 prisoners.

The supreme council handed to Austria the final peace terms and a long reply to the protests of the Austrian delegates. The note impressed on the Austrians the fact that they were primarily responsible for the outbreak of the great war and cannot escape retribution by claiming they have thrown off the yoke of the Hapsburgs. The people of Austria-Hungary, it said, had given full support to the ultimatum to Serbia and to the prosecution of the war, and for years had supported the militarist plot of Germany for the domination of Europe. As it is left by the treaty, Austria will be an unimportant "republic" of some 6,000,000. The decision whether it shall be permitted to join Germany is left to the League of Nations. When the supreme council read the new German constitution the other day it found in it provision for the representation of Austria in the German reichsrath. This being contrary to the Versailles treaty, the German government was told that the article must be changed within a fortnight or the allies would undertake a further occupation of the left bank of the Rhine. The Berlin press thereupon warned the allies of the danger of precipitating a new revolt of the German people. The Pan-Germans, by no means suppressed, held a union conference recently in Berlin which was participated in by Austrians, and laid plans for the restoration of the imperial government, union with Austria and the recovery of the lands ceded by the peace treaty.

Marshal Foch has determined the territory which the American troops will occupy permanently in the Rhineland. It will be about twice as great in extent as that occupied by them recently.

Just before starting out on his speaking tour President Wilson announced that a general conference on industrial and economic questions would be held in Washington early in October. Already a number of leaders of finance, manufacturing, labor and agriculture have been invited, and the list will be enlarged from time to time. The president and members of his cabinet will take part in the discussions, and it is the hope and belief of Mr. Wilson and indeed of everyone that the sessions of this round table will have decisive beneficial results in the way of stabilizing industrial conditions. Certainly much good should come of the frank interchange of opinions and suggestions that is planned.

In general the labor situation is unchanged, pending the president's tour, the war on high prices and the above mentioned conference. At the same time the radical elements are keeping busy, and it may be the threatened strike of steel workers will come any day.

Quick to resent attacks on the packing industry, several big clubs and associations of Chicago have gone on record against the proposed restrictive legislation by congress. The secretary of the Chicago board of trade said its members were united in opposition to the licensing features of the pending bills, believing the whole licensing system was wrong, or, if right, should be applied to all business. All of these organizations seem to assume that the reports of the federal trade commission and the allegations on which legal action against the packers is based are full of falsehood.

The senate has passed the highly important bill providing for the lease of public lands with deposits of oil, coal, gas, phosphates and sodium, and the measure has gone to the house. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin says the bill goes further in the protection of the public interest than any other bill ever proposed in the senate or house. Other senators charged that it was framed in the interest of the Standard Oil company. It places the leasing of all lands in the hands of the secretary of the Interior and fixes the minimum and maximum royalties. One amendment adopted compels constituent companies of the Standard Oil company to sell their product at the same price in all parts of the country, and another is designed to force those companies to become independent in fact as well as in name.

Mexican soldiers in the Carranza uniform provided the latest complication in the Mexican situation by shooting at an American army airplane that was patrolling the border near Laredo, Tex. One of the aviators, Capt. Davis W. McNabb, was wounded. The Mexican authorities said the machine was over Mexican territory at the time; the American officials on the ground denied this, and the administration at Washington patiently awaited further information. The American army is growing restive under the evident contempt in which it is held by Mexico.

How Villa and His Men Foil Pursuit.

Bandits Scatter and Hide as Federals Approach—Brown Uniforms Aid.

Juarez, Mex.—Francisco Villa's method of evading pursuit by Mexican government troops is almost identical with that used by a covey of quail to escape the hunter. Even the detail of protective coloring has been applied by Villa, for his men always wear brown cotton clothing which blends with the desert landscape and dust clouds through which they travel in campaign.

Hunters know that the quail's instinct directs it to scatter when danger approaches it and seek cover in the near-by landscape. Villa and his reel bands do the same thing when a superior federal column approaches.

Often Villa's band will number 2,000 men under his chiefs, Angeles, Lopez, Diaz and Garcia. They make a column which coils across the plains like a giant snake and leaves a great dust cloud in its wake.

But let General Castro's government troops approach with artillery, machine guns and cavalry mounted on former American army horses and the column will break up into little bands of 100 under petty chiefs, will disappear in some mountain canyons and go into hiding until the federals pass. Once the danger of attack is over the column reassembles, occupies some town in its path and again disappears with its loot.

Villa's men have been known to hide their horses to plow in the fields of the irrigated districts and be industriously plowing when the fed-

Lansing Says

* Washington, Sept. 12:—William Bullitt of Philadelphia, a former attache of the American Peace Conference, testified before the foreign relations committee this afternoon that Secretary Lansing told him in private conversation May 19 last that the last League of nations covenant "was thoroughly bad" and "entirely useless." He testified that Lansing said:—"If the Senate and the American people understands all that the treaty lets them in for, it will unquestionably be defeated."

TAI SHAN A SACRED PLACE

Chinese Mountain Said to Be the Oldest Permanent Place of Worship on Earth.

There are five sacred mountains in China, and the most sacred of all is Tai Shan, the Great mountain, said to be the oldest permanent place of worship in the world. In 2000 B. C. Tai Shan's crest had been a regular scene of sacrifices and prayers for nobody knew how long. Emperors and lesser officials, even Confucius the Wise, journeyed up the long, narrow trail of Tai Shan to come near to the God of Heaven and Earth and made their prayers before Him.

Since those days of simple worship, many temples and shrines have been built on Tai Shan's slopes. Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, all are represented, and there are temples, too, to the Lady of the Mountain, who is called by some a fairy, by others a goddess, and by others the spirit or soul of the mountain. Whatever her character, the lady is well represented on her mountain top and her shrines are popular.

The journey up the mountainside is accomplished by the traveler partly in a swinging chair supported by Chinese bearers and partly on foot. The "Way" consists of a granite walk, interrupted every little while by flights of steps which stretch on and on and become steeper and closer together until the pilgrim has mounted 6,000 steps and the peak of Tai Shan is reached.

Here there are more temples and thick incense and grave old priests who announce a pilgrim's presence to the gods by ringing deep-toned bells. A little way off is pointed out a rock overhanging a sheer precipice. From this rock, called "The Rock of the Love of Life," persons who had sick relatives used to fling themselves, hoping that the sacrifice of one life would appease the gods so that the other would be spared. Now the dangerous cliff is barred, and pilgrims are forced to appeal to the gods in the conventional Chinese methods.

"The greatest profits result from the best service, in automobiles as in everything else," says the American Garage local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"The progress of sales of any make of automobile, therefore, is a reliable indication of the satisfaction that car gives in general service.

"No car can maintain any great sale which does not give satisfactory service in competition with other makes. Its sales cannot increase unless its service gives exceptional satisfaction. So the 'best sellers' among automobiles are those which serve best.

Everyone wants the most he can get for the least money. He wants that 'most' to include the features he particularly requires. The automobile he buys -- and buys again.

"The light, well made well equipped, economical car of today most fully meets the requirements the great majority of motorists hold in common, and, when compared with heavier, more expensive cars it always affords its owner the satisfaction of a balance of commendable features in his favor.
