

$250,000 OF GARBANZOS LOST IN FIRE

REDUCED TAXES FOR NEXT YEAR SAYS MONDELL

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Hope for early reduction in taxes is held out by Representative Mondell of Wyoming...

ENTERPRISE WOULD BOOST ANTE ON WAGE

An editorial appeared in the Patagonian two weeks ago suggesting that the minimum wage for road work in Santa Cruz should not be less than $4.50 per day.

MINING NOTES

MANSFIELD CAMP Word has been received to overhaul the entire surface plant at the Sweet shaft of the Southern Arizona Mining Co. and a crew is now at work at this plant.

Work upon the Hasey property of the McDonald Mining Co. is progressing every day. Mr. Frank A. Kennedy, consulting engineer for the company and Mr. Breney, the "man behind the gun," are now here making an inspection of the work and arranging for additional development.

Messrs. Barnett and David are hard at work on the necessary footage required for the patenting of the Happy Jack group which has already been surveyed for patent.

The American Boy mines are not working at the present time.

The Royal Blue Silver and Copper Mining company report the completion of their mill and that after it is "tuned up" that it will be kept busy grinding out values from their properties.

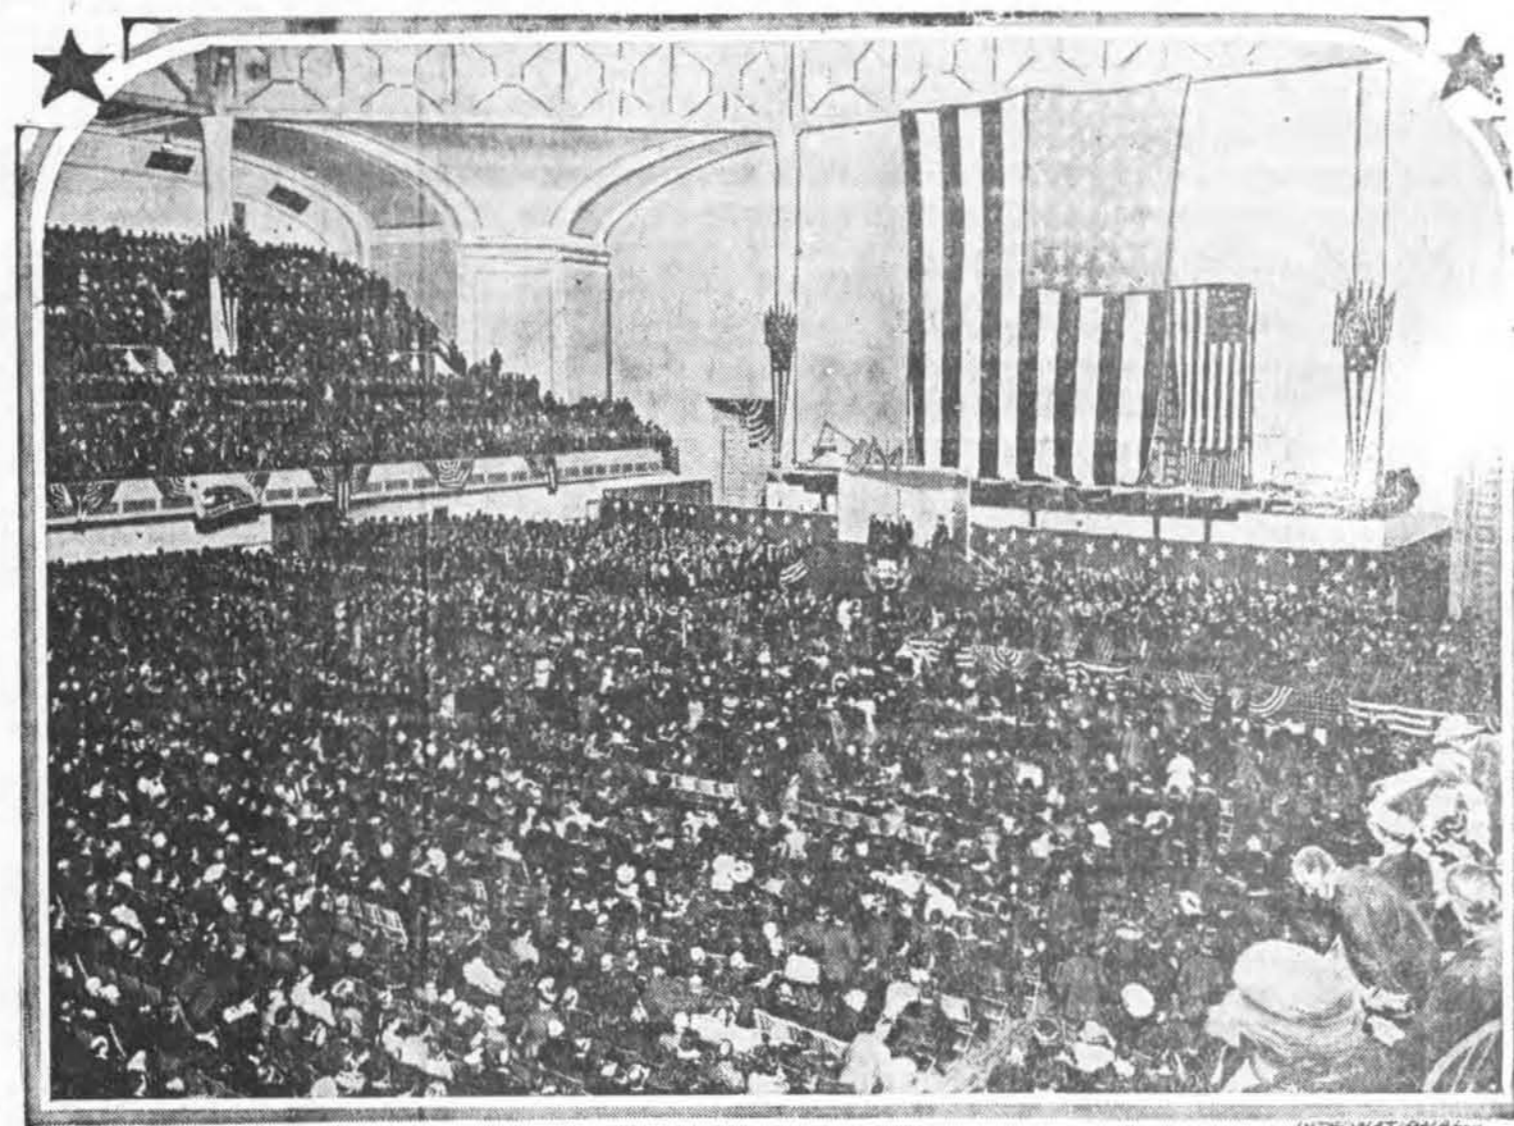

The Blue Lead mill is reported ready to "turn over" but on account of insufficient water they will wait until the summer rains begin.

Mr. Tenny, of Bisbee, has been doing some consulting work for the Flux Mining Co. It is reported that he considers the opportunities for developing a big mine at the Flux most excellent.

Dave Putman is busy breaking down $50.00 gold rock upon his property in Temporal Canon. Just to prove that he was not "kidding about his gold property Dave shipped a few tons to the Douglas smelter and obtained better than $50 per ton. He states that "the proof of the pudding is how it fits under the belt."

Ralph A. Springer was in from the World's Fair Extension mines this week and reported considerable development work and the taking out of considerable ore. He also stated that the work of taking out ore in the World's Fair mines is progressing at a lively rate.

Civic Auditorium in San Francisco, Where Democratic Convention Meets June 28, Will Seat 12,000 Persons

PERTINENT PATAGONIA PARAGRAPHS

San Rafael Siftings

Mrs. George Parker who has been quite ill but is reported much improved.

Miss Grace Everett of Washington Camp has returned from Tyrone, N. M., where she was employed as a teacher the past term.

Mrs. George N. Curtis went to Nogales Monday for a few days visit with her step-daughter, Mrs. Nevius.

W. D. Parker motored to Nogales and Patagonia Monday.

The dance at the Valley school house Monday evening was well attended and lasted until 4 a. m. which proves it was an enjoyable affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers, son and Mrs. Mary Rogers were Valley visitors on Sunday and motored to their home in Bisbee that evening. Mrs. Mary Rogers was employed as teacher here in 1918.

The regular monthly meeting of the San Rafael Social club was held Saturday evening. A short program of music, recitations and games was enjoyed by the large attendance. At the close of the meeting refreshments of home-made ice cream and cake were served by the committee in charge.

Blaine Lewis, son of B. Lewis of Parker Canyon, was injured last week by this horse going under low branches of a tree causing laceration on lower part of his face and loosening of teeth.

BRASH ORCHARD LADEN WITH BIG FRUIT CROP

The large apple orchard of James Brash about one mile east of Patagonia appears to be pretty well loaded with fruit although the owner states that there is only about a half a crop. Last year he sold $70 worth of apples from one tree. His orchard has the appearance of being well cared for and is in a thrifty looking condition and as a result he should have a great quantity of fruit to sell this season.

MORE HENS FOR AIKIN

H. Aikin, the White Leghorn poultryman, now located on the Riggs ranch near Patagonia, reports his hens doing finely. He says he is getting ready to put three incubators into operation, using only White Leghorn eggs.

CHURCH NOTES

The usual Sunday services will be held in Patagonia. Sunday school at 10 o'clock a. m. Preaching at 11. Preaching at San Rafael school house at 8 p. m.

John Hoy, the well known mining man, spent several days in Tucson the past week.

C. W. Pierce, mining man and civil engineer, returned Saturday from an extended business trip to Sonora, Mexico.

V. P. Richards, bookkeeper in the First State Bank, visited in Nogales Saturday and Sunday.

The big motor truck from the Mowry mines was in town Tuesday and when it left it was loaded to the guards with supplies. It makes two or three trips a week.

Mrs. Hayden Pendergrass is spending a week visiting with friends in Nogales.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Bennett visited Nogales a few days since. Mr. Arnold of the American garage took them up in his service car.

George Parker came in from his San Rafael ranch Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Mr. James Kane.

Robert Keaton of San Rafael Valley has been hauling his last year's grain crop to Patagonia during the past week, using a big motor truck for transportation.

John A. McDonald, manager of the McDonald Mining Co., and P. A. Kennedy spent a day or two in Nogales.

The merchants of Patagonia have been receiving heavy shipments of merchandise this week in anticipation of a big trade this fall.

Duke Parker was in from his San Rafael Valley ranch Monday.

Mrs. Francis, our efficient postmistress, has moved from the red house near the public school building to the house in Third street formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis.

Jack Parker and family, former residents of Parker Canyon, are now living in the bungalow just north of the drug store in Third street.

Extension Dairy Specialist R. N. Davis of the State University and C. B. Brown, county agent, were in Patagonia Wednesday en route to San Rafael Valley where a meeting of farmers was to be held in the afternoon. It has been impossible to get a report of the meeting for this week's Patagonian but next week we hope to give a full account of the proceedings. Another meeting was held in Elgin yesterday afternoon and Messrs. Davis and Brown were present and gave expert advice to farmers relative to silos and dairying.

SONOITA Sayings

R. C. Larimore sold a nice bunch of steers a few days ago, consisting of one and two-year-olds.

Mrs. F. O. Christmann spent a few days visiting with relatives in Tucson.

Mrs. V. A. Long was in Tucson several days visiting with her sister, Mrs. John Colyer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Colyer and Herbert White were out from Tucson shaking hands with old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Larimore gave a dance June 12, that being their thirteenth wedding anniversary. There was a large crowd present. Mr. and Mrs. Brossart, Mr. and Mrs. Corson, Lewis Brossart, Annabel Keys, and Mrs. R. T. Fossett motored out from Tucson to attend the dance.

The Pioneer Club picnic was well attended, the families present being: Cabney, Whiteman, Hunter, Bryant, Black, Reeves, Honnas, Wotton, Davis, Brooks, Little, Crayne, Long and Thigpin. All enjoyed a very pleasant day.

Miss Emma May Barney is spending her vacation with her mother Mrs. Fannie Barney.

Mrs. Harding of Tucson is visiting at the home of Mrs. R. C. Larimore.

R. T. Fassett has completed a tank on his ranch and expects to put in another one soon.

Henry Hunter returned from Tucson a few days ago where he shipped five carloads of cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bryant were in Tucson for several days on business.

Mrs. George White of Nogales returned Friday after a week's visit with the Larimores.

The Pioneer Club met Friday with Mrs. Rose.

Best Crayne and wife have returned from Los Angeles where they spent a short honeymoon. The entire community wishes them a long and happy life. They made the trip in their car and both say they had a fine trip.

J. S. Cashwiler was here from Nogales visiting among old friends for a few days. He will leave soon for an extended visit through Kansas and Missouri.

It is rumored that the Thiggins have sold their ranch to a party from Globe.

$25 Paid For Lunch Boxes At Church Supper-Dance

The dance and box supper given at Gardner's opera house Saturday night by the Union Ladies' Aid society was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. Nogales, Elgin, Sonoita, San Rafael valley and Parker Canyon were well represented and those present report the time of their lives.

The Twenty-fifth Infantry band from Nogales furnished the music and dancing continued until 3 o'clock in the morning. At midnight the sale of lunch boxes was begun. This provoked a world of laughter and merriment. C. C. Allen was the auctioneer and he proved himself very efficient in this line of salesmanship. The boxes were nicely arranged and well filled with lunches, described by one present as "both dainty and substantial." The prices paid for them ranged from $1 to $25 each.

The gross receipts of the evening amounted to $190.45, leaving a net profit of something over $100 which will be applied to the new Methodist church fund.

Elbow Grease is Used to Keep Laundry On Job

The engine in Mrs. Leehood's laundry broke down the first of the week and she had to wire to Chicago for the broken part. She has kept the laundry going, however, by working day and night and but little if any work has been turned away.

V. G. Melgren of Tombstone has announced his candidacy for State Mine Inspector on the Republican ticket. Mr. Melgren is a graduate mining engineer and has spent the last fifteen years in mining work in Arizona. At the outbreak of the war he volunteered in the Engineers' corps and spent over a year and a half in France. Mr. Melgren is making a state wide canvass and expects to visit Santa Cruz county in the near future.

Mrs. Francis, Patagonia's postmistress, had quite a number of new mail boxes made this week to take the place of others that have been worn out. Mr. Gliswell did the work.

Dr. Redden visited Nogales the first of the week.

On his return trip from Parker Canon Tuesday P. L. McIntyre, the mail carrier, broke his car but managed to get into town. Hugh Young will carry the mail for a few days while Mr. McIntyre gets his car in shape.

C. L. Northernraft made a business trip to Nogales Wednesday.

T. W. Yeary, a prominent farmer and stockman living a few miles south of Elgin, was here on business Thursday.

SECOND BLAZE IN 2 YEARS IS STARTED BY LIGHT BULB

Fire, said to have started by the breaking of an electric light bulb in the bond warehouse of J. G. Alvarez, No. 2, gutted the interior of the warehouses and damaged a quarter million dollars in garbanzo, stored there for fumigation. The blaze was yesterday about 1 p. m. and within a few minutes the department had several lines of hose playing on the interior of the brick warehouses.

The garbanzo crop was said by insurance men to be covered for insured value of $10 per sack. There is also a large quantity of sugar stored in the warehouse No. 2.

This is the second fire in these warehouses within two years. The blaze today is said to have spread quickly as the garbanzo in storage was being fumigated and a quantity of acid was about. The fumes of the acid and burning garbanzo combined made it necessary for firemen to wear gas masks.

Smoke and water also did great damage to the stock of the Western Woodware company, which occupies the warehouse adjoining the Alvarez warehouse where the blaze started. This stock was estimated at a value of about $12,000.

The greatest amount of damage to the garbanzo and sugar in storage was also said to be due to smoke and water.

Historic Pageant Will Feature Parade July 5

Nogales big 3-day celebration of the Declaration of Independence is shaping into definite form with a variety of features of entertainment and amusement offered which will excel that of any other city in the Southwest.

Beginning Saturday, July 3, the Nogales July 4 committee offers one continuous round of entertainment with different attractions on each of the three days, including Sunday and Monday.

Highlights in the entertainment program are as follows:

3-DAY PROGRAM

Saturday, July 3—Border Round-up in the afternoon. Public dance at the Monteruma hotel at night.

Sunday, July 4—Bullfight, Nogales, Sonora, in the afternoon. Ballgame, 2 p. m., Army Athletic field, Phoenix vs. Nogales.

Monday, July 5—Huge parade, with Historic Pageant, "Early Nogales Days," 10 a. m. Patriotic exercises, Royal theater, following parade. Ball game, 2 p. m., Army Athletic field, Phoenix vs. Nogales. Boxing match, Monteruma hotel arena, 5 p. m. Main event, 10-round bout, Al McManus of Los Angeles vs. Lee Morrissey of Idaho Falls, Idaho. Two preliminaries of 6 rounds each, principals to be announced. Grand Ball at Monteruma hotel 9 p. m. Public invited. No charge. Refreshments will be sold at the dance by the Army and Navy Union and American Legion.

Cash Prizes Offered

Various prizes have been arranged. For the best decorated store front, $25; second best, $10. A list of handsome cash prizes will also be hung up for winners in the Roundup events. List of events and prizes to be announced later.

Parade prizes offered as follows: 1.—Best decorated float entered in parade by any organization, $25. 2.—Best industrial float entered by business house of Nogales, $25. 3.—Best decorated pleasure car, $25. 4.—Oldest automobile in parade (must be decorated), $10. 5.—Oldest vehicle, decorated, in parade, $5.

To compete for prizes, entries must be filed with the chairman of the committee, Dr. M. A. Wuerschmidt, before 9 p. m. July 2nd.

Keen interest is being shown in the Border Roundup to be held in Nogales Saturday, July 3, in connection with the big 3-day Fourth of July celebration to be held here, July 3-5.

Cowboys from Pima, Santa Cruz, Cochise and Pinal counties will be on hand to take part in the list of frontier sports, according to Charles V. Fowler, chairman of the Roundup committee. Fowler says he has assurances that 75 cowboys, all masters of cowpunching tricks and stunts, will be on hand for the Roundup.

Back from 2-Day Trip

The chairman has returned from a two-day trip through the county and nearby territory where he has been visiting various outfits and stirring up interest among cowmen for the Nogales event.

C. A. Pierce, of the Patagonia Engineer & Assay Co., has just returned from a two weeks' examination of properties in Sonora, Mexico. He reports "there is no place like Patagonia," as the further one gets away from home the more one realizes it.

WAYSIDE NOTES

(By R. H. Edgell)

The editor of the Patagonian made a trip to Parker Canon Monday and returned by way of Duquesne and other mining camps, including the Mowry, El Paso, Blue Nose and Hardshell. The trip was made with P. L. McIntyre, the stage driver. There was one other passenger on the trip out and two others on the return trip. The stage left the post office at Patagonia at 8:30 a. m. and returned at 4 p. m. The stage was loaded almost to its capacity with mail bags and express matter. We arrived at the old Parker homestead in Parker Canon about 11 o'clock, where we remained but a few moments. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, who have resided there continuously for a period of forty years. They are occupying the old-fashioned adobe house erected when they first settled there. It is large and comfortable and in a good state of preservation. Beautiful honeysuckles and climbing roses nestle closely up against the ancient walls, giving a rustic and charming appearance. Out a little ways in the front yard there were great beds of carnations, roses and other rare and beautiful flowers. There, too, was a nice irrigated garden and a thrifty orchard and numerous ornamental trees and flowering shrubs. Missouri is the native state of the Parkers, but like many others they were allured to the gold fields of California and crossed the great staked plains at an early day in search of the yellow metal which had eluded the grasp of so many who had gone before. Finally they wandered into Arizona and being natural frontiersmen settled down in what was then an uninhabited and untried country. Here they have lived quiet, peaceful lives, reared a large family and prospered.

Crossing the little creek near the Parker home and continuing on down the canon for about a half mile we arrived at the store and post office, conducted by L. K. McIntyre, father of P. L. McIntyre, the mail carrier. Mr. McIntyre has a nice home, a well stocked grocery store, some cattle, quite a tract of irrigable land and a fine surface tank, kept full of fresh water by the little creek that flows into it. Around the tank is a grove of fine trees, and swimming in the tank was a bunch of pine Peck ducks. About two miles further on down the road we passed a lovely homestead which P. L. McIntyre has but recently filed on. It is as pretty as a picture and has as fine a coat of grama grass growing upon it as can be found in the state. Beginning in about six months Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre expect to make their home and anyone who has ever seen the land will readily agree with the writer that they have chosen well.

Finally we left the valley and mounted rapidly up into the great Patagonia mountains and were soon in the mining district which we had heard so much about and which we had long wished to see.

Here, for the first time, we had an opportunity of gazing down into shafts said to be 600 feet deep, where forty or fifty men were at work; we peered into long, deep tunnels which seemed to penetrate the very heart of the huge mountains and from which have

(Continued on Page 5)

Sure Relief
BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION
 6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

Accurate Computation.
 "I beg your pardon, Mr. Dubson," said Miss Peacher, "but what did you say?"
 "Why, Miss Peacher, I asked you to marry me."
 "Oh, I didn't hear you. My mind was miles away."
 "Yes," said Mr. Dubson, bitterly, "but 150 miles away. I dare say. That's how far it is to the town where my hated rival has gone to 'accept a position.'"
 A man's greatest success in life is generally unexpected.

Shake Into Your Shoes Sprinkle in the Foot Bath
ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE
 The Antiseptic, Healing Powder for the Feet, for Itch, Swollen, Tender Feet, Corns, Bunions, Blisters, Callouses, etc. It refreshes the feet and makes walking easy. 1,500,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our army and navy during the war. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease. Sold everywhere.

How About Your Catarrh? Do You Want Real Relief?

Then Throw Away Your Sprays and Other Make-shift Treatment.
 Why? Simply because you have overlooked the cause of catarrh, and all of your treatment has been misdirected. Remove the cause of the clogged-up accumulations that choke up your air passages, and they will naturally disappear for good. But no matter how many local applications you use to temporarily clear them away, they will promptly re-appear until their cause is removed.
 S. S. S. is an antidote to the millions of tiny Catarrh germs with which your blood is infested. A thorough course of this remedy will cleanse and purify your blood, and remove the disease germs which cause Catarrh.
 For free medical advice write to Chief Medical Adviser, 101 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Analyzing Waste Food.
 America leads all other nations in analyzing the value of the foods we eat and the best way to make them nourish us. Scientists have found that we often get little of the real value of our foods so that a great deal goes to waste. It is exactly as if you took just one squeeze out of a juicy orange and then threw it away. The new science has been developed largely since the outbreak of the war. Many interesting experiments have been carried on in Teachers' college in New York which are being watched by scientists all over the world. Some tests are made with white rats, others with human beings. The war department has utilized this information in fixing the rations for our soldiers. In a few years people will look back upon our wasteful, unscientific habits of today with amazement.—Boys' Life.

Important to Mothers
 Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson. In Use for Over 80 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

WILLING TO GO HALF WAY

Little Jimmy's Answer to Leading Question Distinctly in Nature of a Compromise.
 Aunt Maria was very good, indeed, to her five-year-old nephew, James. She gave him everything his little heart desired. But still she was often inclined to tease him and whenever he showed resentment she teased him still further by threatening to take away something she had given him.
 The other night she began her usual teasing, talking for the subject herself and her charms. "Why, Jimmy thinks I'm a wonder," and she turned to little James provokingly and asked: "Don't you think I'm pretty? Don't you think I'm good?"
 The little fellow was disturbed. He wanted to tell the truth, and he also wanted to keep auntie's favor. Finally he found his tongue. "Well, I do think you're pretty good," he said truthfully.
 Well Placed.
 The Renter—Say, you, you told me the room you rented to me commanded a fine view and I find it opens on a light shaft.
 The Agent—That's right. The Scrap-heap couple live across the shaft and they put up some of the best rough battles you ever saw. You gotta ring-side seat.
 Charity and bookbinders cover a multitude of sins.

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Once Painted Signs; Now Famous Artist

Born of American parents, his mother of Russian extraction, he was the only one of a family of five children to show an artistic talent. At eighteen he was earning $6 a day in Chicago painting signs. In Boston he got a position in the art department of the Herald at $10 a week. In Philadelphia he again painted signs; in New York he painted drop curtains at $3 a day. In the next five years he studied and worked until he broke down from overwork, and, to save himself from going blind, took his first vacation.
 Then, with another art student, he traveled through Europe, visiting Paris, Rome, Florence and Venice before settling down to work. In Paris he studied at Julien's under Le Faivre, and in Munich with Loeffler and Angelo Jank.
 In Europe he came into his own. He has two brothers and two sisters in Chicago. He will not return to Europe.

Cottontails, Beware of Senator Thomas!

RABBITS, beware of Senator C. S. Thomas of Colorado! In a speech in the senate he said in part: "This brings me to a proposition that I have iterated and reiterated here until I am afraid that I have become a sort of a nuisance to this body. It is that until production in everything that enters into our modern economic life shall have passed the prewar standard accompanied by the practice of old-fashioned thrift and economy which our parents used to practice, we may stand upon the floor of the senate and denounce the profligate until judgment morning; we may enact repressive legislation and impose penalties upon the officers of justice who fail to carry it out, but conditions will continue as they are."
 "I have a suit of clothes on that I bought four years ago. They are pretty well patched. I have on a pair of shoes that I bought in January, 1916; but I do not propose to buy any more clothes until prices go down, even though I should subject myself to arrest on the street of Washington because of a lack of sufficient amount of clothing. I am no more virtuous or self-denying than my neighbor, but let every man and woman in the country practice such economy, and as a consequence, I predict we will get our clothing for something near the ancient prices."
 "I am able to live on corned-beef hash; and if that becomes too high, upon hash made of rabbit meat; and if that gets out of the market, then upon no meat at all until the prices come within reason."
 "When we do that, Mr. President, we are going to have cheaper food, until we do that we are going to have the high cost of living, which, when we consider the vast number of men who disdained labor in these days, might properly be designated the 'high cost of loafing.'"

War-Time Passport Is Rejected by House

citizens to obtain passports when leaving the United States for other than adjacent countries.
 Former Republican Leader Mann of Illinois was especially emphatic in opposition. He said in part: "Think what it means! Here is a proposition which would prevent an Irishman fleeing from Ireland, from entering the United States—which would prevent some man from Central America, persecuted by the government there, from fleeing to the United States—which would prevent any man from the Balkans who might be persecuted by his revolutionary government, temporary in character, from fleeing to the United States! Have we reached the point where we propose to uphold the autocratic power of any temporary government in the world and forbid the people who seek to flee from them entering our borders?"
 Nor have I reached the point yet where I am in favor of increasing and extending the activities of the state department that every American citizen has to know to the state department, which can let him go or keep him home arbitrarily, without reason, just as it pleases."

Why We Need More "Rubes" on the Farms

EXCERPTS from a contribution on the senate floor by Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Sherman of Illinois: Mr. Kenyon—When a boy getting $40 a month and his board on the farm can go to the city and get $7 or $8 a day, and only work eight hours a day, you cannot keep the boy on the farm.
 Mr. Sherman—The cause is basically deeper than equal compensation. If the compensation on the farm were precisely what it is in the cities a large portion of the population is of such a morbid instinct or habit of life that you could not take a dweller in the city out on the farm and make him stay. There are not enough cigar stores, not enough gronofolas, not enough confectionery establishments, and ballet dancers to suit their habits of life and modes of thought.
 Mr. Kenyon—And pool halls.
 Mr. Sherman—And pool rooms, I am sorry to say, which are worse than any if the others, not even excepting the last I named; and until that is changed and until their natures are bred differently we will not get them to leave the city and go on the farm. I have seen it tried. I unwittingly insulted a friend by suggesting that if he were out of work and money and wanted three meals a day I knew where I could get him a very remunerative place on a farm, and he flushed in the face and said he was no "rube."
 Mr. Kenyon—That is the trouble in the country; we have not enough "rubes," as the senator speaks of them.
 Mr. Sherman—Yes; we need a good many more of them. The basic difficulty with the dweller in the city begins there.

Public Hit Hard by Flour Profiteering

says, "For this the consumer was forced to pay at least $14.50. Had the miller, jobber, wholesaler, and retailer been content with reasonable margins, this flour might have been available to the purchaser at $11.57."
 "However, the product was sold with so many extortionate profits in passing from the mills through the various distributing agencies, that the ultimate cost to the consumer was more than $3 in excess of a reasonable selling price."
 With respect to the milling companies, the survey alleges: "That the profits had advanced in 1917 practically 375 per cent over 1913 earnings; that the cost of operation, which includes labor cost, advanced only 23 per cent in the same period, or only five cents per barrel, as contrasted with an increase in millers' profits of 47 cents a barrel."
 Mr. Lauck asserts that the jobbers—stated a profiteeringmelon of approximately $18,000,000, or a tax of nearly $1 on every family in the country."

1—Royal Highlanders, who will be known in history as the "Black Watch," part of the guard of honor accompanying Lord French on recent visits to Ypres. 2—Women in Russian red army going to fight Poles. 3—Old Fort Jefferson at Dry Tortugas, Fla., again brought to light as training ground for U. S. marines.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Republican Convention Adopts Platform After Much Travail in Committee.

LEAGUE PLANK OBSTACLE

Advocates and Opponents Satisfied by Compromise—Women Get Equal Voice With Men in Campaign—Wet Hopes Shrivelled—Affairs in Europe.
 By E. F. CLIPSON.
 Note—Mechanical exigencies of the present time, require that this review be written by Friday noon. Important phases of the Republican national convention, notably the nominations for president and vice president, not having yet occurred, they are reserved for treatment in the general news or in special articles.

problem of prognostication an unusually difficult one from the start.
 Another feature was the unprecedented number of outsiders and men from other parties who were on hand to influence the choice of the convention. Notable among these were William J. Bryan and William Randolph Hearst, especially the latter, who seemed to conceive it a patriotic duty to do all in his power to assist the Republicans in making a wise selection.
 Women will from now on have an equal voice with men in planning and managing Republican campaigns. This is assured through the adoption by the convention of the report of the committee on rules, the chief recommendation of which was that the executive committee shall have a membership of fifteen instead of ten as heretofore. The makeup of the committee will be seven men, seven women and the chairman. In addition the committee will have a woman vice chairman, ranking next in dignity to the chairman. There will also be an assistant secretary who will be a woman. The women of the majority got everything they asked for from the convention notwithstanding the fact that a strong delegation of their sex who are opposed to suffrage was on hand. These latter were disappointed.

The Supreme court's decision upholding the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act came at an opportune time to relieve the platform framers of embarrassment on the question. The hopes of anti-prohibitionists which went from wet to moist are now scarcely humid. Their only recourse is in the election of a congress which will repeal or amend the Volstead law.
 Gov. Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, who is making the race for the Democratic presidential nomination largely on the question of personal liberty, advocates a nation-wide referendum on the question of prohibition. He believes that the sentiment of the people so expressed, will force an amendment to the law. His contention is that the act goes too far in attempting to regulate the habits of millions of citizens; that it places in the lawbreaking and criminal class millions of women all over the country who make light wines from home-grown fruits for domestic use and to millions of farmers who make and mature cider from their own orchards; that by the prohibition of beverages of light alcoholic content, it has increased the illicit distillation of harmful liquors to twentyfold their former production; that many of the agents of enforcement, both state and federal, have become either blackmailers of the lawbreakers or partners in crime; that it is the main impelling cause why 2,000,000 men of foreign birth have returned to their native lands and that it menaces the whole industrial fabric, and millions of workers are filled with resentment on account of the invasion of their personal liberties.
 The New Jersey executive attacks the law on several other counts and one easily discerns that the question is going to cut a much larger figure at San Francisco than it has at Chicago. In the Republican convention the only entry similar to Governor Edwards was Senator France of Maryland, and he never had a chance, for at no time was there any prospect of a wet track.

German elections which were relied upon to clarify the political atmosphere and settle the immediate course of government in that country, apparently have failed of effect. The result seems to be of the nature of a stalemate, and while President Ebert appears to have pulled through by a small majority the coalition government which he heads is so beset by the right and left opposition that parliamentary chaos is almost inevitable. Ebert and the forces nearest to him are moderate socialists. The opposition of the right contains, under various party names and shades of political belief, the democrats, reactionaries, limited monarchists and upholders of the old regime. The left contains the independent socialists and all the more radical representation. The government, endeavoring to steer a middle course and yet an ultra liberal one for Germany between these Reports of operations on the long battle line of the Poles and Russian bolshevik extending from a point north of Dvinsk on the Latvian frontier to the Diester river and the Roumanian border, show a series of attacks and counters with the net result somewhat in favor of the Poles. Their campaign is strengthened by the fact that they are more than holding their own. Moscow admits an additional reverse suffered by the bolshevik near Perekop at the neck of the Crimean peninsula, but claims to have recovered some of the lost ground.

Turkish nationalist forces defeated government troops and advanced to within five and a half miles of Ismid, which caused the British to close the Gulf of Ismid which controls the approach to Constantinople of all craft from the Black Sea. American women relief workers who recently evacuated the Caucasus to escape being caught in the red drive are returning to Batoum. Hopes are entertained for the resumption on a limited scale of relief work in Armenia, which country is reported to be contemplating the interior bolshevik movement. Fighting against the French in Cilicia has stopped in accordance with an armistice pact. The French troops evacuated Thracia where the nationalists, the Turkish government and the Bulgarians are uniting to oppose Greek occupation.

WOULD HAVE PREVENTED WAR

year 1914 then there would have been no war.
 Mme. Schumberger was one of ten women, representing as many countries, who spoke at the session, which was devoted chiefly to internal affairs of the alliance. Announcement was made that since the last congress was held at Budapest before the war the women of twelve countries had obtained the vote.
 The session was well attended, prominent among the delegates being ten Indians in their native costumes, Lady

INSTANT POSTUM
 Costs less than coffee Far more healthful
 Ask your grocer for POSTUM instead of coffee.
 "There's a Reason"
 Made by Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LIKES SHADE AND WATER FOUND AT PATAGONIA
 Mrs. Anna H. Fortune and Mrs. Frank Seibold have returned from a week's visit with Mrs. Stauer of Bisbee. Mrs. Stauer had visited friends in Patagonia and it is said she regards Patagonia as one of the most fascinating little towns in the state and intends to pay another visit here this summer to enjoy the cool shade and rippling waters.

STAG BARBER SHOP
 Geo. Januel, Proprietor. Nogales, Ariz.
Hot and Cold Baths

"A Penny Saved Is a Penny Earned."
 If you have not already started a savings account, begin now to prepare for the inevitable day when you are no longer a producer.
 You will be surprised at the results, in a few years, after you have commenced systematically to save money for the "rainy day."
 Our banking institution offers you the best protection for your savings.
The First National Bank of Nogales
 Nogales, Arizona.
ASSETS OVER $2,000,000.00

The old standby for---
Fresh Beef, Mutton, Pork and Vegetables
Patagonia Meat Market
 Val Valenzuela, Sr., Prop.

AMERICAN FURNITURE EXCHANGE
 Buy and sell new and SECOND HAND furniture of all kinds.
 Just compare our prices before buying elsewhere.
 Out of town trade solicited and carefully attended to.
NOGALES, 313 1/2 MORLEY AVE. ARIZONA

A. S. HENDERSON
 AGENT FOR
STOVER SAMSON WINDMILL
 The Greatest Windmill Improvement in the Last Ten Years
 Samson has always represented Strength, Quality and Service. Power, Increased Efficiency, Less Expense.
Requires Oiling Only Once in Five Years

THE First State Bank of Patagonia
 Offers to its customers every accomodation consistent with conservative banking.
 Stimulate business conditions by doing you banking business at Home.
W.P. Capehart, President
D. B. Pierce, Cashier

State Briefs

HOLBROOK—Oil showing in Adairana well attracting prospectors; many wells planned.
TUCSON—State university to construct dormitory costing $125,000.
BENSON—Work on $4,000,000 power plant progressing rapidly.
CASA GRANDE—Completing plans for construction of $100,000 hotel.
JOHNSON—Machinery being installed in many local properties, active summer predicted.
ST. JOHNS—Bankers Oil Corporation order material for drilling; $100,000 to be expended on first well.
GLOBE—Work on 1200-ton mill unit at Old Dominion property progressing.
WARREN—Copper Queen mine erecting 4000-ton mill.
TUCSON—University of Arizona to open six weeks summer course for first time in history of Southwest.
OATMAN—Actual work started on Goldroad-Oatman roadway.
BOWIE—Big new standard rig starts work on oil field.
HOLBROOK—Votes $135,000 for construction sewer and water system.
JOHNSON—Arizona Mining & Metal Co. to increase output. Keystone Copper mint receives machinery for big new mill.
COOLEY—Apache railroad planning logging extension to within 8 miles of Springerville.
PRESCOTT—United Verde soon to uncover great copper ore bodies by shoveling 14,000,000 tons rock off side of mountain.
PRESCOTT—Market being created in California for Arizona grape fruit.
GLOBE—Three stage lines operating to Miami plan consolidation.
TEMPE—Construction of huge rock crusher under way.
PHOENIX—Arizona state and national banks show total resources for year ending May 4, 1920, of $10,953,889, an increase of $22,741,433 over previous year.
ST. JOHNS—Contract signed for completion of Lyman Dam, work to start at once.
PRESCOTT—$16,000,000 to be expended on construction of Horseshoe and Camp Verde reservoir projects.
FLAGSTAFF—To spend $20,000 on wild west celebration July 1-5.
PHOENIX—Construction of big Gypsum plant started; to be completed by September 15.
PATAGONIA—Three R mine to launch big development program; flotation mill to be erected.
OATMAN—Local mining districts facing labor shortage during summer.
IRENE—State highway department to construct bridge over Southern Pacific tracks.
RAY—Contracts for highway to Kelvin awarded for $109,000.
MESA, Chandler and Lebi Farm Bureau vote $3 a day for general farm labor.
PHOENIX—Construction work on 283-mile county roads project to start at once.
YUMA—20,000 acres in South Gila valley to be under cotton cultivation in next 2 years.
SNOWFLAKE—Oil and gas showing reported in Apache test well.
PHOENIX—Salt River valley stock receiving highest price in Chicago market for southwest cattle.
GLOBE—Completing plans for paving Broad street.
TEMPE—Union High school board propose $50,000 vocational building.
PHOENIX—Issues building permits for past month totaling $580,435.
PHOENIX—Closes filling stations on Sunday to conserve gasoline.
KINGMAN—Mohave county building road to connect with Arrowhead Trail.
HOLBROOK—Plans under way to resume work at Hopi well.

COW HITS H. C. L.
STATE COLLEGE, N. M., June 25—Armedy Segis Barbara, a purebred Holstein cow owned by the New Mexico college of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, has just completed a year's record on advanced registry test, producing 22,599.5 pounds of milk, containing 755.93 pounds of butter fat, or 944.98 pounds of butter, 80 per cent fat. This makes her the champion milk producing cow of New Mexico.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Halls' Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Halls' Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 76c.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

PATAGONIA WOOD YARD
 4 foot wood, $7 per cord.
 1 cord cut for heating stove $9.00
 1 cord cut for cook stove $10.00
 Transfer Service in Connection
H. H. McCutchan
 Proprietor

Bryan May Again Dominate Bourbon Convention

William Jennings Bryan

William Jennings Bryan, maker of 1890, when his brilliant oratory electrified the Nebraska Democratic convention and won him the nomination for Congress. In 1896 he was sent to Chicago to report the Democratic convention for the Omaha World-Herald, with which paper he was connected, and came away with the Democratic Presidential nomination. He was defeated. Again in 1900 he was selected as the head of the Democratic ticket and was again defeated. He then retired to his farm and established his newspaper, "The Commoner," which is still being published. Returning from a trip to Europe in 1906 he continued his political activities and in 1908 again won the Democratic Presidential nomination, but was defeated by William Howard Taft. In 1912 it was Bryan who, in throwing his support over to Woodrow Wilson, won for the latter the nomination for President at the Baltimore convention.

THE BIG PERCHERON STALLION
 The attention of owners of brood mares is called to the fact that the well known Big Percheron Stallion will be at the Riggs ranch in the edge of Patagonia for the next three or four weeks. Terms: $15.00; $5 cash, $10 when colt is dropped.
 9c18 H. B. RIGGS.

IF YOUR CAR NEEDS ANYTHING
 Come to The
AMERICAN GARAGE
 WE HANDLE
 Savage, Michelin, Goodrich, Kelly-Springfield and Hawkeye Tires and Tubes
 National, Hercules and Champion Spark Plugs
 Paints and Varnish
 Top-Tite, Spoke-Tite and Knu-Kote Pumps and Jacks
 Patches of All Kinds and Vulcanizers
 Lamps for Every Car
 Ford Parts
CHEVROLETS FOR SALE
ARMER, VALLES AND SOTO
 Proprietors
 Patagonia Arizona

If You Are in Need
 Of any of the following, let us quote you prices; you will save money by doing so. We carry a complete line of
LUMBER, PAINTS, BUILDERS' HARDWARE, LIME AND CEMENT AND RUBBER ROOFING.
 We Are Also Agents for
U. S. WINDMILLS—MODEL B.
PATAGONIA LUMBER COMPANY
 J. W. Miller, Manager.

One of the best Hotels in Southern Arizona, with every home appointment for the traveling public is the
COMMERCIAL HOTEL
PATAGONIA, ARIZONA
 Clean Beds, Clean Linen, Cleanly kept. Excellent Lobby.
Dining Room in connection

SAVAGE TIRES

We unconditionally guarantee you more miles for less money than any other tire on the market.

For Sale by
AMERICAN GARAGE
 Patagonia
V. P. HANSON
 Elgin
CARMEN ZEPEDA
 Tubac
BORDER GARAGE
WATT'S AUTO SHOP
CLARK'S REPAIR SHOP
 Nogales

ROSE AUTO AND SUPPLY CO.
 —DISTRIBUTORS—
 242 Grand Avenue Nogales, Arizona Phone 215

We Carry
 Hardware,
 Furniture,
 Implements.
We Want Your Patronage
 We Will Treat You Right.
GEO. B. MARSH, INC.
 Nogales, Arizona

Patagonia Ice and Electric Plant
 The Ice Plant is now in full operation and ice will be delivered to city customers, and can be obtained in the ice house every day in the week. Minimum delivery 25 cents.
 All orders for ice from other towns and communities will be shipped promptly on the day the order is received.
 Send in your orders and patronize a home industry.
 We do all kinds of electrical work, such as wiring new buildings, and keep in stock all kinds of electrical appliances, globes, etc. Will do any kind of repair work. Turn all your troubles of this kind over to us.
PATAGONIA ICE AND ELECTRIC PLANT
 Patagonia, Arizona

MR. MOTORIST!
WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT CORD TIRES?
 Do you know that "FEDERAL" Cord Tires ride easier, coast further, last longer, and save more gasoline than any other cord tire on the market today?
 If you do not know these things write or call on us and be convinced.
Roy & Titcomb,
 (Incorporated)
 Automobile Accessory Department
NOGALES, ARIZONA
 "IF IT'S A FEDERAL IT'S RIGHT."

ORES BOUGHT
 Prospectors and Miners may find it advantageous to dispose of small lots of High Grade or Shipping Ore in Nogales, Arizona, or Sonora to
HUGO W. MILLER
 Assayer and Chemist
 Box 481 NOGALES, ARIZ.

WANT ADS.

FOR SALE—At bargain, second-hand Victor victrola, with records. V. L. McCutchan. advtf621

FOR SALE—One low iron wheel wagon; one fourteen-year-old work mare. Inquire at First State Bank, Patagonia, Ariz. tfe618

FOR SALE—250 sacks of milo maize; thirty sacks Early Amber cane; Pink beans, any quantity. Delivered at Patagonia. Write for particulars. George Ringwald, Patagonia, Ariz.

STRAYED—One red pig. Suitable reward will be paid for information leading to its recovery. P. L. Melnyre, Patagonia, Ariz. 1125

FOR SALE—One low iron wheel wagon; one four-year-old work mare. Inquire at First State Bank, Patagonia, Ariz. 1125

FOR SALE—16 turkeys, 4 months old; $30 for the lot. Mrs. Orton Phelps, Mowry, Ariz. 11p25

Geo. B. Marsh, Inc.

UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS

Day and Night Phone 210

115 Grand Ave.

LADY ATTENDANT

J. E. REDDEN

Physician and Surgeon

Day or Night Calls Solicited. Doing Town and Country Practice. Patagonia - - - Arizona

OWL DRUG STORE

Nogales, Ariz.

Mail orders for all kinds of drugs and druggists' sundries given special attention and shipped same day as received.

Send us your orders.

OWL DRUG STORE

Nogales, Ariz.

OWL DRUG STORE

Nogales, Ariz.

MONTE CRISTO HAS PROVEN TO BE GREAT COPPER SILVER MINE

(Special to The Herald)

PHOENIX, June 25—The development of the Monte Cristo mine near Constellation in Southern Yavapai county has started something. That property has opened up a large body of copper ore in which silver and gold values are strongly in evidence.

The Mizpah Mining company took over the old Eagle mine formerly operated by E. L. Mott and associates of Cleveland, Ohio, and is developing it. The enticing part of the argument for taking over the Eagle was that it is on an extension of the Monte Cristo.

Now, it comes about that great hope is centered on the Mizpah as well as on the Monte Cristo. It is currently considered by many people that the Monte Cristo has not only made good, but that it is in a class by itself as to size and richness of ore bodies.

Mining men who examined the property more than a year ago said it was one of the biggest propositions they had ever had the chance to visit. Since that time the copper values have greatly increased and the ore body is so big that no more doubt is expressed even by the pessimistic knocker who stands by and says that Arizona mines are no good and have to admit that there is coming in another big one. The Mizpah is not quite so far along, but the management is much encouraged.

Phoenix Shows Big Growth By Census Report of 29,053

WASHINGTON, June 25—The census bureau today announced the population of Phoenix, Ariz., as 29,053, an increase of 7,919, or a percentage increase of 160.9.

UNCLE SAM IS TOO SLOW FOR GILA VALLEY FARMERS

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 25—While waiting for some sort of solution of reclamation problems in the Colorado river basin, involving possible construction of storage dams by the United States reclamation service, the settlers of the lower Gila valley are working out their own salvation with electricity and pumps. Water is all they need to convert the desert into farms, and the pumps provide water. Power from the Sierra Nevada mountains of California is being used for irrigation of ranches ten miles east of Yuma. It has been estimated that within the next two years, 20,000 acres along the Gila will be under irrigation by pumps.

New Mexico Rushes Highway Work Toward Arizona Line to Join New Half-Built Douglas-Rodeo Road

ABOVE—POURING CONCRETE HEADWALLS FOR 36 INCH CULVERT

LEFT—SILVER CREEK CONCRETE BRIDGE BUILT BY EL PASO BRIDGE CO. UNDER DIRECTION J. C. RYAN

RIGHT—NEW GRADE COLLEGE PEAK IN RIGHT BACKGROUND

BELOW—PREPARING FOUNDATION FOR CONCRETE FORD

TO FLORENCE PHOENIX AND YUMA
TO HUO
TO PATAGONIA
TO NOGALES
TO DOUGLAS
TO RODEO
TO BERNARDINO
TO EL PASO

PAVED SURFACED & DRAINAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

PHOENIX, June 25—Pushing the improvement of the transcontinental highway east from Douglas toward Rodeo, N. M., state and county road forces in Cochise county are setting a pace which has aroused deep interest in the neighboring state.

On the theory that one good road deserves another the New Mexico highway commission is now rushing the construction of the highway across the southern portion of that state in the hope of completing it by the time the Arizona end is through to the state line.

There are prospects that the work in New Mexico will be accomplished by the end of the calendar year, and if so it will mean a through improved highway from El Paso to Phoenix, not later than next spring.

Half Completed

Practically one half of the Douglas-Rodeo highway is complete. This is a well drained, well surfaced road with no heavy grades, and of a total length of 53 miles, 51.7 of which is in Arizona. The road is now contracted into Bernardino, and the road from that point to the state line, a distance of 25.5 miles, has recently been surveyed by the state highway department under the direction of W. C. Gatz, engineer.

The history of this project is interesting as showing the determined persistence with which large undertakings are met and overcome by the good roads boosters of Arizona.

Commission Formed

Back in 1918 they organized a county highway commission in Cochise county, and as a part of its program work was started on the road east of Douglas. Eight miles were completed when the war came on and the construction had to be abandoned. At the close of the war, through the state highway department, application was made for federal aid from Douglas to Bernardino, and Sons for the concrete construction on culverts, dips and bridges.

Funds Ready

Beginning with the fiscal year, additional funds will be available to continue the construction. The board of supervisors of Cochise county has agreed to the expenditure of that county's portion of the state's 75 per cent road fund, and the state will see that federal aid is secured.

With reference to the connecting road in New Mexico, the state engineer of that state recently stated:

Relative to construction work proposed in New Mexico along the Borderland route, would advise that from Rodeo our route follows to Las Cruces by way of Lordsburg and Deming. Five federal aid projects on this stretch of road are in course of construction and we expect by the end of the present calendar year to have this stretch of road in excellent condition.

Miss Lelia Shields who holds a position with the Patagonia Drug Co., is taking a vacation on a mountain ranch and will be absent a couple of weeks.

SEE US FOR

FIRESTONE and MILLER TIRES

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES—PIPE AND PIPE FITTINGS

Pierce Auto and Machinery Co.

Gowen Peirce, Manager

PATAGONIA ARIZONA

Staple & Fancy Groceries Hardware of All Kinds

Wholesale and Retail

MAY BE HAD AT ALL TIMES at

Patagonia's Up-to-Date Store

EVANS MERCANTILE CO

The Coldest Soft Drinks in the District

V. L. McCutchan

SOFT DRINK, CIGAR AND NEWS STAND

Patagonia - Arizona

NOTICE OF CONTEST
(Serial No. 037991)
(Contest No. 4814)

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Phoenix, Arizona, June 21, 1920.

To Benjamin D. Banning of Little Rock, Arkansas, Contestee:

You are hereby notified that Daisy C. Larimore who gives New York City, New York, as her post-office address, did on May 21, 1920, file in this office her duly corroborated application to cancel and secure the cancellation of your homestead Entry No. 037991 made January 26, 1918, for SW 1/4 Section 11, Township 20 S., Range 16 E., G. & S. R. Meridian, and as alleged grounds for her contest she alleges that due proof that you served a copy of you have never established residence on the land embraced in said homestead entry; that you have entirely failed either to reside upon or cultivate the land embraced in your homestead entry for a period of more than six months last past; that your said failure to reside upon or cultivate the land is not due to your affiliation in any manner whatever with the military or naval organizations of the United States.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken as confessed, and your said entry will be cancelled without further right to be heard, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the fourth publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically responding to these allegations of contest, together with grounds for her contest she alleges that due proof that you served a copy of you have never established residence on the land embraced in said homestead entry; that you have entirely failed either to reside upon or cultivate desire future notices to be sent to you, CHAS. E. MARSHALL, Register.

SCOTT WHITE, Receiver.

Date of first publication June 25, 1920
Date of second publication July 2, 1920
Date of third publication July 9, 1920
Date of fourth publication July 16, 1920

Work is progressing rapidly on the two new houses being erected by Col. R. R. Richardson on his East addition to Patagonia. They will soon be ready for occupancy.

DR. MILLER
VETERINARY SURGEON
Calls Answered both Night and Day
Lyric Apartments
Nogales Arizona

KEEP AN EYE ON PATAGONIA—THE PROPER PLACE TO INVEST

Patagonia is situated in the center of a great mining district. The townsite is a beautiful one, located in the valley between the Santa Rita and Patagonia Mountains at an elevation of over 4000 feet. The town has a fine school building, three hotels, six stores, etc. The climate can not be surpassed; there is good water in abundance, and splendid roads lead from Patagonia to all parts of the county.

A fine tract of land has just been laid out in town lots adjoining the

For Further Particulars Address:
R. R. Richardson, Patagonia, Santa Cruz County, Arizona

Navajo saddle blankets, sold by the pound, cut any desired length. Washington Trading Co.—Adv.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
(024933)

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Phoenix, Arizona, May 29, 1920.

NOTICE is hereby given that Frank T. Rigby, of Sonoita, Arizona, who, on January 19, 1915, made Homestead Entry, No. 024933, for N 1/4 SW 1/4, SE 1/4 SW 1/4, SW 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 24, Township 20 S., Range 16 E., G. & S. R. B. & Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make Five Year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before W. A. O'Connor, U. S. Commissioner, at Nogales, Arizona, on the 7th day of July, 1920.

Claimant names as witnesses: Guy S. Bryant, George W. Crayne, Richard T. Fossett, all 3 of Sonoita, Arizona; Ernest R. Purdum, of Nogales, Arizona.

CHAS. E. MARSHALL, Register.

First June 4
Last July 2

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
(025729)

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Phoenix, Arizona, May 15, 1920.

NOTICE is hereby given that Gabriel E. Angulo, one of the heirs, and for the heirs of Gabriel V. Angulo, deceased, of Amadoville, Arizona, who, on October 24, 1914, made Homestead Entry, No. 025729, for W 1/2, Section 27, Township 20 S., Range 11 E., G. & S. R. B. & Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make Three Year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Edwin F. Jones, U. S. Commissioner, at Tucson, Arizona, on the 24th day of June, 1920.

Claimant names as witnesses: Luis Robledo, Tomas Elias, both of Amadoville, Arizona; Ramon Ahumada, Joseph M. Ronstadt, both of Tucson, Arizona.

J. L. IRVIN, Register.

1st pub 5-21
Last pub 6-18

E. K. CUMMING

GENERAL REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE BROKER

NOGALES - - - ARIZONA

SAFETY BOXES FOR RENT

Our friends and customers are hereby notified that we now have safety boxes in our vault for their conveniences. Secured one at once—$2.00 a year.

FIRST STATE BANK of Patagonia

THOMAS M. CUMMINGS announces his candidacy for nomination as Sheriff of Santa Cruz County before the DEMOCRATIC primaries to be held in September.

C. A. Pierre Chas. N. Cox
PATAGONIA ENGINEERING AND ASSAY OFFICE
Consulting and Supervising Engineers

For eleven years actively engaged in management, operation and leasing of mines. Investments, Reports, Sampling, Surveying and Mapping. Territory: Arizona, New Mexico and Mexico is in our bottles of soda ginger ale, sarsaparilla, root beer and other carbonated drinks. Order us to send you a box or so today. You will find them good to drink your own and other people's health. For they are healthy as well as decidedly delicious beverages.

THAT GOOD FEELING

PENDERGRASS' AMUSEMENT PARLOR

WOODEN SPOIL

By VICTOR ROUSSEAU

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

(Copyright, 1919, by George H. Doran Co.)

CHAPTER XIV—Continued.

"I'll do it," said Brousseau. "I meant to. And now—"

He rose to embrace her, but she stepped away from him. "Not until we are married, Edouard," she said.

Brousseau winced now. "It almost looks as if you didn't love me," he muttered in disgust.

"Two days after the news reached Hilary he went into the village for his mail. Taking it to his office to read, he found among it a bulky envelope addressed to him from Otarlo in an unknown writing.

He opened it and found a letter from Morris. However evasive the ex-manager had been in conversation, he was direct enough in writing.

"It's a clear case," said Hilary. "He's been swindling the property right and left. It seems I allowed for a few thousands, but as I make it out it amounts to nearly eighty thousand."

Lafe whistled and took up the paper that Hilary handed him.

"This is the contract with Leblanc to cut on the St. Boniface limits," he said. "So there's no mistaking who owned that lumber in the river."

He took up another document. "A contract with the Cornwall Paper company to supply twenty thousand cords of spruce wood from the St. Boniface forest," he said.

"Here's another document that makes interesting reading," continued Hilary, handing it to him.

Lafe studied it. "I don't get it," he said.

"It's Lamartine's acknowledgment of fifty thousand dollars received from Rosny for fifty shares in the North Empire Development company—one of Brousseau's interests. Now look at this one. Lamartine is settling five thousand dollars less the broker's charges for the sale of North Empire Development stock, as per order. He doesn't say a word about Rosny's acknowledgment of the five thousand dollars less broker's charges for the sale of fifty shares, dated March 9, 1913. Now here's a stock market clipping from a newspaper of March 4, showing the stock at $87.50.

"That's where we've got him, Lafe. Lamartine's letter proves nothing, but Morris got hold of Rosny's acknowledgment, probably for blackmailing purposes, and it shows Brousseau had swindled Rosny out of $37,500 on that deal. Probably there were others. That's where his money went."

"It's a pity Morris couldn't run straight, being as thorough as he is," said Lafe.

Hilary looked at him searchingly until he compelled him to return his gaze.

"You have been very reticent of late, Lafe. What's the trouble?"

"I guess it ain't much," said Connell. "Well, you see, it's this way. I went on reluctantly. I knew what lies that blackguard was spreading about you. And I didn't know whether to tell you or not, Mr. Askew. I knew Baptiste saw us with that girl in Ste. Marie, and I knew from his face that he wasn't pleased. And again I didn't know what to do. And I decided to let it go. It's my way; maybe I was wrong, but I'm against bluffing, by nature."

"Never mind, Lafe," said Hilary. "It's too late to make any difference now."

"No, it ain't too late!" shouted Lafe, leaping to his feet. "Mr. Askew, you haven't told him—Mr. Rosny—about that asbestos mine, have you? You ought to have gone to him and let him know. You could have saved Mamzelle Rosny from sacrificing herself this way. You can save her, and you're going to."

"I suppose I have let things drift," said Hilary soberly. "I lived in a sort of hope that the mess would clear up. And I hadn't the heart to do anything at all."

"There's the girl Marie—won't she say anything?"

"She's afraid of her father. There's no telling how he would take it. At present I don't think he knows anything."

"I wouldn't let that stand in my way," said Lafe emphatically.

"I don't think you'd really use that means of clearing yourself, if you were I, Lafe. And, besides that, she has my promise to say nothing, and that settles the matter. No, Lafe, you're talking nonsense."

"Maybe I am," said Lafe stubbornly. "But I ain't going to see your happiness wrecked because two women haven't the sense and the heart to clear you. And I'm going to do it."

"No, you're not, Lafe," said Hilary bluntly.

"Why not? Good Lord, why not?"

"Because I'm leaving St. Boniface," answered Hilary.

"Mr. Askew!"

"I'm going," repeated Hilary, with a swift gesture of hopelessness. "You'll call me a quitter, I suppose."

"I certainly should," answered Lafe coolly. "The same as you did me."

"Maybe. But I came up here to play a certain game. I came to put the solitary lumber business on its legs. And I've done it. I stayed to fight Brousseau after he nearly got me down, and I've beaten him. I'm going that game on every point. I'm going to make Brousseau refund his stealings, and I'm going to leave you here in charge for the present, to wind up. I shall go to Quebec to start proceedings and try to find a purchaser. Your contract will hold as long as you want a liar, a thief and a swindling rogue. That's what I've come to prove."

"My business is with Mr. Rosny," he said.

"Don't let that trouble you. I speak for Monsieur Rosny," answered Brousseau.

"You'll hear for him, too, then," retorted Lafe. "Mr. Rosny, that man is a liar, a thief and a swindling rogue. That's what I've come to prove."

Brousseau started forward, his face pale with rage. As he placed himself in a fighting attitude Lafe calmly assumed that of defense, the left fist ready, the right arm across his chest, turned outward and slightly upward, and his moment passed.

The Seigneur's face grew dark with anger. "No man can say such things of a guest of mine," he cried, and gripped the arms of his chair as if trying to rise. Madeleine bent over him and restrained him. Her face was flushed with resentment.

"I told you my business was with you, Mr. Rosny," said Lafe, unperturbed. "I ain't speaking to him. God knows I don't want to speak to him. He says he's speaking for you, so let him speak to this. He's swindled the St. Boniface lumber company out of eighty thousand dollars, so far as we've learned yet, and maybe more. But I guess he's heard enough. I got the proofs, but maybe it's painful listening."

"Leave the Chateau immediately, Monsieur!" thundered the Seigneur.

"Not till I've finished speaking," answered Lafe. "Unless he asks me to go, and then I'll think about it. He's speaking for you. You ain't in on this deal, Mr. Rosny. And now I've acted, he ended defiantly.

Madeline came forward quietly. "You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

Madeline raised her eyes and Lafe read in them the same intuition that was in Brousseau's, and also her challenge. She was arming to oppose him in his fight for Hilary. She was preparing to fight against all that she held dearest, for the sake of the swindler across the room. Lafe admired her courage, but this he had expected.

"My business is with Mr. Rosny," he said.

"Don't let that trouble you. I speak for Monsieur Rosny," answered Brousseau.

"You'll hear for him, too, then," retorted Lafe. "Mr. Rosny, that man is a liar, a thief and a swindling rogue. That's what I've come to prove."

Brousseau started forward, his face pale with rage. As he placed himself in a fighting attitude Lafe calmly assumed that of defense, the left fist ready, the right arm across his chest, turned outward and slightly upward, and his moment passed.

The Seigneur's face grew dark with anger. "No man can say such things of a guest of mine," he cried, and gripped the arms of his chair as if trying to rise. Madeleine bent over him and restrained him. Her face was flushed with resentment.

"I told you my business was with you, Mr. Rosny," said Lafe, unperturbed. "I ain't speaking to him. God knows I don't want to speak to him. He says he's speaking for you, so let him speak to this. He's swindled the St. Boniface lumber company out of eighty thousand dollars, so far as we've learned yet, and maybe more. But I guess he's heard enough. I got the proofs, but maybe it's painful listening."

"Leave the Chateau immediately, Monsieur!" thundered the Seigneur.

"Not till I've finished speaking," answered Lafe. "Unless he asks me to go, and then I'll think about it. He's speaking for you. You ain't in on this deal, Mr. Rosny. And now I've acted, he ended defiantly.

Madeline came forward quietly. "You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

"You can go, Mr. Connell," she said in a voice vibrant with restrained anger. "We do not permit Monsieur Brousseau to be insulted here or anywhere. Your conduct is intolerable. Leave instantly, and if you have anything to say to him in accusation say it when he has not a woman and a sick man present to restrain his resentment."

Lafe flushed. "And you ain't in it neither, Mamzelle," he answered. "What I got to say I say to Mr. Rosny. I come here to say it and I'll go when I said it."

"Oh, let him speak," snarled Brousseau. "Monsieur Askew is afraid to come here with his lies, so he has sent his man."

Madeline's eyes flashed. "This is no place for personalities, Edouard."

tered Brousseau, trembling. "A few strands of rock fly, commercially worthless."

"But that ain't recovery. That's just a business trick," said Connell. "How did he get you into his power, Mr. Rosny, asking your pardon? I'll tell you. He's cheated you as he's cheated us, except that it was worse, because you trusted him, which we never did. That's what I come to tell you, Mr. Rosny. He's swindled you out of nearly forty thousand dollars on one deal, in North Empire Development company stock, and maybe in other—"

Brousseau opened at Lafe like a tiger. Lafe, who had anticipated the move, stopped dexterously aside, at the same time twisting the chair on which his hand was resting. Brousseau, in his plunge forward, tripped over it, stumbled and fell prone to the floor.

"And I got the papers to prove that—here!" said Lafe triumphantly.

Brousseau rose, rubbing his shins and muttering curses, and glared savagely about him. Madeleine was breathing quickly, her eyes fixed intently on Lafe's face.

"It's a—d—d lie!" cried Brousseau. "They've forged those papers. Where are they?"

"He said he was speaking for you, Mr. Rosny," said Lafe, "so here they are. I guess you know your signature."

He drew the envelope from his pocket and placed the three documents on the Seigneur's knee, standing between him and Brousseau, who looked ready to leap again. But he did not leap; he muttered to Madeleine, who still watched Lafe breathlessly.

"I guess those letters don't tell you much, Mr. Rosny," continued Lafe. "If you'll put them together you'll see that those fifty thousand-dollar shares were sold for you in Quebec at a hundred dollars apiece."

"Yes, Monsieur Brousseau had ill fortune with that company. He explained it to me," said the Seigneur, trembling. "What of it?"

"Why, here's the market price of its shares five days before at $87.50, that's all," said Lafe. "It didn't tumble that fast. All the country would have been flinging with it if it had done that. I guess Brousseau has that money of yours tucked away safely somewhere."

"You gave me your power of attorney," Brousseau began.

But his guilt was written on his face. The swiftness of the blow had utterly disconcerted him and made him incapable of defense. Lafe saw the Seigneur's expression change as if a mask had been torn from his features. He staggered to his feet, his left side helpless, and, grasping the chair with his right hand, confronted Brousseau.

"What have you to say? Is it true or false, monsieur?" he cried. "Where are my other stocks? You had a hundred thousand of my money. Where is it?"

"Find it!" yelled Brousseau. "Go to the devil with your money! I tried to help you out of friendship. I haven't time to work out your stock exchange accounts for you, if anybody's cheating you it's the stockbroker. Go to him for it!"

"You don't believe those lies against me?" he cried.

"You have insulted my father, but you have not answered him."

"I'll pay him."

"It is true, then? It is true?"

"Yes, it's true," interposed Lafe. "I can't be anything else. Everybody knows what a rotten, swindling thief the fellow is. Ah, keep your hand down, Mr. Rosny. I'm telling you what I think of him. That's what I came here for. And if you'll excuse me for referring to your mortgage, which everybody knows, if he doesn't turn that in to you by tomorrow Mr. Askew will sue him eternally as well as civilly for what he's done to us, because we've got the confession of the man that saw the boom for him."

Brousseau swung on his heel suddenly and strode toward the door. He turned and shook his fist at Lafe. "I'll pay you for this, you and that other blackmailer!" he swore. "I'll smash your rotten concern. I'll—"

He broke off with a derisive snort and made toward the entrance. But Lafe strode past him and blocked his way.

"Just a moment," he said. "Mr. Rosny's got something to say to you."

Brousseau tried to fling himself past, but Lafe, standing like an iron sentinel, completely filled the opening.

"Monsieur Brousseau," said the Seigneur, "there are just a few words to say before you go. When Monsieur Connell came here he did not meet with encouragement. He proved his case, and you have proved it by your actions. When you were a boy I advanced you. I interested myself in you. You climbed high, and you tried to repay me by ousting me from my lands and stepping into my shoes. You sought to dishonor us through my daughter, who was wiser than I in her recognition of what you were. I thought that you were only ill-bred, but you have proved yourself a scoundrel as well. You will repay me everything you have stolen or go to jail. Good-day, monsieur."

"That's all, I guess," said Lafe, and opened the door.

Brousseau dashed through and along the corridor. Lafe followed him at an interval; but Brousseau did not wait for him. He pulled the front door open and slammed it behind him. When Lafe reached it Brousseau was already dragging his horse, already harnessed to his sleigh, out of the stables.

Lafe watched him drive away and turned back to the hall. He hesitated to retrace into the room, but as he stopped uncertainly in the corridor he found the entrance Madeleine came toward him.

"My father thanks you, Mr. Connell," she said, and though the tears rolled down her face she smiled. "It is like the lifting of a nightmare," she whispered.

"Yes, mademoiselle," said Lafe. "But it was you I wanted chiefly to see."

"You saw me. What else is there to say? Mr. Connell, if you have come here on any other mission it is hopeless. Why did you let him send you for—that?" she continued, reading his face.

"Because he's my friend," said Lafe. "But he won't send me here. He's talking of going away. That's why I came."

"He saw her start, then control herself."

"I'm forty years old," said Lafe, and conscious of the happiness of the beginning hesitated. "I'm forty years old," he continued. "Not old enough to be your father, mademoiselle, but old enough to be a sort of uncle, though I ain't got your education. That don't matter. My experience that counts, and knowledge of the world. And I seen a good bit more of life than you, mademoiselle."

"I seen enough to learn one thing, and that is that misunderstandings are the cause of nearly all the trouble in the world. When Mr. Askew come pleased, I'll be meshed into the crooked work that Morris and Monsieur Brousseau was doing with the solitary lumber. Then when I got to know Hilary Askew I saw that he was clean straight through."

He let his hand fall lightly on the girl's shoulder. The gesture, which might have been an offense in some, was instinctive, and like most instinctive actions, fitting. Lafe, unthought, unlettered, standing before Madeleine Rosny, seemed like a benevolent guardian.

"When he came to like you I was glad," continued Lafe. "But when you came to like him I was just about as happy as when I was leading Clarice—my wife, I mean—out of the First Methodist church at Shoeburyport, Mass., on August 17, 1902, with her white veil hiding her, and them orange flowers she was carrying scenting up the place—"

"not quite so glad, maybe, but not far shy of it. And you think he wasn't true to you? That man in his senses wouldn't be?"

"I won't hear you!" cried the girl, summoning her defiance to her aid. "He should have spoken for himself. What right have you to speak for him, sent or unsent?"

"Why, I thought I'd explain that, mamzelle. Just because I'm his friend," said Lafe. "It ain't true. Not a word of that story's true. I'm going to tell you the truth. But first I'm going to say what I got to say, because it's true. You haven't acted rightly toward him—no, you haven't, mamzelle."

The passionate gesture, the sincerity of his tone dominated her. She tried to find her voice and could not; she tried to find indignation and could not. "We went to Ste. Marie together to see conditions there, to see what sort of place Simson Duval was running. The girl was there. It was the night of the raid, and we helped her away. She got home, and her father never knew. Little Baptiste knew, and others who'd seen her with us. They told Brousseau, and he started those lies about Mr. Askew, who never knew about it—never knew anything."

"That fellow Pierre, Brousseau's man, had his eye on the girl. You know the sort of work he's done along this coast. Maybe you don't, but it's devil's work, mamzelle, and he and Leblanc lured Marie into a boat by means of their decoy, Nanette Bonnat, and took her to the island. We found them there, and saved her, and brought the girls back. That's all. Now you know. Now you understand how you've done Hilary a wrong. If you don't believe me, Lafe continued doggedly, "just tell me how much you don't believe, and I'll prove it. I'll prove every word; you don't have to take me on trust."

"Do you think I am capable of seeking evidence that a man is true to me?" cried Madeleine. "Do you think I am going into St. Boniface to pry into your friend's actions?"

"You love him, mamzelle," said Lafe, with patience that would not be thwarted. "I can read that in your face. You love him, and you've done him a wrong. Well, mamzelle, you can't lie down under that. You can't bear it. You've got to right it."

She burst into helpless tears. "I hoped that he would come to me," she whispered.

"Hilary Askew ain't that kind of a man," said Lafe.

"He refused to defend himself."

"He'd defended Marie to say nothing."

"Let me pass, I have heard you."

"But Lafe stood in the way. 'You're going to tell him it's all right,' he said. 'I'll arrange it so it won't hurt your pride, if that's worth keeping.'"

"How dare you insult me? Let him come to me! Let him come and plead!"

"Mamzelle!"

"I shall never go to him!"

And Lafe had reached the end. His outraged justice had led him to the goal; but it was the wrong goal. He was helpless, he was beaten. He staggered aside, and she ran past him, hurrying up the stairs, whose faded carpet was held by tarnished rods that gleamed between her moving feet.

Danes Re-Export Surplus to U. S.

Ira Nelson Morris Tells of Inner Phase of Post-War Commerce.

ARE GREATLY OVERSTOCKED

Ship Goods Back to United States, Add Double Cost of Transportation and Make Hand-some Profit.

New York.—Ira Nelson Morris, United States minister to Sweden, who has returned to the United States for a vacation, is authority for information concerning an odd phase of post-war commerce between this and European countries, and bearing on the high cost of necessities here. He pointed out that after the armistice Denmark had imported from America in such tremendous volume that the country became greatly overstocked.

"Until within the last three or four months," Mr. Morris said, "Denmark was shipping back to the United States the very goods that had been sent from here to Copenhagen and reselling them in America at a profit after having added twice the cost of transatlantic carriage over the original costs.

Lower Freight to Westward. "One reason why it has been profitable to reship to the United States the surplus stores of goods and materials, such as cotton originally received from Europe laden with American goods would have had to return with empty holds. The fact that Europe had not enough else to export to America to fill outgoing bottoms caused a reduction in the freight rates to the west. Danish merchants thus engaged reaped a harvest even with the rate of exchange against them.

"Copenhagen, the ambassador said, is ambitious to become the great port of entry for Europe, and to that end is seeking to handle permanently the tonnage that used to go through Bremen and Hamburg. A vast amount of that business is now done in the Danish port."

Scandinavian countries are keen to do business with the United States, said Mr. Morris, and he added that it was advantageous to them and to us too.

"These northern countries need coal and look to America since England placed a ban on coal shipments to Scandinavian countries," he said parenthetically.

Much Pulp Wood in Sweden. "Sweden and England should be able to solve the problem of America's newspaper shortage, for there is an unlimited supply of pulp wood, and only the uncertainty as to the future of the paper market seems to stand in the way of building new mills which would take care of the world's needs," Mr.

U-Boat Warfare Was Last Card

Secret Records Just Made Public Show Germany's Bad Plight.

URGED BY PEOPLE AND ARMY

"Things Cannot Get Worse," Declared Von Hindenburg, "The War Must Be Shortened by Every Possible Means."

Berlin.—Secret protocols on the submarine war now made public include an account of the conference held at Pless on January 8 and 9, 1917, between Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff and Admiral von Holtzendorff, and other naval officers. Admiral von Holtzendorff advocated

Villa Again in the Saddle

Francisco Villa has notified the new rulers of Mexico that if they do not act in accordance with his wishes he will resume his guerrilla warfare. This is the latest photograph of "Paucha," made at his camp at Las Delicias.

GERMANY IS HIT HARD

Loses Many Millions Through Band of Forgers.

Importers Also Victims of False Trade Permits—Numerous Arrests Made.

Berlin.—Hundreds of millions of marks in revenue have been lost to the German government during the last few months through the wholesale forgery and sale of import permits by gangs of swindlers operating along the western border, says a report printed in Koelnische Zeitung. Among the victims of the forgers are South and Middle German municipalities, industrial concerns and importers of foodstuffs. Although these operations had been going on for some time it was only a few weeks ago that attention was drawn to the swindle and the police began to get on the trail of the crooks.

It appears that when the Red army was in control of the Ruhr district its officers stumbled upon some of these false permits and immediately confiscated whatever goods had been imported through their use. The regular German authorities then came upon more of the same sort and an investigation was begun. Under direction of the Prussian food commissioner, the police, sometimes in airplanes, searched the whole border country and succeeded in landing several bands of forgers behind the bars.

The false permits were stamped with a clumsy seal resembling that of the national import commissioner, and carried the initials M. R., presumably meant for Meissinger, the former commissioner. The band operating from Duesseldorf sold permits to members of the popular German circle known as the "Schiebertum," i. e., those engaged in underground illicit trade, so it was a case of no honor among thieves. Many of the deals put Hid From Army Four Years: Four Years More in Jail.

From Paris comes a warning to slackers the world over. Jean Simon lived at Rouen, France, when the war broke out. He did not relish risking his life against the Germans, but in a country where conscription is rigidly enforced, one can shirk the draft only by hiding.

Simon hid himself in a barn so effectively that he was found only last year. Now, after being condemned by a court-martial, he will be hidden from the world for four years more, and all that time he will do hard labor.

INCREASE IN GRAIN CROPS

International Agricultural Institute Estimates Jump in India and Argentina.

Ottawa, Ont.—Increases in the grain crops of India and Argentina during the coming season are estimated by the International Institute of Agriculture, according to advices received here by the department of agriculture.

Easier to Break Than Bills. Knoxville, Tenn.—Eggs, instead of coin, are used as change in the small towns of East Tennessee. One storekeeper from Powell station, Tenn., says all his customers use eggs to make purchases. So great is the supply that in two days he gathered a total of 10,000. Eggs are being hauled to the municipal market in wagons, just as though they were potatoes, only the wagon beds are well lined with straw and sawdust.

Morris suggested. Reverting to the British coal situation, he commented: "England has not enough coal for herself and the big liners sailing under the British flag are forced to take two or three days longer to make transatlantic trips because they can cross with less fuel while not running at high speed."

Avalanche of Gold Coin Ruining Switzerland.

Geneva.—Switzerland is being buried in a golden avalanche, according to President Sarasin of the Swiss bank. He says the gold stored in banks has no outlet in Europe, that many industries are at a standstill and the situation is becoming worse. The hotel industry is nearly ruined. M. Sarasin says, because adverse exchange is keeping away tourists. He adds the country lost more than six billion francs by the war.

U-Boat Warfare Was Last Card

unrestricted U-boat war toward which, he asserted, the German emperor and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg seemed to be lukewarm. He added that Von Bethmann wanted to make diplomatic preparations in order to keep the United States out of the war and that the foreign office believed that if the United States came in South America was bound to follow.

During the course of the conversation Von Holtzendorff urged that Von Hindenburg become chancellor, the latter repeatedly refusing, saying he could not talk in the reichstag.

War Must Be Shortened. The field marshal finally declared for the U-boat campaign on the basis of war with the United States.

"Things cannot get worse," he said. "The war must be shortened by every possible means."

General Ludendorff agreed with this, and Von Holtzendorff continued:

"The people and army are crying out for unrestricted U-boat war."

Another document gives an account of the conversation between Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff, and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg at Pless on January 3, 1917, at which Von Bethmann said: "U-boat war is the last card. It is a very grave decision. If the military authorities regard it as indispensable I am not in a position to deny it."

Armed Against All. Field Marshal von Hindenburg replied: "We are armed against all eventualities; against the United States, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland. We need the most ruthless and energetic action, and therefore unrestricted U-boat war from February 1. The war must end quickly. We could hold on, but our allies could not."

General Ludendorff then further explained how unrestricted U-boat warfare would benefit the army, which, he added, "must be spared another Somme battle."

Von Bethmann-Hollweg declared America's aid, if she comes in, "will consist of foodstuffs for England, financial assistance, flying machines and a volunteer army," adding, "We will fix them all right."

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, in agreeing to adopt the course advocated ventured: "And if Switzerland comes in, and the French come through there?"

"That would not be favorable from a military point of view," said Von Hindenburg.

through by the Duesseldorf forgers amounted to 100,000 marks or more. Other gangs made their headquarters in Mayence and Flensburg.

A lively trade in forged export permits has also been unearthed by the police of Berlin and the customs guards at Hamburg and other ports. Most of the false export papers were for the sale of tools and airplane motors to the Scandinavian countries. The principals in this lucrative "business" were largely responsible for their own undoing, as they led such a wild life in the all-night cafes of Berlin, often spending as much as 30,000 marks in an evening, as to attract the attention of the public, and an investigation and their arrest followed.

How to Make Women Work. Ripley, O.—Women living in the Linn bridge neighborhood are anxious to get their mail. Many of the younger men are away and young women know that unless they work the roads the mail man can't get to them. And this is the reason why they are laying rocks so that the mail man can make his rounds.

Ghost in Cell. Chester, Pa.—Police officers of Ridley Park had their hands full early one morning trying to quiet the nerves of the three negro prisoners charged with burglary, Henry Brooks and his two pals from Richmond, Va., Walter Moore and Joseph Ford. The negroes claimed their slumber was disturbed by the appearance of a ghost in their cell. It set them howling at the top of their voices and so deafening was the noise that the police were compelled to go to their aid and pacify them.

The barber belongs to a shaving set

A Feeling of Security

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit-producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy. The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

What They Thought. Two sentimental spinsters live next door to a satisfied-with-his-condition bachelor. And he does have a time avoiding their conspicuous attentions.

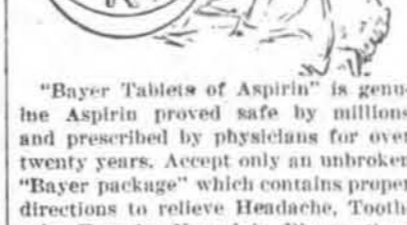

But the worst of all was the other night after he had rolled into bed and was called to the telephone. A spinster's voice came over the phone: "Oh, Mr. Blank, there is a man at our window."

The bachelor snorted: "Doesn't he know where your door is?" he retorted.

And now their attentions have ceased.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" is genuine Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for over twenty years. Accept only an unbroken "Bayer package" which contains proper directions to relieve Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Colds and Pain. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer packages." Aspirin is trade mark Bayer Manufacture Mononaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

A Little Lesson. "I went into a shop to have my shoes mended and sat on the same seat with a millionaire."

"Rich and poor are patronizing the cobbler nowadays."

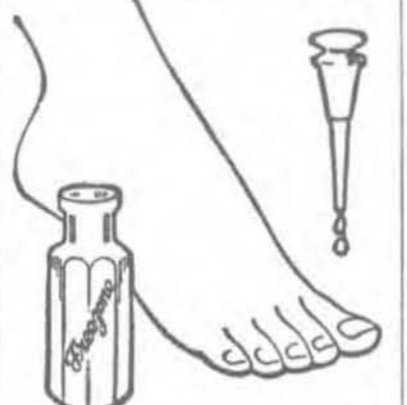

"But he was more particular about having the work done right than I was."

"That trait of his is probably what made him a millionaire."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A widow always tries to console herself with the belief that she can't do any worse the next time.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Frezzone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Frezzone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callous. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callous right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

Safe in Unsuspected Dangers.

Writing of accidents to persons employed in industrial plants, Dr. C. Wilder says in Therapie der Gegenwart (Berlin) that the experience of countless ages enables us to sidestep injury unconsciously, and only when we focus our consciousness on the reaction to the occurrence is injury liable to result.

The Cuticura Toilet Trio

Having cleared your skin keep it clear by making Cuticura your every-day toilet preparations. The soap to cleanse and purify, the Ointment to soothe and heal, the Talcum to powder and perfume. No toilet table is complete without them. 25c everywhere.—Adv.

Gratis.

"How much is it?" snarled the customer as he clapped on his hat. "Just 25 cents for the shave, sir," the barber responded pleasantly. "I will not charge you anything for the plaster I put on the places where I cut you.—Glad to oblige."—Judge.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

South America's Underdeveloped Lands. It is claimed for South America that it has greater undeveloped resources than any other continent. Its soil can produce any crop grown on the earth and its mines of gold and silver and coal have been scarcely touched.

Be kind to the candidate. He is worried even when prospects are bright.

After you eat—always use

EATONIC

FOR YOUR STOMACH'S SAKE. —one or two tablets—eat like candy. Instantly relieves Heartburn, Bloating Gassy Feeling. Stops indigestion, food souring, repeating, headache and the many miseries caused by

Acid-Stomach

EATONIC is the best remedy, it takes the harmful acids and gases right out of the body and, of course, you get well. Tens of thousands wonderfully benefited. Guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded by your own druggist. Cost a trifle. Please try it!

WATCH THE BIG 4

Stomach-Kidneys-Heart-Liver. Keep the vital organs healthy by regularly taking the world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles—

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL

The National Remedy of Holland for centuries and endorsed by Queen Wilhelmina. At all druggists, three sizes. Look for the same Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

FRECKLES

DAISY FLY KILLER PLACED ANYWHERE ATTRACTS AND KILLS ALL FLIES. Best, clean, economical, non-poisonous, cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal, can't spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed effective. Sold by druggists, 5c per box. HAROLD SUMERS, 150 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

ALL HE COULD DO FOR HIM

According to This, Prospects of Thirsty Gent Getting a Drink Didn't Seem to Be Promising.

"How can I go about it to get a drink in this town?" asked a recently arrived gent, who looked as if he needed irrigation.

"Well," replied the landlord of the Petunia tavern, "I'll tell you what you might do: Go to the second corner up the street, pass around it and go to the alley about half-way, and you'll come to a gate standing open, a crack in a fence made out of old billboard lumber. Go in through the gate and along to a cellar back of the shanty standing in the lot, lift the cellar door and go down the steps, whistle three times, and a dirty feller will come with a lantern, and look you over and tell you that there ain't nothin' doing in this dod-blasted town since the blankety-blank prohibitionists got so sizzle-fired active. This is the best I can do for you, Mr. Dryer."—Houston Post.

No man can have his cake and eat it, too, and yet we go on squandering money and thinking life is so costly.

Opinions and visits should never be forced upon people.

Obvious. "A New York Judge has ruled that love is insanity." "Well, men go crazy over girls, don't they?"

A giggling girl is apt to become a cackling woman.

Denver Directory

Stop Wasting Milk

Get your milk and raise calves on A & C CALF MEAL for one third what milk sells for. Order from feed and grain dealers.

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL. Buy direct at wholesale prices. We ship everywhere. Write Frank Kirchoff Lumber Co., Denver, Colo.

O'Fallon's Farm and Stockmen's Supplies

Gasoline and Oil Engines—Centrifugal and Deep Well Pumps—Hydraulic Rams—Lighting Plants—Troughs on Supplies—Stock Trucks—Water Supply Systems—Windmills—Electric and Power Washers—Kneading Cutters—Feed Grinders—Spray Goods—Hay Tools—Baling—Wrought Iron Pipes—Hoisting—Hoops—Engineers' Speedlives. Call and see us or send for catalog. "The Big Supply House of the West."

THE Windsor Hotel

150 rooms, 100 to 150 night with private bath $12.00 and $14.00 per night. Special weekly rates. 18th and Larimer Sts. Blocks of Union Depot.

SHOE REPAIRING BY MAIL

Send us your shoes—Ladies', Men's, Girl's, Boy's—We'll fix 'em right. The Capital City Shoe Repairing Co. 1511 Champa St. (Deat. A.) Denver, Colo.

His Salvation.

At one of the western camps a rookier had been made the victim of so much gauding that he had long since given up the idea of taking any statements seriously. One night when he gazed a tall figure loomed out of the darkness.

True to Form.

The demobilized army doctor closed the bedroom door reverently, and faced his colleague with a sober nod of the head. "He's gone," he said, "Nothing more to be done except paint him with embalming fluid and mark him heaven."—Home Sector.

Obvious.

"A New York Judge has ruled that love is insanity." "Well, men go crazy over girls, don't they?"

The "Cream" of Phosphate Baking Powders

Dr. Price's "Cream" Baking Powder is now made with pure phosphate by methods of production which make it the "cream" of phosphate Baking Powders.

Dr. PRICE'S "Cream" Baking Powder

Sells for about HALF the price charged when the powder contained Cream of Tartar and appeals to every housewife who is interested in reducing the high cost of living and in protecting the health of her home.

Here are the prices:

- 25c for 12 oz.
- 15c for 6 oz.
- 10c for 4 oz.

Contains no alum. Never disturbs digestion.

BETHLEHEM
"BIG-BANG"
SAFETY CANNON

Harmless and Safe and Sane
No Matches—No Powder
No Danger

OPERATED by a child of six with safety and by a grown-up with pleasure. Open the breach—fill the charging measure from the ammunition case—slam the breach shut—touch the ignitor—it's off with a "BANG."

AMMUNITION—plain ordinary water (in the hollow axle) and pulverized Bangsite which is sent with each cannon in the ammunition case. A new supply can be bought from us—20c per can.

IT CAN'T EXPLODE. An overcharge means only a smaller report. Even a lighted match will not ignite the Bangsite in the ammunition case.

IT WON'T BURN. The cannon will neither set fire to tissue paper nor burn the skin and can be used in the house or any place with safety.

Pioneer Hardware House

J. W. EDWARDS, Prop.
Distributors
Nogales Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chapman were Nogales-visitors the first of the week.

A. A. and J. L. Gatlin made a business trip to Nogales Tuesday.

Wayside Notes

(Continued from Page 1)

been taken fortunes in precious metals, and still the work goes on enriching those who have invested their money in these gigantic enterprises; we watched the men on top breaking and sorting the metals, preparatory for shipment; we watched the big motor trucks as they arrived and departed—some loaded with ore and others with powder and other blasting materials. There are some modern homes in most of the camps; stores, cold drink stands, all kinds of fresh bakery supplies, wells of cold water and some fine people.

Any one wishing a nice outing with a minimum of expense could do no better than to engage passage for a round trip with the Parker Canon stage driver. The trip is worth the money and you will never regret it. If you are a lover of nature you will receive a real inspiration from the great rugged and picturesque mountains, the beautiful fields of grain in the valleys, the big white faced cattle in the pastures and the quaint little Mexican villages where the holliblocks bloom and where all the Americans speak Spanish as fluently as they do their native tongue.

Capt. Cady has returned from a lengthy visit with friends in Tucson and other points. He has been so long in Patagonia that things do not look just right when he is absent. There are many worse places than Patagonia and but few better towns of its size.

J. C. Miller visited Nogales Tuesday.

Santa Cruz Patagonian

H. R. SISK, Publisher
R. B. EDGELE, Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
(In Advance)
One Year.....$2.00
Six Months.....1.50
Three Months.....1.00

Entered at the postoffice at Patagonia, Ariz., as second-class mail matter.

EDITORIAL

The Peoria Enterprise, one of the best little newspapers published in Maricopa county, is at all times a good booster for its town and county, but in its last issue there were murmurings against the terminal pressure now prevailing in that section and which is becoming unbearable. We would suggest a visit to Patagonia where the cool breezes from the Santa Rita and Patagonia mountains are a panacea for such ailments complained of by the Enterprise, and they are guaranteed to afford instant relief.

The earthquake which shook up the denizens of Los Angeles a few days since was merely a precursor of the political quake being pulled off in San Francisco this week.

San Juan Day was celebrated in Patagonia by the Spanish speaking people with dancing, horse racing, weddings and other festivities usually enjoyed on occasions of this kind. A great many strangers were here and all had a most enjoyable time. But the rains which are supposed to fall on this day were withheld, but only for a few days, say those who are believers in this tradition which has been handed down from the forefathers.

The Chandler Arizonan is urging a revival of home-owning and old-fashioned home life in Arizona. One of America's most famous orators once declared in a speech that he had never known a man to take up arms in defense of a boarding house. A good home will instill patriotism into a man's heart much more readily than a fashionable boarding house.

O. E. Comstock, a proof reader on the Tucson Daily Star, founder of the Mercy Hospital in the Old Pueblo, which was afterwards renamed in his honor, "Comstock hospital," is not only loved and honored in his home city but in many other cities and towns. Furnace Hill Baptist church of Sheffield, Ala., has recently been renamed "Comstock Baptist church." Alabama is Mr. Comstock's native state and he founded the church which now bears his name more than thirty years ago. The Comstock hospital at Tucson is a real home for indigent tubercular patients where many have been nursed back to health and happiness.

MARRIED—At 7 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the groom's parents in Patagonia, Mr. Angel Hernandez and Miss Artemisa Perez, Judge Hayden Pendergrass officiating. A sumptuous wedding supper was served to about 200 guests after which all repaired to the Cady hall and danced until three o'clock Thursday morning. The bride and groom are fine young people who have a host of friends around about here who wish for them a life of happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ringwald of San Rafael Valley were shopping in Patagonia last Saturday. Mr. Ringwald stated that crops are doing well and showing no signs of suffering for lack of rain. He further stated that the first rain fell last year on June 26 and it is well known that the dry farmers all made big crops.

Bear Brand hosiery for boys and girls. Washington Trading Co.—Adv.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our heart-felt thanks to the many warm friends both in Patagonia and Silver City who have shown us so many kindnesses during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. All that tender love and willing hands could do has been done for him and for us, and this greatly softened the hard trials through which we have been called to go. The funeral service, the songs, the many floral offerings, the kind words of sympathy and condolence—all of these will always be cherished in our hearts. We thank you one and all.

Mrs. James Kane and Children.

Justin's cowboy boots can't be beat for men. Washington Trading Co.—Adv.

Work on the new church building has been on a stand still this week, owing to a lack of materials, but everything is now ready to resume active work Monday morning.

There will be a regular meeting of the Patagonia chamber of commerce on Tuesday night, June 29th, at 8 o'clock p. m. at the home of C. A. Pierce. Everybody is invited.

3-BIG DAYS-3
OF FUN AND ENTERTAINMENT

CELEBRATE

July 3rd, 4th, and 5th,

Nogales, Arizona

Border Round-up, Cowboy Sports, Mexican Bull Fight, Boxing, Racing Aviation, Dancing, Speaking, Monster Military Parade, Automobile Parade, Other Entertainment.

Something Doing Every Minute in
Nogales, July 3rd, 4th, and 5th

Prepare for 3 Big Days of Fun and Amusement. Everyone Welcome

FUN! FUN! FUN!

Mining Notes

(Continued from Page One)

Mr. Springer also added that the future prospects in both of these properties are decidedly bright.

H. H. McCutchan this week has been hauling out lumber, powder and other materials to the Flux mines where work is reported to be quite active.

Frank J. Horner, a prominent mining man from Phoenix, was in Patagonia recently sizing up the mining prospects in this district. He expressed himself as being well pleased with the mining outlook in and around here. He also took occasion to say that Patagonia is the prettiest small town he had seen on his travels in the state.

Dave Putman, owner of a group of eight very promising gold mines within one and a half miles of Patagonia has entered into a contract with Ed. Kinney and Brockie Shannon whereby they are to begin extensive development work July 1. They start first on a 100-foot tunnel and will rush the work until results are obtained. There is scarcely a doubt but that these mines are rich in good ore and all that stood in the way of proving this was the lack of capital to develop them. But now that these men have taken hold of the work, Patagonians may expect some agreeable surprises during the summer.

William Powers, Bob Mobley and William Fessler visited the Dixie mine twelve miles north of Patagonia last Sunday and report an interesting trip. The leasers of this mine are Dan Dawson, John McGhee and John Sullivan. Active development work is being carried on at the present time. Mr. Powers, who is financially interested in this mine, and who carries his seventy odd years with the agility of youth, explored the mine most fully on this visit. He went all through the mines and down into the lower shafts and came out with a smile on his face and a twinkle in his eye. His companions were amazed at the vigor and youthfulness he displayed in getting up and down the shafts. The leasers of the Dixie are very enthusiastic over the prospects and are pushing the work with considerable energy.

Development work on the Flux property at Patagonia continues at a good pace and has reached a highly interesting stage. The new drift on the 260-level that will explore the ground under the big carbonate ore deposit, has been driven 150 feet through solid limestone to a point where further sulphide deposits should be encountered. At 150 feet the drift left the limestone and broke into quartz carrying silver bearing lead-zinc sulphides, ore of the same character as that found in prospects for cutting the extension of the carbonate ore body on the 130-level look brighter as the work progresses. About four feet per shift is being made in the drift, and the work will be pushed to thoroughly develop the 260-level.

Ice cream, soda and all soft drinks, hot coffee, chocolate and cocoa, sand wiches, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, stationery, etc. Mrs. Bennett's Ice Cream Parlor, Patagonia, Arizona. tfe430 can be more fully enjoyed, without the customary next day eye-ache, by wearing a tint or slight color in your lenses. Let us suggest the color best suited to YOUR needs and be sure of the fullest enjoyment of your vacation.

"THE SHORE"

DR. M. A. WUERBSCHMIDT
Optical Specialist
Arizona Optical Co.
239 Morley Ave.

Nogales-Patagonia Short Line

"THE CONVENIENT, COMFORTABLE WAY"

| | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Leave Nogales 9 a. m. | Arrive Patagonia 10:30 a. m. |
| Leave Patagonia 11 a. m. | Arrive Nogales 12:30 p. m. |
| Leave Nogales 5 p. m. | Arrive Patagonia 6:30 p. m. |
| Leave Patagonia 7 p. m. | Arrive Nogales 8:30 p. m. |

Auto Stage leaves on Schedule Time at Montezuma Hotel, Nogales, and from The Patagonia Drug Co., Patagonia.

McAdoo—His friends would like him to receive the Democratic nomination for president!

We would like to receive your patronage based on a platform of honest values and good service.

Do we "get" the nomination?

Seasonable Clothing and Dress Goods are here for those who would be cool and comfy. To see is to want.

FRESH GROCERIES, AND GREEN VEGETABLES

We have them fresh daily and at reasonable prices. Fresh groceries and the best of foods are always in season. We always have them at your service.

You Buy the Goods; We Give the Service.

The Patagonia Commercial Co.
PATAGONIA, ARIZONA

Watkins Overland

A Symbol to the public—of quality and square dealing—of a high standard in automobile retailing.

A Guide to the buyer—the knowledge that his purchase will meet every individual transportation demand.

A Pledge to automobile owners—of the maintenance of a high-standard organization to insure the continuous use of their cars on the road.

Keeping faith with our customers has solidified the bond of relationship between this store and the public.

Overland and Willys-Knight

Watkins-Overland Co.

Telephone No. 231 425 Morley Ave.

Buy your next tires here. They are guaranteed by us.

Patagonia Barber Shop

WM. FESSLER, Prop. Children's Hair Cutting

Shop Closed on Sunday.

PATAGONIA - - - - - ARIZONA

Fountain Pens

We have established a Parker Lucky Curve Fountain Pen service and can take care of your needs in this line. Give us a call.

We handle a full line of VACUUM BOTTLES, including the famous THERMOS and UNIVERSAL and handle extra fillers for same.

We are also in position to accommodate the public with FILTERED GAS and LUBRICATING OILS at all times of the day and night including Sundays and Holidays.

Kindly remember that no better Sundaes and Sodas can be obtained anywhere that will surpass our fountain service.

The Mountain States Telephone Co. has just installed a long distance toll station in our store having direct connection with all parts of the United States.

Patagonia Drug Co.

H. J. CHENETTE Registered Pharmacist