

NEW MEX. REVOLUTION IS IMMINENT

CAMPBELL TO PROBE CHARGE MEX. LABOR IS MIS-HANDLED

PHOENIX, July 29—An investigation of wages and conditions of living and labor among Mexican laborers imported to work in the Salt River valley will be started, following announcement from the governor's office of appointment by Governor Campbell of John D. Patten, who will serve with Abelardo B. Sobarzo.

The letter was sent here by Governor Borquez of Sonora to make the investigation. Patten has been state representative of the United States employment bureau.

Action by the Sonora governor was taken, it was said, after he had received reports that cotton farm hands had been reduced to a state of penance. Mexican Consul Gonzales had given a more favorable report on working conditions, it was understood, but in order to arrive at definite conclusions, the Sonora state government sent a representative here.

The present course was said to have been agreed upon by Governor Campbell and Governor Borquez when they met at Nogales recently.

The Arizona Cotton Growers' association contracted for the Mexican workmen with the sanction of the department of labor and the commissioner of immigration. Members of the association today said they welcomed an investigation, believing it would disclose that Mexican laborers, often including whole families, were receiving high wages, both individually and as families, and were living far better than ever before in their lives.

SUBSCRIBERS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF RATE, ARE SENDING CHECKS

Many subscribers of The Patagonian took advantage of the first call and sent us their check for a year's subscription while the price is still $2.00. Every subscriber and those contemplating subscribing to the best weekly newspaper in Southern Arizona should do the same thing for on September 1 the subscription price will be raised to $3.00 per year.

This raise must be made. All materials necessary for the production of a newspaper have advanced and although we have stood it so far we are compelled to raise our own prices.

However the subscribers are getting better value for the money now than ever before in the history of this newspaper.

When the present publisher of The Patagonian took charge of the paper one of the first things he done was to increase the size from a six column, eight page newspaper to a seven column, eight page newspaper, thus giving 8 more columns of reading matter. This change made The Patagonian one of the largest weekly newspapers in the State.

Readers of The Patagonian will want to keep in touch with national, state and local politics this year. The Patagonian is planning an extra good service of this nature and in conjunction with The Herald will keep the people of the county informed as to the latest developments.

Subscribers should make it a point to write a check now for another year's subscription to The Patagonian. Remember, the price will be $3.00 per year after September 1.

SON CONFESSES MOTHER MURDER AFTER FATHER IS HUNG FOR IT

TORONTO, Ont., July 24—Confessed murderer of his mother, the crime for which his father was hanged seven years ago, Arnel Love, 22, Ceylon, Ont., farmer, here lies in jail.

During evangelistic services, Love went forward and declared he clubbed his mother to death because she reprimanded him for "keeping bad company."

Love was one of the principal witnesses in the case against his father, who was convicted by a jury and hanged at Owen Sound, Ont., for the crime. While the evidence against him was mostly circumstantial, on the scaffold the father made what was then believed to be a confession of his guilt.

A.H. D'RIEMER TO MAKE RACE FOR CO. ATTORNEY JOB

Arthur H. DeRiemer, Nogales lawyer, has announced for County Attorney subject to the action of the Republican voters at the primaries September 7.

DeRiemer is one of the best known attorneys in the county having resided at Nogales for many years where he has a well established law office.

During the war DeRiemer was one of the first young men of Nogales to answer the call. He was made a lieutenant and served all through the struggle. He made a very creditable record and upon returning to Nogales entered into his profession once again.

Mr. DeRiemer is seeking the election as County Attorney on his ability as an attorney and his knowledge of law. He takes a great interest in the progression of the county and is well known throughout the state.

His announcement which appears in The Patagonian will be of interest to many voters who desire to see a man of his character and ability at the head of the legal bureau of the county for they know that the county's interest will be safeguarded against law-breakers and criminals.

FIGHTS WITH SNAKE

W. D. Gray, well known mining man, was in town Monday and told of an encounter he had with a big rattlesnake a few days before. Close to his camp there is a hill, and in this hill there is a tunnel, and into the tunnel he let his pet goat where it could find protection from an impending storm which was sweeping over the mountains. After securely tethering the animal to a stone in the back end of the tunnel he started out but was suddenly halted by a monster rattlesnake with wide open mouth and the rattles on the end of his tail making a noise that caused his hair to stand on end. The tunnel was small and the rattler was lying just inside, coiled and ready to strike, and the wicked look in its evil eyes brought terror to his soul. He could not retreat, and having no weapons with which to could defend himself he nearly lost his wits. Many a time, he said, he had heard the expression of "being between the devil and the deep blue sea," but now it was brought home to him in a realistic manner. Finally, becoming desperate, he pulled off his wide-brimmed hat and holding it in a position to protect his lower limbs as much as possible, (but fearful that the snake would strike him on the hand) he made a dash for liberty and escaped without a scratch, but is of the opinion that his hair is a shade whiter than it was when he entered the cave. Hurrying into his camp he seized his rifle and in less time than it takes to tell it there was a dead snake.

Former Army Officer Admits Murder Of Bride and Man In Fake Hold-Up

Carl Wanderer, war hero and winner of the Croix de Guerre and D. S. C. for bravery in action and promotion to a first lieutenant in the Seventeenth Machine Gun Battalion, is under arrest in Chicago on a charge of murdering his young bride and an unidentified man. Wanderer, in an alleged confession, declared he had wearied of the restraints of married life and the knowledge that a child was soon to be born turned weariness to hate; so he faked up a robbery and shot her. The former lieutenant is alleged to have admitted hiring a man whom he met in a saloon to play the part of a hold-up man in the vestibule of the Wanderer home in Chicago. When the stranger accosted them in the hall, Wanderer, according to his alleged confession, drew two revolvers and started firing. His young wife fell at the first shots, and when the police arrived, the bride was dead and the body of a poorly clothed man with a revolver beside it lay on the floor of the vestibule. Wanderer told the police that the stranger had tried to rob them and in the pistol duel which followed his wife got into the line of fire and was killed, after which he killed the stranger. Tracing the number on the revolver found near the dead man the police discovered that it had been purchased from the factory by Fred Wanderer, a cousin, from whom the former lieutenant had borrowed it. The photographs show the former lieutenant and his wife.

THREATENS NEIGHBORS WITH RIFLE, IS CHARGE

Harvey Stevenson, a farmer near Tubac, has given a peace bond of $1000 in the county of Santa Cruz to insure quiet between himself and his neighbors, O. E. Frizell and L. H. Miller.

It is reported the right of way over the Frizell and Miller property was violated by Stevenson thus causing these two men to padlock the gate which, it is alleged, was destroyed by Peterson.

It is also alleged that after an encounter in the road between the three men, Stevenson brandished a rifle threatening Frizell and Miller, who swore a complaint to this effect thus causing Stevenson to put under a peace bond of $1000 until the matter could be settled through legal channels.

S. F. Noon will represent Frizell and Miller while Attorney Kinder will defend Stevenson.

A CORRECTION

To the Patagonian:

Last week in speaking of the strike on the Gray property near the 3-k mine things got a little mixed owing to the hasty conversation. We did not wish to convey the idea that there was a large amount of high grade strike, but there are numerous high grade spots in a large surface showing, that have resisted leaching, and when the permanent sulphide zone is reached something considerable may be expected. This large surface showing is crushed and sheared and matted with silica. Such conditions have invariably made pay ore bodies in the immediate neighborhood.

STILL AT IT

The work of cleaning up Patagonia still goes on. E. H. Evans has had the back yard of the bakery building cleaned up until it scarcely looks like the same place. An immense amount of rubbish was removed and the place is now almost a fit place for a tennis ground. The Mexican family living in the adjoining lot caught the inspiration and made a good job in cleaning up. J. W. A GRAND OLD MAN ANSWERS LAST CALL

Jens Peterson, a native of Denmark, a sailor who had served all the way from cabin boy to master, and had sailed all around the world, left his native home at the age of 39 years, the exact year he came to the United States unknown. He and his partner, George Clark, had lived and prospected together since sometime in the seventies. He and Clark served in the Spanish-American war as packers in Cuba. They lived for many years in Salero and after disposing of their holding in Salero they established a camp in Wrightson district, known as the "American Boy" mine. These two men were at one time associated with the Crantz boys—Frank, Charlie and Bill—all well known in Santa Cruz county, and all of whom are now dead.

His partner, Clark, was accidentally killed last September by an automobile accident in Vancouver, B. C., while visiting relatives. It is said that Jens never recovered from the sudden shock and passed away on Friday, July 23, at his camp where he was buried according to his wish. At the time of his death he was in his eightieth year.

Mr. Peterson was a high-minded and warm-hearted man who won the esteem of all who knew him and the affection of those who were admitted into the circle of his friendship. He was admired and loved for his sterling qualities and throughout his long life never swerved from the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

JENS PETERSON'S FRIENDS HAVE WORD OF PRAISE

He was a man who filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was honest, clean and straight forward.

In his death our sorrow is heartfelt; but his memory will be ever encouraging and strengthening.

AT THE GOSPEL TENT

The meetings being held in the Gospel Tent by Evangelists Owen and Wallace are continuing every night with a good attendance in spite of the unfavorable weather. Next Sunday morning Sunday school will be held as usual in the school house after which Rev. Prior will preach in the tent. In the evening, Evangelist Owen will speak on "The Conflict Between Capital and Labor—A Sign of Our Times." CANTU RECRUITS ARMY TO FIGHT INVASION OF FEDERAL SOLDIERS

NEXICALI, Lower California, July 29—Troops were being recruited today by Esteban Cantu, governor of the northern district of Lower California, to repel what he described yesterday as an "invasion" of Lower California by Mexican federal soldiers.

Governor Cantu of Lower California must recognize the federal government of Mexico, according to a statement today by P. Elias Calles, Mexican Minister of War and Marine under President De la Huerta, and who left this afternoon in his private car with his family en route to Mexico City from Nogales, Sonora. He will travel via El Paso, Juarez and Torreon.

General Calles stated that all federal troops needed will be sent to subdue Cantu, if the Baja California governor refuses to recognize the central government. Fifty thousand federal troops if necessary will be sent to conquer Cantu, according to the Huerta minister of war and marine. The number of troops sent will depend wholly on Cantu's attitude, said Calles.

General Calles arrived last night from Hermosillo in his private car after an extended conference with Governor Borquez. He spent the night with his family at his home near the Nogales, Sonora, municipal building. He gave an interview to The Herald which covers a number of points of much interest to Americans. His statement follows:

"President De la Huerta has required that Governor Cantu of Lower California recognize the federal government. He seems to have taken the attitude that he is independent of the Mexican government. Unless he recognizes the sovereignty of our government we will take the necessary steps to make him do so.

"We will send all federal troops required to bring Cantu to our terms. We will send forty, or even fifty, thousand men if required. The steps we will take against Cantu depend wholly upon his attitude. It is up to Cantu.

Confers on Irrigation "I conferred with Governor Borquez regarding the developing of irrigation in Sonora. We hope to develop the entire state where irrigation projects are feasible. I have arranged with the governor for a personal bodyguard of 200 Yaquis to accompany me to Mexico City. They are now at Manzanillo en route to the capital. The Yaquis are all pacified and are contentedly settled in the territory where they live.

"On my way to Mexico City, going out this afternoon at 3 p. m., I will stop at Torreon. There, I will meet Villa and arrange for him to take up private life and go to work as the owner of a big ranch in the state of Durango. Villa will take his command to Torreon, accompanied by Gen. Martinez, my personal representative, and there await my coming.

"Villa surrendered according to the terms of the proposition I made him some time ago. This includes amnesty for himself and his followers. Each of the latter will receive a month's wages from the federal government at Torreon and railway fare from there to their respective homes. All will be free citizens with no charges against them.

Villa Goes to Ranch "The ranch on which Villa will locate and go to work was formerly owned by General Thomas Urbina, a former general under Villa, and now dead. Villa says the ranch was left to him by the general at his death.

PROBLEMS FACING STRICKEN WORLD

Shall Chaos or Reconstruction in Europe Follow the Great World War?

SOVIETS' MISUSE OF POWER

Conditions in Russia Under That Form of Government Not of a Sort to Commend Themselves to Thinking Men.

Article XXVII.

By FRANK COMMERFORD.

Soviet government has been a costly experiment. Russia is almost succumbing to the treatment; notwithstanding the "Red" army is meeting with success on the field, back of the army conditions in Russia are growing from bad to worse.

The "Socialdemocrat" prints some interesting extracts from the bolshevik budget for 1919.

According to this newspaper, the revenue for the first half of 1919 amounted to 28,500,000 rubles, and the expenditures to 50,700,000,000 rubles, so that the deficit for the first six months of 1919 of soviet Russia amounted to the enormous sum of over 22,200,000,000 rubles.

Money Expended Recklessly. The report of the bolshevik, Nemenzky, on the audit of the central soviet commission in charge of all textile factories, appeared in the "Sovetskaya Ekonomicheskaya Zhizn" of February 25, 1919.

Reorganize Polish Police Force. The British police mission which went to Warsaw under the direction of Gen. Sir Neville Macready, commissioner of the metropolitan police, has submitted some reform proposals which the Polish government has adopted and which will have the effect of remodeling the Polish police force after the style of the metropolitan police.

Spain Urged to Cut Exports. An editorial protest against the exportation of shoes, leather, foodstuffs, cotton and linen is published by Imparcial, Madrid. The newspaper gives statistics to show that while the exportation of shoes and leather from January to July 1918, amounted to 13,000,000 pesetas, during the same period in 1919 exportation of these articles reached a value of 72,000,000 pesetas.

Clemenceau Drops War Duties. Premier Clemenceau declared in an interview that he could not continue to represent the department of war in the chamber of deputies, adding that "after the effort of the last year I would be loath to start again on a task with a fear that my strength fail me before it could be completed."

Belgium Buckles to Her Task. Belgium is manfully grappling with the great problem of domestic reconstruction. Like practically every other country she is faced with a tremendous shortage of houses, besides her own great devastated areas which must in some way be rehabilitated.

Italy Urged to Join Russia. Deputy Ciccotti, in a speech before the Italian chamber, urged Italy to break away from the allies and associate herself with the Russian soviet government. This was the first declaration of the Italian socialists' policy toward the allies.

Woman's Body Found in Trunk. New York.—A shell of a woman's body, with every vital organ removed so as to make an autopsy impossible, was found crumpled in a small, cheap trunk, which had been lying in the American Railway Express Company's unclaimed baggage warehouse since June 17.

"Drys" Nominates Watkins. Lincoln—Ohio got its third presidential candidate for the 1920 election, when the Prohibition national convention nominated Aaron S. Watkins of Germantown, Ohio, after learning from William J. Bryan that he would not accept the nomination.

Where They Can Marry. First cousins may marry in Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Illinois, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Dad's Part in Game. One day when Herbert was riding with his father in his machine, he told Herbert not to forget to remind him of a certain errand. After going a little farther his father thought of another thing he wished to be reminded of. Herbert thought seriously for a moment and then turned to his father and said, "Well, dad, I guess you'll please have to remind me to remind you."

and the committee of factory workers is an ordinary occurrence," according to the bolshevik newspaper "Ekonomicheskaya Zhizn" of April 10, 1919. Workers Denied Right to Strike. The soviet have the whip hand in their controversy with the workers; they are the government and the "Red" army backs their decrees. There is a final court of settlement for all disagreements between the soviet and the workers. It is the "will" and the firing squad. The right of strike is denied the workers. Many of those who have dared to strike have paid for it with their lives. The workers are without recourse when commanded by the soviet. Whether or not they were the slaves of the machines before communism came, it is certain that they are now the slaves of the soviet and the capitalists who owned the machines, they had the right to strike for their rights. The soviet deprived them of this right.

The bolshevik Sosnovsky, reporting on the condition in the Tver province in the "Izvestia" of the provincial soviet March 9, 1919, wrote: "The local communist soviet workers behaved themselves, with rare exceptions, in a disgusting manner. Misuse of power is going on constantly."

The conduct of the soviet commissaries is a general scandal in Russia. Their conduct is described in No. 12, January 18, 1919, of the "Izvestia" of the provincial soviet: "The commissaries were going through the Tveritz county in sumptuous carriages, driven by three and often by six horses. A great array of adjutants and a large suite accompanied these commissaries, and an imposing number of trunks followed along. They made exorbitant demands upon the tolling population, coupled with assaults and brutality; their way of squandering money right and left is particularly characteristic. In some houses the commissaries gambled away and spent on intoxicants large sums. The hard-working population looked upon these orgies as complete demoralization and failure of duty to the soviet revolution."

These pen pictures of life in Russia under the soviet regime are not furnished by the enemies of bolshevism; they are the complaints of bolshevik leaders. Do we need a greater warning of the nature of bolshevism? (Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

NEGRO ADMITS SEVEN MURDERS

MOSE GIBSON CONFESSES TO HUNDREDS OF ROBBERIES OVER COUNTRY.

TO HANG SEPTEMBER 24

KILLED MOST OF HIS VICTIMS WITH HAMMER, HE ASSERTS.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 24.—Mose Gibson, negro, sentenced to hang for murder of Roy Trapp, Fullerton, Colo. rancher, has confessed to seven murders and so many burglaries he could not enumerate them, according to a telephone message received by Sheriff John C. Oline of Los Angeles county from Sheriff C. E. Jackson at Santa Ana. Sheriff Jackson has just returned from taking Gibson to the penitentiary at San Quentin.

Four murders to which Jackson said Gibson confessed were: Roy Trapp, rancher, Fullerton, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Erhardt, Phoenix, Ariz., last month. J. R. Revis, white restaurant man of Baton Rouge Junction, La., twelve years ago.

Sheriff Jackson later said the three other murders admitted by Gibson were those of a woman at Orange City Junction, Fla., killed in November, 1917; a watchman at a sugar mill at Gramercy, St. James Parish, La., murdered in November, 1916, and a storekeeper at Wagoner, Grady county, La., killed in November, 1916.

Admission that he committed "thousands" of burglaries, obtaining sums from a few cents to $100, was made by Gibson, according to the sheriff.

Gibson was arrested at Topoc, Ariz., for the murder of Trapp, and for an assault on Mrs. Trapp. He was brought here, pleaded guilty to the murder charge and sentenced to hang September 24.

While in jail here Gibson denied the Erhardt murders, officials asserted, but intimated he might make more admissions when he reached the penitentiary.

TRULY AN AWFUL THOUGHT Small Girl Feared She Had Somehow Overdone Matter of Praying for Baby Brother.

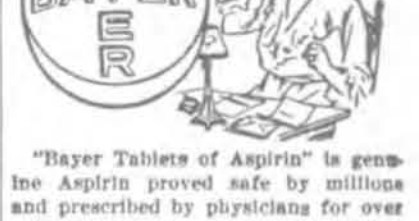

The little girl came home to her mamma very much disturbed because little Susie, her neighbor, had a new baby brother to play with, while she, herself, was very lonely. Her mother comforted her and told her to ask God to send her a little brother, too. So the child began to pray for a little brother, and occasionally got impatient; but her mother told her to keep on praying and perhaps her prayer would be answered some day.

One day she was called into the mother's room, and her delight knew no bounds when the nurse took a wee thing up from the mother's side and laid it in her arms. But a moment later, when the nurse picked up another bit of humanity, the child almost dropped the one she was holding, and a startled expression came into her face as she said:

"Oh, mama! Is God going to answer all those prayers that I prayed?"

FEW MARKS OF WAR IN HAMBURG

Streets Are Clean, Houses Freshly Painted and People Well Dressed and Fed.

BUT THERE IS MUCH MISERY

About 150,000 Are Out of Work, Prices Are High, Homes Scarce and Discontent General—People on Rations.

Hamburg.—Travelers from the United States landing in Hamburg find it difficult to realize that Germany has been at war for six years. The streets are clean, the houses freshly painted, and the people one sees in the streets look better dressed and quite as well-fed as the average person on the streets of New York.

The Hotel Atlantic is filled with Americans who pay about 20 per cent less for their rooms than they would in N. Y. York, although these rates are more than double that paid by German travelers. The restaurants and cafes, which are now open until eleven o'clock at night, are crowded with people who appear to have plenty of money. The women are plainly dressed, and the rich gowns of pre-war days have vanished. The Alster, a charming lake in the center of the city, is covered with small yachts, canoes and rowboats.

Clothing is very expensive, a business suit costing 3,000 marks, and a pair of shoes 500 to 1,000 marks. Wooden shoes for the poorer classes cost from 24 to 35 marks, and are much worn, especially by boys.

The government issues new paper money every day in 5, 20 and 50-mark notes. Business men have to carry pocketbooks the size of miniature valises to hold the bills.

The working men earn from 50 to 60 marks a day, which barely suffices to keep them and their families. Every citizen in Germany has to have cards for bread, meat, sugar, butter, margarine and soap.

Pork Sells at 20 Marks a Pound. Meat is 6 marks a pound, and pork 20 marks, butter 36 marks, eggs 1 mark 70 pfennigs each, and a com-

Indian Village 1,200 Years Old

Though American history dates back but a little more than four hundred years, there is a village in the United States that is known to be at least 1,200 years old. It is the Hopi Indian village of Walpi, on the government reservation in the Arizona desert. The village still stands on the extreme point of a perpendicular-walled mesa, 250 feet above the floor of Keams canyon. It was originally built in this unusual spot for protective purposes, and it would be quite impossible to scale the rocky cliffs if the Indians did not want you to do so. Walpi is 112 miles from the nearest railroad town, Holbrook, Arizona.

mon kind of bread 5 marks 4 pfennigs for a five-pound loaf. For Americans who get 40 marks for a dollar these articles are cheap, but for the German they are very dear.

Plenty of food of all kinds, including tea and coffee, can be bought by what is called in Germany the underhand system. The restaurants all have supplies on hand for customers who can pay high prices, and when the police hear any hotel or restaurant has too much food they make a raid and confiscate it.

The working people, and more especially the salaried educated classes, professors, school teachers, clerks, etc., cannot afford to pay for extra food for their families, and this is one of the chief causes of the present discontent which is prevalent throughout Germany. The only contented people are the profiteers, called "Schleichers," who rank from the millionaire contractors, who have licenses from the government to purchase entire cargoes as they arrive on ships or in freight cars on the railroad, down to the small "Schleichers" who makes a living by eluding the police.

Nearly everybody is trying to do a little profiteering to augment his income.

Strikes occur almost daily in Hamburg, as the workmen are continually demanding increases in wages.

150,000 Unemployed in City.

The rathaus, or town hall, which was spattered with bullets during the recent Kapp revolution, is now protected by barbed-wire barricades to prevent it being seized by another revolutionary group.

It is estimated there are 150,000 unemployed in Hamburg at the present time, of whom about 40,000 are sending men thrown out of work by the German merchant marine. They are paid 9 marks a day, which makes a heavy burden for the taxpayers, who will have to give up 40 per cent of their incomes under the new law coming into force soon. Several encounters have occurred in the streets between the unemployed and the Reichswehr, as the new soldiers are called, who wear gray uniforms and caps, carry rifles and short swords, and have orders, if attacked, to shoot and throw hand grenades and if necessary to use machine guns, which are always kept in readiness for an outbreak.

Some of the more desperate characters among the unemployed have formed themselves into bands and go around the city at night holding up people in their houses, in stores and on the streets. The Reichswehr have orders to line these bands up against a wall and shoot them when they are caught redhanded.

The housing problem is a very difficult one in Hamburg, as thousands of workmen have come into the city from the smaller towns with their families, the unemployed allowance being larger here than in their own districts.

The American Express company and the International Mercantile marine are the only American firms which have so far opened offices in Hamburg.

PIPE SNOW TO DESERT

Arid Wastes of Arizona Transformed by Engineer.

Charles H. Spencer Found Hidden Water Supply From San Francisco Peaks.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Solving a problem that for years had puzzled the greatest engineers of the country, Charles H. Spencer has brought billions of gallons of water to the arid lands of Arizona. The water comes from an underground flow on the snow-capped San Francisco mountains. The mountains, 12,611 feet above sea level, are of volcanic origin, and the total precipitation is equal to nine and one-half billion gallons a year.

Irrigation experts had sought for years to solve the problem of saving this water, which was going to waste, and which, when turned on Arizona's deserts, would mean millions of acres available for use. Mr. Spencer spent four years searching through the mountains, making careful tests and examining the rock formations.

His tireless labors were rewarded when he discovered a rim of dacite cement, which carried the water to the

A few days ago he gave his hens a ration part of which was sunflower seeds. Since then one of the hens has produced an egg with a perfect sunflower pictured in the shell. He has decided to name his place the "Sunflower chicken ranch."

Unlimited Opportunities for Future Development of Industry, Says Agricultural Department.

Washington.—The United States exported more than 300,000 pounds of rice to Japan during the first three months of this year, according to figures of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture. In contrast, less than a thousand pounds of this commodity were exported to Japan during the entire year of 1919.

The average rice exports of the United States to all countries during the period 1910-1914 were less than 20,000,000 pounds a year. Today the exports range from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 pounds a month. This enormous export business has been made possible by the development of the rice industry in California based upon experiments made by department of agriculture scientists in growing rice in communities where it was said to be impossible to grow this commodity. The first commercial field of rice in California was planted in the Sacramento valley in 1912.

Turkey's "Tree of Fate" Destroyed by Storm

Jerusalem.—A storm recently wrecked a tree known as "bulmi" (tree of fate), which stood outside the city walls and formerly was used as a gallows. Tradition has it that the end of Turkey would come when "bulmi" perished. To prevent destruction of the Ottoman empire from troops were placed around the withered trunk and the branches were supported by strong posts. All efforts to save the tree were in vain. Orthodox Turks are convinced that the empire of the Caliphs is doomed since "bulmi" went to pieces.

There are now a dozen rice mills in operation in the Golden state, which handled 21,000,000 worth of rice last year.

There is an almost unlimited opportunity for future development of this industry in the United States, say the department's specialists. The rice growers are most enthusiastic over the outlook, and declare that they are going "to touch the American people that rice is one of the finest foods in the world."

Peking, China.—The only United States marine in the world who has never seen the United States is on duty at the American legation here. He is private C. W. F. Childress, who was born of American parents in China. When he became of age a few weeks ago he decided to join the marines and enlisted at the legation.

Childress is a tall, good-looking lad who can speak the Chinese language like a native. His services as an interpreter are especially valuable to the marines. Through association with the marines and other American residents at Peking he is thoroughly familiar with the traditions and customs of the United States. He is looking forward to the day when he will see the country whose flag he serves.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

EATING.

THE question of eating is a very serious and unsettled one in Dreamland and about it the authorities dispute as acrimoniously as do those given to the eating habit in the world of realities over who is responsible for the present high cost of living.

According to some, to dream that you are eating in company with others, either at the family dinner-table or at a banquet, is a sign that you will be successful in profitable undertakings and that your surroundings will be pleasant and cheerful. The opposing school warns you to beware of attending a dream banquet as that signifies that secret enemies are plotting against you, recommending only a small family party at the table. To dream of eating at all, say some of the oracles, means that you are going to spend money foolishly, to which the other side retorts that every one loses, sometimes, spend money foolishly but not on the banquets of Dreamland, which are attended with profit and success. Perhaps the reason for this disagreement of the mystic authorities is that the old saying "What I one man's meat is another man's poison" holds good in the realm of shadow as well as out of it and that the phantom food of dream tables gives nourishment and strength to some egos while it gives others psychic indigestion.

As the authorities refuse to agree on the eating subject the reader must determine it for himself. The next time you dream of eating observe what happens and then say which school of mystics is right. As to different articles of food even the pessimists admit that it is a good sign to dream of eating broiled meat. Potatoes are looked upon with favor but the ban is placed upon turnips, as they mean quarreling, and salads are declared to be distinctly unwholesome. Oysters, especially if raw, are the most highly recommended of dream foods. Eaten in any form they denote friendship and if raw splendid successes. All the pessimists can say against them is that they mean that you are going to become a gourmand. Many hold that to dream of being at a banquet means that you will soon go on a journey or will change your residence or place of business. These same people say that while it is un-

THE WATERMELON

THE watermelon is a pleasing and harmless beverage which is 20 per cent water and 80 per cent seeds, much on the order of picnic lemonade. Owing to the lack of alcohol in the watermelon, it is much in favor with the clergy and can be shipped into a dry state without requiring the customer to swear that it is bought for medicinal purposes only.

Watermelons are grown largely in the South and are used to sustain and inflate the colored brother. When a greedy, wabble-jointed cotton hand has wrapped himself around a thirty-pound watermelon and settled back for a sonorous nap, he will look as if somebody had attached a tire pump to him and forgotten to shut off the engine. The look of perfect contentment which fastens itself upon the face of a Georgia darkey who has eaten six or eight two-story watermelons, seeds and all, is enough to cause a hardened dyspeptic to jump off the lake front.

The watermelon has been grown in this country for a hundred years and thousands have been eaten by our col-

Second Wind

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE race of Success is won just like any other race—on Second Wind. Second Wind is nothing more or less than reserve power responding and carrying one through to the end. Be a Second Wind Performer.

Some people never experience Second Wind—simply because they never put forth the necessary effort to enable them to draw on their reserve lung space. But the reserve is there just the same.

Be a Second Wind Performer. The successful man goes through all the little processes of failure and discouragement and defeat—then he gets his Second Wind—pushes all the setbacks aside, and carrying great momentum, he goes on and on. This is always the story of the one who has the courage and stamina to press on until the Second Wind is reached.

Be a Second Wind Performer. If you want to experience the delight and power that results from the acquiring of your Second Wind you have but to do more than you are told to do—more than you have to do. Second Wind comes through Initiative, Enthusiasm and Determination.

Be a Second Wind Performer.

Natural Science Note. Percival was enjoying a Sunday ride, and as he had only recently learned the names and characteristics of a few trees, he observed closely all the trees he passed. A peach tree in blossom caught his eye, next a honey locust with its many thorns, and then suddenly he straggled up and stared with astonished eyes at a gigantic tree trunk whose entire top was missing. "Oh, mother, see," he called excitedly, "there's a tree with no head on its neck!"

EDITORIAL

The Gainesville (Texas) Signal points to many vacant jails in that section of the country as indicating that the country is growing better. The moral conditions of many sections of the country are fine, but the truth must be told—in some sections the conditions are not good. The reasons are more than one. Salmon P. Chase is quoted as having said, "The worst effects of war come after the war; war always leaves an army of cripples, an army of exploiters and an army of loose women." If that was true after our Civil War, it was probably true of other wars. War unsettles not only the habits, but the manners of human kind. There is so much that we do not know concerning the well-springs of our emotions that it is impossible for even the wisest among us to analyze and isolate the causes of moral let-downs which come as reflexes of great disasters. But it is possible that the dislocations consequent upon the World War were and are, in America, more remedial than after former wars.

Mrs. Phillip Snowden, London Socialist, is quoted as saying that Emma Goldman told her many of the deported Russians who accompanied her back to the old home have been killed by the Bolsheviki. They must have indulged in free speech which is something no properly organized Bolsheviki will stand for.

The chief geologist of the United States Geological Survey, Mr. David White, estimates that there are only about 7,000,000,000 barrels of oil left in the earth in this country. Our annual consumption at present is in the neighborhood of 400,000,000 barrels, but Mr. White estimates that by 1925 it will have risen to about 650,000,000 barrels annually. At this rate our resources will be totally exhausted within fourteen years.

Maybe Cox-tail sounded so much like cocktail that the Democrats just couldn't keep from nominating him.

SIMILARITY OF KILLINGS LED GIBSON TO ADMIT 2 MURDERS AT PHOENIX

PHOENIX, July 24—Similarity between the murders of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trapp on a ranch at Fullerton, Calif., with a hammer and the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Erhardt here on the night of June 6, caused Sheriff John Montgomery of Maricopa county to telegraph to Sheriff C. E. Jackson of Orange county, California, for finger prints of Mose Gibson, negro. Press dispatches have said Orange county officials have what they say is a confession from Gibson that he killed Trapp and Mrs. Trapp. He has also confessed to the Erhardt murder here of last month. This confession was obtained the officials acting because of the similarity in the two crimes led them to question the condemned man. Gibson is under sentence to hang Sept. 24 in San Quentin penitentiary at San Francisco. Sheriff Montgomery acted after having received a letter from Charles Wright, formerly of Phoenix but now in business in Fullerton. Wright wrote that the crimes were so similar in some respects as to be worth investigation from that angle. Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt were attacked in their home in West Phoenix by a man armed with a hammer and so beaten on the head that they died. Jesus Maria Barboa was arrested near Patagonia soon after the Erhardt murders and was brought to Phoenix. Under questioning, he admitted according to officials, that he killed the Erhardts. Barboa was taken to the state penitentiary at Florence, Ariz., for safe keeping pending trial. Since his arrest doubts as to his sanity have arisen. Justin's cowboy boots can't be beat for men. Candidate for Mayor Horsewhips Opponent for Speech

DOUGLAS, July 24—When a man starts out to make campaign speeches in Mexico he is not as safe from a "come back" by his opponents as a politician on this side of the line. Last Sunday Pablo Gonzales, candidate for mayor of the municipality of Agua Prieta, made a speech at Colonia Morales in which he said some uncomplimentary things about Abraham Fraijo, his opponent. Partisans of Mr. Fraijo brought him word of the verbal attack and he decided to convince Mr. Gonzales that it would not be the proper thing in the future to become so caustic. Yesterday the rival candidates met in front of Jim Joe's place. Mr. Fraijo wasted no time in formalities, but used a horsewhip to dust the apparel of his opponent. He put "some steam" behind his blows and Mr. Gonzales, being arrayed in summer garb, took to flight after a few sharp cuts had been administered. It is believed by the people of Agua Prieta that there will be another clash between the men, and they are watching the candidates closely for the next move.

S. C. SHERIFF ANNOUNCES FOR STATE TREASURER

R. B. Earhart, sheriff of Santa Cruz county, has announced that he will be a candidate for state treasurer subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. As a result of the splendid rains which have been falling over this section of country for the past ten days or more the mountains round about have put on a robe of green which presents a very pleasing appearance to the eye and is especially gratifying to the stockmen.

HARDY IS OPPOSED TO MEN AT TUCSON MEET ENDORSING OPPONENTS

PHOENIX, July 28—Leslie C. Hardy of Nogales, Democratic candidate for attorney-general, opposing Wiley E. Jones and Louis B. Whitney, arrived in this city Tuesday. Mr. Hardy served for four years as an assistant attorney-general, resigning in 1916, and is the present county attorney of Santa Cruz county.

When asked concerning the endorsement of Wiley E. Jones by the Arizona Federation of Labor at Tucson Hardy said:

"It was quite interesting, if not amusing, to observe both my opponents, Mr. Jones and Mr. Whitney, bidding for the support of those so-called labor delegates. I did not attend the convention, nor did I bid for its endorsement, for I have no sympathy with their tactics or program. I am perfectly satisfied for both Mr. Jones and Mr. Whitney to become the candidates of these so-called representatives of labor. During their tenure in public office both have subjugated themselves to this element.

"I am convinced that the rank and file of the people of this state are opposed, not only to the methods pursued by these so-called representatives of labor, but also their program. I did not bid for this endorsement nor do I solicit this support. I want the people of Arizona to know that I am just as much opposed to those representatives who met in Tucson last Saturday as they are to me.

"The attempt of this same element that endorsed my opponent at Tucson to foment labor difficulties in the Salt River valley and elsewhere within the state should condemn their efforts to control the election of this state. I believe the welfare of Arizona demands that I fight them and their tactics whenever the opportunity presents itself, and I intend to do so."

As a result of a heavy rain up in the Patagonia mountains Sunday afternoon a head-rise came down the Sonoita creek late in the afternoon and several automobile parties were prevented from crossing until the creek had run down, about dark.

Frank and Lewis Wilson and Virgil Walker, three well known young men of Patagonia, departed for California Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. Chapman and Mrs. Nellie Bergier are this week visiting friends in Bisbee.

SAM CULLISON.

Synopsis—Adventurous and reckless, rather than criminal, and excited by liquor, Curly Flandrau and his chum Mac, both practically mere boys, become involved in a horse-stealing adventure. Dismissing of the stolen stock in the town of Sagache, Ariz., the band separates. Curly and his partner stay in town. They are awakened and told a posse is in town in pursuit of them. They elude their pursuers. Overtaken next day, Mac is killed by the posse and Curly made captive, after he has shot one and himself been wounded. The man shot is Luck Cullison, a former fighting sheriff. Cullison's friends, all cattlemen, determine to track Curly as an example to cattle thieves. With the posse around his neck Kate Cullison, Luck's daughter, says "No!"

She was talking their assent for granted. Now she waited and gave them a chance to chorus their agreement. None of them spoke except Maloney. Most of them were with her in sympathy but none wanted to be first in giving way.

She looked around from one to another, still cheerful and sure of her ground apparently. Two steps brought her directly in front of one. She caught him by the lapels of his coat and looked straight into his eyes. "You have changed your mind, haven't you, Jake?"

The big Missourian twisted his hat to embarrassment. "Sure. Whatever's right suits me." "Well, you know what is right, don't you?" "I expect."

CHAPTER III. The Cullisons, and Laura London. Curly was awakened by the sound of the cook beating the call to breakfast on a triangle. Buck was standing beside the bed.

shadow of a penitentiary sentence. The sun was shining out of a deep blue sky. The vigor of youth flowed through his veins. He was hungry and a good breakfast was before him. For the present these were enough.

"Me, I'm feeling a heap better than I was last night," he admitted. "Come pretty near losing you out of the cast, didn't we?"

"Might n't turned out that way if the stage manager had not remembered the right cue in time."

"You boys were asking that question about Soapy last night. They had a rope round my neck at the time. Nothing unfriendly in the matter, of course. Just a casual interest in my doings."

Cullison was looking at him with the steel eyes that bored into him like a gimlet. Now he spoke sharply. "I've got an account running with Soapy Stone. Some day I'll settle it, likely. But that ain't the point now. Do you know his friends—the bunch he trails with?"

Weariness still seemed to crouch in the cool eyes of Flandrau. "And if I say yes, I'll bet your next question will be about the time and the place I last saw them."

Kate picked up a photograph from the table and handed it to the prisoner. "We're not interested in his friends—except one of them. Did you ever see the boy that sat for that picture?"

"The print was a snapshot of a boy about nineteen, a bright-faced handsome fellow, a little sally around the mouth but with a pair of straight honest eyes."

Curly shook his head slowly. Yet he was vaguely reminded of some one he knew. Glancing up, he found instantly by the clue to what had puzzled him. The young man in the picture was like Kate Cullison, like her father, too, for that matter.

"He's your brother," the words were out before Flandrau could stop them. "Yes, You've never met him?" "No."

him holler to me to put my gun down, but the others blazed away at me." "And so you naturally defended yourself. Father wants it made clear that he feels you could have done nothing else."

"Much obliged. I've been sorry ever since I hit him, and not only on my own account."

"Then none of us need to hold hard feelings." The girl looked at her father, who answered her appeal with a grin and then she turned again to the young rascal a little timidly. "I wonder if you would mind if I asked you a question."

"You've earned the right to ask as many as you like." "It's about— We have been told you know the man they call Soapy Stone. Is that true?"

Flandrau's eyes took on a stony look. It was as if something had sponged all the boyishness from his face. Still trying to get him to give away his partners in the rustling, were they? Well, he would show them he could take his medicine without squealing.

"Your boys were asking that question about Soapy last night. They had a rope round my neck at the time. Nothing unfriendly in the matter, of course. Just a casual interest in my doings."

Cullison was looking at him with the steel eyes that bored into him like a gimlet. Now he spoke sharply. "I've got an account running with Soapy Stone. Some day I'll settle it, likely. But that ain't the point now. Do you know his friends—the bunch he trails with?"

he could not go back on his word. He and Maloney called together on the district attorney. An hour later Dick returned to the jail.

"It's all right, kid," he told Curly. "You can stake off the dust of Sagache from your boots till court meets in September."

To Flandrau the news seemed too good for the truth. Less than twenty-four hours ago he had been waiting for the end of the road with a rope around his neck. Now he was free to slip a saddle on his pony Keno and gallop off as soon as he pleased.

While he and Maloney were sitting opposite each other at the New Orleans Hash House waiting for a big steak with onions he asked questions. "I don't savvy Cullison's play. Why for is he digging up two thousand for me? How does he know I won't cut my stick for Mexico? Do you suppose Miss Kate made him?"

"I reckon maybe she influenced him. But why did she? You don't figure that curly topknot of yours is disturbing her dreams any, do you?"

"Quit your joshing and tell me why?" "I can't tell you for sure. But here's my guess. Don't cost you a cent if you ain't satisfied with it. First off, there was poor Mac shot by the Circle C boys. Course Mac was a horse thief, but then he was a kid, too. That worried the little girl some. She got to thinking about Brother Sam and how he might be in the same fix one of these days as you are now. He's on her mind a good deal, Sam is. Same way with the old man, too. I reckon, though he don't say a word, he decided Soapy Stone had let you astray like he's doing with Sam. It got to worrying her for fear her brother might need a friend some time. So she hauled over her wavy to the old man and made him dig up for you."

"That's about it. Tell me what you know of Sam."

"Sam is all right, but he has got off wrong foot first. He and the old man got to kind of disagreeing, for the kid was a wild cat. Come by it honestly from the old man, too. Well, they had a row one time when Sam got into trouble. Luck told him he never wanted to see him again. Sam lit off, and next folks knew he was trailing with Soapy's gang."

"Looks like some one ought to be able to pry him loose from that bunch," Curly mused aloud.

Third Party Movement Comes to Grief in Bolts and Spits.

PLATFORM PREVENTS FUSION

La Follette Declined to Lead the Radical Hosts—Labor and Single Taxers Nominate—Important Session in Chicago—Vermont Will Not Aid Suffrage—Germans Yield at Spa.

By E. F. CLIPSON. The movement to amalgamate various organizations of Socialists, farmers, laborers, intellectuals, radicals, single taxers, idealists and others sailing under different party designations, into a third party steered by the Committee of Forty-eight in convention at Chicago, failed. At one time prospects of fusion appeared rather favorable; when the 48ers marched in a body to the convention of the Labor party being held simultaneously, and amid a great love feast and every appearance of fraternity united the two conventions. Soon the Single Taxers, the Nonpartisan League, the American Party of Texas (former Governor Ferguson), the American Constitutional party (Hearst) and the World War Veterans, an independent organization of ex-servicemen, were in the fusion.

A platform carrying the principles, aims, demands and desires of all of them would have constituted a formidable paper shortage. It could not be framed, an insurmountable obstacle. "Chicago was along pink and red lines. Labor which was red—was not red—had the best working organization and pushed through the adoption of its plank, leaving little chance for the pink or parlor radicals led by Amos Pinchot, George L. Record and J. A. H. Hopkins. First the Single Taxers, who wanted only one plank and could not get that, bolted. Then Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, who was expected to be the messiah of the movement, found the platform too radical and refused to run on it. Then the fusion dissolved in bolts and sideways. Governor Ferguson went back to Texas, representatives of the Nonpartisan League announced they would have nothing to do with the new third party, the more radical of the 48ers were swallowed by the Labor party, the remainder withdrew, while the American Constitutional party was lost in the shuffle.

The Labor party and the Single Taxers solemnly proceeded to carry out independent programs and each nominated a presidential ticket. The only victory was achieved by the Labor party which captured Parley P. Christensen, an attorney of Salt Lake City, Utah, one of the original 48ers. Cleveland, labor leader of Cleveland, O., was nominated for vice president. Pennsylvania, falling to land its favorite son, Governor Sprout and Attorney General Palmer, as the standard bearers, respectively, of the Republican and Democratic parties, has achieved its ambition to have a presidential candidate, for the Single Tax party nominated Robert C. Macanally of Philadelphia, with R. C. Barnum of Cleveland, O., as a running mate.

After eight weeks of effort and the examination of several thousand conventions, a jury was finally secured and the trial begun in Chicago of William Bross Lloyd and 19 other officials and members of the Communist Labor party, charged with conspiracy to overthrow the government. Prosecution is by the state of Illinois and follows the action of a special grand jury which last January indicted the defendants, after a series of spectacular raids on their headquarters and meeting places by State's Attorney Floyd L. Wood. It is a millionaire resident of Winnetka, Ill., who long has been identified with radical movements in the capacity of leader and financial assistant. Indicted with him were members of the national, state and Cook county executive committees of the party, secretaries of local branches, members of the organization and propaganda committee, organizers and agitators. The trial is being conducted before Judge Oscar Hebel of the superior court and presents an array of legal talent such as never assembled before in a case involving radicals and their actions, unless the famous McNamara trial at Los Angeles be excepted. Legal counsel for the defense is Clarence Barrow, who occupied the same position in the McNamara case, and his principal assistants are William S. Everett, a famous criminal defense lawyer, and William A. Cunniff, prominent Socialist attorney and former candidate of that party for state's attorney of Cook county. Associated with Prosecutor Hoyne are the full legal strength of his office and eminent counsel from the outside, including Attorney Frank Comerford as special prosecutor. The latter in the past has been identified with some of the biggest labor cases on the defense side, this being his first essay at the role of prosecutor in an important trial of any nature. He is regarded as an authority on union and social problems, and returned a few months ago from a study in Europe of bolshevism and its effects.

The state secured in the preliminary sessions of the trial in securing the admission as evidence of acts and speeches of the defendants of a period prior to the passage of the state sedition law of a year ago. The prosecution is endeavoring to show that the defendants have declared themselves to be in full accord with the Moscow manifesto adopted in Moscow, Russia, by the third international congress in March, 1919; that the congress was composed of revolutionary socialists from Europe, Asia and America; that it was held for the purpose of formulating a manifesto or program which would outline the means by which constitutional governments might be overthrown and dictatorships of the proletariat established, and all nations governed from Moscow. Also that the Communist party is affiliated with the international body and is an integral part of the Russian organization; and that the defendants state in their platform that they are for the overthrow of the government of the United States. The state further contends that they advocate mass action. In other words, proceedings from the shops and factories to capture and annihilate the apparatus of government and that they tell the workers that the Constitution cannot be amendable in their behalf, and therefore must be destroyed.

The defense has not, at this writing, been outlined. Volumes of testimony are expected. It is the first case under the Illinois sedition law and if won will present that law as a model for other states as well as for congressional enactments. On account of the prominence of the defendants and the effect the decision will have on radical movements in general, it looms as one of the most important trials of recent years.

Gov. Fernelva W. Clement of Vermont has at last clarified his position in regard to the woman suffrage amendment, by refusing to call a special session of the legislature to consider or ratify the act; in spite of reports that he had been urged to do so by Senator Harding, Republican presidential candidate. Inferentially, the governor takes a rap at the Supreme court of the United States and also charges that there is too much lobbying in connection with constitutional amendments and other important legislation. As a reason for refusing to call a special session, the governor states that the present legislature was elected before the question of ratifying the suffrage amendment had arisen and the people of the state have had no opportunity to express themselves on the issue. He proposes that the matter be taken up by the next legislature and that candidates for election be required to declare themselves on woman suffrage. He alludes to the recent decision on prohibition by saying that the Constitution "as it is interpreted by the Supreme court today threatens the foundation of white-collar government." Governor Clement declares: "The sixteenth amendment to the Constitution (on federal income tax) had been lobbed through congress and the state legislatures by federal agents, and the eighteenth (prohibition) had been forced through by powerful and irresponsible organizations operating through paid agents and it is now proposed to force through the nineteenth amendment, for woman suffrage, in the same manner and also without the sanction of the freemen."

Whether there will be a coal shortage next winter seems to depend upon the coal supply and transportation situation. A national association of bituminous operators, recently assembled at Washington, gave out a statement that they were ready to load all cars offered but that the supply of cars at the mines had been only 35 to 40 per cent of the number needed. Accordingly, in spite of the pleas of building, road material and other interests, the interstate commerce commission continued in effect until August 29 the order confining the use of open top cars to coal, with a modification excepting flat cars with sides less than 36 inches in height, cars equipped with racks or cars which on June 19 had been retired from coal transportation and assigned to other service. The modified order also gives preference to shipments of coal to public utilities.

Contrary to all expectations, Orange-men's day (July 12) passed off quietly in Ireland with parades, speech-making and a celebration of some kind in every village, village and town in Ulster. The most important utterance, defying the Sinn Fein, warning the government and presaging future trouble, was made by Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader. It was generally a severe and light declaration and several notices on the government that if it did not accept the help Ulster offered, the Ulster volunteers would reorganize and take matters into their own hands. A significant declaration was that the Sinn Fein "must execute those guilty of murder before we will treat with them." Although not disorderly, it was a disappointment to those who hoped that a conciliatory note might be struck in the celebration. The most important thing that has recently occurred in Irish affairs and which is said to have made the government sit up and take notice as never before, is the threat of British trades unions, especially the miners and railway men, to take direct action for the purpose of compelling the government to call a truce, withdraw troops from Ireland and institute an Irish parliament. A resolution to the effect introduced in the Miners' federation is said to have been adopted on a card vote by 2,700,000 against 1,620,000 and to be backed by the railway men.

Germany's efforts to evade or secure mitigation of the terms of the peace treaty through the Spa conference have been characterized by the same tactics employed while the treaty was being prepared. Prior to the signing at Versailles came emphatic announcements that Germany could not or would not do certain things. Yet when the treaty was ready to be signed, she had been ready at Spa. The German delegates bluffed and then grumbled. They showed nerves and misery without evoking any pronounced sympathy from the other delegates. They pleaded poverty. They pleaded the inability of the government to combat opposition to the elements; yet up to this writing, they have yielded on all points. One provision of the treaty which the Germans have never fulfilled and seemed determined to evade, was that calling for the delivery of coal to the allies. The amount called for is about 2,000,000 tons a month. According to the German delegates, the country could not furnish this amount. They would suffer their territory to be occupied or even a resumption of the war in lieu of compliance. For nearly 24 hours there was a deadlock while the allied military chiefs were being summoned and preparations made for marching into Germany.

This action seemed to have the desired effect and there was every reason to believe that the Germans would try to supply the coal, with the allies lending them generous assistance in the matter of mine and better food for the miners and an arrangement of prices to conform with international markets.

"PICTURE BRIDES" TO COME

Those to Whom Passports Have Been Issued Must Be Admitted to United States. Tokyo.—The foreign office issued the following statement: "According to report from San Francisco the news that 50 picture brides were due to arrive in San Francisco July 29 seems to have been received with surprise, in view of the recent engagement of the Japanese government. The engagement referred to in the report, however, was not for prohibiting the departure of so-called picture brides after the end of February, but for stopping issuance of passports for that purpose after that date. The passports, once issued, being good for six months, it is to be expected there may be some picture brides getting to America as late as the latter part of August.

That point was made sufficiently clear of the American government."

West Is Magnet For Immigrants

Majority of Ellis Island Arrivals Drawn to Industrial Centers by Higher Wages.

IRISH GO TO NORTHWEST

Women and Children Predominate—Work Increased by New Laws Governing Aliens—Europe Loath to Let Them Go.

New York.—The stream of immigration flowing through Ellis island has been noticeably deflected from New York city to inland centers during the last twelve months, and officials give this as one explanation for the fact that the city's 1920 census was only 5,621,121 instead of the 6,100,000 expected.

Official statistics regarding the destination of arriving aliens are sent to Washington to be tabulated and digested. For this reason destination figures for the last twelve months were not available. One who most closely watches alien arrivals is J. F. Rowe, official money changer. He is quick to notice any unusual movement in the flow of immigration.

To the Manufacturing Centers. Mr. Rowe asserted that money exchanged for immigrants whose destination in New York city does not amount to 1 per cent of the amount exchanged for those giving other parts as their destination.

"In former years," said Mr. Rowe, "immigrants poured into New York city by the hundreds of thousands. They are now going to manufacturing centers such as Pittsburgh, Detroit and Akron, Ohio, or to the coal and iron mining regions.

"For the most part those arriving here now were in America before the war, and are acquainted with the country and attracted to sections where the best wages are paid. Before the war a majority of the arrivals had only hazy ideas as to where they were going or what wages they were to receive.

"Another interesting fact is the change of location of some of the races. Not so many years ago most of the Irish arrivals flowed into Massachusetts or scattered along the North Atlantic seaboard. Now they are going into Oregon. It is noticeable, too, that more aliens are going to California than ever before."

In January 24,000 aliens arrived here; February, 22,000; March, 20,000; April, 36,000; May, 40,000, and in June up to and including the 19th, 31,000. Superintendent Baker of Ellis island said this immigration was made up mostly of women, children and returning reservists. These latter are mostly Italians, and the figures for this month will show that most of those who left America to fight for Italy have returned.

The fact that no great number of male aliens is arriving here does not mean a lack of desire to come to America, the immigration officials say. Rather it means that European governments are not willing to further deplete the male adult population by allowing it to emigrate. The intending emigrant is finding it difficult to get passports under the new immigration laws. Also ship accommodations are harder to obtain.

Before the war from four to five thousand aliens arrived at this port each day, or about 150,000 a month. Notwithstanding the falling off in arrivals, however, Superintendent Baker said the work probably increased. This is because of the changes in the law. Not only do arriving aliens have to pass examinations as to moral and physical fitness, but they must pass a literacy test and be armed with passports vised by the American consular agent nearest their home and indorsed by the American authority at the port of embarkation.

Bridegroom, Only 105, on Belated Honeymoon

San Jose, Cal.—Charles H. Diamond, one-hundred-and-five-year-old bridegroom, and his seventy-four-year-old bride of Stevens county, Washington, are spending a belated honeymoon here. Because he's "getting a little old," Diamond decided to go through a second marriage ceremony in order that his estate might go to his wife.

Under amendments to the law certain persons are now exempt from the literacy test and all of these must be detained to prove that they are entitled to exemption. Again, many women and children are coming to relatives here, and these must be detained until such relationship is proved.

GERMAN MADE WRONG GUESS

Thought Pedestal at Metz Was Being Prepared for Return of the Kaiser's Statue.

A letter from Dr. Marcel Knecht of the French high commission to William P. Larkia, of New York, supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, narrates how one of the first German tourists to visit Metz since the city was recently opened up to visitation from its late owners, walked around the site where formerly stood the statue of Emperor Friedrich Wilhelm. He knew that the statue had been overturned and dismantled shortly after the armistice. But he saw workmen busily rearranging the turf-setting. "Ach," he remarked, with pious joy. "They cannot long deny themselves German art. They will put back the statue of the great Kaiser. That is good!"

"On the contrary," a native Metzian intruded. "We are going to install American art. An American sculptor's statue of Lafayette will replace the over-rated Kaiser. That is better!" Dr. Knecht says nothing of the Teuton's confusion but adds that the citizens of Metz are planning a gala day for the unveiling of the K. of C. statue of Lafayette next August.

RAIDS NET FORTUNE IN BOOZE

35,000 Gallons, Worth $1,000,000, Seized in New England Since January 1.

Boston.—Federal prohibition agents in New England have seized more than 35,000 gallons of liquor and alcohol, valued at $1,000,000, in raids conducted since January 1, according to William J. McCarthy, federal prohibition enforcement agent for this section.

In addition, thousands of gallons of beer containing more than half of 1 per cent alcohol have been confiscated.

The liquor is stored in eight warehouses here awaiting removal to Washington.

Mother Found Two Children Playing With Blacksnake

Missing her two children, Mrs. George Mead of Susquehanna, Pa., located them in a field nearby. Her four-year-old son was astride a blacksnake more than three feet in length, and his sister, Gladys, three years old, was striking the snake on the head with a switch.

The youngsters were laughing, and the woman said the snake seemed to be contented. The reptile glided away at sight of the mother.

TURKISH WOMEN BREAK CUSTOMS

No Longer Shy, Veiled Creatures, but Work With Men in Many Lines.

SPECIAL SEATS FOR WOMEN

Only the Very Old Men Rash Enough to Sit Down in the Same Car Seat With a Turkish Woman—Leaders Educated.

Constantinople.—Turkish women are no longer the shy, veiled creatures who passed their time in the seclusion of the harem and were never seen by foreign men. They still cling to the veil. But the streets in Constantinople and other larger Turkish cities are filled with women who have their veils thrown back from their faces. They are highly ornamental and becoming. Most Turkish women don't want to abandon them in favor of hats. But there are many sorts of veils and the smart, black silk veils which some of the women wear are very fetching when draped artistically over their hair.

Car Seats for Women. In the railway and street cars there are special seats for women, but the flimsy curtains which are supposed to screen them from the gaze of men are usually drawn back and it is not uncommon to see men standing in the compartments for women. Only very old men, however, are rash enough to sit down in the same seat with a Turkish woman. Turkish women seldom go to a theater where there are men. Special matinee and evening performances are arranged for women only.

The war has done much to break down the barrier between Turkish men and women. The women were needed so badly as nurses and relief workers that the government had to avail itself of their services. And now it is regarded as quite proper for men and women to be associated in all sorts of charitable and educational works. Consequently many women who were formerly forced to content themselves with seclusion in a home where fancy work and French novels were the only diversions are devoting their time to hospitals, orphanages and other philanthropic institutions.

Educated Women Leaders. Women who have been educated abroad or in the foreign schools in Turkey are the leaders in this movement for greater freedom for their sex. Their broad experience in war work has interested many women in politics, and they have openly played a great part in the nationalist movement. In the Constantinople American woman's college the Turkish girls take great interest in basketball and other athletic games, and the effect upon women who have come under foreign influence is making the old life of seclusion and inactivity unattractive to younger Turkish women.

According to a report of Earl Bowditch, city building inspector of Albuquerque, there has been a heavy drop in the number of building permits in the past month. Mr. Bowditch thinks the cause is summer hardship and the many labor troubles which have occurred in the city lately. Upon the completion of the abstract rolls it was found by the clerk of the board of supervisors that Gila county, Arizona has lost $19,088.80 in assessed valuation during the past year. She will recover.

According to Manager Yost of the Creamer Mill and Elevator Company at Clavis this year's crop is testing about 41 pounds and will bring $2.50 per bushel. The grain is of excellent quality and practically all of it is running under No. 1 test.

The date for the annual meeting of the New Mexico bankers to be held in Albuquerque has been definitely set for September 10 and 11. Sometime ago the committee on arrangements was appointed by the bankers and the convention dates have been announced by the committee.

The total valuation of railroad property in Arizona in 1920 has been placed at $101,064,550.00 by the State Tax Commission, an increase of approximately $1,000,000 over the tax valuation of the same class of property in 1919.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

At That, Marine Showed Praiseworthy Willingness to Obey Orders Captain Had Given Him.

Army water carts differ from one another about the same as, say, one egg differs from another egg—namely, in size. The number of gallons which each can contain is, therefore, stenciled on the top of it.

The captain of a marine supply company in France was inventing his carts and totaling the figures.

"Wilkins," he called to an idle private who hadn't had the sense to get out of the way, "get me the capacity of this cart."

The captain ran his pencil down the column of figures for several seconds, keeping one ear open for the result of Wilkins' research.

But no reply came from Wilkins. The captain glanced up to find all of Wilkins except the head protruding from the hole in top of the water cart. A desperate struggle with some unseen monster seemed to be going on inside the cart. Finally Wilkins' baffled head emerged.

"I felt all around the blamed thing, captain," he explained, "and I'll be hanged if I can locate that capacity anywhere."—Home Sector.

Woman's Heartlessness.

"I hear tell that Gabe Gawley is figuring on getting a divorce from his wife," said a neighbor. "What's the matter with her, anyhow?"

"She's plumb heartless!" replied Gap Johnson of Rompas Ridge. "He talked about some spring medicine and she up and told him that the best kind to suit his taste was a buck-saw and an axe. 'That there infernal lady ain't got no more feelings than a snapping turtle.'"—Kansas City Star.

Hobbies.

"Our friend has expressed himself too emphatically on one or two subjects to have a chance at a candidacy," commented Senator Sorghum. "He isn't even a dark horse. He's a hobby horse."

The Spell of Melody.

"Give me the man who sings at his work!" said the idealist.

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornsloss. "It's all right for a man to sing at his work, unless he insists on singing himself to sleep."

Where is Relief From Blazing Skin Diseases?

Must I Endure Forever the Torturous Itching?

The skin is fed from the blood, and upon the condition of the blood depends whether or not your skin will be healthy and free from boils, pimples, scaly irritations, red eruptions and other disfiguring and unsightly disorders.

The sensible treatment that will show real results is a remedy that will cleanse the blood thoroughly and kill the germs that cause the trouble. And for this purpose no remedy ever made can approach the record of S. S. S. which cleanses the blood of the disease germs, at the same time building up the general health.

Even More Serious. "Did you say that campaign manager used money?" inquired the harridan constituent.

"He did worse than that," replied Senator Sorghum. "He wasted it!"

Foreign and Domestic Complications. "Did you try any of these 'house brew' experiments?"

"Once," admitted Uncle Bill Bottletop. "The result was unsatisfactory. It turned out to be one of those near yeast problems."

Added 50% To Tire Mileage

A Boston tire dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Blow-outs have been eliminated.

Uniform mileage has been accomplished.

Only six tires in 1,000 come back for adjustment—only five Miller Cords in a year.

A Louisville dealer compared wear and mileage on 116 styles of tires which he repaired. The constant Miller supremacy has caused him now to handle the Miller Tires only.

A California stage line made million-mile comparisons with 21 leading makes. And the Miller won by long odds.

You owe yourself a comparison on your own car. The Miller is the tire of the day.

He is survived by his widow and two grown sons, both working on the railroad. Funeral arrangements are held in abeyance pending the arrival of relatives.

McADOO TO STUMP FOR COX

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 29.—McAdoo has announced he will deliver some speeches in behalf of Cox.

Huerta Minister

He will become an ordinary private citizen and promises to become one of the men who will help maintain peace in Mexico and upbuild the country after the years of warring.

"The sale of 'hard liquor' in Sonora will be absolutely prohibited. Gambling will be also totally prohibited. I am in favor of prohibition in the entire Mexican nation against the sale of 'hard liquors' and find that President De la Huerta is in accord with me on that point. We are working now to have legislation passed which will prohibit these liquors and all public gambling throughout Mexico. I think this step would be of great benefit in aiding Mexico to become the great nation she is destined to be.

Friendly Toward Capital

"There is a friendly attitude throughout Mexico toward Americans and other foreigners as well. All of these who come into Mexico and conform to our standards and behave themselves will be given protection and taken care of as far as the government is concerned. We welcome the outside capital needed to develop our country. This will also be fully protected as long as there is no just cause for doing otherwise. Mexico is going on a business basis and we will see that the country makes the most of the wonderful resources and great natural wealth of the nation.

"President De la Huerta has appointed a commission of four experts in Mexico City who are working on the establishment of a national banking system in Mexico, similar to that of the U. S. There will be no more fiat paper money issued. All such currency must be amply secured by a gold basis. Outsiders who come into Mexico with capital to invest will find the nation as safe and desirable a place to do business as any other country in the world.

All Mexico at Peace

"With the surrender of Villa all Mexico is at peace. The country will remain at peace, because we will keep peace even if we have to fight to do it. I anticipate that Cantu will soon recognize the necessity of according our government the recognition due.

"Whatever he does or does not do, you may rest assured that the federal government will not overlook any steps to see that he is brought to recognize the authority and existence of the central government of our country."

EDITORIAL

Self-importance is of no importance.

We have diagnosed the jealous disease of some of our acquaintances and have come to the conclusion that 50 percent of it is pure selfishness and 50 percent is plain cussedness.

We have often wondered if a woman who kisses another woman on the street gets a backslapping man who plants his row of fives on the back of another backslapper.

Repeated whippers continue to come to our ears that Peter J. Munch will have strong opposition in the primaries for State Auditor. Munch has been "sitting pretty" so far and has had the field all by his lonesome.

Sheriff Earhart of Santa Cruz county has given up the small fry and has declared for state treasurer on the Democratic principles. His opponent in the race is Sam Webb, present county treasurer of Maricopa county. Reports from Phoenix and other political centers of the state are decidedly in favor of Earhart who is likely to walk away with the nomination.

Mrs. Geo. B. Marsh who is asking the Democrats to nominate her as state senator, has left her opponent for the nomination, J. L. Schlemmer, a clean field for work. Mrs. Marsh has packed her kit and bag and has decided to view the battlefields of Europe. She is confident of nomination and evidently thinks it is so easy that no campaigning is required. Schlemmer is equally confident.

ADVANTAGE OF THE SILO

"There are many advantages in the use of the silo, but the principal one is that it provides the cheapest, easiest and most profitable means of storing a succulent feed for winter use," according to S. P. Clark, Extension Agronomist of the University of Arizona.

"It is also a means whereby a farmer can increase the number of cattle or sheep that he can carry on the farm. It usually takes the crop produced on an acre to feed a 1000-pound animal through the winter. The same amount of land planted to corn or sorghum and stored in the silo will feed three animals for the same length of time, so that three times as many head of livestock may be kept on the farm if the fields are planted to silage crops rather than kept in pasture.

"There are a great many localities in Arizona, both under irrigation and dry farming, where farmers could spend the summer months in growing a large amount of silage crops. In the fall they could buy the old cows or cheap canner staff from the large cattle outfits, feed them silage for a few months, and then turn them at a good profit.

"Owing to the nature and feeding value of silage, cheap or practically useless forage may be used to good advantage. Especially is this true where there is a large amount of straw to be utilized. An animal will consume much more straw when it is fed along with silage than when fed a ration of straw alone."

Navajo saddle blankets, sold by the pound, cut any desired length. Washington Trading Co.—Adv.

The rainy season is on in good shape in this part of Santa Cruz county and scarcely a day passes without a good shower and often a hard rain. The early crops are coming out and in most instances looking fine and many farmers are busy planting late crops.

Catarrahl Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrahl Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.
