TENT MEETING CLOSES ON SUNDAY EVENING

(Contributed) The meetings that have been conducted in the Gospel Tent for the past six weeks will be concluded Sunday evening, September 5. The attendance has been good in spite of bad weather part of the time.

Among the last subjects discussed was the perpetuity of the Law of God, and its binding claims upon the Christian today. (Matthew 5:17-19; John 2:3, 4). Another great example that Christ left the Christian was the Sabbath of the Lord (Luke 4:16). It is clearly taught in the New Testament that the Sabbath of the fourth commandment is as binding today as any other of the ten precepts.

Christ says in Mark 2:27, "The Sabbath was made for man." The word "Man" here means the human race.

Christ says in Mark 2:27, "The Sabbath was made for man." The word "Man" here means the human race.

The commandment to observe the seventh day is a part of God's law of ten commandments. This law was "commanded to a thousand generations" (Psalm 105:8). Jesus said, according to Luke 16:17, "It is easier for heaven and earth to pass than for one tittle of the law to fail."

BELIEF IS ONLY THING DEMOCRATS' LEADER HAS AS GROUNDS

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National committee, declared today on the witness stand before the Senate committee investigating the presidential campaign expenditures that he had no evidence to sustain any one of the charges made by Gov. Cox as to the Republican campaign funds or quotas.

White told the committee chairman, Senator Kenyon, that he believed the charges were true because he had confidence in Cox.

"I talked with Governor Cox last Sunday for a few minutes," said White. "At that time I asked him: 'ARE YOU SURE OF YOUR GROUNDS?'"

Governor Cox replied that he was and I then told him: "'YOU ARE THE BOSS AND YOU RUN IT!'"

White further declared on the witness stand that he thought the $2,000,000 campaign fund proposed for the Democratic national campaign for this year would provide for an adequate presidential campaign.

White said the only example of "similar influence" backing the Republican party of which he knew personally was the Republican year book being published by William Barnes. A discussion of the Barnes book disclosed that photographic copies of pledges of "moral and financial" support to the book, signed by prominent eastern men, including the Rockefeller family had disappeared from the records in which they were introduced, Monday.

A heated clash between Reed and Kenyon followed when Reed insisted on an investigation of the disappearance of the papers.

"Do you think Barnes' book is a more sinister influence than the circulation through country newspapers of propaganda favoring the League of Nations, such as this story of 'Uncle Sam of Freedom Ridge' and having it paid for by a particular political party and having the man who reads it not know that it is political propaganda?" Kenyon asked.

"I don't apologize for wanting to circulate that story," White rejoined. "The editor of a paper is responsible if he uses it. He isn't paid to print it."

Farm and ranch interests are in a flourishing condition in the valley and an optimistic feeling seems to pervade the very atmosphere. With good crops, good grass, fat cattle, good health and the entire community at peace with itself, how could the people be otherwise than happy? Perhaps no other community in the county has cultivated the social side of life more than San Rafael Valley, and the result is we all live together in peace.

H. B. Riggs, one of the busiest men in this community, has this week been rendering valuable service with the Washington Trading Co.

Howard Keene was in from his San Rafael Valley farm Monday and reported crops in a very promising condition. The fact that the farmers in that beautiful and productive valley never fail in producing good crops is evidence that it is one of the favored spots of Arizona. It is also inhabited by a progressive class of farmers and stockmen.

P. E. Smith, the Patagonia gardener, carried a truck load of vegetables to Nogales last Friday and another load Monday of this week. He had no trouble in disposing of these vegetables and was told by the soldiers that his tomatoes were the finest they had seen this year.

It is expected that the remaining counties will be heard from in the near future.

HAS FINE FARM

A. H. Oldwell is the proud possessor of one of the best little combination farms and gardens it has been our pleasure to see in a long time, especially when it is taken into consideration that his farming operations are carried on without irrigation. There are just about four acres in the tract and it is situated in the east part of town. It is almost unbelievable that one could raise such crops as he has with so much ease and depending altogether on the rainfall. He has corn, maize, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, beans, squash, cane, watermelons, cantaloupes, sunflowers, apple, peach and pear trees, and various other thrifty plants, vines and trees. Mr. Oldwell stated that if he were only able to install a small pumping plant his place could be made to more than support a good sized family. It seems almost a pity that such a rich and productive spot, where water is plentiful at only about twenty feet, should be producing only one tenth of what it would produce if irrigated. Just at this time when the wall of underproduction is coming up from all sections of the country it behooves all owners of even small plots of ground to practice intensive farming to the very limit. But of course this can be best done by placing the land under irrigation. There is big money in small farms if cultivated and irrigated in a scientific manner.

Messrs. J. D. Rountree and A. L. Kinsley of San Rafael Valley were here on business Tuesday.

Dr. Adkinson of Los Angeles and Rev. J. A. Prior of Patagonia were in the valley Tuesday in the interest of the new church building now in course of construction at Patagonia. Dr. Adkinson preached an interesting sermon to a good sized and appreciative audience Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mosler and sons, Wayne and Orman, motored over from Bisbee on Saturday and visited with the A. L. and E. L. Kinsley families until Monday.

Mrs. Orton Phelps of Mowry was a valley visitor one day this week.

B. Baldwin and son, Clyde, are hauling gravel for road improvement near the Nevius and Curtis ranches.

Otho Kinsley accidentally ran over and killed a fine dog belonging to George Ringwald and Otho is very sorry the accident happened.

Jeff D. Rountree and A. L. Kinsley were business visitors in Patagonia Tuesday.

Wilfred Kinsley of Canille visited relatives and friends in the valley over Sunday.

A. A. Trippel of Nogales motored through our valley this week, getting acquainted with voters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Whitman took a loaf of vegetables over to Greenterville a few days ago.

Lyle Sprung and wife, accompanied by her father, Mr. Fred Putman, took a trip to Nogales recently and were absent several days.

Mrs. R. E. Varner and daughter, Iva, are here from Pieher, Okla., visiting her mother, Mrs. P. A. Honnas. Iva will remain with her grandmother while Mrs. Varner will go on to Los Angeles and San Francisco for a short time.

The Ladies' Pioneer club met on Friday, the 27th, with Mrs. Fannie Barney.

Do not neglect or forget to vote at the primary elections Tuesday, Sept. 7. Vote according to the dictates of your conscience, but vote. By voting early it may aid in getting early returns.

C. H. Schultz is moving into Patagonia this week for the purpose of taking advantage of our splendid public school. He will occupy the Evans and Wilson house on the hill near the public school building recently vacated by Mrs. Francis. Mr. Schultz and his family will be valuable acquisitions to our town, and the Patagonian, on behalf of our citizens, extends to them a cordial welcome.

Frank Powers of the World's Fair mines was here on business Monday and states that the mining interests are taking on a more promising aspect and he looks for an old time business revival after the general elections. This is about what everybody thinks and the thoughts of "everybody" if directed in the right direction, usually spells success.

Do not forget to plant a few trees about your premises this fall.

Dr. Adkinson arrived in Patagonia Monday afternoon and delivered a very interesting sermon at the Gardner opera house at night. Dr. Adkinson is here at this time for the purpose of furthering the work on the new Methodist church now in course of construction, and he states that the outlook is very encouraging and it is hoped to have the building ready for occupancy in the very near future. He preached at San Rafael Valley Tuesday night and left Wednesday for the north.

VOTE FOR TOM MADDOCK FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

IS A VOTE FOR

Increased Federal Aid for Roads in Arizona;
Direct appropriations for reclamation projects the same as for rivers and harbors which do not have to be repaid;
Stimulation of production by high wages and hard work;
A National Board of Arbitration to enlighten public opinion in labor disputes;
The open shop;
The right of employees to form unions and of others to join them, or not, as they see fit;
Democratizing the Army and Navy;

Justice to the ex-service men; Care for sick and injured ex-service men;
Preferential duties on articles imported in American ships;
Preferential tolls for American ships using the American-built Panama Canal;
Non interference by the Government in ordinary commercial pursuits;
Elimination of price fixing by the Government;
Business methods in Government;
Opening surplus lands in Indian Reservations to settlers and prospectors instead of leasing it in tracts of 50,000 acres or more, or holding it for unborn generations of Indians;

Expose and prosecution of profiteers;
Requiring public officials to pay taxes on incomes the same as other citizens;
The immediate declaration of peace;
The protection of American citizens anywhere on earth;
Americanizing the League of Nations;
Preserving the independence of the United States;

Voters, where do you stand on these issues? Where do the other candidates stand? Let them declare. And when they do declare, look carefully to see which ones they have skipped.

Tom Maddock's record of achievement for the good of Arizona and the Republican Party in Arizona stand alone.

His platform is written in plain United States Language
No evasions. No sidestepping. HERE IT IS!!!

In announcing my candidacy for the United States Senate, subject to the Republican primary, I desire to state that I believe in:

ROADS

"The continuation of federal aid on highway construction by the passage of the Chamberlain bill or similar legislation, giving an advantage to the large public land states, in order to avoid federal aid discontinuing with this year's appropriations.

"The enforcement of the Wadsworth-Kahn bill providing for the distribution of excess war equipment to the states instead of its sale at reduced prices to favorite contractors and manufacturers.

RECLAMATION

"The consolidation of all government engineering work in a department of public work with a qualified official in charge, as provided in the Jones-Reaves bill, instead of the present system of many departments of government performing the same kind of work and the restarting of the reclamation of land under this department. The preparing of plans of government work well in advance so that it may be greatly increased in times of depression.

"The change in the present policy of the federal government in making direct appropriations for rivers and harbors in the east but requiring the return, with interest, of all federal funds spent on the reclamation of land.

"The securing of federal assistance for the reclamation of lands and control of floods in the valleys of the Gila and Colorado rivers and their tributaries; the cost of any large reclamation project is less than the price of one battleship.

LABOR

"The need of the stimulus of high wages and hard work to earn these wages, in order to increase production that all may have plenty.

"The appointment of a national board of arbitration to enlighten public opinion as to the merits of each side in industrial disputes and to suggest settlement, but not in compulsory arbitration, which is unenforceable against either labor or capital without slavery or confiscation.

"The open shop, i. e., the retention of the right of employers to hire and fire and employees to work or quit individually or collectively.

"The right of employees to form unions and other employees to join them or not, at the dictation of their own conscience.

ARMY AND NAVY

"The democratizing of the army and navy. A small standing army of soldiers, not servants. A large number of officers whose military education shall be supplemented by actual experience in civil affairs in the control of men engaged in transportation, construction, handling supplies, etc.

"The payment of wages in the army and navy equal to those received by equally skilled civilians.

EX-SERVICE MEN

"The passage of the Fordney American Legion bill to partly recompense ex-service men for the gross injustice shown in the pay given to them in comparison with that received by war workers employed by the government which, while requiring every sacrifice of the men in service, announced that it would so pay its workers that they would be exempt from the necessity of curtailing their personal requirements in the general reduction necessary to this nation.

"The principle that superior to this blanket assistance to ex-service men is the immediate realization by the government of its responsibility to intelligently look after those chosen by fate to make the special sacrifice to their country of their strength and health. It will not be well for our land when the next call comes if these are continued to be neglected. The healthy ex-service man is not afraid to fight for his livelihood in life's battles without more than an even chance but those sick and injured, while retaining their courage, have lost in the service of our country, their ability to compete in the daily struggle for existence.

"In protecting the government from fraud in its assisting those entitled to its help, by giving publicity to its actions in the community in which the recipient lives.

BUSINESS

"Preferential duties on articles imported in American ships or some similar subsidy to continue until American merchant marine can compete with foreign nations in the carrying of American products.

"Preferential tolls for American ships through the American built Panama canal.

"Restriction of government activities in industrial and commercial pursuits where supply and demand are natural and competition prevails.

"Elimination of price fixing by the government which has resulted in limiting production and exorbitant prices to the American consumer.

"The putting of business methods in government and the elimination of the control of business and finance by politicians.

"The expose to the public, and prosecution of profiteers wherever possible.

TAXATION

"The non-exemption of national, state, county and city officials from taxes or other obligations of citizens.

"A tariff that will make America a self-sufficient nation in an emergency and which will as well produce revenue with the least cost of collection.

"The abolishing of taxes (which under any system, finally fall upon the consumer), which in addition to the taking of funds from the taxpayer, require much of his time and attention to comply with the law and necessitates an expensive force to make these collections.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

"The immediate declaration of peace to conform official actions to actual conditions.

"The protection, by the government, of American citizens anywhere on earth.

"The formation or a amendment of the league of nations so that its action will be judicial rather than executive, in conformity with the actions of a majority of the United States senate.

"I believe that the president and the senate of the United States, both created by the United States constitution, cannot by treaty delegate their authority to a foreign tribunal nor transfer our allegiance to the edicts of a foreign congress without the consent of the American people. Governments are tolerable to a free people when they are regulated by the laws passed and enforced by their peers and equals. America, which threw off the yoke of foreign control nearly a century and a half ago, will not again seek it.

"I further believe that the composite American is better physically, mentally and morally than the average citizen of any other nation; as an example to mankind of what can be done, he is a more potent benefactor to the human race than he would be by sharing his all, under the orders of a league of nations, with the masses of the world's population, whose number is so great that our generosity would be insignificant when so divided."

THOS. MADDOCK.
