2000 MINERS IN COLORADO COAL FIELDS GO ON STRIKE

DENVER, Oct. 28—Operations in all but four mines in the northern Colorado coal fields ceased today as a result of the strike by the miners, for increased wages and a new working agreement according to reports.

Colorado rangers will be sent to the strike districts if disorders occur, it is announced.

About two thousand men are affected by the walkout.

J. C. Denton Estate In Court Valued, $125,000

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28—The estate left by Jacob C. Denton, for whom murder Mrs. Louise Peete of Denver was indicted yesterday, is valued at $125,000 according to a petition for letters of administration filed today at the county clerk's office.

U. S. LANDS IN ARIZONA OPENED FOR GRAZING CLASSIFICATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—More than 1,000,000 acres of land nearly all in Arizona, have been reported by Secretary Payne as classified during September under the law which provides for stock raising homestead of 640 acres or less. Relatively little of the land is public land free from claims, Secretary Payne said.

More than 2,000,000 acres, including 1,702,000 acres in Arizona were classified by the interior department during September under laws providing for entry of non-irrigable lands in areas of 320 acres. More than 6,000 acres in Wyoming were placed during the month within oil and gas areas under the oil and mineral land leasing law.

Rev. Mr. Hill, the new pastor of the Patagonia Methodist church, arrived here from Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by his family, consisting of wife and three sons and two daughters. This is quite a large and interesting family, indeed, and they have received a very cordial welcome. We are requested to state that there will be Sunday school at the school house Sunday morning at 10 a. m. and preaching at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m. A very cordial invitation is extended to the entire public.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle who recently came here from Chicago made a business trip to Nogales Wednesday afternoon and returned Thursday morning on the stage. Both Mr. and Mrs. Doyle declared that the scenery between here and Nogales cannot be surpassed anywhere, and stated that they had rather live in this country and barely make a living than to live in Chicago and be a millionaire. The trip was a complete revelation to them and they are both wondering whether or not the people who have resided here for any considerable length of time really appreciate the scenic grandeur of this most lovely country. There is scarcely a doubt but that Patagonia could be made one of the most popular resorts in the great Southwest if the proper efforts were made. Plant more trees.

Mr. Baker, living a short distance northeast of Patagonia, capture a huge Lobo wolf a few days since and had the hide on exhibition here Wednesday evening. The animal was caught in a steel trap, and was a fine specimen of his tribe.

Mrs. Isenhood this week purchased from Col. Richardson a small tract of acreage property situated just outside the city limits upon which she intends to start a poultry farm. It is a very nice location with an abundance of soft water easily accessible.

HEART FAILURE KILLS SELF-STARVED LORD MAYOR OF CORK ON 74TH. DAY WORLD'S LONGEST HUNGER STRIKE

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Oct. 25—Mayor MacSwiney died yesterday in Brixton prison on the 73rd day of his self-imposed hunger strike. His action is thus committing suicide was taken because he thought he thus advanced the cause of Irish freedom. His fast of 73 days is said to be the longest officially recorded by modern medical science.

LONDON, Oct. 25—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at Brixton prison at 5:40 o'clock this morning. Death occurred on the 74th day of the hungerstrike that eclipsed any in the annals of the medical world.

He was unconscious 36 hours and did not recover his faculties before he died.

His father, Dominic, chaplain and his brother, John MacSwiney, were with him at the end. They were sent to the mayor's bedside at 4:35 o'clock by prison officials when they thought death was approaching. Officials refused the brother the privilege of communicating with other relatives not present and said the chaplain and brother would not be permitted to leave the prison after the death until 6:15 o'clock.

The widow accompanied by her parents and the lord mayor's sisters came to the prison later. After the officials held an inquest today the body probably will be turned over to the relatives. The cause of the death was heart failure a statement by the Home Office said.

Lady MacSwiney Unable To Attend Funeral

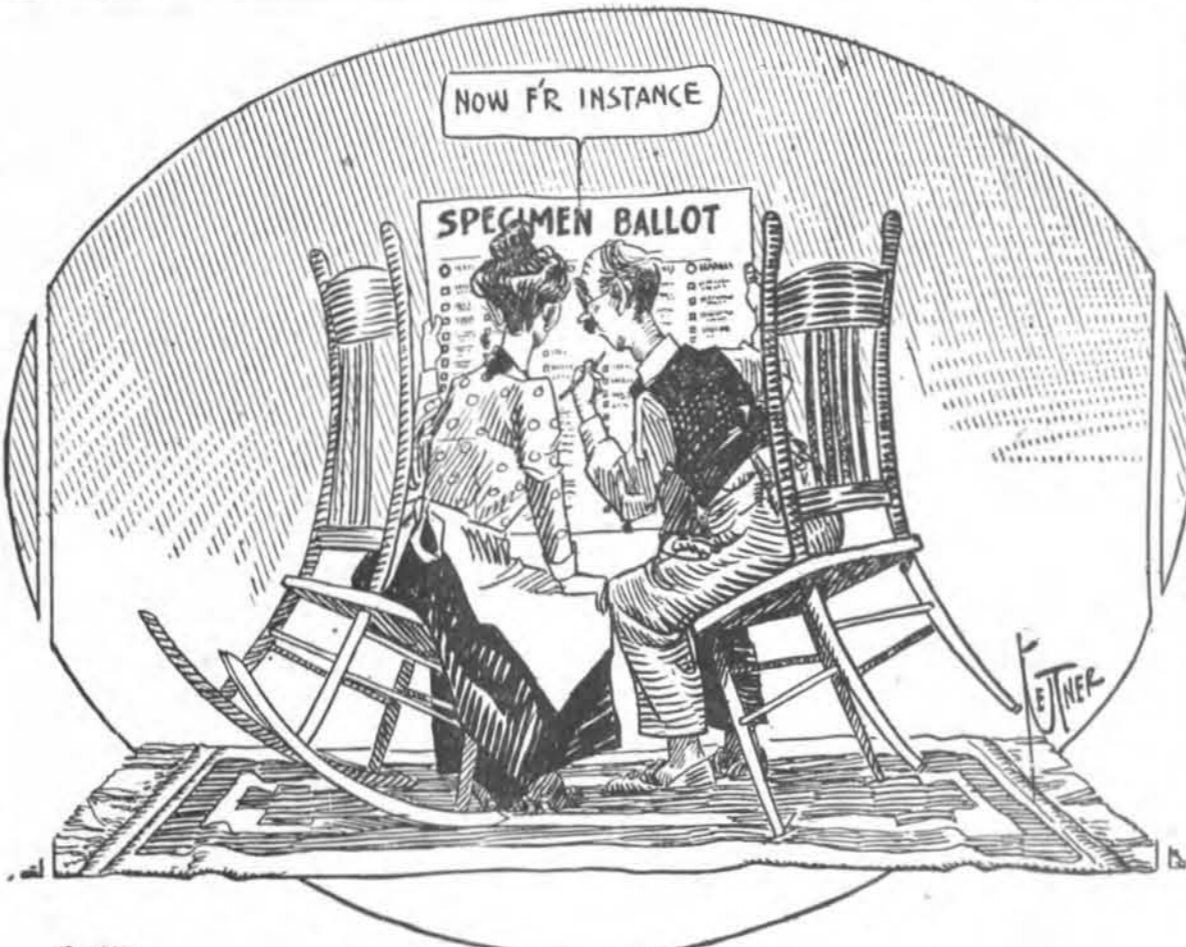

LONDON, Oct. 28—A pontifical requiem mass was celebrated today at St. Georges cathedral over the body of Terence MacSwiney, who died at Brixton prison, Monday on the seventy-fourth day of a hunger strike.

Church dignitaries, the lord mayor of Dublin, the deputy lord mayor of Cork and deputations representing the British parliamentary labor party and various Irish political and civic organizations attended. Other thousands thronged the vast cathedral.

Lady MacSwiney had collapsed from the strain of anxiety and was unable to participate in the ceremony. It is expected she will accompany the body to Ireland for burial.

Readers of the Patagonian are requested to read the display ad of the Loughnut Shop appearing in today's issue. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle, recently from Chicago, have opened up this very little resort in the Powers building formerly occupied by Mrs. Bennett as a confectionery. Already their fresh, hot doughnuts are going like the proverbial "hot cakes." We predict for them a prosperous business.

ANNIVERSARY EDITION

Business men of Patagonia should rally their advertisements in The Herald's Sixth Anniversary and Industrial Edition which will be given a broad circulation throughout the nation and on the West Coast of Mexico.

Patagonia will receive its full share of publicity in this edition and much space will be given Santa Cruz county's thriving mining city.

The anniversary number will be a resume of the growth of Santa Cruz county. It will also deal extensively with the wonders of Mexico's west coast.

Several Patagonia firms have already reserved space in the edition and others are expected to follow. Many Nogales, Tucson and Mexican business houses have also reserved space.

The edition will be issued next month.

Mrs. Wiseman, principal of the Patagonia public school, spent Saturday and Sunday with Nogales friends and relatives, returning Monday morning.

Mrs. C. L. Beaty of Elgin was here shopping Tuesday and reported quite a little snow storm over about Ft. Huachuca a few days ago. She also stated that there had been cattle buyers in the Elgin country during the past week who were offering about $33 for yearling steers.

A. A. Trippel, Democratic nominee for county attorney of Santa Cruz county, was in Patagonia Tuesday afternoon looking after his political affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason were in from the Royal Blue mine Tuesday. In casting about for a good milch cow the other day, Mr. Mason stated, he was offered one whose owner guaranteed would give two gallons of sweet milk, two gallons of better milk and one gallon of whiskey per day. He has the matter under advisement pending an investigation into the sanity of the man who would part with such a prize at any price.

Mrs. J. D. Rountree and Miss Pat Gates of San Rafael Valley were here shopping last Saturday morning, and motored on up to Sonoita and attended the fair and barbeque.

As a result of a slight indisposition Mrs. Francis was compelled to remain at home a day or two this week, and her daughter, Mrs. Gattin, handled the postoffice in a most satisfactory manner.

Charles B. Ward, an attorney from Phoenix, was advertised to address the citizens of Patagonia last night upon the League of Nations and the land issue, but owing to the fact that the Patagonian goes to press early Thursday evening it was impossible to get any kind of a report of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Young of San Rafael Valley passed through Patagonia early Saturday morning enroute to Sonoita where they enjoyed the fair and barbeque.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kinsley of San Rafael Valley were her shopping Saturday morning and motored an up to Sonoita where they participated in the fair and barbeque.

If the town of Patagonia ever develops into the beautiful and progressive town that nature intended it should, it will first have to be incorporated.

Sonoita Sayings

Ralph Barney has been visiting with his mother for the past week.

Mr. Davis of Phoenix, representing the Maricopa Creamery company, was in this section last week trying to locate some new cream customers. They have put in a new cream station at Benson with Charles Goets as manager. By this arrangement patrons are in no danger of losing cream cans, as they are weighed and tested at Benson and then returned to patrons the next day.

The early frost which visited this section last week caught a good many people napping and injured many fields of maize and other feed crops which were not yet fully matured but which would have made good feed had it been cut before the frost.

G. S. Bryant has a new silo about completed. Harry Riekwalt is helping him to dig and plaster it.

E. B. Miller has rented the Miller place below Patagonia and has been moving during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woods were down from Old Baldy to spend the 23rd at the Fair.

This section of the country was visited by a real snow Sunday morning, the 24th, the snow coming down real hard for about two hours but melting as fast as it fell.

Emma May Barney has returned to Nogales and resumed her duties at the bank after spending a two weeks' vacation with her mother, brothers and sister at their ranch.

Mr. M. N. Roust is enjoying a visit from a brother and niece from the East. They will spend about two weeks here after which they will go to Yuma and visit another brother. They are going to locate somewhere in Arizona.

The one day fair at Sonoita last Saturday was a great day and filled with thrilling adventures. The airplane stunts were among the leading attractions. Quite a number of people made flying trips with the aviators, among whom was Frank Neil who declares that it was a thrilling experience and fully worth the money. There was a big crowd in attendance and plenty of

MONKEY BITE CAUSES DEATH IN GREECE OF ROMANCE KING

(BULLETIN)

ATHENS, Oct. 26—The throne of Greece will be offered to Prince Paul it is officially announced today.

ATHENS, Oct. 26—Many difficulties regarding the succession to the Greek throne will result from the death of King Alexander last night. Every indication is the throne will be offered to Prince Paul, third son of former King Constantine.

But as a condition, Constantine must formally abdicate and Prince George, the elder brother of Prince Paul, must renounce all his rights of succession.

MINING NOTES

The unwatering of the Sweet shaft of the Consolidated Southern Arizona Mining company is just completed. This shaft was unwatered about fifteen days ahead of schedule time. This apparent "good luck" was due primarily to the steady and sufficient crew that were operating the plant. C. A. Pierce states that "every man knew his place and was "on the job" all the time. Some people call this "good luck," but it was the work of a "good crew," and that is where the credit usually belongs when a wet shaft is unwatered without much "grief."

The workings are now being mapped out and sampled, after which development work will start.

Dan Dawson, who is operating the Dixie mine, adjoining the American Boy, will soon start bringing in a shipment of lead-silver ore from that property.

The collection of ore specimens for the state fair was recently enlarged by a fine specimen of calcite from the Andes mine of R. R. Richardson.

HALLOWE'EN DANCE

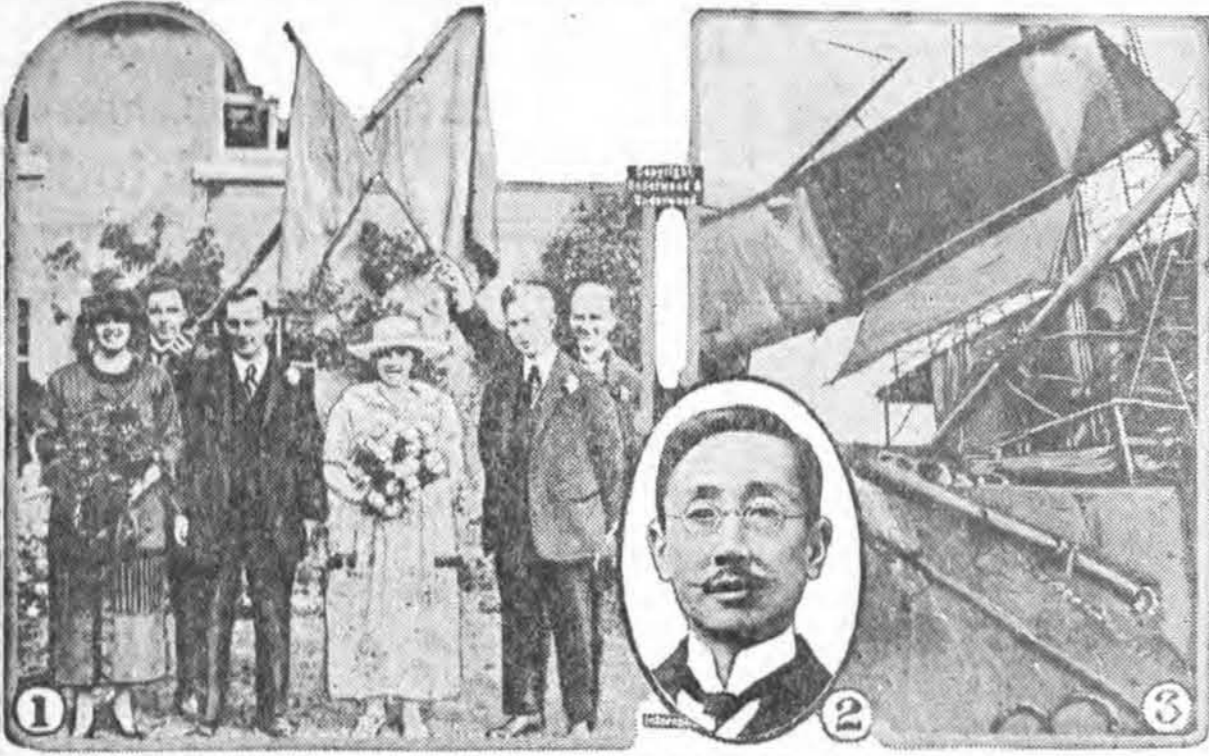

The big dance of the season is to "happ'n" on the night of October 30th. It is to be a Hallowe'en dance, given for the benefit of the Chautauqua. The best of music has been obtained for the occasion. Arrangements have been made to have the hall warm and comfortable and the floor in good condition. While this is not in the nature of a political dance, yet representatives from both parties will be present, as everybody will be "on deck" to enjoy a good time. Admission to dancers will be $1.50. Dance will be from 9 p. m. to 3 a. m., and longer if desired.

There will be box suppers to auction off and others to sell at $1.00 per box, containing supper for two. Steaming hot coffee at all times after lunches are served. It will be a big night and everybody will be sure and not forget the time, place and date: Patagonia, Gardner hall, Saturday, October 30th. Starts at nine o'clock.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Campaign of Assassination is Making the Irish Problem More Difficult.

ASQUITH ASSAILS PREMIER

Large Part of the Island Faces Blockade—Poles and Russians Sign "Peace Without Victory"—American Agricultural Producers Object to Lower Prices.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

The Irish problem, instead of approaching a solution, seems to have taken a new lease of troubled life, and the woes of the Emerald Isle are increasing instead of diminishing. This deplorable fact is due directly to the campaign of murder, arson and intimidation that is being carried on by what Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, calls the inner circle of assassins. The daily and nightly assaults on the police and other officials of the British government provoke the latter to bloody reprisals which are to a considerable extent condoned and excused by the government. Premier Lloyd George made a speech at Carharvon which was interpreted by his opponents as a justification of the reprisals. He said that 238 policemen had been shot, of whom 100 had been shot dead, and the patience of the police had given way, with the result that they hit back. Lloyd George declared that if, as was contended, there was war in Ireland, then the war must be waged on both sides. But when policemen were shot in the back by Sinn Feiners the premier said, it was not war but murder. He asked whether, under the system of terrorism which made it impossible to obtain evidence, it was any wonder the police shot the murderers.

Herbert H. Asquith, former premier, who sees a chance to return to power, declared Lloyd George's speech was a "condonation of the heinous policy of reprisals," and another part of it he construed as "repudiation, root and branch, of dominion home rule." He is rallying all anti-government forces for a fight, as soon as parliament opens, over British government in Ireland. Before that time the delegation from the Irish peace conference is to be received by the premier, and it is believed he will then make a new offer to Ireland. Meanwhile the government, says Sir Hamar Greenwood, is determined to crush the campaign of assassination, and if necessary will increase the police force in the island to many thousands.

One threatened result of the campaign of assassination is the virtual blockade of a large part of Ireland through a withdrawal of the mail and telegraph service and the entire closing down of Irish railways. This would mean widespread distress and heavy loss to farmers and traders. Whenever parties of troops present themselves for conveyance the rail workers refuse to operate the trains, and the railway directors now have agreed on the instant dismissal of these men. The carrying out of this policy probably will result in the cessation of railway traffic within a month.

The British secret service believes it has proof that the Irish "republic" is being aided, financially and by the distribution of arms and the organization of an espionage system, by the Red organization headed by Victor Kopp, soviet envoy in Berlin. Kopp handles funds from Russia and organizes propaganda through newspapers and agents, and the secret service says it has established the connection of this intrigue with revolutionary movements in Ireland and other parts of the British empire. A dispatch from Paris says Sinn Fein agents have been trying to purchase submarines from Italy and France, but were told that Great Britain would consider the selling of submarines to them an act of war.

SEE DOOM OF BOLSHEVISM

Confidence Expressed at Washington That the Movement Will Collapse During the Coming Winter.

Washington.—There is expectancy on the part of both State department and diplomatic observers here that bolshevism in Russia will collapse in the coming winter, and American officials are most interested in what may take its place. Reports to the department indicate that there is a recrus-

The signing of a peace treaty and armistice by the Polish and soviet Russian delegates at Riga, reported a little prematurely last week, took place on October 12. The armistice was to become effective at midnight October 13. Joffe, head of the soviet delegation, described the peace as "a peace without victory and without vanquished," and disinterested observers at Riga agreed that that described it. Hence it was predicted that the pact would not be very pleasing to either the Poles or the Russians.

A peculiar complication in the affairs of that part of Europe arose through the seizure of Vilna, the capital of Lithuania, by troops under the command of General Zeligowski, who resigned from the Polish army before the occupation. His force is made up of both Poles and Lithuanians. He established a council of six in the city, and that body is planning a provisional government for central Lithuania pending the question of the self-determination of the inhabitants of that district. The Polish government disapproved the occupation of Vilna by Zeligowski, the Lithuanians were said to be mobilizing for the recapture of the city, and it was reported that representatives of the League of Nations might be asked to straighten out the situation.

As has been said before, the Russian soviet government is now free to devote all its strength to the crushing of Baron Wrangel in south Russia. But the baron is wasting no time, and late dispatches from Constantinople say his Dnieper river campaign is making excellent progress. He had just captured two Bolshevik battalions, occupied two important towns and destroyed a large munitions plant. The report that Makno, the guerrilla leader, had deserted Wrangel is confirmed, but several of his bands have been routed. Semenov, the Siberian anti-Bolshevik leader, has given his adherence to Wrangel and asked orders from him.

Every day brings its batch of reports of mutinies and revolts against the soviet rule, and in London it was believed the downfall of the Lenin and Trotsky regime was near. Serious fighting was said to be taking place in Moscow, the troops storming barricades in the streets. Bolshevik efforts elsewhere were collapsing. The Armenian and Georgian armies were preparing to unite to defend the two republics against the Bolshevik Turks, Tatars and Azerbaidjanians. France and Turkey have made an agreement by which the French will police Adana, Tarsus and Mersone for the protection of Armenia.

Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary has told the Russian Bolshevik foreign minister that the British naval forces have been ordered to attack on sight any Russian submarines encountered on the high seas—this because leading members of the soviet have declared that government considers itself in a state of war with Great Britain.

The various factions of the Italian Socialist party, assembled in convention, have been having a struggle for control. The moderates appear to have the whip hand and have refused to let the party commit itself in favor of soviet rule for Italy. The conference voted solidarity with Russia but the majority stood fast against the Communists and made it plain they wanted no repetition in Italy of what has happened to Russia. Their leaders declared the Russian difficulties came from the rottenness of the present regime and that the Bolshevik government would be unable to transport products to other countries even after the blockade is lifted. Later in the week Socialist leaders and those of the General Confederation of Labor published a joint manifesto ordering demonstrations in every town in Italy to force the government to recognize soviet Russia. They said a general strike of rail workers had been arranged.

England's labor anxieties were centered on the action of the coal miners whose delegates, after rejecting the wage proposals of the mine owners, decided that notice of a strike, given some time ago, should expire on Sat-descent of Zemstvo power and functioning, and it is hoped from these organizations may be evolved a central authority which will obtain the support of all the people.

There is a possibility, it is pointed out, that anarchy might attend the death of bolshevism in Russia and conditions throughout the soviet areas become worse, even than they are today. It is considered questionable, however, whether it would be expedient for the powers to intervene in Russia, although there should be general chaos and anarchy, as a strong faith is felt in the genius of the Russian people and their capacity to set up their own government without foreign interference or assistance.

Reports reaching the State department indicate that Gen. Wrangel is receiving the support of the masses wherever he goes in south Russia.

A keyless padlock is opened by gravity. To open you must know exactly what angle to hold it at while manipulating.

That the price reduction movement which appeared to be really started recently would not please everyone was a certainty. The trend "back to normal" made a hit with the consumer, but not with the producer. Now the latter is protesting vigorously, the lead being taken by the growers of wheat, cotton and tobacco and the live stock men. The wheat men want $3 a bushel and the cotton men 40 cents a pound. Leading agricultural producers met in Washington, voiced their griefs, talked of a farmers' strike and adopted resolutions severely criticizing government financial authorities and calling on them for aid in bringing about higher prices. Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina urged that the farmers curtail production and withhold their crops from the market until prices were satisfactory. For this he was criticized by Benjamin C. Marsh, secretary of the Farmers' National council, who said:

"We must guard against some of the wild statements made here. There is no panic. Let's get away from Bolshevik statements."

"I was astounded when Senator Smith suggested that the farmers strike, for that's what it amounts to. If I am not mistaken, he voted for the bill to make strikes by labor a felony. When senators get up and say they don't understand the federal reserve act, I think it is time we should get a few farmers in the senate. The farmers are not going to stop producing, but the farmers can call the bluff of the federal reserve board."

Dr. W. J. Spillman, former chief of the board of farm management of the Department of Agriculture, said: "It is quite clear that the federal reserve board and the secretary of the treasury are using the authority placed in their hands for the purpose of manipulating the market."

Next day W. P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, conferred with the producers and undertook to pacify them. He urged them to keep cool, and expressed the belief there will be a reaction from present low prices. He told them he favored putting their crops on the market gradually. He warned against any attempt to withhold commodities, and pointed to the recent financial panic in Japan and the present Cuban sugar situation as examples of what might follow efforts to boost prices to artificial heights.

Through Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau, Governor Cox has challenged Senator Harding to a joint debate on the issue of the League of Nations at any time and place convenient to Mr. Harding and the Republican campaign management. The Democratic managers pointed out that both candidates would be in Ohio during the closing weeks of the campaign, and thought the debate might be easily arranged.

RAILWAY SPANS GREAT DESERT

Road in Australia Crosses Inhospitable and Waterless Stretch of Country.

TOOK FIVE YEARS TO BUILD

Daring and Skill of Engineers Conquers Most Desolate Waste in World—Heat and Insects Make Life Unbearable.

Melbourne.—When the Prince of Wales decided to make his recent journey from Perth to Adelaide by means of Australia's first transcontinental railway, it was a compliment to the daring and skill of the Australian engineers who conquered one of the world's most formidable deserts.

It was the late Lord Kitchener who suggested the line, pointing out that for strategic and other reasons western Australia should be linked with the other states of the commonwealth by an iron road.

But the great Victorian desert lay between, a barren, inhospitable and waterless stretch of country. Not a rivulet is to be found in the whole of this vast region. It is one dreary expanse of sand and limestone rock, relieved here and there by salt-bush, which even cattle refuse to eat. Worse still are the intense heat and the blood-sucking insects which abound.

Five years were required. The fact meant a five-year battle against terrible odds. It was only completed just before the armistice.

The survey work alone occupied two years, and cost £20,000, the total expenses of the undertaking amounting to over £7,000,000. Camels had to be requisitioned to carry the surveyors and their stores. The chief engineer records how it was impossible to use ink, as it instantly dried on the pen and the leads dropped out of the shriveled pencils. To secure relief from the rays of the midday sun they had to bury themselves in holes in the sand, where they were attacked by fierce insects.

The steel having been decided on, the route rails were laid simultaneously from each end across the desert. As the country was for the most part

Resorts That Have Bulk Large in Traditions Will Soon Be Only a Memory.

"OWL" IS THE LATEST TO GO

New Government of Mexico Frowns on Gambling and Other Evil Conditions Along the International Boundary—Orders Clean-Up.

Mexical, Lower California.—One by one the resorts whose names have bulked large in the traditions of the West are meeting an end. Latest to go is the "Owl" at Mexical, which its operators and officials of the Cantu regime in Lower California freely admitted had paid large sums for permission to operate.

In the Owl were to be found all the attractions that went to make up the typical dance hall of frontier days. The building itself was new, the "old Owl" having been destroyed by fire last February, but the traditions of the place were much the same and those familiar with the older establishment were at home in the new.

A Busy Place. The old Owl was a huge, barn-like structure. Gaming tables and some pool and billiard tables, surrounded by high seats for spectators, occupied its front spaces. Along one side ranged a lengthy bar, where in busy time ten or a dozen bartenders were no unusual sight. Further back was a stage with flimsy scenery, curtained "boxes," that were strongly reminis-

OLD CHANCERY INN FOR SALE

Famous London Building, Six Centuries Old, Will Be Offered at Auction.

London.—After six centuries the historic Clifford's inn, oldest of the nine inns of Chancery, is to be offered for sale by auction.

The first authentic record of Clifford's dates back to 1310, when it was granted to Baron Clifford by Edward I. It was first let to students of law in the reign of Edward III.

In the quietest old hall Sir Mathew Hale and seventeen others sat after the great fire of London in 1666 to adjudicate upon claims of landlords and tenants of burned houses. There are preserved in the British museum forty thick volumes recording their decisions.

Belongs to the "Old School." Connorsville, Ind.—A woman called for jury service in a magistrate's court here refused to serve. She said she had dishes to wash and housework to do and if forced to serve she would not return a just verdict.

Tea Drinking Keeps Up

Decrease in Imports Due to Surplus Which Accumulated During War.

Washington.—The reduction in the quantity of tea imported into the United States last year was not due to a falling off in the consumption, as erroneously reported, says George F. Mitchell, supervising tea examiner of the bureau of chemistry, but to the surplus supply brought in during the war and to high prices in the tea producing countries. As it was, the amount imported was slightly more than the normal annual importations before the war though less than during the conflict and the tea was the finest on record.

The large importations during the war were due, according to Mr. Mitchell, to the fear on the part of the tea importers that an embargo would be placed on importations later. Last year with supplies on hand the importers resisted to bring in additional expenses of the undertaking amounting to over £7,000,000. Camels had to be requisitioned to carry the surveyors and their stores. The chief engineer records how it was impossible to use ink, as it instantly dried on the pen and the leads dropped out of the shriveled pencils. To secure relief from the rays of the midday sun they had to bury themselves in holes in the sand, where they were attacked by fierce insects.

The steel having been decided on, the route rails were laid simultaneously from each end across the desert. As the country was for the most part flat, and not a river or a noticeable hill intervened, little grading work was necessary. It was simply a case of making an even bed on which the sleepers were quickly laid. Then came the placing of the steel rails across them by means of a track layer, and spiking and bolting them.

Very trying, however, was the heat, particularly during the summer months. It was often impossible at midday to touch the steel rails or handle a shovel without fear of blistering the fingers. The men had to be provided with rubber gloves to enable them to handle their tools, and also to save their finger nails from splitting, and wear masks as a protection against the insects. Life was only made possible by a liberal daily supply of ice, obtained from the refrigerating cars attached to the construction trains which followed them.

Discover Water. At intervals of 50 miles or so, water tanks were built, the intention being to use these in connection with the working of the trains. They were to be supplied with water pumped from the reservoirs at Kalgoolie. But after two and a half years' work, during which the track had progressed at the rate of about a mile a day, the engineers realized that if a really efficient service was to be maintained the proposed method of obtaining water would have to be modified.

So they set for a boring plant, and at a point 350 miles from Kalgoolie began boring for water. Everyone shook their heads, declaring there was no water in the whole of that barren land. But at a depth of 1,300 feet water was found.

This discovery of water not only relieved the engineers of considerable anxiety and greatly lessened their work, but it has changed the whole aspect of the country. Sheep now graze along the track, which a few years ago was a barren waste. Experts declare that the once formidable desert will become a great grazing country, carrying at least 3,000,000 sheep.

SEVERE ON TOURISTS

Many Travelers Take Ships to Marseilles or Venice to Escape Arguments at the Frontiers.

Constantinople.—Nine visas are required to carry a traveler from Constantinople to Paris on the Oriental express, and the task is so great most travelers take steamers to Marseilles or Venice in preference to the jumbled rail trip across the Balkans, which necessitates endless controversies with officials at various frontiers.

An American going to Paris by rail must start with the visa of the United States consulate on his passport, then go to the Swedish legation to get the Bulgarian visa. The Serbian stamp is next in order. It must be followed by three Greek stamps.

Then visas must be had of the Italian and the French military controls. Many passports are not large enough to carry all the stamps. An Englishman who recently attempted to get the collection on an old passport exhausted all the blank space in four calls. His embassy would not permit him to attach a blank sheet to his passport. Consequently he had to have a new one issued and started over again on the round.

Since the Polish disaster, bolshevik agitation has become so acute in Turkey that travelers are watched more carefully than ever before by the allied officials.

On a recent passenger ship from Batum, a so-called Russian colonel, whose conversation with British officials showed a decided ignorance of military affairs, was arrested. He had five passports in his trunk, with great quantities of soviet literature in many languages. The bogus colonel was sent to General Wrangel in the Crimea.

Business men and others who do not believe in advertising should consider for a moment what vast fortunes have been acquired by the judicious and persistent advertising of grape nuts, Quaker oats, rolled oats, Uneda biscuit, oat meal, cream of wheat, pork and means (minus the pork), the devil's ham, etc. Now they are going to begin advertising rice as a food throughout the United States. That will start the people to eating it. Rice has never been advertised as these other foods have been, and it is no wonder its value as a food is not generally recognized. Without advertising, John Wamamaker, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward and many other big catalog houses would never have been heard of. Systematic advertising will benefit any legitimate business ever undertaken. One thousand dollars properly expended in advertising Patagonia as a summer and winter resort would more than likely bring thousands of dollars to this community.

Reports have it that the sugar refineries have lost exceeding $250,000,000 by the continued decline in the market. But the sugar refiners are no worse off than the sugar growers, and the sugar growers no worse off than the cotton growers. Naturally enough the world cannot change from high to low gear without slackening speed. There is a world-wide reaction against the price standards set under the artificial stimulation of the war, and those who refuse to recognize this, or who are unprepared for it, cannot hope to stay the ebb tide. The sugar refiners are among the keenest and most far-sighted business men in the world, yet they were caught with warehouses jammed full of raw sugars bought at high prices. The day of wildcatism is drawing to a close, and conservative business men are beginning to recognize this fact. Play safe even if your profits are not quite as big as they have been in the past.

Jack Gray, a farmer living near Chandler, Arizona, has been experimenting with coffee growing this year, and is very well pleased with the result. Last year the government sent him a small shipment of seed and requested him to plant same and report the result to the department of agriculture. Next spring he will plant about half an acre to coffee and his experiments will be watched with great interest by other farmers in all parts of the State.

It is said that Arkansas has the least graft in public offices of any State in the Union, and it also has the widest publicity laws of any State in the Union regarding the actions of public officials and the expenditure of public money. Public officials, nor anyone else, are not going to "blow in" the people's money if they know the people will find it out.

If we are going to plant trees in the public school grounds this fall it is now time to prepare the ground. This is a matter which should no longer be delayed. We owe this duty to the town and to the pupils of the public school and we should not shirk the obligation which rests upon us and leave it to future generations. Let us set an example that future generations will be glad to follow.

A good reason why it is all right for a woman to carry a mirror in her purse is because she can see what she looks like when she's broke.

Another thing we have to be thankful for is that it isn't going to take much of our earnings to pay our income tax.

Italy is still subsidizing bread to keep it in the reach of her citizens, but they are reported to be able to finance their own wine.

Do not fail to plant more trees this fall. There is no better investment.

Come to Patagonia but don't bring your grinch with you.

Ben Powell brought in the biggest wagon load of the biggest pumpkins the first of the week we have seen in many a long day. They looked more like the products of New England than of the arid west. But unlike New England, Arizona produces a good quality of coffee and tobacco. Come to Arizona.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 76c.

TYPICAL PROGRAM FOR STATE FAIR ON MEXICAN DAY

PHOENIX, Oct. 25—When at the State Fair one hears a childish treble quavering, "Mileche! Mileche!" and turns to see a small child attired in native Mexican clothes waving a fan over heaps of molasses candy, know ye it is Mexican Day in the Americanization department.

Mileche will be sold on the street corners as one of the attractions on the Mexican Day program. Homemade tortillas and enchiladas will also be dispensed to visitors, according to Mrs. F. C. Green, arranging the program and Mexican exhibits.

The program will consist of native songs and folk dances, together with orchestral selections by the Mexican orchestra of Phoenix, Maria Vendrell will sing the national air, and her little sister, Amanda, 11, will give native dances in costume. The program will probably be given in the morning and repeated in the afternoon.

Mrs. Green spent years among Mexican people, having lived and taught in their country eight years. She will be able to give this department little intimate touches to show really representative life of our neighbors to the south. Mrs. Green teaches the Mexican class here in Americanization. The class meets in the Lincoln School and is well attended by young men and women eager to learn more of American ways. Samples of the work this class is doing will be on exhibit at the fair. Each member will write in his best English a composition on the work he is doing, whether it be tailoring or cotton picking.

It is the aim of the department to show as much of the arts and crafts of Mexico as can be gotten together for exhibition. Many of the members of Mrs. Green's class are writing to relatives below the border for examples of pottery, scrapes, embroidery, and drawn work. Pictures of Mexican heroes together with their histories, and as many photographs of the country as can be secured, will help to make this exhibition one of the most interesting at the fair.

RECRUITS FOR GERMANY IN U. S. ARMY NOW BEING SOUGHT

Recruiting for the Army of Occupation on duty in Germany will be resumed on Nov. 1. For the infantry 200 men are needed, of whom 12 must be clerks, but only recruits of a high type, who can be quickly trained, will be accepted. When 300 infantry vacancies were thrown open on October 1 they were filled up so quickly that these enlistments for Germany had to be closed on October 6.

Equally popular is army service in Hawaii, and as a rule few recruits can be accepted for duty there. The 13th Field Artillery has left the United States for service in the mid-Pacific, and enlistments for this regiment are authorized in orders issued today.

In the old army new recruits had no choice of a regiment, or any particular station. A recruit may today pick his regiment or the part of the world where he wishes to be sent.

RESTITUTION STATE LANDS AS FRAUD IS PROVEN--TOM.

ROUGLAS, Oct. 27—Eight hundred people heard Governor Campbell here last night, when he declared that if re-elected he would use the full power of the governor's office toward cleaning out the State Land Department. If fraud is found to have existed in any sales of public lands, he will force restitution.

This declaration followed reading of letters and affidavits tending to show that at the sale of State Lands in Cas Grande valley there had been collusion to prevent competitive bidding. Lemuel H. Matthews charges that Ben. Clark, chief assistant to Land Commissioner Moeur, who conducted the sale, was aware of this, but proceeded with the sale. He says the result was that 10,000 acres were sold at an average of $5 per acre, which land is now held by the buyer at from $30 to $60 per acre.

"Fraud, under the law, never dies," said the governor, "and investigation reveals fraud, and there will be a searching investigation if I am re-elected, restitution shall be made."

WHY THE SLUSH FUND?
"Is this what the land grabbers fear, that the Arizona Cattle Growers' association must need raise a slush fund of $100,000 to encompass my defeat, to hire high priced criminal lawyers to take the stump in an effort to besmirch and cloud the real issue?"

"They can't do it. The acts of the Department made this issue and the people will never rest until their heritage has been restored to their control and wrested from the cattle oligarchy which, not content with controlling practically all the State Lands, is now reaching out to control the very government of Arizona as well."

Gov. Campbell pointed out that the cattlemen's candidates, Simms, Jones and Ross, are seeking offices which, if they are successful, will not only give the land grabbers control of the State Land Department but the executive administration of the state as well.

E. S. Clark also spoke on national and state issues, declaring the people must re-elect Tom Campbell governor unless they wish to see the state government turned over to the cattlegrowers' association.

CONFIDENT CO. DIVISION WILL BE DEFEATED

GLOBE, Oct. 27—That the heaviest vote ever polled against an initiated bill in this state will be cast against the county division measure next Tuesday is the confident opinion of members of the State Anti-County Division Association, an organization formed solely to fight the bill.

A score of members of the association, who have been making a tour of the state during the last few weeks, report that in no place, other than Miami, where the measure originated, did they find any sentiment in support of the bill. To the contrary, they said, every locality in the state appeared bitterly opposed to the measure because it would, if adopted, take away from every county in the state the right to vote on the question of county division.

In addition to denying every county as a whole the right to vote on whether or not it shall be hacked to pieces, the measure, if adopted, would also utterly make it impossible for seven counties in Arizona, whose valuation is less than $10,000,000 each, to be divided, no matter how great the need for such division and no matter if every voter and taxpayer in them wanted county division.

Counties of $40,000,000 valuation or more would be deprived, by the measure, of the right to decide whether they were to be divided or not which they have under the present law. But any section of these wealthy counties, no matter how small, would be given the power to vote itself into a separate new county, provided only that such a section must have a valuation of $20,000,000 or more and leave a valuation of not less than $20,000,000 in the original county. This clause, it is pointed out, would permit the tiny but extremely wealthy districts now bearing the greater proportion of the taxes of their entire counties, to withdraw with the greater proportion of the original county's total valuation and only a tiny proportion of its area.

There Is No Justice

In a proposed law that would take away the right of all the people to vote on anything that concerns all the people.

"Self---Determination"

Is being carried beyond its extremes when any selfish set or section uses it as a cloak to cover up an attempt to bring higher taxes and hardship upon the majority of people in order that just a few might reap profit.

There is no "Justice"—There is no "Self-Determination"—There is no desire for "the rule of the majority" in the initiated county division measure.

—BECAUSE—

That measure was designed to rob the people of their right to vote on the life of their county—It would change that right to a privilege to be used at will by selfish interests for selfish purposes!

The present state law gives EVERYBODY concerned the right to vote on county division whenever it may become an issue.

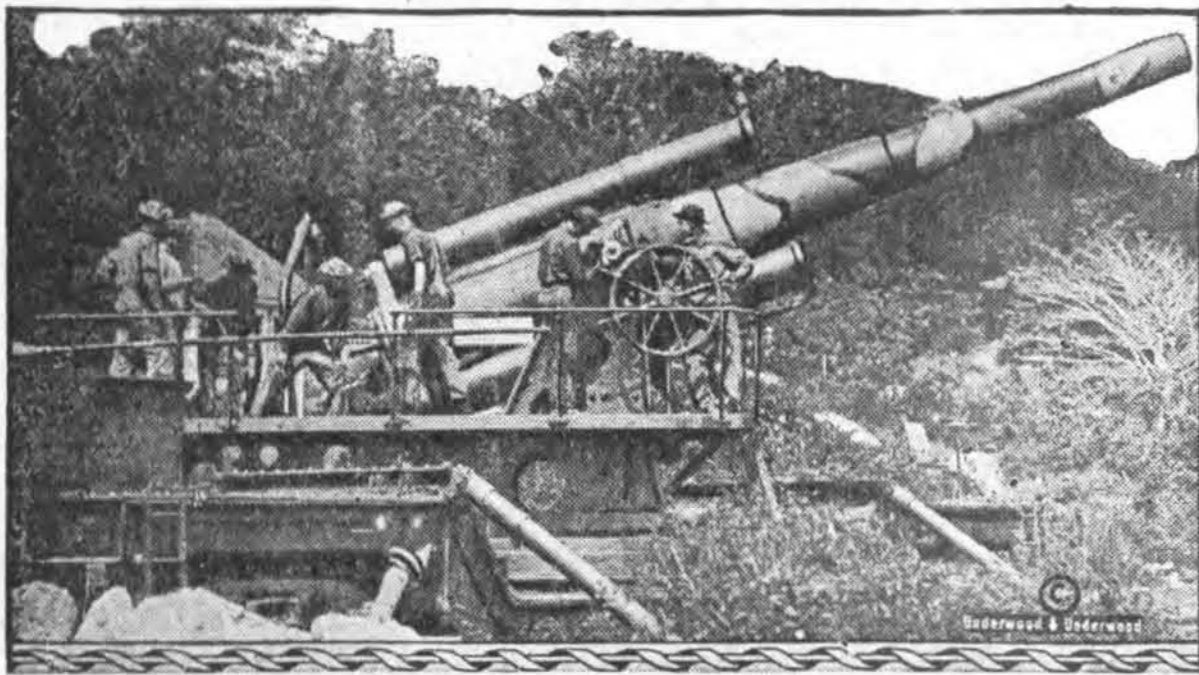

THE INITIATED COUNTY DIVISION MEASURE WOULD TAKE AWAY THAT RIGHT!

Protect Your Vote! Swat Selfishness!

Stratford Is the Place of Peace

Shakespeare's Old Home Casts Softening Spell Over Its Throngs of Visitors.

RESTFULNESS IS ITS LURE

Voices of Strangers Are Not Lifted in Hilarity—Villagers Enjoy and Appreciate Shakespeare—Many Americans There.

Stratford-on-Avon.—The poet of Shropshire has given his high metrical authority to the statement that the quietest places under the sun are in that county; but he refers to places only, and obviously is not thinking of towns, of which the quietest under the sun is surely Stratford-on-Avon. It assimilates its visitors without noise, much as Shakespeare himself comprehends the heights and depths of human life easily as to the manner born.

There are plenty of strangers here this summer, but they do not make a crowd and their voices are not lifted in hilarity. Perhaps they are under the softening spell of genius. The nearest approach to merriment I have yet noticed, however, was in front of the birthplace. It was already full of sightseers, and a little throng awaited entrance on the pavement. Among them was not one "in the learned way," as Boswell puts it, but the whole company bore the plain, sturdy, bucolic stamp. Dressed in their customary Sunday suits of solemn black they revered the immortal memory with contrasted cheerfulness.

In the train from London a Frenchman on holiday asked me for advice on motor traveling between Stratford and Leamington. Having just four hours to spend in Stratford he was proposing to see all the sights, to attend the summer festival matinee of "As You Like It" in the Memorial theater, and to catch a glimpse of Warwick on his way back to the railway. Evidently Americans are not the only folk who can hustle. He might have been reassured on the motor question. Such is the enterprise in this direction that it is calculated that sixty char-a-bancs and the like stay in Stratford every day. They take their passengers to the many delightful towns and villages in the neighborhood and bring in the inhabitants of spots which would otherwise be remote.

Villagers Enjoy Shakespeare.

A large proportion of the audiences of the summer festival are villagers, who have learned to rely on the motor as a means of conveyance, and they do, I am assured, really appreciate Shakespeare. Not only that, but they possess an inborn aptitude for Old English dances and pageantry. The stories one hears of Maypole and Morris dancing in some of the villages suggest either that Shakespeare's England has never died, or has been revived by the agencies that aim at resurrecting the drama in the countryside. But it should not be concluded that these village festivals are manufactured by artistic labor. On the contrary, they are described as the spontaneous sports of the young in which the old are not afraid to join.

Stratford itself has more than one open place to which a Maypole would seem no alien addition. From time to time much has been said and written of its commercialization. With some, the memory of Shakespeare may have become a trade, like aluminum or any thing else. Others have shown how little they fear the intrusion of a factory. Yet the town remains a very passable vestige of that in which Shakespeare was born. The spirit of the Elizabethan village still broods over its timbered houses and spacious streets, and the business in mementoes has not succeeded in destroying their meaning. No town can get peace for the asking, and it is peace which Stratford has secured by some semi-divine right and retains in spite of every provocation to barter the possession.

The Warwickshire meadows are as smooth and green as ever. There the river glides at its own sweet will with the placidity of other streams but none of their dullness. One wonders whether it is only for Shakespeare that the whole world comes to Stratford, or whether some part of the compulsion is not that desire for retreat which he has expressed in many a remembered passage.

Be the attraction what it may, the visitors this year form a kind of conspectus of Stratford's universal attraction. It need hardly be said that there have been many small parties of Americans. From various registers may be gathered an idea of their representative character, for Denver follows Boston and New York is next door to Colorado in those undeniable pages. South America is there, too

New Home for Orphans of War Heroes Is Opened.

Funds to Buy and Maintain It Given by American Admirers of English Valor.

New York.—A home for fatherless sons of British war heroes has just been opened in Reading, 40 miles from London, by the National Allied Relief committee, working with funds raised in the United States, according to an announcement made by that organization, whose headquarters are at No. 2 West Forty-fifth street, New York. The announcement said that the money for the home was supplied "through American admirers of British Valor," and that the home was "a tribute of appreciation and a memorial from the American people." Lieut. J. G. Churchill of the British army has been named headmaster of the home, and his wife, Mrs. Churchill, has been appointed matron. It will be under the protection of the British ministry of education. It will be a home for 48 boys.

A check for maintaining the home was taken to England a few weeks ago by John Moffat, chairman of the National Allied Relief committee, and turned over to the British management committee. The home was formerly St. Andrew's home of the Waifs and Strays society of England and was purchased furnished and fully equipped.

The British management committee is composed of Col. Arthur C. Murray, chairman; Maj. J. J. Astor, treasurer; Evelyn Wrench, secretary; Lieut. Col. A. S. Cleaver, Robert Grant, Jr., G. Mills McKay and James Van Allen Shields. The honorary patrons of the committee are Earl Reading, formerly British ambassador to the United States; Baron de Cartier de Marchese, the Belgian ambassador; Kijuro Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador, and Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Look to your health; and if you have it praise God and value it next to a good conscience; for health is the second blessing that mortals are capable of—a blessing that money cannot buy.—Isaac Walton.

FOOD FOR A FOUR-YEAR-OLD.

As growing children need food to supply the waste going on in their active little bodies, because they are constantly in motion, and to supply building material to build those bodies it is absolutely necessary that every mother should have an intelligent knowledge of the kind of food her child needs.

In many homes the price of milk keeps the poor mother from buying what her children really need. Other foods for a child from infancy through the school age may be slighted but milk should be a constant food. Strong bones and teeth depend on calcium; in combination with phosphorus it is their chief mineral element. Milk is the most valuable food to supply these compounds. Calcium is also obtained from the outer coats of grains, hence whole wheat, bran foods, oatmeal and corn are all most wholesome and necessary.

A generous supply of vegetables and fruit is also necessary as they furnish iron in large proportions as well as other necessary minerals. For breakfast—a tablespoonful or two of prune pulp, one-half cupful of well cooked oatmeal with three tablespoonfuls of top milk, one slice of buttered toast and a glass of milk or three-fourths of a cupful. At ten-thirty another glass of milk and a cracker.

Dinner—Cream of spinach soup, a half cupful; one egg, one medium-sized baked potato, one slice of bread with a teaspoonful of butter and a small cupful (one-fourth of a measuring cupful) of junket. For supper—One-fourth of a cupful of cream of wheat, two tablespoonfuls of top milk, a glass of milk to drink and one slice of bread, with butter. A baked apple or three-eighths of a cupful of apple sauce.

"Give no more to each guest than he's Give him always of the prime and but little at a time."

HUNGARIAN STEAK.

Chip one pound of round steak, add one egg, one-half cupful of rice. Scald large sized cabbage leaves, roll a portion of the meat mixture for one serving in each, fasten with toothpicks until five portions are made. Put in a kettle, cover with water and cook one hour. Season with paprika, thicken the gravy and serve.

Spiced Steak.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, fry one large onion, minced in it until a rich brown; take out the onion. Cut one flank steak in pieces, dredge with flour, fry in the butter, take out the meat, add two cupfuls of hot water, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of pepper. Thicken the gravy, put in a casserole and cook one hour. This will serve six people.

Not Balls.—Take one cupful of chopped cold veal, add 12 chopped almonds, one egg, one-half teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste. Mix and roll into balls, place in a baking pan and pour over one cupful of rich, highly seasoned tomato sauce. Serve on a platter garnished with water cress.

Tomato Aspic.—Take two cupfuls of tomato beefed with one slice of onion, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, bell 20 minutes and strain. Add two tablespoonfuls of gelatin, dissolve in one-half cupful of cold water, celery salt, salt and bay leaf may be added to the first mixture before boiling. Strain and pour into a mold and cool.

Celery With Cheese.—Cut the coarser stalks of celery and cook until tender in boiling salted water. Place a layer of the cooked celery in a buttered baking dish, cover with a layer of rich, well seasoned white sauce, sprinkle generously with grated cheese and repeat with another layer of each. Finish the top with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Fruit Punch.—Shred four oranges and two lemons. Add two cupfuls of water for each cupful of pulp, and sweeten to taste. Flavor with a small bottle of grape juice.

Green Pepper and Cheese.—Remove the pieces around the stem of perfect shaped peppers, scoop out all white membrane and seeds. Press saltily into the pepper cups enough cream cheese to fill. Let stand until cold and firm. Cut in slices one-fourth of an inch in thickness and serve on lettuce with French dressing.

Hot Peach Cake.—Rub four tablespoonfuls of butter into a pint of sifted flour with two tablespoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat one egg until light and add it to a cupful of milk. Stir into the flour mixture and spread in a greased baking pan. Bake until nicely browned, after covering the top with halves of large peaches, filling and turn on a hot platter. Serve with sugared whipped cream.

WOMEN'S VOTE LARGE

26,500,000 Are Eligible to Ballot in November Election.

Washington.—Figures compiled by the census bureau and other government departments indicate that the number of women in the United States over twenty-one years of age is 28,035,000, of whom approximately 26,500,000 are eligible to vote in the November election. This estimate makes a liberal allowance for alien women, American women married to aliens and other ineligible.

Exact figures are not available on the number of women over twenty-one, but barred from voting from various reasons. Census bureau officials believe, however, that this year at least 1,000,000 of the 5,250,000 foreign-born women in the United States will not yet have become naturalized. In addition there were in 1910, according to the census, about 60,000 Indian women, most of whom were living on

Warships for Sick Cattle

British Ministry of Agriculture to Study Diseases on Obsolete Craft.

London.—British obsolete battleships will shortly be turned into floating experimental laboratories for the study of hoof and mouth diseases among cattle. The ministry of agriculture announces, in order to do away with the danger of the disease spreading to other herds, as was the case when the diseased cattle were segregated on land. Officials point out that Britain must stamp out the disease if she is to maintain her large exports. The floating cow barns will carry as investigators some of the most distinguished scientists in animal husbandry and the research may last for years.

Best Boy in the United States Is Discovered

Wesley Sheldon, 12 years old, of Ashburnham, Mass., is said to be the best boy in the United States, according to farm bureau officials. In three months Wesley made 58 loaves of bread in 19 bakings, did 76 hours of housework, spent 48 hours running errands for his mother, delivered 124 papers nightly, went to school, washed dishes, played baseball and went swimming.

Despite the housewifely talents, Wesley is all boy, red-headed and freckled. He can twist a curve over the platter better than any of the neighborhood sand-lot ball players, and he is saving his money to go to college.

Asked Jail Sentence to Be Sure of Home for Winter

Mannel Costa of San Francisco, who has been occupant of the city jail every winter for 20 years, is again "at home" in a cell reserved for his use, and he will remain there for three months. Police arrested Costa, saying he was fearing up the pavement, pitching the cobblestones in the air and bouncing them off the back of his neck.

When Costa appeared before Police Judge McAtee he asked to be sent to jail for six months, explaining to the court that by expiration of his sentence the Alaskan fishing season would be open and he would be ready to go north. The judge compromised on a three-month sentence.

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 608 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

RICH STRIKE IN HARDSHELL MINE SHOWN ON CROSS CUT

A big strike of rich sulphide ore is reported at the Hardshell silver mine 5 miles from Patagonia and near Harshaw. The new ore was opened up on a crosscut from the main shaft and is reported 30 feet wide with a richer tonnage expected beneath.

Shipments of this new ore are said to have netted the mine $100 per ton from the sulphide of silver and lead mixture. Heretofore, only oxides at the footwall have been taken from the mine. But the new strike opens up under the hangingwall the deposit of sulphides which are richer and easier to handle in reduction than the oxides.

The Hardshell claims were located by R. R. Richardson and are being worked by the Hardshell Mining Co. under direction of H. K. Welch, who is now in the East raising additional capital to handle further development of the property.

The rail strike shut off the fuel supply of the mine and thus prevented pumping water from the shaft which temporarily stopped work. But with the installation of the new machinery at the shaft and clearing the water, plus the new strike, extensive installations are contemplated to enable working the rich deposit just uncovered.

It is planned to substitute electrical power at the mine in place of the fuel oil used at present.

Jack White For Mining Inspector

Outside of Governor Campbell, who is known far and wide, it is doubtful if any Arizona candidate for state office enjoys a wider acquaintance than big Jack White, republican nominee for State Mine Inspector.

Because of his life-long activity in the mining and general development of Arizona, Jack has come to be regarded as one of the prominent figures of the southwest, and this is attested in an editorial comment which appeared the other day in the El Paso Herald. It reads:

"Arizona's republicans are fortunate in the selection of Jack White, former sheriff of Cochise county, as their candidate for mine inspector. Mr. White is a miner of long experience. Also he is known and liked all over the state, as democratic papers admit. As head of the state employment bureau he satisfied employer and employe alike. If the voters of Arizona will elect him, Mr. White undoubtedly will make good."

Jack White's biography reads like a romance. He gives it as follows:

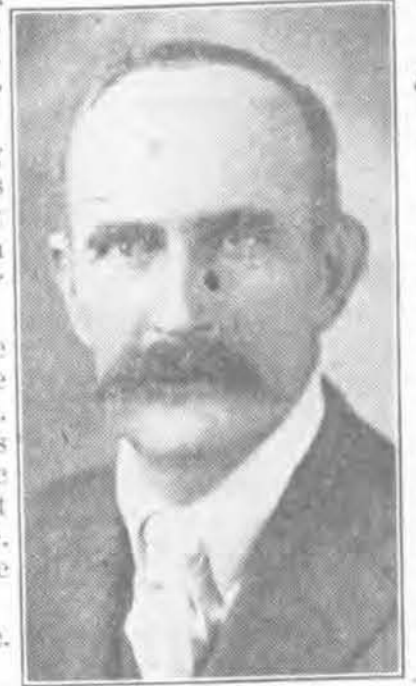

"I came to Arizona in 1874 when I was eight years old. My father was in the army at the time and we lived at Fort McDowell until 1880 when we moved to Tempe. Then we moved to Phoenix and I was in school there for a couple of years doing janitor work at the old Central school building to get what little book education I got. Then I went to work in a horse shoeing shop for James McCarthy and worked with him until the fall of 1884 when I got a job mucking in a mine and I have followed mining ever since.

"In 1904 they elected me constable of Bisbee precinct No. 2. Then two years later I was elected sheriff of Cochise county and re-elected two years after that. Completing my service in February, 1912, I moved to Phoenix, where ever since I have been looking after the development of gold property in which I am interested.

"During the years that I was working in the mines I worked in the old Tiptop mine in 1886 and all through the Bradshaw mountains in all of the properties which were operating at that time, following which I worked in all of the big mines of the state, including the Silver King, Buffalo, United Verde, Boggs, Henrietta, McCabe, and the old Congress mine until 1898; then I went to Bisbee where I engaged in mining until 1904 except for eight months when I was foreman of the Roy mine 75 miles south of Douglas in old Mexico.

"I guess that is about all there is to say except that I am the head of a family with a wife and five boys."

From which it will be seen that Mr. White is pretty much of a practical mining man and peculiarly fitted for the office of mine inspector.

STRONG STRING EXHIBIT OF POULTRY FANCIERS AT STATE FAIR

PHOENIX, Oct. 27—A strong string of exhibitors from California will enter into competition with Arizona poultry men as a result of W. F. Fetterly's trip to California. Mr. Fetterly, superintendent of the poultry department for the State Fair, has just returned from the coast with entries for several hundred birds belonging to California fanciers.

"We will have the best poultry show ever held in Arizona," said Fetterly. "Last year there were 700 entries in the department, including poultry and rabbits. This year we will have 1000 birds and a large additional showing of rabbits and cavies. Besides these we have the promise of a large collection of turkeys from Yavapai county, and ducks from Yuma county."

Mr. Fetterly calls attention to the low entrance fee charged by the state fair in comparison to that necessary for entry into exhibits on the coast, single entries here are 25 cents, and a pen display $1.00. On the coast $2.00 a bird is often collected for single entries with a fee of $7.50 for a pen.

Prizes for the largest number of entries for any one variety have been tripled for first prize, and doubled for second prize over the regular premium money offered at previous fairs.

A special exhibit will be put on by the government poultry farm at Glendale. They will show white leghorns, though the birds will not compete for prizes with amateur chicken raisers' exhibits.

N. E. Luce of the Glendale farm, and E. E. Emerson of Burbank, California will act as judges. Both are recognized as high class poultry experts.

A full line of rabbits and cavies will be exhibited. Hares shown will embrace the following breeds: Belgian hares, Flemish giants, New Zealand reds, Angoras and Himalayans.

Poultry raisers intending to exhibit must secure without delay premium lists and entry blanks either from W. F. Fetterly, 35 East Adams, Phoenix, or from the state fair commission in the basement of the Fleming building. Entries in this department close Nov. 1.

You owe it to yourself to see the Arizona State Fair this year, for the educational value if nothing else.
