FROM THE BENSON SIGNAL

In retiring from the ownership of the Benson Signal, C. L. Rucker says, editorially:

"I have sold the Benson Signal to Mr. J. LeRoy Lancaster. In retiring from the field of journalism I wish to thank the public for the support which has been given me, as the business of the Signal has grown since I took hold. I would like to suggest, however, that the business men and patrons of the paper should not forget that a local paper can be of invaluable service to the town and community if properly supported. It should never be altogether a question of direct returns for advertising. Many a line is written and published by your local paper purely and solely for the purpose of boosting the town and country by calling the attention of the outside world to our advantages and resources. For this the local paper never gets any pay at all. So you should support the paper, even when you can see no quick and direct return to yourself. Remember that the local paper is ever busy 'casting its bread upon the water' with a hope of seeing it gathered after many days. If you wish a local paper, you should be willing to bet a little along with it, in an effort to promote the interest of all. Co-operation will render effort invaluable. Lack of it will never build a town even on the most solid foundation. You can get much even from a poor paper man, by liberal support. . . ."
"C. L. Rucker."

Mr. Rucker is right. Patagonia, generally speaking, has not given the matter as much thought as it deserves and lack of interest by local people has gone a long way toward taking the heart out of the local newspaper. If you want it to continue in business and give Patagonia the advertising it deserves it will have to get your hearty support and co-operation.

THIS FROM A SALESMAN

A traveling salesman, who frequently visits Patagonia, was making his rounds the other day. We asked him how he found business and he replied, "I always get business in Patagonia. Your merchants seem to be very much alive."

It's a good thing to have the traveling men speak well of the town. If a crowd of salesmen are together, as frequently happens, and among them is a new man, he'll ask the older ones about the various points on the route. "Keep away from Smithville. They are dead ones there. I never sell anything worth while, but the house makes me visit the town."

Not a nice thing to have said, is it? We know merchants who make it a point to call attention to things that make our town worth while. It's a good thing to have boosters—and traveling men can spread the good points of our town in every direction.

Are You Like This One?

If you are, we forgive you for not mailing us your check for $2.00 for the Patagonian.

A newspaper of Monessen, Pa., received a unique response from one of its delinquent subscribers, to whom a bill was sent recently. The subscriber, who signs his name "I. O. Everyone," says:

"Dear Editor:—Your bill for the last subscription received and I, for the following reasons, am unable to send you a check just now. I have been held on, held down, samblaged, walked on, flattened out and squeezed, first by the U. S. government for federal war tax, the excess profit tax the Liberty loan bonds, the capital stock tax, auto tax, merchants' license, brokers' license and by every society and organization that inventive mind can invent to extract what I may or may not possess.

"The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined, re-examined, required and commended, so I do not know who I am or why I am here.

"All I know is I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every human need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I have been cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, robbed and nearly ruined, and the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what in hell is going to happen to the Democratic party in 1920."

AIRPLANE TO DEVELOP CHINA

American Commercial Attache Points Out How Problem Facing That Country May Be Met.

The keynote of the great problem of development which is facing China is transportation. The American commercial attache at Peking, Mr. Julian Arnold, has laid emphasis on this in an article in the Chinese Recorder—"China's Economic Problems and Christian Missionary Effort." Mr. Arnold deals with the necessity of preparing the Chinese people for the great economic change which is upon them. Railways will mean much to China, but the necessity for the training and preparation of which Mr. Arnold speaks is shown to be distinctly urgent when Prof. Middleton Smith's views on the use of airplanes to China are known. China is a land of waterways, and these waterways afford the necessary existing lines of transportation along which, to secure the success of commercial aviation, air-dromes and supply depots should be established. Schools of technical training should supply the necessary Chinese skilled labor, and with these aerial services established, Professor Smith foresees such an incalculable increase in the rapidity of communications as completely to revolutionize the country internally and add to its deep importance as a world factor.

NEWFOUNDLAND RICH IN IRON

Enough Ore There to Supply the World for at Least a Century, if Not Longer.

Lord Morris in a lecture at St. John's Wood Presbyterian church, Marlborough place, London, described the development of Newfoundland for the last 400 years, "from the time of the early colonizers up to the day when that great captain of industry, Lord Northcliffe, established the great paper mills that are now supplying the Times, the Daily Mail, the Daily Mirror and the Sunday Pictorial with paper."

He said that in Newfoundland today there were many paper "propositions" quite as attractive, if properly developed, as that of Lord Northcliffe and his brother, Lord Rothermere.

There were also sufficient fish on the Newfoundland banks and along the Newfoundland and Labrador shores to feed the whole of the British empire. They had only touched the fringe of that great fishing industry in which lay the possibilities of cheap food for England.

Lord Morris drew an attractive picture of wonderful mineral possibilities, showing that Newfoundland was the second largest producer of iron in the British empire, England coming first. There was enough iron ore to supply all the needs of the British empire and of the world for the next hundred years.—London Mail.

Headlines and Hosiery.

Newspapers are said to be a comfortable covering for benevolence; but who ever heard of stockings made out of that material? As a matter of fact, the product that goes to make your favorite journal and artificial silk hosiery "that you can't tell from real" is exactly the same. You can now lay the dangers of deforestation at the door of the economical fair sex as well as the journalist tribe, for both stockings and wuxtries are made from wood pulp.

This last year 15 million pairs of silk stockings so made were exported from the United States—between two and three times as many as in 1918.

Manna Not Heavenly.

Strange to stumble upon a quotation about manna in news of the drug and chemical trades! The children of Israel, we know, were saved from starvation in the desert by it. It fell from heaven, was small like coriander seed, and tasted like waters made with honey.

However, the actual manna of trade today comes from incisions in South European trees and it is now reported to have been quoted higher than previously in the primary market. The demand has increased of late, especially for small flake manna, which is the better quality, coming from the upper part of the stem of the tree.

Referred to an Expert.

Mr. Flutters—That plump, petite lady over there is my fiancée, Miss Puddin'. Don't you think that she has the face and figure of a goddess?

Professor Bonesinger—Now that you mention it, I think she has. I've been studying some old Aztec carvings and I consider the resemblance quite striking.

Pragmatic Job.

"I thought that young officer looked pained when I began to expatiate on the glories of war."

"You could not have chosen a topic that would have distressed him more."

"Why?"

"He commended a labor battalion of Chinese coolies."—Birmingham Herald.

And They Call 'Em Trees.

The highest trees in northern Greenland are three inches tall. The trunk of an arctic willow 50 years old is less than half an inch in diameter.

Cynical Comment.

She—I wonder how the custom came up of giving brides away.
He—It is a queer one, considering marriage so often is such a sell.

HERE TO REPRESENT PERU

Frederico A. Pezet is the First Ambassador From That Country in the United States.
Peru has been added to the list of Latin-American states maintaining embassies in Washington, states the New York Tribune. The first ambassador, Frederico A. Pezet, has arrived in this country and the state department seems inclined to annul for his benefit its famous Costa Rican "house rule,"
to the effect that no diplomatic recognition can be given to a Latin-American government coming into power through revolution. President Leguin assumed control in Lima by force last year and exiled his predecessor, doing so on the ground that he has been elected president by the people for a term to begin a few months later and that the administration in office was planning to count him out.
Mr. Pezet will be welcomed as the representative of Peru, a state which has always had the most friendly relations with the United States. He served here formerly both as first secretary of legation and as minister. He knows this country thoroughly, speaks English as well as he does Spanish and enjoys in an exceptional degree the esteem of government and other circles in Washington, in which he has long been at home.

SEEK FOR TRADE IN ARCTIC

Boston Capitalists Form Organization
Something Like the Famous Hudson's Bay Company.
Word has just come out of the North of a rival to the Hudson's Bay company that has sprung up. It is an organization backed by Boston interests and its aim is to get a share of the trade that the "Ancient and Honorable Association of Adventurers" has monopolized for over a century. Last spring Capt. Louis Lane of Nome, Alaska, was sent into the Arctic to establish a string of 28 trading posts for the Boston body.
The expedition went into the North via Calgary, Alberta, with eight carloads of goods, of an estimated value of $240,000. In addition to this they sent in a river power boat for operation on the Mackenzie river. The vessel was sent in sections and assembled on the big river. The party worked slowly down the river, canvassing and exploring among the tribes and only reached Fort Macpherson when winter came. They will stay there until spring opens the river and allows them to proceed further. The company intends locating its posts by the pioneering party, and will then keep them supplied by means of ships from Nome
during the short summer.

Reasonable Expectation.
"Ah, how do you do, sir?" saluted
the suave salesman of enlarged crayon portraits, as the householder opened the door. "I am offering—My stars!
Is that revolver loaded?"
"I reckon," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Leastways, 'twas, the last time I noticed."
"Heavens and earth, man! What do you suppose will happen if you permit that little child to continue to amuse himself with the weapon?"
"He'll prob'ly break the hammer off'n it on one of the other children's heads. I've told 'em a time or two to quit lettin' him have it, but you know how children is."—Kansas City Star.

School days.
In a physiology recitation during a discussion of the organs of breathing, a sixth grade girl, when asked what the diaphragm was, replied: "It is something that if we didn't have we'd go all out of shape when we breathed."
The teacher in assigning a lesson in the fifth grade geography ended by saying: "The question need not be answered by written answer; the answers must be in your head." There was a general laugh when a boy raised his hand and asked, "Must I hand it in?"

Girl Mines Coal.
Pittsburgh lays claim to the only girl coal miner in America and probably in the world. Miss Rieka Ott is her name and she is just twenty-one years old and very attractive. But she is a coal miner, and is proud of it.
In addition, she is a coal operator,
truck driver, farmer and general "jack of all trades." Back in the hills of Mount Oliver, a suburb, she was discovered merrily wheeling her black diamonds from the little pit in the hillside.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness,
and that is by a constitutional remedy.
Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

Patagonia is situated in the center of a great mining district. The townsite is a beautiful one, located in the valley between the Santa Rita and Patagonia Mountains at an elevation of over 4000 feet. The town has a fine school building, three hotels, six stores, etc. The climate can not be surpassed; there is good water in abundance, and splendid roads lead from Patagonia to all parts of the county.
A fine tract of land has just been laid out in town lots adjoining the Patagonia townsite on the east. This new tract has been named East Side Addition and fine lots in this section of the town are for sale at reasonable prices and on easy terms. Lots range in value from $50 to $200, terms,

one-third cash, one-third in six months and one-third in 12 months. When last payment is made a deed will be given.
Another tract of land situated along the Harshaw road has been laid out, called Linder Addition, which is for sale in acre, five acre and 10-acre lots
at attractive prices.

HAD AN OBJECT IN POSING

Moose Didn't Stand for Her Photograph Just to Accommodate the Camera Holder.

A moose out in the wilds does not stop to pose for her picture. There is generally a reason for the peculiar actions of wild things. In the current issue of the Hunter-Trapper, published in Columbus, O., hunters write of their experience.
"We had an early start Thursday and Sam soon proclaimed that his pipe foretold moose. The first bend was rounded and knee-deep in the water stood a fat sleek cow. Our canoe advanced toward her, the camera set for an exposure. Sam called softly and she advanced a hundred feet toward us, ears erect, with a curious 'what are you' manner.
"At 75 feet she stopped and posed for the picture, and then waited until we were 50 feet away before she turned into the woods. At the top of the bank she waited for us to pass before crashing into the timber.
"Her action was explained when we turned the bend and at the water's edge saw her calf, a fine four or five months' old fellow, which climbed the bank and was away after her at once."

New Cloth for Hard Wear.
A new textile fabric which, it is claimed, will tend to lower the present high cost of men's clothing is being placed on the market by a Pudsey (Yorkshire) manufacturer, writes United States Trade Commissioner Henry F. Grady from London. The London agents of the manufacturer state that the new cloth is made entirely of silk noll (or short fibers); and that, while superior in wearing properties to a pure worsted, it can be sold at the price of shoddy cloth, or one-fourth the price of the best wool fabrics. It is said to be strong and almost untearable, very suitable for hard wear, and can be obtained in grays, browns and blacks.

No Novelty.
"As I came from the station just now," said a recently arrived guest, "I noticed a crowd in front of the Right Place store and heard considerable yelling. What was the excitement?"
"A farmer and the storekeeper were telling what they thought of each other's infernal longishness in wanting five prices for the stuff they had to sell," replied the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "But there wasn't any particular excitement—it happens every day. The crowd merely gathered in the hope that they might accidentally say something new and interesting."—Kansas City Star.

Weds During His Lunch Hour.
How to be married though working was the title of a little sketch staged the other day by E. W. Grieler, a printer employed on the St. Paul Dispatch.
Grieler faced a problem. He was slated as a principal in a marriage ceremony. His only spare time was a half hour for lunch.
So he called his fiancée, Miss Clara Lovitz, by telephone, arranged with her to meet him in the office of Henry Galfick, court commissioner, and the ceremony was performed. Grieler then took lunch and returned to work.

Valuable Parasitic Fly.
A recent agricultural department bulletin states that a parasite fly, compositula clymenata, has been used with great success to destroy gypsy moth and brown-tail moth in New England. It will also aid in the control of other insect pests. A few years ago the white-marked tussock moth was a serious pest in New England, but has practically disappeared since compositula became established. The cabbage worm, the celery worm and the fall webworm have all been reduced by the activities of the new parasite.

Quick Action.
"The star made exceptional opportunities."
"Yes; a fellow could begin at the bottom and at the same time go over the top."

Filipino Take to Athletics.
Since our soldiers in the early days of American occupation held their first athletic contest in the Philippines the natives of the islands have taken an active interest in many forms of athletics and sports popular in the western world. It was not, however, until rivalry between towns and provinces was created that a deep general interest in every form of sport was developed, the majority of the people considering this indulgence a useless waste of energy.

Ludendorff and the Germans.
Representative Fess was talking about Ludendorff's memoirs.
"Ludendorff's present day attitude toward the German people and the German people's attitude toward him are pretty clearly shown in this work," he said. "It reminds one of the lawyer."
"I'm sorry I couldn't do more for you," the lawyer said to his client.
"Don't mention it," said the client. "Ain't eight years enough?"

Garden Stuff.
"Did your garden win any prizes last summer?"
"Indirectly, yes. My neighbor's chickens took first prize at the poultry show."—London Bright.

MAKE BOATS WINTER HOMES

Londoners Partially Solve Housing Question by Living on the Thames Close to the City.

The housing question is being solved in a novel way between Thames Ditton and Hampton court. Unable to obtain a room occupants of houseboats are continuing to live in their floating homes, and in one backwater, 13 miles from London, houseboats are actually being built for winter occupation, London Answers states.
They are moored by a tree-sheltered bank. But you are too late to apply for them—they are all taken. One wonders what will happen when the floods begin.
Bungalows, which usually see no human soul save during the hot weather, are also finding winter tenants. A five-room bungalow on Thames Ditton Island cost 25 shillings a week until April. There may be a few of these left. One is at present occupied by a demolished soldier, but whether he will find Thames mists easier to stand than Flanders mud remains to be seen. For the time being he is quite cheerful, however, and having sought a house in vain, does not cavil at having to start his journey to London each day by boat.
Our ideas change according to our necessities. It was stated the other day that a distracted man had applied to the government to let him a "pill box."

BOTH SLIGHTLY IN ERROR

Physician and Lovesick Youth Were Alike Too Quick to Jump to Conclusions.

There's a certain physician in Los Angeles who admits the joke's on him. Incidentally, he will shortly lose his daughter. He tells it this way:
"I was in my study when the door was flung open and in came Jack. I know him well, and just a glance told me that he was far from being his usual self. Indeed, he looked positively ill.
"Without waiting for him to speak I commenced an examination. His heart was fluttering, his brow was fever hot, his pulse was racing.
"I sprang toward the phone, crying over my shoulder, 'You're a case for the hospital, young man.'
"Sure," he admitted; 'but you might have let me ask you first.'
"Ask me what? I demanded in astonishment.
"I want to marry your daughter," he said, and then I realized that I had made the wrong diagnosis and that he had misconstrued my reference to the hospital."—Los Angeles Times.

HISTORIANS HAVE NOT SAID

Of Course There Is Just a Possibility That Mrs. Patrick Henry Was Unsympathetic.

They were having one of the usual family quarrels over his having been at a meeting at the Commercial club while she was "at home all alone and so lonesome."
"You don't wish me to have any city or country spirit, either," he finally told her hotly. "I wonder where our country would be today if all the men who have lived in it had stayed at home and petted their wives all their off hours as you are wanting me to do for you?"
"Well, the women always suffer," she retorted. "Public men never have time to appreciate their wives and sympathize with—"
Then he interrupted her. "Oh, that cry for sympathy" (he was angry now). "I suppose that it's a national cry. I imagine that while Patrick Henry was at the Virginia legislature making his famed speech, 'Give me liberty or give me death,' that Mrs. Patrick H. was at home wailing, 'Give me sympathy or give me death.'"—Indianapolis News.

Shakespeare Down to Date.
Justice Wayne, dramatic actress, finds an explanation of the question as to why Shakespearean plays seldom win financial reward in what she terms Shakespeare's inability to give his productions catchy titles. She suggests a repertoire of the bard's plays rechristened to meet popular demands for stimulating titles. She suggests "How Could You, Juliet?" as more appropriate than plain "Romeo and Juliet." She also would substitute "Call of the Flesh" for "The Merchant of Venice"; "Strangled in Bed" for "Othello"; "The Nutty Princess" for "Hamlet"; "Henry, Whom Do You Love?" for "Henry V.;" "Big Dick" for "Richard the Third;" "The Knife" for "Julius Caesar" and "Moonlight and Honey-suckle" for "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The Cheerful Exterminator.
On moving into our honeymoon apartment we discovered that it was sadly in need of the services of an exterminator. With a bride's ignorance of apartment house life and the clubby ways of the cockroach, I regarded this as a personal disgrace, and took great care to keep it a profound secret from our friends.
One day, while exhibiting my shiny new kitchen equipment to a girl friend, I answered the back-door buzzer, and there was the exterminator, inquiring in a loud, cheerful tone, "Well, how are the cockroaches?"
"The situation induced my mind to such a pulp that I blabbed, 'They're well, thank you!'"—The Chicagoer.
